HOUSE MESSAGE

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

The Clerk of the House of Repreentatives being introduced, informed the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

In the Senate, September 28, 1955.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Wednesday, October 5, 1955, at two-thirty o'clock p. m.. E. S. ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, October 5, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:34 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Wednesday, October 5, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, September 28, 1955.

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

Thou absolute and eternal God, the Master-builder of men's minds, bodies and souls, whose ears are open unto all the sincere desires of men, grant us who are here assembled in this Legislative Body a sensitive awareness of Thy presence. As we humbly look at ourselves in the light of Thy countenance, we confess and acknowledge:

That our deepest need is not more perfected communications one with the other, but a closer contact with God, who alone can help us when we are confused, bewildered and quite at sea.

That what we want to do with facts is not dependent upon science but what we want to do with them and what we will do with them if our character and lives are God centered.

That our acts are without any scale of value unless they are morally and spiritually motivated.

That the little difference there is between people makes all the difference in the world, if the God of Christ Jesus lives in us.

O Christ, near us, pity us, perfect us, sanctify us, and redeem us for the larger life of joyous fellowship and service. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Tuesday, September 27, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1209, Printer's No. 1017

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1566 as follows:

An Act amending the act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" regulating the acceptance of non-resident school children

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (a) of section 1305 act of March 10 1949 (P. L. 30) known as the " Public School Code of 1949" is amended to read

Section 1305 Non-resident Child Placed in Home of Resident (a) When a non-resident child is placed in the home of a resident of any school district by order of court or by arrangement with an association agency or institution having the care of neglected and dependent children such resident being compensated for keeping the child any child of school age so placed shall be entitled to all free school privileges accorded to resident school children of the district including the right to attend the public high school maintained in such district or in other districts in the same manner as though such child were in fact a resident school child of the district

[The school district may not be required to accept such children in its schools when their acceptance would involve additional provisions for transportation by the district or would require the district to provide additional teachers or rooms at an expense greater than the amount of reimbursement paid to the district by the State on account of the instruction of such children]

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 343, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 2, 1915 (P. L. 736), entitled, as amended, "An act defining the liability of an employer to pay damages for injuries received by an employe in the course of employment; establishing an elective schedule of compensation; providing procedure for the determination of liability and compensation thereunder; and prescribing penalties," providing for payment by insurance carrier held liable by decision of referee and filing of bond by insurance carrier relieved of liability conditioned upon payment of amount of its liability fixed by final appellate decision.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, at the request of the Majority Leader, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Workmen's Compensation.

The motion was agreed to.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 229

The SPEAKER laid before the House the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 229.

The SPEAKER. The report will lie over for printing under the Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

The word "tax" is on the lips of everyone. We are asked, "How is this great State of Pennsylvania going to raise enough money to take care of its share of education, health and welfare, especially since millions of dollars of the financial burden has fallen upon the State Government?"

We hear of many ways of raising money for needed revenue.

I would like to give you my personal opinion with respect to this much debated question and offer some suggestions that may be helpful in raising many millions of dollars — ways that I feel are much less burdensome to the majority of the people of the Commonwealth.

Right here in the House there is a Bill on Horse Racing which has not even come out of Committee. I am not a horse racing enthusiast, nor do I visit race tracks. I am not a gambling person and would not pay a dollar to see the best horses run, but here is definitely a way to raise revenue that might bring in between forty to sixty million dollars every two years. Instead of batting this issue back and forth, endlessly, why don't we present it for action one way or the other? How about putting this on the ballot for definite vote by the people?

How about pari-mutuel harness racing, for getting revenue?

I am very much in sympathy with the merits of the arguments presented by various church groups against this sort of thing, but I am wondering if some of our neighboring states are not fighting this matter very strongly because they don't want to lose to us some of the revenue they are receiving from it?

How about the bills on skillo or bingo — or a state lottery? These surely would also bring in money for the Commonwealth.

We might also check into the cooperatives. They certainly can contribute more in taxes.

Another important group that can well stand a portion of taxes is the large chain store group; those in the Commonwealth and those from out of the Commonwealth that operate here. They are receiving the cream of the public's pocketbook and are giving such strong competition to the small business man that they are putting him out of business or giving him an extremely strenuous fight for his very existence.

What about collecting revenue on the motor horsepower of cars?

Can't we shave off a bit of the appropriation of State-aid to building of new schools? Now don't misunderstand me. I am strongly in favor of good schools and the best education available for our children, but can't we eliminate some of the fancy and extra frills for which some of these districts are asking money to build new schools? It seems to me what is most important is that we pay substantial salaries to obtain qualified teachers, first, and let the frills and furbelows come when money is available. Any well-lighted, completely equipped school building, reasonably modern, is sufficient. It is the teacher that teaches the child, not the three or four million dollar fancy schools. I say spend half that amount — not build architect's memorial.

Let's cut out playing checkers and get some of these revenue raising bills in action.

SENATE MESSAGE

HOUSE BILLS CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bills from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1799.

An Act making an appropriation to the Senate and House of Representatives for contingent expenses for the balance of the legislative session of 1955.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1955. No. 95.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, October 5, 1955

The Senate met at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this opportunity to meet together again and to render the services that are expected of us by our people.

Help us, through Thy wisdom, to coordinate our thinking so that we may do those things which will do the best things for our State.

We pray that Thou wilt bless the President of our Country in his hour of trial, that he may be speedily restored to health and strength. Bless the member of our body who is indisposed, and especially we pray for the employee of our Senate, who has been a real servant to everyone, in his hour of trial. Stand very close to him and restore him again to health.

Guide us that we may do always those things which will bring friendship closer into the hearts of everyone. In the Master's name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. CHAPMAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Which was committed to the Committee on Law and Order.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, last Wednesday Senate Bill No. 722 was on the Calendar of this body and, as you know, a lot of the Members were not here; I was not present at the time. Inadvertently the bill was called up and was passed, and I am recorded as having voted for it.

I would like the record to show that had I been in attendance at that time, I would not have voted for this bill. I believe that it is bad legislation, I do not think it is good and I certainly would have arisen at that time and opposed it.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

RECALLING SENATE BILL No. 603 FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. STEVENSON offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 5, 1955.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), that Senate Bill No. 603, Printer's No. 220, entitled "An act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2017) entitled 'An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealh regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws' authorizing the sale of surplus farm products and other personal property," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, we have been hearing a great deal lately in the news about the Arctic and the Arctic area.

It was unknown to me, and I believe to many members and persons who live in this Commonwealth, that the actual founding of the Arctic area and the learning of a great deal of the geodetic information which we have today about the Arctic area was founded by a man from Philadelphia whose name was Doctor Elisha Kent Kane.

Mr. President, he found this area about 100 years ago and he was the one person who led the trail to the Arctic area, and who later has been followed by Mr. Perry, Mr. Bryd and other gentlemen who proceeded into that area. His name has been proposed at New York University for the Hall of Fame.

I believe it should be noted by the Members of this body, and the Commonwealth, that this man only lived to the age of thirty-seven years. He was born in 1820 and died in 1857.

Mr. President, this trip which he took was taken in 1855. The one remarkable thing about this trip was that his ship was icebound, and he made a trip in eighty-three days, by foot, across a vast waste of ice covering 1300 miles and he only lost one person, who died because of a disease contacted prior to going on this expedition. He was the one man, and I believe the record stands even to this day, who went farther into the Arctic area than any other explorer, either before or since then. He was one of the original men who laid claim for the United States to that area which we today hold as military bases and a military area.

I would, therefore, like to offer at this time the following resolution. I would also like to note, prior to the offering of the resolution, that the Senate and the House adjourned in 1857 in honor of his death. His body lay in state at Independence Hall for almost three days after he died, and most of the capitals throughout the United States, as well as the Capital in Washigton, carried their flags at half-mast for almost a period of thirty days.

Mr. President, I would like to offer at this time, and ask for its immediate consideration and adopton this resolution commemorating the 100th anniversary of Doctor Kane's expedition to the Arctic, and ask that after it is considered and adopted, a copy of this resolution be sent to the Electors For the Hall of Fame in New York. I am attaching a copy and a list of these Electors.

SENATE RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO DOCTOR ELISHA KENT KANE

Messrs. WEINER, SILVERT, HALUSKA and CAMIEL offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 5, 1955.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of Dr. Elisha Kent Kane's expedition to the Arctic, which resulted in his reaching a point farther north than ever reached before by man.

Later, many Arctic expeditions, including that of Admiral Perry, were patterned after this expedition or derived great benefit from Dr. Elisha Kent Kane's records and experiences.

In recognition of Dr. Elisha Kent Kane's contribution to the field of Arctic exploration, which has gained him international repute, a proposal was presented to nominate this favorite son of Philadelphia to the New York University Hall of Fame; therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate of Pennsylvania pay tribute to Dr. Elisha Kent Kane, USN, a shining example of Philadelphia's culture, and warmly endorse his nomination for entry into the Hall of Fame of New York University; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the members of the College of Electors for the Hall of Fame Elections for 1955.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MULLIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MULLIN. Mr. President, the resolution which I am about to offer commends the Philadelphia Uhriks Soccer Team, which is the National Champion Soccer Team in the United States, for their winning of the championship which they recently earned.

SENATE RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS OF SENATE EXTENDED TO THE PHILADELPHIA UHRIKS SOCCER TEAM

Mr. MULLIN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 5, 1955.

The Philadelphia Uhriks Soccer Team, representative of the City of Philadelphia in the American Soccer League. captured the league title in this their first full season of competition.

This achievement spotlights Philadelphia as the Nation's number one soccer city and Pennsylvania as the number one State.

Because of the fact that soccer is a universal sport that surmounts all barriers of prejudice and can be used as an instrument for the promotion of world peace, it is hoped that it may some day become one of the leading sports in the United States on a par with football, baseball and basketball.

The grand success of the Philadelphia Uhriks was due to a great measure to the efforts, ability and courage of the individual members, ten of whom are Philadelphia born and trained: Kurt Klaus, Howard Anderson, Charles McKnight, Erwin Antoni, Robert Yingling, Peter Kennedy, Edward Johnston, John Oliver, Walter Porter, Jack Ormond, captain Thomas Lambert, Thomas Oliver, Jack Ferris, Charles Jackson, James Lafferty, Harry Naughton, John Boyle, Walter Bahr, Manager William O'Neill, trainer James Kidd, equipment manager Gus Diehl and officers Anton M. Uhrik, Robert McCaig, Daniel Ahlfeld, William Walker, E. Michael Uhrik and Harold J. Freeman; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate hereby extends its congratulations to the Philadelphia Uhriks Soccer Team upon its winning the 1954-1955 American Soccer League Championship and to the individual members for their individual outstanding playing and sportsmanship; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Philadelphia Uhriks in Philadelphia.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 56, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, at this time I am calling up from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 56, which was reported last week favorably from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish and ask for its immediate adoption.

I pointed out already that this was a resolution which will transfer very valuable and important old Senate bills, which are now gathering dust on the fifth floor of this building, to the Historical Commission.

Mr. President, I believe that we may find in these documents some important passages about the history of the Senate. In my opinion, and I appeal for the passage of this resolution, this will be a great contribution to the history of Pennsylvania.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

REQUESTING THE TRANSFER OF CERTAIN SENATE RECORDS TO THE PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION

In the Senate, August 2, 1955.

In Room 528, E Floor of the Capitol, which is known as the Senate Transcribing Room, there are many old records of the Senate, beginning with the year 1822. These records are no doubt the oldest surviving records of the Senate and include much historical data, such as State and county election returns, beginning with the year 1840 and ending around 1900, petitions addressed to the Senate, and Senate bills in their original form as introduced.

Space in the Transcribing Room is sorely needed. The old historical records, some of which are undoubtedly priceless as part of Pennsylvania's cultural heritage, are impeding current Senate operations. The scarcity of space has necessitated storing these old records in such a manner that it is impossible to make a careful study to determine their true historical value.

These old historical records of the Senate are of no present practical value to the Senate. It therefore seems wise and proper that the records between the years 1822 to 1910 be transferred to and put under the custody of the commission which retains historical data that inures to the cultural benefit of the citizenry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania permanently transfer all historical Senate records between the years 1822 to 1910 which are stored in the Senate Transcribing Room to the custody of the Division of Public Records within the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be adopted.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, may the Senate be at ease?

(The Senate was at ease.)

MOTION TO ADOPT RESOLUTION WITHDRAWN AND RESOLUTION LAID ON THE TABLE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to adopt the resolution.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be returned to the table.

BILL ON THIRD READING, RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 306, Printer's No. 264, on third reading, recalled from the Governor, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 162, as follows:

An Act amending the act of March ten one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" increasing rental charge allowed for use of receiving district's school plant in calculating tuition charge per high school pupil to be paid by sending district

Section 1 Clause (3) of section 2561 act of March ten one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) known as the "Public School Code of one thousand nine hundred forty-nine" amended August nineteenth one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (P. L. 1169) is amended to read

Section 2561 Tuition Charges for Pupils of Other Districts A school district or vocational school district receiving elementary or high school pupils or vocational or other extension education pupils who are residents of another school district or another vocational school district shall compute the tuition charges as follows

(3) High School Tuition Charge Add the salaries of supervisors principals clerks assistants and teachers employed in the receiving district's high schools the district's contribution to the retirement fund on behalf of teachers supervisors and principals employed in the district's high schools the cost of textbooks and supplies of the second class used in the district's high schools and divide the sum so obtained by the total number of pupils in average dailv membership in the receiving district's high schools The quotient so obtained shall be designated as the "instruction cost per high school pupil" Add to the instruction cost per high school pupil the overhead cost per pupil and a rental charge of [ten dollars ($10)] eighteen dollars ($18) per pupil for the use of the receiving district's school plant For the school years one thousand nine hundred fifty-two one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and one thousand nine hundred fifty-three one thousand nine hundred fifty-four only but not thereafter deduct from the amount so obtained the per pupil State appropriation on account of high school teaching units The cost so determined shall be the "tuition charge per high school pupil"

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAMANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent. permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Dent, do you remember that when we first had this bill on the Calendar, you stated it would cost the Commonwealth, I believe, $1,200,000?

Mr. DENT. That is right.

Mr. MAHANY. Then later you found you were in error in regards to that amount, and that it would not cost the Commonwealth anything but would cost the forwarding district some money and the receiving district would, of course, receive that amount. You stated if we wanted to put the burden on the forwarding district we could do so.

Now, this bill was sponsored by two Democrats and I presume, perhaps, that it is an Administration bill. If the Administration would like to have this bill passed, I think we can find some Republican votes for it. However, if you feel that it is not good legislation, well, then, I will be happy to make a motion to recommit the bill. Therefore, I want to find out from you whether you and your group are for the bill or whether you are against it.

Mr. DENT. If you want to know what my reaction is, it is very plain. My reaction is that I am personally for it, because logically it is sound legislation. However, it is not Administration legislation. It was introduced by Representatives Polen and McCann, whom I have talked to since, and they tell me that the reason they put it in is because it is a matter of simple justice. A receiving school ought to at least receive the amount that it cost them to put their own pupils in the school district through school. If a sending school pays less than that amount, then it is not fair to the receiving school.

This is not an Administration bill and it is a matter of open caucus on our part. However, I personally intend to vote for it.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you, Senator. I think you have convinced us that it is good legislation, and we will be happy to vote for it along with you.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Union will be so recorded.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1637, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of annual rates rentals and other charges to the General State Authority

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of twenty-five million five hundred thousand dollars ($25,500,000) or as much thereof as is necessary is hereby specifically appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies for the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June one thousand nine hundred fifty-five for the payment of the annual rates rentals and other charges for the use and occupancy of or the right to use or occupy the projects structures buildings equipment and facilities leased by The General State Authority to the Commonwealth or for services rendered by the Authority or its projects Payment of such annual rates rentals and other charges shall be made in equal monthly quarterly or annual installments or otherwise as required by the respective leases.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, before we vote on this bill, I desire to read a letter into the record, addressed to me and signed by Andrew M. Bradley, Budget Secretary.

"Dear Senator Mahany:

"At the time the original budget requests were forwarded to us the information submitted substantiating the request for General State Authority rentals for the Department of Property and Supplies seemed to indicate that we were safe in requesting an appropriation of $23,000,000. However, subsequent to our presentation of the budget, information furnished to us indicated that based on the contemplated completion dates of the General State Authority projects that this figure might be too low.

"The General State Authority has forwarded information substantiating a figure of $25,500,000. This higher budget request has the approval of this office.

"Sincerely yours,

"Andrew M. Bradley
"Budget Secretary"

Mr. President, when this bill came over to the Senate from the House, it carried with it an appropriation of $23,000,000 and, I believe, Senator Dent, on second reading, introduced an amendment which increased the amount of the appropriation to $25,500,000 and this letter explains the reason for it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PROPERT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 620, Printer's No. 1027, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 672, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and counties to create historic areas within their geographical limits providing for the appointment of historical boards empowered to preserve historic buildings and to regulate the erection reconstruction alteration restoration demolition or razing of buildings within the historic areas

The first and second sections were read and agreed to.

The third section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I understand that this bill is going to go over in order. When the bill was prepared I omitted, inadvertently, a passage in that bill which is of great importance.

This bill deals with one of the most important subjects, the subject of historical zoning. It deals with the subject of Pennsylvania's priceless, historical buildings which, here and there, are being razed without any compunction. Under this bill, historical zoning boards have been set up in different areas of the Commonwealth to attempt to preserve our great priceless heritage. However, I forgot to put into the bill a provision which gives redress to the owner of the building. This amendment provides the right of appeal to the Court of Common Pleas and to receive compensation for any damages that the owner of the building may suffer.

I, therefore, offer the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 2, by inserting after "applicant": "Any person aggrieved by any action of the board may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas, which court may make its decree contingent on the payment of reasonable compensation for the interference with property rights by the board."

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh sections and title were read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 672, Printer's No. 269, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 270, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 715, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to appoint a county historian in each county of the Commonwealth and prescribing the method of appointment providing in certain cases for compensation expenses and office space for county historians and outlining their duties be recommitted to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the Greeks had a very interesting word for it. It sounds like "enthanasia" and it is spelled e-u-t-h-a-n-a-s-i-a, which in English would mean beautiful death. This motion to recommit the bill to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish means that this bill will meet with a beautiful death.

This bill deals with appointments of county historians for each one of the counties in Pennsylvania. It is modeled after a fine law which is now enforced in the State of New York, and which is very successful. Some of the historical societies feared if county historians would be appointed, there would rivalry, friction and endless trouble. May I call to the attention of the Membership of the Senate the fact that in many counties of Pennsylvania there are no historical societies whatsoever. We have here in the Senate the great Senator from Armstrong County, Senator Pechan, and his county has no historical society. Butler County has no historical society; the counties of Carbon, Clarion, Clearfield, Elk, Forest, Fulton, Jefferson, Lawrence, Luzerne, Montour, Pike, Somerset, Sullivan County, Union County, Venango and Wyoming have no historical societies. These counties have no one to represent the interests of Pennsylvania's history.

Therefore, Mr. President, I feel that the dooming of this bill to a certain death is, to a certain degree—well, what should I say—against the interest of Pennsylvania's history.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not know what motives lie behind the motion to recommit this bill. I have not heard any discussion on it. However, I would like to second the argument of the sponsor of this bill. It seems to me that this is an approach which might lead to a considerable development of the local and State history of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It will go a long way in improving the interest of these communities in their local history and, speaking as one who is somewhat interested in the education of the young, it seems to me that it might do an invaluable service, as far as local resources are concerned, for the public schools and any others who are interested in education.

I do not know what the reasons are for recommitting this bill. I hope they are not designed to kill the bill. I certainly would advocate that we should not recommit this bill unless there is some better reason offered than has been up to the present time.

Mr. STIEFEL. Furthermore, Mr. President, the fact that this bill will not pass will deprive me of the pleasure of submitting the name of Senator Pechan as the county historian for Armstrong County.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I understand that my discussion relative to the merits of the bill is out of order on a motion to recommit. However, I do want to state to the gentlemen that there was some uncertainty among the Republican Members as to whether it was good legislation to provide some more jobs in the counties of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which, of course, would have to be paid for with taxpayers' money. Therefore, the committee wanted to have a further opportunity to study this phase of the legislation to see whether or not it might be corrected in some manner. For this reason, it was decided that the bill should be recommitted to committee so that they might have an opportunity to study it further.

Senator Stiefel, I believe when he introduced this bill, recommended that the bill be put in the tender care of his good friend, Senator Blass, and I am sure that if it is now returned to Senator Blass and his committee, he will see to it that Senator Stiefel has a fair opportunity of being heard on the merits of this legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION THAT BILL BE POSTPONED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, may I appeal for a reprieve of this bill? Instead of sending it to committee, place it on the Postponed Calendar and that will give us enough time to make a study of it.

Accordingly, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 715, on second reading, be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

The PRESIDENT. A motion to recommit takes precedence over a motion to postpone and, therefore, the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia is out of order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have no desire to debate the merits of this bill. I understand that is out of order. However, a reason has been offered by the gentleman who made the motion to recommit. He said that it was for the purpose of studying the bill. He also said it sets up more jobs to be paid for out of the taxpayers' funds. This is just not correct. If that is the reason, it is a very poor reason, because the bill specifically states that they shall serve without compensation unless the local county commisisoners should decide that they wish to pay expenses or salaries to such persons. It is entirely left up to their option.

Actually, the bill does not cost the taxpayers one nickel unless counties should become enough interested that they would want to do it more extensively. I am not arguing the merits of the bill, but if that is the reason for recommitting it, they do not need to wait any longer. If they just take two minutes to read the bill, it will be settled, and we will not need to go into that matter.

Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no" on this motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. STIEFEL and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Berger,	Harney,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Wade,
Diehm,	Kopriver, Jr.	Peelor,	Wagner,
Flack,	Madigan,	Propert,	Whalley,
Fleming,	Mahany,	Stevenson,	Wolfe,

NAYS—16

Barr,	Derk,	McGinnis,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Haluska,	Mullin,	Silvert,
Chapman,	Hays,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Dent,	Lane,	Schmidt,	Weiner,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No 151, REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BLASS, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Wolfe, on September 27, 1955, reported the same without amendment as follows:

REQUESTING HALF-WAY STATE FOREST PARK BE RENAMED RAYMOND B. WINTER STATE FOREST PARK

In the Senate, September 27, 1955.

The name of Pennsylvania was given to the colony of William Penn and inherited by the Commonwealth because of the verdant forests that once covered its territorry. But indifference or lack of foresight to the future weal in years past rapidly denuded Pennsylvania's hillsides of its trees; and carelessness and indifference to the value of second growths permitted repeated fires to ravage the cut-over area and to scorch the earth into a state of ugliness and unproductivity, robbing the land of its protecting forest growth.

A bleak and uninviting example of this catastrophe was what is now the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County when Raymond B. Winter was sent there as a forester in 1910. The area was a charred wilderness of dead brush, stumps and a mud hole formerly a saw mill dam.

During his forty-five years of service there, Mr. Winter transferred the area into one of Pennsylvania's outstanding beauty spots. With far-sighted planning and tireless efforts he undertook the task of rehabilitation. His early days in the area were devoted to fire control and prevention, tree planting, road and trail building and gradually a little recerational work for the local people, which later, with the help of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the early thirties and later improvements developed into a State Forest park of four hundred acres with a concrete and stone masonry dam on the site of the former saw mill dam, presently known as the Half-Way State Forest Park. And today the Bald Eagle Forest is an established and thrifty forest.

That Bald Eagle is one of the finest and best preserved forest districts in the State today is due mainly to the diligent and conscientious work of Mr. Winter; therefore be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the recreational area in the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County now known as Half-Way State Forest Park be renamed Raymond B. Winter State Forest Park in lasting tribute to his untiring work in conservation.

Laid over for one day under the Rules.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1955

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.
The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, Who hast been our dwelling place in all generations, and Who art from everlasting to everlasting the same in wisdom, power and goodness: We bless Thee as the Author of our being and the Giver of every good and perfect gift.

Thy gracious providence hath brought us to this day; Thy mercy has spared us and blessed us from day to day and shielded us in the midst of so many dangers. Thy grace has been renewed unto us every morning and Thy faithfulness every night. For this we thank and praise Thee.

Visit these Representatives and all the workers of this government with the tokens of Thy love. Grant that it may be a day where truth and righteousness shall prevail and where the oppressed and afflicted shall receive from all those in authority consideration and helpfulness.

And now unto Thee, Who art able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we can ask or think, be glory and dominion by Christ Jesus, throughout all ages. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Wednesday, September 28, 1955 will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WORLEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I find that daylight time is being extended without authority from the people just as it was started without authority from the people, and therefore I am asking by my bill introduced in this House that the people be given the right to vote at this November election as to whether or not they want such change in time. Some persons can't learn that they just can't change the sun. A higher power controls that. Now let us be fair to the mothers, school children, and farmers; and let the people vote on this question. My bill gives the people this right.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a few remarks about an entirely different subject, and in that connection I will read the following:

> In the House of Representatives, October 5, 1955.
> The President of the United States has made outstanding progress in his effort to return to good health after his recent illness.
> At a great cost to the Nation and personal sacrifices, his official family and advisors in the performance of their duties must go back and forth between Washington and Denver, Colorado, where President Eisenhower is now hospitalized.
> Sometime ago he saw fit to make his permanent home near Gettysburg in Adams County, Pennsylvania. Because of its relative proximity to Washington, it would be ideal for a temporary location for the "White House"; therefore be it
> Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, to establish, during his convalescence, the White House at his home in Adams County as soon as he is permitted to do so by his physicians; and be it further
> Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Sherman Adams, the Assistant to the President, by the clerk of the House of Representatives.

Now, Mr. Speaker, if the White House was moved to Adams County temporarily, the whole Commonwealth would benefit thereby and particularly Adams County would benefit, both culturally and financially; and therefor I ask the Democratic Floor Leader not to object to this resolution's immediate consideration if his party wants to bring business into our state and if he wants to bring a Great President to a healthful, comfortable and convenient farm spot on the lands of this Commonwealth.

Mr. Speaker, I now offer this resolution and move its immediate consideration and adoption.

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the bills on the final passage calendar will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

APPROPRIATION BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the appropriation bills on the third reading calendar will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. Without objection, the bills on the third reading calendar will be passed over. The chair hears none.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. FROST. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Thursday, October 6, 1955 at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:33 a.m. EST), the House adjourned.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1955. No. 96.

SENATE

THURSDAY, October 6, 1955.

The Senate met at 1:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. RUTH:

Our Dear Father in heaven, again we come to Thee and we know that Thou art in our midst. We pray that Thou wilt always give us a sense of Thy presence, that we may realize that if we take the wings of the morning and fly to the uttermost parts of the sea, even there Thy hand will lead us and guide us.

May we always feel Thee near when our problems are great and our enjoyments are great, knowing that Thou hast never forsaken Thine own and Thou wilt not forsake us. In these hours we need Thy presence. Help us to feel it near. We ask it in Thy Holy name, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. BLASS, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. WHALLEY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WHALLEY offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 6, 1955.

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That when the Senate adjourns this week, it reconvene on Monday, October 10, 1955, at two-thirty o'clock, p. m., E.S.T.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week, it reconvene on Thursday, October 13, 1955, at twelve o'clock Noon, E.S.T.; and that when the Senate adjourns the week of October 10, 1955, it reconvene on Monday, October 24, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock. p.m. E.S.T., unless sooner recalled by the President Pro Tempore; and when the House of Representatives adjourns the week of October 10, 1955, it reconvene on Monday, October 24, 1955 at a time to be fixed by the House of Representatives unless sooner recalled by the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, last night many of us, because of lack of rooms in the city of Harrisburg, were compelled to find new sleeping quarters. I, along with my colleague from Washington, Senator Lane, was among the many who went to the Hershey Hotel. Throughout my life, I have been told by elderly people that a person's attire, their disposition, their general attitude will designate just what they are and who they are. Last night, I found this to be true.

About midnight, Senator Lane and I were sitting out on the porch of the Hershey Hotel, watching the rain and talking to a number of our colleagues. A few minutes later, a colleague of ours from Lancaster County, Senator Diehm, strolled out and took part in our little debate. There happened to be a convention of some sort being held at the Hershey Hotel and some strangers appeared. One of the delegates to the convention sat down and took part in our discussion. True, he was somewhat inebriated, but not too much. After listening to our discussion, he stood up and pointed to the gentleman from Lancaster County, Senator Diehm, and said, " I do not know you, but I know what you are. By looking at you, I can read that you are a bona fide Democrat."

The gentleman from Lancaster County was somewhat flabbergasted, and he had to make a quick reply. He said, "No, my friend, you are wrong. My father was a Democrat."

Therefore, Mr. President, you can see that even though company has changed him, down the line some place the expression on his face proves the saying that in looking at a man you can know what he is or what he should be.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 143 REPORTED FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SEYLER, from the Committe on State Government, to which was referred resolution offered by Mr. Kessler, on August 30, 1955, reported the same without amendment as follows:

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE THE PENNSYLVANIA MORTGAGE SYSTEM

In the Senate, August 30, 1955.

Due to economic changes, the raising of the standards of living and the facility of financing the purchase of property for business and dwelling purposes, each year untold thousands of deds and mortgages are left for recording with the recorder of deeds of the several counties of this Commonwealth.

As a result of the recording of this vast number of deeds and mortgages, the various offices of the recorder of deeds are being filled to capacity.

Our Legislature saw fit years ago to enact legislation providing for a "short form" deed which was designed to conserve space in the office of the recorder of deeds.

Many states have appropriate legislation, which provide a title abstract system and the incorporation of descriptions in conveyances which result in shorter deeds and mortgages.

Attorneys at law, financing institutions, public officials and the general public would be greatly benefited by legislation that would simplify the conveyancing and mortgaging of property; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate:

1. The various types of "short form mortgages" and the integration thereof into the Pennsylvania system of mortgaging property;

2. The establishment of abstract of title systems with respect to the ownership and conveyancing of property together with methods whereby descriptions of property may be incorporated into deeds and mortgages by reference to prior deeds; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next regular session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. PECHAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, Senator Dent who is co-sponsoring this bill with me, is unable to be present because of his duties in the Governor's Office. They are working on the budget, I presume. However, I talked with Senator Dent yesterday and we decided to present this bill.

This bill is a safety measure for big trucks. You have probably all read the newspapers of October 4th, about a tremendous tragedy occurring in West Newton, which is in Westmoreland County, Senator Dent's District. I am sorry he is not here to elaborate on what I am going to say. In the West Newton area, according to the newspapers, they have had four or five, maybe six, very severe accidents because of brake failures on a particular hill coming into West Newton. In this particular accident, the truck was coming down the hill and crashed into a couple of stores, into a train and derailed, I think, nine cars. It killed five people and injured two. When I read the newspapers of October 4th, I found the estimated damage to be something like $1,000,000. As I said before, there have been six such disasters on this particular hill because of brake failure in recent years.

Mr. President, the bill that I am presenting, with Senator Dent's co-sponsorship, is to act as a safety measure on the highways, not only for other trucks but for the truck, itself, and innocent people who are not in any way connected with the vehicle at that time. This bill will make it mandatory that all trucks have an auxiliary brake. This does not mean the emergency brake, as we have in our automobiles, but it will have all the feautres of the cylinders that are now on big trucks. I am hoping that the trucking industry will accept this, in the face of its safety feature, which we are trying to do in order to protect not only property but also the public.

Therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of my colleague, Senator Dent and myself, I am presenting these two bills.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. PECHAN and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 794, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation out of the Motor License Fund to the Joint State Government Commission for a study and investigation of safety on highways.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 795, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and gargae keepers; providing that records are admissible as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation and providing for refunds," requiring certain vehicles and combinations of vehicles equipped with air brakes to be equipped with emergency brakes.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. LANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, I listened to Senator Pechan explain the features of the legislation which he and Senator Dent have sponsored here today. I feel that this is a step in the righ direction. As a matter of fact, I talked that problem over many times with Senator Dent, because in my county of Washington and my neighboring county of Fayette, we have had a number of fatalities due to the fact that these heavy trucks start down from the summit and they crash through and have killed many people over there. The same thing happens on Browsville Hill, which is a part of Route U. S. 40. The trucks which have come down that hill have had failures of their brakes on many occasions. They have caused considerable property damage and, as a matter of fact, one time they tore out two stores and killed several people. I think last year there was a big truck loaded with steel which came down that hill and upset right in the neck in Brownsville. We have had the same experience over in Washington County, on Route U. S. 40. We have a steep hill coming down into West Brownsville, and we have the same trouble with these heavy trucks.

The features that Senator Pechan and Senator Dent outlined in this legislation are somewhat similar to the brake equipment locomotives. As a matter of fact, under the Interstate Commerce Law, I believe, a locomotive engineer, when using the emergency brake, must file a certificate setting forth the reason why that was done. That is what we call the auxiliary brake. I have always argued that these large trucks should have auxiliary brakes; that they should only be used in cases of emergency and that they should be properly sealed. When that seal is broken, they should file a written statement with the Department of Safety. The Department of Safety should have inspectors to check these auxiliary brakes in order to protect the public.

Mr. President, I am not opposed to big trucks. I feel that they have a place in our economy. However, I do say that the time has come when I wish to congratulate Senator Dent and Senator Pechan for their foresight in sponsoring this legislation. The time has come when we must protect the public at large. The highways today are not built for these large trucks, and I say that we must do something to protect all the people.

The accident which occurred in West Newton was a terrible thing. I am quite familiar with that accident, because I came by their shortly after it occurred. It is certainly terrible when a large truck would start down a hill and ram a freight train and kill innocent bystanders due to negligence. If those trucks were properly inspected —if their braking equipment were properly inspected by competent authorities—this never would have happened.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION, SERIAL No. 151,, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, at this time, on behalf of Senator Wolfe, I call from the table Senate Concurrent Resolution, Serial No. 151.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the Senate, September 27, 1955.

The name of Pennsylvania was given to the colony of William Penn and inherited by the Commonwealth because of verdant forests that once covered its territory. But indifference or lack of foresight to the future weal in years past rapidly denuded Pennsylvania's hillsides of its trees; and carelessness and indifference to the value of second growths permitted repeated fires to ravage the cut-over area and to scorch the earth into a state of ugliness and unproductivity, robbing the land of its protecting forest growth.

A bleak and univiting example of this catastrophe was what is now the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County when Raymond B. Winter was sent there as a forester in 1910. The area was a charred wilderness of dead brush, stumps and a mud hole formerly a saw mill dam.

During his forty-five years of service there, Mr. Winter transformed the area into one of Pennsylvania's outstanding beauty spots. With far-sighted planning and tireless efforts he undertook the task of rehabilitation. His early days in the area were devoted to fire control and prevention, tree planting, road and trail building and gradually a little recreational work for the local people, which later, with the help of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the early thirties and later improvement developed into a State Forest park of four hundred acres with a concrete and stone masonry dam on the site of the former saw mill dam, presently known as the Half-Way State Forest Park, And today the Bald Eagle Forest is an established and thrifty forest.

That Bald Eagle is one of the finest and best preserved forest districts in the State today is due mainly to the diligent and conscientious work of Mr. Winter; therefore be it Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the recreation area in the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County now known as Half-Way State Forest Park be renamed Raymond B. Winter State Forest Park in lasting tribute to his untiring work in conservation.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read by the Clerk be adopted.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Section 12.3 Any person who shall after the effective date of this act be employed by the bureau of fire of the city and who shall become a member of the fund and who after twenty or more years service retires voluntarily before reaching the age of fifty years shall pay into the pension fund monthly a sum equal to the last monthly contribution paid while in the service until he or she reaches the age of fifty years when such former employe shall be eligible to receive a pension allowance

Section 12.4 In every city of the second class in addition to the pension which is authorized by law and notwithstanding the limitations therein placed upon pensions and upon contributions every contributor who shall have otherwise become entitled to the pension and who has reached the age of fifty years shall also be entitled to the payment of a service increment in accordance with and subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth

(1) Service increment shall be the sum obtained by computing the number of whole years after the completion of twenty years' service which a contributor has been employed by the bureau of fire and paid out of the city treasury and multiplying the number of years so computed by an amount equal to five dollars for each month of service beyond twenty years of service This sum shall be divided by twelve to arrive at the monthly increment payment In computing the service increment no employment after the contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years shall be included and no service increment shall be paid in excess of one hundred dollars per month

(2) Each contributor from and after the effective date of this amendment shall pay into the retirement fund as the contribution to the increment fund a monthly sum in addition to his or her retirement contribution which shall be equal to one-half of one per centum of his or her salary Such payment shall not exceed the sum of one dollar per month The service increment contribution shall not be paid after a contributor has reached the age of sixty-five years

(3) Persons who are contributors on the effective date of this amendment who have already reached the age of sixty-five years shall have his or her service increment computed on the years of employment prior to the date of reaching his or her sixty-fifth birthday Such person however shall be entitled to the increment only by paying in the one dollar per month contribution for the number of months his or her service exceeds twenty years but such contribution shall not exceed a total of one hundred dollars

(4) Service increment contributions shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as pension contributions and may be withdrawn in full without interest by persons who leave the employment of the bureau of fire subject to the same conditions by which pension contributions may be withdrawn When any person is re-employed by the bureau of fire after withdrawal of pension contributions his or her prior service shall not be used in the computation of service increment unless the amount of such contributions be repaid into the pension fund subject to the same conditions by which pension fund withdrawals are permitted to be repaid

(5) All employes of the bureau of fire who are now contributors to the pension fund and all persons who are employed by the bureau of fire after the effective date of this amendment who are required to become contributors to the pension fund shall be subject to the provisions of this section

Section 2 The provisions of this amending act shall have no application to or any effect on pensions now being paid to persons retired on the effective date of this act nor shall persons on retirement pension on the effective date of this act if re-employed receive any increase in pension as a result of these amendments

Section 3 Section 3 act of May 22 1951 (P. L. 328) is repealed

Section 4 This act shall take effect January 1 1956

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 386, Printer's No. 1033, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on second reading, go over in their order:

Senate Bill No. 584, Printer's No. 267;

House Bill No. 620, Printer's No. 1034;

Senate Bill No. 657, Printer's No. 278; and

Senate Bill No. 672, Printers No. 280.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 270, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Senator Pechan, in the words of Alice in Wonderland, this situation is getting "curiouser and curioser." What is the purpose for the delay? Is it simply for further study or for eventual strangulation?

Mr. PECHAN. I am sure, Mr. President, that time will tell that it is for further study. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Stiefel, has been in the Senate long enough to know that we give all of these bills study, until we are satisfied that they are as they should be. We put them over in order until we can give them further study.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, this is one instance when time is on my side, because I understand that the State Federation of Historical Societies has studied these bills yesterday and today. They will rally to our support. Furthermore, my amendment, which was introduced yesterday, has cured the bill to such an extent that it is now unassailable.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the bill will go over in its order.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 716, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 29 1931 (P. L. 280) entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof requiring the receivers and collectors of county city borough town township school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes and providing for the lien thereof authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances" requiring the county treasurer to give notice of tax sales to persons in whose names the property is last registered and to lien creditors

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HALUSKA offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1 (Section 9), page 4, line 5, by striking out after the word "by" and before the word "within" the following: "certified mail" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "postage prepaid United States registered mail return receipt requested or United States certified mail return receipt requested or any other form of United States mail service which provides both for the post office to maintain a record of delivery and for the sender to obtain a receipt evidencing delivery signed by the addressee or his agent Such notice shall be mailed"; Amend Section 1 (Section 9), page 4, line 7, by striking out at the end of the line after the word "address" the following: "and to all lien creditors at their"; Amend Section 1 (Section 9), page 4, by striking out line 8; Amend Section 1

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read and agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 716, Printer's No. 272, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursement to school districts.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WAGNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I want to report two bills at this time, because they should properly be reported at the same time as Doctor Chapman's. I am directed by the Committee on Appropriations to report these two bills, House Bill No. 1555, as committed, and House Bill No. 1628, as amended. I think it is highly important that a statement be made clarifying the school money situation at this time.

Some of you will recall that about a month ago, I took the floor and made a plea for the reimbursement of school districts whose subsidies for rentals and for teachers' salaries have been long delayed, necessitating that they borrow money. We had quite a discussion that day; it was not argumentative. We had quite a discussion about which bill should be used to accomplish this purpose. There were those who felt that the bills which had already passed the House, to take care of rentals and teachers' salaries, should be passed in the Senate. There were those, including myself, who felt that we should pass Senator Mahany's sponsored bills, which are still on the Senate Calendar. The reason for that thinking was because a lot of legal experts—and I am not one of them—felt that House Bill No. 1555, Mr. President, was not entirely legal or constitutional or cricket, or whatever you choose to call it, because it increases an appropriation which was made last biennium, and October is a little late in the year to do that. However, I said that day, and I think every man in the Senate agreed with me in substance, that it did not matter particularly whether it was a House bill or a Senate bill that would do the trick. We owe it to the school districts, and the school children of Pennsylvania, to pay them the amounts that we promised them and to reimburse them as per the accepted formula for that purpose.

I think, Mr. President, we have finally resolved the issue to the point that we are ready to report these bills which, with Senator Chapman's bill, will appropriate sufficient moneys to catch up with the slack, to satisfy the school districts who had to borrow money for the delayed appropriations and to take care of the payments which will be due this month, next month and in the month of December to the schools of Pennsylvania.

Might I say that we must alert all those who are interested to scrutinize House Bill No. 1628, and if it should be found that any change is necessary, or any substitution must be made, it was a mistake of the head rather than a mistake legislatively. All the Members of the Senate, I am quite positive, join me in announcing happily that apparently the school financial problem for the immediate season will be settled once these three bills reported out this afternoon are finally passed.

Accordingly, Mr. President, these bills are being reported from the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WAGNER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make reports from committee at this time.

The President. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WAGNER, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1555, entitled:

An Act to amend an act approved the twenty-second day of August one thousand nine hundred fifty-three (Appropriation Acts page 54) entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth interest on the public debt and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred fifty-three" by changing the amount appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

He also, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as amended House Bill No. 1628, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for payments to school districts on account of rentals payable to municipal authorities and nonprofit corporations.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. HOUSE BILL No. 1830.

An Act providing for a referendum to determine the will of the electorate with respect to the adoption of daylight saving time.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. WORLEY. RESOLUTION (Not Printed).

In the House of Representatives, October 5, 1955.
The President of the United States has made outstanding progress in his effort to return to good health after his recent illness.
At a great cost to the Nation and personal sacrifices, his official family and advisors in the performance of their duties must go back and forth between Washington and Denver, Colorado, where President Eisenhower is now hospitalized.
Sometime ago he saw fit to make his permanent home near Gettysburg in Adams County, Pennsylvania. Because of its relative proximity to Washington, it would be ideal for a temporary location for the "White House"; therefore be it
Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, to establish, during his convalescence, the White House at his home in Adams County as soon as he is permitted to do so by his physicians; and be it further
Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to Sherman Adams, the Assistant to the President, by the clerk of the House of Representatives.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTION

RESOLUTION

HONORING GENERAL CASIMIR PULASKI

Messrs. KAMYK, KOLANKIEWICZ and PETROSKY asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, October 6, 1955.

October 11th is Pulaski Day by Presidential Proclamation.

General Casimir Pulaski, Polish patriot who died 176 years ago, participating in the American Revolution, was honored with military parades in many cities, including Philadelphia and New York on October 2, and with memorial ceremonies throughout the United States.

Little known before, the exploits of the dashing Pulaski, which became a legend in the annals of American History, have been traced to many local areas, including Philadelphia, Valley Forge, Whitemarsh, Germantown, Upper Merion, Lower Salford, Plymouth, Towamencin, Skippack, Worcester and others.

In this respect, it is most fitting to note, how the tree of Americanism, grew forth from the roots of Europe's soldier servants. It was Lafayette and Rochambeau of France; Von Steuben and DeKalb from Germany, Kosciuszko and Pulaski of Poland.

The military activities of Pulaski in the United States began in August of 1777 when he and General Lafayette reported for duty with the Continental Army, which was encamped along York Road, near the Little Neshaming Creek in Bucks County. General Washington was much impressed with this young soldier and as his first assignment, the Commander-in-Chief appointed Pulaski his bodyguard. At the Battle of Brandywine, on September 11, Pulaski led his small detachment in such brilliant maneuvers, Washington had him recommended to Congress for duties of higher echelon. On September 21, 1777 Congress made Count Pulaski a Brigadier General in command of four horse regiments. With distinguished service at the Battle of Germantown on October 4, Pulaski's dragoons participated in bitter rear guard action, covering Washington's movements along the Skippack, between the Perkiomen and Whitemarsh.

Perhaps the outstanding fact gathered from newly discovered documents was that General Pulaski offered his services free to the American cause, but when he found out that many of his associates did not appreciate his efforts, he asked for his yearly pay. A portion of these funds were used later to equip his own corps.

Upon the request of Pulaski, who at one time submitted his resignation in dispute with some of his subordinate officers, but later withdrew, was granted authority by Congress to organize his own corps. Later, the War Council gave him command over all foreigners and enlarged his Infantry to a Regiment.

The last document in the war by Pulaski was a letter written to Congress in August 19, 1779, which read in part: "Be more just, Gentlemen, and know that as I could not submit to stoop before the Sovereigns of Europe, so I came to hazard all the freedom of America, and desirous of passing the rest of my life in a country truly free and before settling as a citizen, to fight for liberty. The campaign is at hand, perhaps I may still have occasion of showing that I am a friend to the cause without being happy enough to please some individuals."

After assignment of the Pulaski Legion to the south, operating in Georgia and South Carolina, the War Council called for an attack on Savannah to start on October 8, 1779. Flanking columns under the overall command of General Lincoln were to attack eastern and rear fortifications; Admiral D'Estaing, French Commander, was to lead the frontal and main ground attack. Pulaski to command American and French cavalry as rear guard. D'Estaing by clever tactics reached the Redoubt and forced his way to the abatis. Soldiers planted the American and French flags on the parapets. Victory was in sight. The British, although surprised, struck back with sea and land cannons, crossfiring the area. Wounded in trying to rally the troops, D'Estaing displayed great gallantry. Pulaski, seeing the retreat from this strategic position, rushed forward with his aide, Captain Bentalon to take command. Charging on his white horse, Pulaski called, "Forward Brothers, Forward." At that instant a cannon shot hit his leg and at the same time killing his horse. Both Admiral and General were evacuated. On October 11, 1779 aboard the U. S. Ship Wasp, on its way to Charleston, Pulaski died in great agony. In the intense heat, his corpse was decomposing and had to be buried at sea.

This ended the career of Casimir Pulaski, "The Father of American Cavalry," whose soldiery sacrifice was more appreciated after his death than during his lifetime; therefore be it

Resolved, That we pause to pay tribute to General Casimir Pulaski, Poland's hero who gave his life for America's freedom; and that we draw inspiration from his greatness and cherish his sacrifices and loyalty to the United States of America.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. KOLANKIEWICZ and KAMYK offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, October 6, 1955.

The House of Representatives has learned of the death of Phoebe Mary Mullen Taylor, wife of Martin J. Taylor, a member of the House of Representatives.

Phoebe Mary Mullen Taylor was born in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania on October 15, 1896 and died on October 2, 1955. She married Bartin J. Taylor on June 13, 1913 and had two children, Catherine Veronica Taylor Glowka and John Martin Taylor and five grandchildren, Albert and Dorothea Glowka; Maryann, Jacqueline and John Martin Taylor, Jr.

During her lifetime Mrs. Taylor was a very active member of Mother Catherine Drexel's Auxiliary and particularly active in the affairs of the Democratic Party, together with her husband, Martin J. Taylor, who is the leader of the 45th Ward Democratic Executive Committee in addition to being a distinguished member of this House of Representatives. Mrs. Taylor had been a life-long resident of Philadelphia and the 45th Ward and was very close to her husband and to the people of her community.

Most of the present membership of the House, through years of association with Honorable Martin J. Taylor, have grown to prize their friendship for him and to hold him highly in their personal esteem. The loss he has suffered is one which they themselves feel most keenly; therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives pause in its deliberations to note the passing of the wife of a distinguished fellow member of the House; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Honorable Martin J. Taylor and the family of the deceased, conveying thereby the profound sympathy of the House for them in their great bereavement.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, all of us realize that public service carries little or no reward. We do not often become excited as individuals when some person takes to the air and condemns us individually for our deeds or what they consider our misdeeds, for what we do or for what we fail to do. However, I think that all of us are a little disturbed when an individual, who poses as an educated man and who poses as a spokesman for a large group of our citizens, takes it upon himself to castigate the entire Membership of this Senate, the Membership of the House of Representatives and the entire governing body of this great Commonwealth.

To this man, I would say that we are not perfect. However, all of us are not entirely imperfect. Over the radio and at a public meeting, held in the city of Pittsburgh, he made a statement to the effect that this General Assembly was the cause of a condition in the school system of Pennsylvania that approached bankruptcy, and that following closely on the heels of the local bankruptcy in the school system was the bankruptcy in the State, itself; not only in its finances, but in the individuals who comprise the legislative body.

This man's name is Lumley, Mr. President. I started to go through what I call a mind to try to remember this man, Lumley. I remembered him after a little while as the man who haunted the halls of this Senate of Pennsylvania, using the political threat of the mass vote of the schoolteachers of Pennsylvania organized in the P.S.E.A., which he represented, to bludgeon through this Senate and House of Representatives unsound school legislation. We are today faced with the problem of providing some $600,000,000 for the school systems of this great State. Mr. Lumley, in his capacity of representing the P.S.E.A., had little or no consideration for the people of this State in his drive for greater rewards for the schoolteachers and the school system and without any regard as to where the finances were to come from. Those of us who have the responsibility of paying for the bills of the Commonwealth, including the local school districts, do not relish being called names by this fellow who has had his proboscis in the public trough ever since he was old enough to eat a full meal. As a reward for his chicanery, he was given a job in the Department of Public Instruction and there received a very fine salary for doing absolutely nothing but wearing hand painted yellow ties.

Mr. President, in my lifetime, I have learned to respect all men. I find it hard to believe that there is on this earth one individual whose character approximates a zero. Therefore, I will not say that this man represents a zero. I will say that he is one-minus.

We have not desroyed the school system and those of us who are conscientious in our duties—and I assume that all of us are—long ago recognized the needs of our school system. However, when you take a Commonwealth such as Pennsylvania and you start to put more of the State's revenues into local school districts, it necessitates an increase in revenues for the State. The problem is perennial. Every year we atempt to give more to our local districts for the schools, and every year we must raise taxes to meet the amounts that we give the schools. We may be slow in our actions. We just cannot go out and tax the people of Pennsylvania, the industries of Pennsylvania and the businesses of Pennsylvania without due deliberation. So, Mr. Lumley, who is still on the public payroll as a Superintendent of Schools in Wilkes-Barre, if his pay is held up a couple of days, he should not scream so loudly because he was the man who was the big influence behind the legislation that committed this General Assembly, previous General Assemblies and future General Assemblies to raising approximately $100,000,000 additional every two years to meet a debt incurred six years ago. If Mr. Lumley is such a magician and is such a statesman, and the rest of us are what he derisively called politicians, maybe he will run for the Senate up in Wilkes-Barre and then give us the benefit of his great undeveloped brain.

Mr. Lumley must remember that he is in public life. He is the worst kind of a politician because a true politician stands before the people in an elective district and bares his political soul to the whims and the doubts and the fire of the electorate on election day. The cheap, tawdry politician is the kind like Mr. Lumley, who lives off of a political payroll but never puts his record to the test of an election. All he must do is to mesmerize a couple local school directors. His job, mind you, pays him a minimum of seven times as much yearly pay as what the Members of this General Assembly receive. I have never heard Mr. Lumley take the floor anywhere and say that the Members of the General Assembly, who have the responsibility of the whole Commonwealth upon their shoulders, are underpaid. However, I have heard him squeal like a stuck hog about he, himself, being underpaid. We will raise the money and we will raise it in due time. We will do it in the most intelligent manner that we can, and we will try to do it in such a manner that it will not injure this Commonwealth or its peoples any more than taxes of a necessity must injure them. We will not be stampeded by Mr. Lumley or any of his stripe in this State.

I can only say this to Mr. Lumley. He, above all other persons in this Commonwealth, is more responsible for the problem that faces us at this time. He, above all other persons in this Commonwealth, has less right to condemn the Members of the General Assembly and more cause to praise because, realizing the terrible burden that we placed upon ourselves and future

General Assemblies, we did vote for increased and needed subsidies to the school systems of this great Commonwealth. God willing, we will continue in that process; we will continue to raise the subsidies and the standards of our school in spite of educated illiterates like Lumley.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

URGING THE GENERAL STATE AUTHORITY TO ACQUIRE PROPERTY IN CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA FOR A SCHOOL FOR MENTAL DEFECTIVES

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. MALLERY, RUTH, DERK, DIEHM and STEVENSON offered the following resolution, which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, October 7, 1955.

Polk State School in western Pennsylvania and Pennhurst State School in eastern Pennsylvania are devoted exclusively to the care of mental defectives. The facilities of both schools are overtaxed. There is a crying need for an additional school centrally located; therefore be it Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the General State Authority be urged to acquire property in central Pennsylvania, with the approval of the Governor and the Department of Welfare, and to erect thereon the buildings and equipment required for a State school for mental defectives, to be leased to the Commonwealth and operated by the Department of Welfare according to law.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, October 10, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 10:19 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, October 10, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

SENATE

MONDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1955.

The Senate met at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PAUL S. MONTGOMERY, D.D., Pastor of United Church of Aspinwall, Presbyterian, offered the following prayer:

Let us unite in prayer.

O God of wisdom, truth and beauty, Whose handiwork is viewed in all the changing world of nature around us, we pause at the threshold of another week of work to invoke Thy divine blessing.

Grant, we pray Thee, to all these men here assembled, and to all others in positions of authority and responsibility, the wisdom to know and the courage to do Thy will. Fill them with the love of truth and of righteousness and make them ever mindful of their high calling, to serve all Thy children in the best interest of the common good. May Thy saving health and grace be amongst them in all their labors.

We ask these petitions in the Name of Him Who went about doing good, even Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. MAHANY and Mr. PECHAN, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. WATKINS, from the Committee on Law ond Order, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 735, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90), entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors, alcholol and malt and brewed beverages; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto; regulating and restricting the manufacture, purchase, sale, possession, consumption, importation, transportation, furnishing, holding in bond, holding in storage, traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors, alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein: defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the establishment and operation of State Liquor stores; for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships, for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases, for search and seizure without warrant; prescribing penalties and forfeitures; providing for local option, and repealing existing laws," permitting licensed importers to import, purchase, sell and store liquor and alcohol in the Commonwealth.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. WOLFE, from the Committee on Military Affairs and Aeronautics, returned to the Senate, House Bill No. 1692, entitled:

An Act directing the Legislative Reference Bureau to compile and publish a revised compilation of laws relating to war veterans, and making an appropriation.

Which was re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. MILLER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 796, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 10, 1949 (P. L. 30), entitled "An act relating to the public school system, including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," providing for certification of physically handicapped persons as teachers.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

Mr. WATKINS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 797, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1931 (P. L. 1206), entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto," requiring entrance of bond in appeals from board of adjustment rulings affecting zoning regulations.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

Mr. WEINER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 798, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 23, 1949 (P. L. 1669), entitled, as amended, "An act to provide revenue for school districts of the first class by imposing a tax on persons engaging in certain businesses, professions, occupations, trades, vocations and commercial activities therein; providing for its levy and collection; conferring and imposing powers and duties on the board of Public Education, receiver of school taxes and school treasurer in such districts; and prescribing penalties," further defining taxable receipts, and making such definition applicable to all tax returns and tax payments made after the effective date hereof.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, there seems to be a tendency growing in Pennsylvania for some of the large chain stores to stay open on Sunday. This situation has now arrived at the point where some of the large chain stores, like the A & P Stores and Kroger's, have advised their clerks that this is going to be permitted to exist.

It will not be long before we have a complete commercial Sunday, and all the large chain stores throughout the State will have to remain open.

With this in view, Mr. President, I am offering a bill which forbids the sale of food on Sunday, Although it does not affect the small corner grocery store which only maintains one, two or three employees and which is owned by an individual. This bill only applies to stores which have a defined number of employees.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. HOLLAND read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 799, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1939 (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," prohibiting offering for sale and selling food at retail on Sunday.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Messrs. LANE, HALUSKA and SEYLER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 800, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2045), entitled, as amended "An act relating to the support of indigent persons; providing for the support of such persons by certain relatives, and for the recovery of public moneys expended for care and assistance from the property and estates of certain persons; providing for guardians of the person and property of such persons; providing for the arrest and seizure and sale of the property of deserters; and providing procedure, relieving children of public assistance recipients when property is encumbered; and providing for redemption of such property and its discharge from general debts.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

They also read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 801, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2045) entitled a samended "An act relating to the support of indigent persons; providing for the support of such persons by certain relatives, and for the recovery of public moneys expended for care and assistance from the property and estates of certain persons; providing for guardians of the person and property of such persons; providing for the arrest and seizure and sale of the property of deserters; and providing procedure," limiting liability of children of public assistance recipients.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Messrs. BARR and KOPRIVER, JR. read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 802, entitled:

An Act to provide for an additional law judge of the orphans' court in the fifth judicial district.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. FLACK read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 803, entitled:

An Act to authorize cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships and school districts to file suggestions of nonpayment and averments of default or to sue out writs of scire facias on certain tax or municipal claims and to revive judgments where the lien of such claims or the judgments thereon have been lost, and providing for the reinstatement of the liens of such claims and judgments.

Which was committed to the Committee on Local Government.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the name of Senator John C. Miller be stricken from Senate Bill No. 788, which was introduced here last week. His name was inadvertently placed on the bill and I ask the Chairman of the Committee on Law and Order, to which committee the bill was sent, to strike Senator Miller's name from that bill.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the Chairman of the Committee on Law and Order will strike the name of Senator Miller from Senate Bill No. 788.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 56, TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I am calling up from the table Senate Resolution, Serial No. 56, which has been favorably reported from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish. There was some objection about the propriety of taking original, old bills—and I mention that the bills date back to 1822—and transferring them to the Historical and Museum Commission. There was some question as to whether the original bills, although nobody refers to them today, should be transferred from the jurisdiction of the Senate.

We checked with the practice of the Federal authorities in Washington and we found that the Federal Government, Congress, transferred their old bills to the archives .This is exactly what we want to do here. I feel that it is our duty to contribute to the further progress of the preservation of Pennsylvania's glorious heritage by transferring these old bills, which are now gathering dust somewhere in a corner of this Capitol, to the archives of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

Mr. President, I plead with you to support this measure which has been favorably acted upon by Senator Blass' committee.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

REQUESTING THE TRANSFER OF CERTAIN SENATE RECORD TO THE PENNSYLVANIA HISTORICAL AND MUSEUM COMMISSION

In the Senate, August 2, 1955.

In Room 528, E Floor of the Capitol, which is known as the Senate Transcribing Room, there are many old records of the Senate, beginning with the year 1822. These records are no doubt the oldest surviving records of the Senate and include much historical data, such as State and county election returns, beginning with the year 1840 and ending around 1900, petitions addressed to the Senate, and Senate bills in their original form as introduced.

Space in the Transcribing Room is sorely needed. The old historical records, some of which are undoubtedly pricelesss as part of Pennsylvania's cultural heritage, are impeding current Senate operations. The scarcity of space has necessitated storing these old records in such a manner that it is impossible to make a careful study to determine their true historical value.

These old historical records of the Senate are of no present value to the Senate. It therefore seems wise and proper that the records between the years 1822 and 1910 be transferred to and put under the custody of the commission which retains historical data that inures to the cultural benefit of the citizenry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania permanently transfer all historical Senate records between the years 1822 to 1910 which are stored in the Senate Transcribing Room to the custody of the Division of Public Records within the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission.

SENATE RESOLUTION, SERIAL NO. 56, ADOPTED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just read be adopted.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

CONSIDERATION OF EXECUTIVE NOMINATIONS

Mr. WATSON asked and obtained unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the nominations reported at todays Session.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I withdraw my request that Senate Bill No. 721, Printer's No. 251, go over in its order.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 721, as follows:

An Act authorizing and directing the Department of Highways to accept a bridge across Redbank Creek and the approaches thereto connecting the State highway system in Armstrong County with the State highway system in Clarion County.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows.

Section 1 The Department of Highways with the approval of the Governor is hereby authorized and directed to accept on behalf of the Commonwealth the bridge across Redbank Creek and its approaches connecting the State highway system in Armstrong County with the State highway system in Clarion County described as follows

Beginning at the terminus of Pennsylvania Legislative Route No. 03140 on the south bank of Redbank Creek in Mahoning Township Armstrong County at the south end of a one lane bridge crossing said creek thence crossing said creek north 24 degrees 30 minutes east 254.88 feet to the terminus of Pennsylvania Legislative Route No. 16100 on the north bank of Redbank Creek in Porter Township Clarion County and at the north end of the one lane bridge aforementioned.

Section 2 After acquisition of the bridge and the approaches thereto they shall be reconstructed and maintained by the Department of Highways in accordance with present or future laws governing the reconstruction and maintenance of State highways.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise in opposition to this piece of legislation. I have been in contact with the Highway Department and they feel that there is an unjustified expediture involved. I am also advised that the proper procedure in this particular case, with regard to this particular bridge, is that the joint counties involved should have their solicitors petition the grand jury for the purpose of abandonment. That would take care of the situation.

I do not feel that this is a State responsibility. If this were a State responsibility, I would say that it would be the responsibility of the Highway Department to maintain the bridge which we have between Donora and Webster, over the Monongahela River, which costs the counties of Washington and Westmoreland approximately $95,000 every four years for maintenance. Therefore, I do not feel that the Commonwealth should take this responsibility, and if so, I would request that they also take over the Donora-Webster Bridge.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, if I may, I would like to read a letter relative to the responsibility which I had with respect to the introduction of this bill. I think that the reading of this letter will clarify some of the points which have been brought out. This letter came from the legal counsel for the Climax Fire Brick Company, and reads as follows:

"Dear Senator:

"I am enclosing herewith a draft of Pennsylvania Legislative Route 03140 in Mahoning Township, Armstrong County, Pennsylvania, which leads to a privately owned bridge across Redbank Creek, which divides Armstrong and Clarion Counties at that point. The blue print also shows Pennsylvania Legislative Route No. 16100, leading from the northern end of the private bridge to Pennsylvania Legislative Route No. 16100, which has a bituminous surface.

"This bridge at one time was used by the employees and officials of the Climax Fire Brick Company at Climax, Mahoning Township, Armstrong County, Pennsylvania. At that time the plant was located on both the south and north sides of Redbank Creek. That portion in Clarion County was in Porter Township. There is no longer any part of the plant on the Armstrong County side, excepting the offices of the Climax Fire Brick Company. The entire plant necessary for the production of its product is situated in Porter Township, Clarion County, Pennsylvania.

"Not having use for the bridge any more, we have barricaded the bridge on numerous occasions, particularly when it was in need of repairs. The traveling public tore down every barricade erected, and a number of times it was necessary to call the Sheriff of Armstrong County, and also the Pennsylvania State Police, in an attempt to keep the barricades in place. Various persons unknown to us tore down the barricades each time we put them in place, until just recently, when we found it necessary because of the condition of the bridge to make a more permanent type of barricade which is in place at the present time.

"Prior to this, the two legislative routes designated on the map, and the private bridge, were used by the traveling public. In fact, dozens of vehicles and persons used the routes and the bridge daily. At the present time, there are petitions being circulated among the citizens in that area, requesting that this bridge be opened again for the convenience of the public. We cannot repair, keep up and maintain the bridge.

"Therefore, since it is a public necessity, we are enlisting your good graces to have a bill introduced, giving legislative authority to the Pennsylvania Department of Highways to take over this bridge. The Climax Fire

Brick Company will quit claim or deed, or execute whatever papers are necessary for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, Department of Highways, to take over this bridge. The Climax Fire Brick Company constructed this bridge many years ago and that corporation is the owner of it.

"To assist you in the matter, we are enclosing herewith the draft and a description as prepared by Robert B. Shannon and Associates, Registered Engineers, Kittanning, Armstrong County, Pennsylvania.

"Appreciating your cooperation, I am

"Very truly yours,

/s/ "W. A. Ashe
"Attorney for Climax Fire Brick Company."

Mr. President, I do not know the history of the two State roads that this privately owned bridge connects. I do not know when they were built, but the only way that these two State roads can be brought together, so that you can cross this creek, would be by the means of a bridge. Since it is a State road, we believe that it is a public function.

I have here in my possession the signature of some 500 residents in that immediate area who have petitioned that something be done, because it is an inconvenience to them. I do not believe that it is the responsibility of this private firm to maintain this bridge. They have no further use for it; they are willing to quit claim any property rights which they may have in that area and I, therefore, urge my colleagues to vote for this bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to put into the record a communication which I received from the Secretary of Highways of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Honorable Joseph J. Lawler, in which he says:

"Please be advised that the Department of Highways disapproves of the enactment of Senate Bill No. 721, Printer's No. 251, authorizing and directing the Department of Highways to accept a bridge across Redbank Creek and Approaches thereto connecting the State highway system in Armstrong County with the State highways system in Clarion County.

"This bridge is a privately owned bridge of only one lane and in a very bad state of repair. Accepting this bridge as part of the State highway system would necessitate the replacement of same by a new bridge.

"We are of the opinion that in view of the very light traffic over this route and the nature and condition of this bridge, it would not be in the best interests of the Commonwealth to accept it."

Mr. President, I can appreciate the problem that Senator Pechan and his constituents have up there. However, I would say to you that it seems to me this is the responsibility of the joint counties involved in this particular case, and they would be Armstrong County and Clarion County. After all, I, too, would like to see a new bridge in my county, as I previously stated. We, in Washington County, need a new bridge from West Brownsville over to Brownsville because of the traffic on Route U. S. 40. However, we do not have one. Since this is a one-lane affair and since it was privately owned and never owned by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, I say it is the responsibility of county government and not the responsibility of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I hesitate to differ with the Secretary of Highways, but I worked for this company for three years, as Secretary. They make the finest fire brick of any company in Pennsylvania. They have fifteen gas wells on the property. They employ four or five hundred people. We had a man in our county who was a councilman, George Evans, who always told me that if a company goes into a district and builds a plant and employs 500 people, 750 or 800 more people will make a living in addition to those 500 who go in there to work.

This company went in there and built this plant. They sell their fire bricks to all the big plants in Pennsylvania and other States. They built this bridge and it did not cost anyone a cent. This bridge lies between two counties, which is always more or less a troublesome question, and inasmuch as they are big taxpayers and big producers, I do not think it would burden the State too much to build this little bridge.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I would just like to say to Senator Lane that if he has a comparable situation where two State highways can be joined together over a small stream such as this, if he introduces an appropriate bill, I will be very happy to be one on this side of the aisle to go along with him. In fact, Mr. President, all of us on this side of the Senate will go along with Senator Lane on his bill.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I do not have a comparable situation. The bridge I mentioned goes over the Monongahela River, which carries the greatest coal tonnage of any river, I believe, in the United States. However, in looking over Senator Pechan's bill, and after going into conference with Senator Barr, I believe, too, that this legislation is not written properly, and I believe the title does not compare with the contents of the bill. I, therefore, do not think we could pass it in its present form anyway. In looking over the title of the bill, it authorizes and directs the Department of Highways to accept a bridge across Redbank Creek and the approaches thereto. If I understand Senator Pechan correctly, he said that there is no bridge there to amount to anything, because they have barricades up and it is very dangerous for the public to even approach it.

Then, in Section 2: "After acquisition of the bridge and the approaches thereto they shall be reconstructed and maintained by the Department of Highways in accordance with present or future laws governing the reconstruction and maintenance of State Highways."

Therefore, Mr. President, I do not think it is in order, and Senator Barr agrees with me.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I am not sure if I am recorded as voting. I wish to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny will be so recorded.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, vote?

The PRESIDENT. He is recorded as voting "aye."

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, how did the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Mallery, vote?

MOTION TO RE-REFER BILL

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 574, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire by gift the Old Brown's Mill building and project in Antrim Township Franklin County and providing for its maintenance and control be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, in reading Senate Bill No. 574, I do not see any place in it which carries an appropriation. Therefore, it is not necessary for this bill to clear the Appropriations Committee.

I, therefore, oppose the motion to re-refer it to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I do not know very much about Old Brown's Mill, but if I can be of help I will be happy to answer any other questions.

I understand that Senator McPherson is on his way up here, Senator Barr, if you care to wait for just a second.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the question is, if this is going to be given as a gift to the State that is one thing, but how much is it going to cost the State each year to maintain it?

Mr. MAHANY. Five dollars and forty-nine cents.

Mr. BARR. Almost equal to the number of the bill.

Mr. President, the Majority Floor Leader is a lawyer and I think he will admit that once the State receives the Old Browns Mill building as a gift, it will be up to the State to maintain it; am I correct?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, I presume that would be so, Senator. I want to answer your question seriously about how much it might cost. I want to say that I do not know at this time, and if you will just wait for Senator McPherson who, no doubt, is an authority on Old Brown's Mill, he probably will be happy to answer your questions.

Here he is now, Senator.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Adams, Senator McPherson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Adams, Mr. McPherson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR.. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Could you give us an idea, Senator, as to how large this Old Brown's Mill building and project is in your county of Franklin?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Well, Mr. President, I understand that this is one of the old one-room school houses, so it is not a building of large size.

Mr. BARR. Do you have any idea how much it will cost the State to maintain it after they acquire it, Senator?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I am not able to answer that question. As I understand, there is a small endowment which they are willing to turn over to the State, and the endowment in the past has been sufficient to take care of the cost of maintenance.

Mr. BARR. Is there anything in the bill which says that the endowment will come along with Old Brown's Mill?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I do not think it says that. There is one thing though, Mr. President, which I think should be straightened out before the bill is passed and which I cannot answer today. The deed by which the land was conveyed to the Old Brown Mill School Memorial Association had a clause of reverter, so that if the land were turned over to the State there might be a question of whether that reverter clause would become effective. That is a qustion of law which I will have to get straightened out.

In answer to the other question, I think on page three, line two, it provides for the assets of the Association to be turned over to the State.

Mr. BARR. Thank you, Senator.

Mr. President, the reason for these questions is that there was a time in my life when I thought it was a wonderful thing when certain donations of property, etc., were made to the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegheny for the use of parks. However, upon looking into it further, I found that people want to get rid of a white elephant and these gifts cost the city and the county quite a bit of money.

I personally have no objection to the State acquiring the Old Brown's Mill building. I am for the State having anything of historical value, but I think that we should have a rough estimate of just what this will cost the State to maintain it.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. I will be very happy, Mr. President, to try to get that information for Senator Barr. I think in the past the endowment fund has perhaps been fifty or one hundred dollars a year, which has adequately taken care of the maintenance of this building.

Mr. BARR. If that is all it is, Mr. President, I suggest that we vote for the bill.

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Well, Mr. President, I would suggest that the bill go over in its order because if the reverter clause in the deed is effective, it will raise a question as to the validity of the title.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RE-REFER BILL WITHDRAWN

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to re-refer this bill to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, I now ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 574, Printer's No. 289, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

BILLS ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 648, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction to pay reimbursements to school districts

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, somewhere along the line I got lost. Is Senate Bill No. 648 presently before the Senate?

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to oppose this bill. I do not want to be recorded as voting for this bill on third reading.

The PRESIDENT. The bill was just agreed to on third reading. It is up for final passage now.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thought I had stopped the order of business before the vote was taken.

The PRESIDENT. The bill was agreed to on third reading.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I beg to differ.

The PRESIDENT. The bill is ready for final passage.

Mr. DENT. I distinctly understood it to be the other way, Mr. President. However, that is a matter of record.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, this calendar has more than one instance on it today that breaks what I believe to be more or less of an agreement reached after many, many hours of deliberations.

There was great controversy as to whether this bill and the next bill were to be considered by this Senate or whether the bills which came over from the House, affecting the same subjects, were to be considered. With the permission of the Senate, I would like to discuss Senate Bill No. 648 and Senate Bill No. 649 in the same debate. They are related in the sense that they make appropriations against the appropriations passed by the Fine Administration. If you will read these bills, you will note that they are being passed as new appropriation bills. During our discussions on these bills we decided that the version which we advanced was the proper method of handling this particular legislation.

Back in April, Mr. President, when we discovered that there was a deficiency in the government of somewhere between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000, it was found that the current expenses of government could not be carried on because of a bad cash position in the treasury. The past biennium was overappripriated. The necessary revenues were not passed to meet the needs of the Commonwealth. That was done, of course, by upping the revenue estimates and lowering revenue needs. At that time, this General Assembly passed a bill borrowing from the $338,000,000 public school subsidy. We found that there were $10,000,000 which had to be paid to first and second class districts which could be set aside for the time being, and that we could use the $10,000,000 to pay current bills. In that legislation which this Senate voted for, we cut the appropriation from $348,000,000 to $338,000,000 and provided in the bill that we wouldre-enact the appropriation bill later on in the Session, but in time to meet the needs of the public schools by increasing it from $338,000,000 back to $348,000,000.

Mr. President, this General Assembly gave its word, collectively and individually, that the appropriation would be increased to $348,000,000. Accordingly, the House, on June the 13th, introduced legislation known as House Bill No. 1555, which followed the instructions of the previous act and amended the appropriation from $338,000,000 back to its original amount of $348,000,000. The bill was then passed over to the Senate. Someone conceived a brilliant political maneuver, or thought it was brilliant, and decided the thing to do was to pass a bill of their own. The bill introduced on July the 26th by Senator Mahany, is the bill which is now before us, known as Senate Bill No. 648, which says that the sum of $10,000,000 is appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, there have been charges that there has been haphazard bookkeeping in the State of Pennsylvania and those of us who have tried for years to attempt, in our small way, to make some reforms in State Government have always had to fight this bugaboo of political expediency and political threat.

Now we find, Mr. President, that although this approach is distinctly dishonest in so far as bookkeeping is concerned, they add insult to injury, and in the budget report analysis in which they show the expenditures of the Fine Administration on page 10, they show support to public schools, appropriations and expenditures, in 1953-1955 to be $348,000,000. All they are doing in House Bill No. 1555 is to agree that it was $348,000,000. The political chicanery that is being attempted here is to show that John Fine spent $348,000,000 and that Governor Leader will have to spend not only the $348,000,000 which was necessary in that biennium, but $78,840,000 additional because of mandated increases in school subsidies and costs for transportation and other things. So, we find that the Governor had to ask for an appropriation of $426,000,000 because of the mandated increases. If the Republicans pass Senate Bill No. 648, making a brand new appropriation of $10,000,000, which is nothing but an appropriation bill, to return to the Fine Administration's bookkeeping the $10,000,000 we borrowed in April because there was no cash in the till when we came into power to take over the State Government, we will be accused at the end of the biennium of not only spending $426,000,000; we will be accused of spending $436,000,000 because this little $10,000,000 turkey will be roosting in our hatches.

Mr. President and Members of the Senate, we know that you have twenty-six votes over there and we know that you are going to pass this bill. We also noted over the week-end that although we have taken a position that we believe to be right and that after a long deliberation it was agreed to that we were right by some, House Bill No. 1555 came out of committee and House Bill No. 1628 came out of committee, which followed the dictates of this Legislature in its earlier stealing from the funds. When we went home last week and read the newspapers, we found the newspapers carrying nice quotes from certain Republican leaders and a speech by Senator Wagner in which they held out again that they were saving the public schools of the Commonwealth.

I, as an individual, have a peculiar type of construction, both mentally and physically. Mentally, I do not usually run because of a threat and, physically, I have been known to run but usually it was because of overwhelming odds that compelled me to run. I do not see those odds either physically or mentally on the scene at this moment. If the Republican group wants to pass Senate Bill No. 648 and Senate Bill No. 649 for political purposes, I can assure that group that the schools, if necessary, will close in Pennsylvania. I am not one who believes that you can do by blackmail that which is wrong. If it takes this kind of action to call to the attention of the people of Pennsylvania the seriousness of what is happening during these nine months of legislative Session, then I will assure you that I shall use every means at my command to ask the House of Representatives to defeat these bills.

Mr. President, we are willing to meet our obligation. All of us are cognizant of the fact that our schools are in jeopardy and our schools are in trouble. We did not make that trouble. We are willing to accept the responsibility to correct something which was done by the other political party, without seeking political advantage and without going to the newspapers and claiming credit or without saying a wrod publicly about it, but we resent being blackmailed and bludgeoned into a position we cannot tolerate. This $10,000,000 was appropriated under the Fine Administration. We borrowed the $10,000,000, and in that act of the Legislature we clearly said that we would reenact the appropriation up to $348,000,000. Is that what you are doing? You are not. You are passing a bill making a brand new $10,000,000 appropriation, without any mention of its relationship to the deficiency or of its relationship to the problem of this biennium's needs for the schools.

Therefore, Mr. President, so far as Senate Bill No. 648 is concerned, that is the only position which honor can dictate that we take in this matter. We find that if blackmail succeeds once, it will continue to ruin the future actions of this General Assembly.

In so far as Senate Bill No. 649 is concerned, we took from the schools sometime in April, I believe, some $11,700,000. This money was money which was appropriated and required under contracts made with the local school authorities for rentals on school buildings and represented our part of the subsidies towards this school building financing and for the payment of bonds. In the month of June, the House, pursuant to its promise, passed a bill for $11,700,000 in order that the school districts would not have to borrow from local banks and pay interest on money which was due them from the State. The Budget Director of the Commonwealth was called over by the Republican Caucus and asked whether or not any part of this could be set aside for the future, so that we would not have to immediately raise funds. At that time the tax anticipation notes could only raise enough to keep the State going on a minimum course. So, you at that time joined us and you passed $5,000,000 of that appropriation out of the $11,700,000 that we borrowed, and you passed it according to the same act which was introduced, namely House Bill No. 1628. However, you set aside and held in obeyance the balance of $6,700,000. Then the House, again on June 28th, passed House Bill No. 1628 making the appropriation of $6,700,000. In our discussions, the argument was raised that House Bill No. 1599, which made the appropriation of $10,000,000 directly to the public schools for salaries and other school mandated needs, could properly come under the appropriation of 1953-1955. However, there was some discussion as to whether the responsibility for the money, under House Bill No. 1628, should be labeled a deficiency. So, in a manner of compromise and hoping to keep from standing this General Assembly and this Senate up for further ridicule in the public press and in the minds of the people, in an effort to work out an agreement whereby we could some day in the future adjourn sine die with some feeling of having accomplished something, we agreed to take out of the title to House Bill No. 1628 the word "deficiency." In order to give those who thought that this action was rather bad politically for the Republican Party, we accepted the watered down version to go along on that basis.

Mr. President and Members of this Senate, we are just as sincere friends of the schools in Pennsylvania as any of the Republican Members of the Senate are. I honestly believe that they, too, are just as sincere in their efforts toward the schools as we are trying to be. However, you cannot do this honestly. You cannot do it with propriety and you cannot do it politically. You may vote for it and you may pass Sentae Bills Nos. 648 and 649, but I assure you that if that is the appropriation which the schools are depending upon, then it would be better if the schools temporarily find themselves in a position where they can understand that, because of a desire to make political capital out of a bad situation, the Republican Senate is jeopardizing the school system of this Commonwealth.

Long ago, I thought that I was doing it honestly when I said to them that the responsibility for the State and its services belong to the Governor and the Administration that was elected to office. I also said that the right of the Republican Majority in the Senate to veto those actions, which meant that the health and welfare of this State were put in jeopardy, was not a right which was given by the Constitution in the sense that they were to wreck, but it was a right to keep the Administration from going overboard. The right to advise has always been recognized. The right to amend is recognized. However, if the Republicans want the right to veto, as I have called it time and time again, the Russian veto, then they will have to assume the full responsibility of government. If they want to run the government with twenty-six Republican votes and negate everything which the Governor desires in this Commonwealth, then they will have to write the entire program. If we are going to be condemned by the school people of Pennsylvania for something which is not our fault or our doing or of our making, then there is only one path which we can pursue. We will have to take that action which is dictated by good government. Good government says that we cannot, at this time, afford to be blackjacked into a position which is both unreasonable and untenable.

Therefore, Mr. President, I sak my colleagues on this side, and I ask the Republicans on the other side to vote against these two bills.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, as I listen to my good friend from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, I am often reminded of the expression which I believe Gladstone used relative to Mr. Disraeli, "The gentleman often becomes inebriated with the exuberance of his own verbosity."

I do not think that it is necessary, Mr. President, to make a long speech about these bills. I was going to ask that the bills be recommitted last week and then I thought it would perhaps be better to have them go over in order so that we might consider all of the package when they were on the Third Reading Calendar.

Mr. President, over the week end I read an interesting editorial in the local Sunday Patriot News, which criticized the Republican controlled Senate for not having passed some legislation. They said, in that editorial, if we were not satisfied with the Democratic legislation relative to reimbursement for school districts, we should have brought our own legislation out of committee and passed it. Well, for the benefit of that learned editor who wrote that fine editorial, I would call his attention to the fact that we did get these bills out of committee shortly after they were introduced. In fact, I believe they came out of committee the next day, on July 27th, after they were introduced by me on July the 26th. I belive that when they reached second reading, as I remember it. Senator Haluska rose in place and asked that the bills go over because he had not had an opportunity to discuss the bills with me. Then week followed week, and we evidently did not have sufficient votes here to get them before the Senate for final passage. I would call the Senator's attention to the fact that today we do not have twenty-six votes over here; we only have twenty-five votes. Therefore, if the Democrats do not give us any votes for these bills they will fail on final passage.

However, Mr. President, I want to call the Senator's attention to this fact and that is this is the way the Rebublicans would have done this job if we were in control. It is foolish, and I believe illegal, to try to amend appropriation act at this time which was provided for in 1953 by appropriating $10,000,000 more for any purpose whatsoever, including the purpose of reimbursement to the school districts. All of the moneys which were in these appropriations of the 1953-1955 biennium have either been paid out or they have lapsed. How you are now going to get $10,000,000 more out of that appropriation is more than I can understand. It has never been done, as I understand it, before to try to amend appropriation acts of a biennium which has past. As I recollect, in the James Administration when they had a similar circumstance as this, they put whatever was needed in the James budget in order to take care of any deficiency of the outgoing Earle administration. Governor James was honest and he put that amount in his buduget for his first biennium.

The amount which we appropriate here in Senate Bill No. 649 is $6,711,000. It is the amount which is necessary to be paid for reimbursement to these school districts, and whether you put it in, as a matter of bookkeeping, in the old biennium or the new biennium it does not make much difference.

Mr. President, I think that the school districts are essentially interested in getting the money. They do not care whether we put this on Leader's Administration or whether we put in on Fine's Administration. We are not going to be so obstinate, however, Senator, as to vote against House Bills Nos. 1555 and 1628 when they come before us. We do want, however, to send over to the House our version of what should be done, which is included in Senate Bill No. 648 and Senate Bill No. 649. You can vote them down if you so please. We are not trying to blackmail you.

The only threats I ever receive come from the other side. I never make threats. I get them at all hours of the day. You can usually see my wrist watch come out early in the morning and I say, "Well" the threat comes at ten o'clock this morning instead of nine." At no time have I ever threatened you in any way whatsoever, but I do not believe that you can say that about yourself

I want to say this, Senator, so that the editor of the local Harrisburg Patriot can see that the Republicans do have their program in connection with this, and even though we had been as active as he thought we should be last July, we probably would not have been able to enact this legislation through the Senate if we did not have some help from your side.

As far as I am concerned, Senator, you go ahead, you on your side, and vote down these bills and when we come to your bills we are going to be a little bit more considerate of you than you are of us. We are going to vote for your bills when we reach them on the calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there is one thing which I would like to clear up. I do not think I have ever threatened the gentleman on the other side unless maybe my voice might be louder than his and raising my voice might be interpreted as a threat. I am very fond of Senator Mahany, and I certainly would never threaten him. Whenever I got to the stage that I would threaten, I would probably follow through on it.

Mr. President, I do not usually threaten .I just told you a simple fact and told you what we were going to do, because it is necessary for the sake of good government to do it that way. I do not want to expose what has been going on, but I think that the gentleman will agree that there was perfect agreement that we would not pass these bills; that we would pass the two which came from the House. All of a sudden he finds that you cannot appropriate out of one Administration into another, but he voted for the $10,000,000, he and all his colleagues, and in that act of the Legislature we specifically said, and I would like to read for the benefit of those whose memories are not good:

"The General Assembly hereby declares its intention to restore to the Department of Public Instruction by subsequent legislation the funds withheld it by this act."

Mr. President, we made that declaration and followed through on the next page. All we are doing in our bills is putting the acts in the same position they were in April. Now as far as your being considerate of us in going along on House Bills Nos. 1555 and 1628, that is a matter of conscience. You promised it in April and if you want to quit on it now, it is perfectly all right with us. The only ones that will suffer will be the schools. The responsibility for keeping the schools, up until this moment, remains with the past Administration and not with this one.

Mr. President, how are you going to appropriate this $10,000,000 until you get taxes anyway, unless it is out of tax anticipation notes? We borrowed the $10,000,000 and then passed tax anticipation notes to pay it back. All that we are doing is paying it back.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I do not quite undestand the modus operandi of the Majority Leader in this case. As I understand it, I read in my morning newspaper today that the Majority Leader had said that they were going to pass this set of bills and also House Bill No. 1555 and House Bill No. 1628. As I understood his speech on the floor just a few minutes ago, I understand that that is his intent. Just to be clear on it, I would like to ask the gentleman whether it is his intention, if these bills should pass, to also pass the other set of bills.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I told, I believe, everybody here that we intended to vote for the other bills. The first part of your supposition I think we can pass by, and say that I do not think now that the bills will pass because I have no doubt that your group will follow the dictates of your leader, Senator Dent, and he stated that he was not going to give any votes for it. As I count noses over here, we only have twenty-five and it takes twenty-six votes, as you know, to pass a bill.

Mr. SEYLER. As I understood that unverbose answer, it was "yes," they are going to pass both sets of bills.

Well, Senator, I would like to call this to your attention. If the other set of bills is passed, which takes care of the $10,000,000 and the $6,711,000 respectively, then in addition you will be appropriating, as I understand it, $10,000,000 more and $6,711,000. I am not a lawyer but I refer the question to the gentleman who is, I understand, a profound student of the law.

Is it not true that if both sets of bills are passed we will, in effect, have passed an additonal appropriation of $10,000,000 and 6,711,000 respectively? Is there anything, Senator, in the bill which would prevent me from reaching that conclusion?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator, many times, as you no doubt know, the Legislature passes two sets of bills and if they both get by both houses and reach the Governor's desk, the Governor will veto the ones which he does not choose to sign. He has that right. However, as I say, I do not think we are going to have to go that far because as far as I can see right now unless you or some other Democrat over there will give us a vote, neither Senate Bill No. 648 nor Senate Bill No. 649 will pass the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Well, Senator, the point is that you might convince me on these bills if my supposition would be correct. I am interested in any proposals to increase the amount of money for school purposes, and I thought if that was your purpose you might win some converts. However, I now take it that that is not your purpose, although you are willing to run the risk of that happening.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1072, on third reading, entitled:

An Act approving ratfying and enacting into law the Great Lakes Basin Compact making the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a party thereto creating "The Great Lakes Commission" providing for the members thereof from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania providing for the carrying out of the purposes of the compact and making an appropriation.

be re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motoin was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1104, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 21 1949 (P. L. 665) entitled "An act to carry into effect section one of article fifteen of the Constitution giving cities of the first class the right and power to frame adopt and amend their own charters and to exercise the powers and authority of local self-government and providing the procedure therefor imposing certain restrictions limitations and regulations mposing duties upon city councils city officers county boards of elections courts and the Secretary of the Commonwealth and providing for the payment of certain expenses by such cities and imposing penalties" providing for the revision of home rule charters providing for the establishment of a charter revision commission for the purpose of making revisions and imposing duties upon city councils city officers boards of election courts and the Secretary of the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SILVERT. May we be at ease a moment, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be at ease.

(The Senate was at ease.)

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, we will debate the amendments on the floor.

The PRESIDENT. There being no objection, the gentleman is given unanimous consent to offer amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 4, line 16, by striking out "eleven" and inserting in lieu thereof: "twelve"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 4, line 18, by striking out "jointly"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 4, lines 18 and 19, by striking out "and the president of the council"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 5, line 1, by inserting after "commission": "three for a term of one year, three for a term of two years, three for a term of three years, and three for a term of four years. Thereafter all appointments shall be for a full term of four years.";Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 5, line 1, by stricking out "two-thirds" and inserting in lieu thereof: "one-half"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 20.3), page 5, line 4, by inserting after "filled": "for the balance of the unexpired term."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Mahany, will you explain to the Members of this Senate just what these amendments intend to accomplish?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, first, we place twelve members on this commission rather than eleven, because later on we provide for bipartisan members on this commission. Therefore, we should have an even number.

We also provided for staggering terms of the membership. The bill which is now before us does not provide for any term. I presume the person who was appointed could carry on for life, but I believe it is better for commissions to have a definite term of office. Therefore, we have made the term of office four years and we have staggered the terms of the first members so that three of them will expire at the end of one year, and the other three commissioners' terms will expire at the end of two years and the other three at the end of three years and the other three at the end of four years, and then, thereafter, the terms of those which have expired, their successors shall be appointed for a four-year term. That makes for a continuing commission.

We also did not see why it was necessary to have the consent of the President of the Council for this appointment. We believe that the mayor is capable enough to appoint a commission such as this and it would not be necessary, we believe, to have the mayor consult with the President of the Council on the makeup of the commission.

Mr. President, the bill, as presently written, provides that two-thirds of the membership shall be of the same party as the appointing power, which in this case would be Democrats; one-third would be of the opposite party, which, of course, would be Republicans. If the members continue in office until they die, then it provides that their successors shall be of the same political faith as the one who dies. In that event, fifty years from now, the commission would still be made up of two-thirds Democratic and one-third Republican, regardless of whether the administration in Philadelphia were Republican or whether it were Democratic. We feel that is unfair. If a good job is to be done with the Charter in Philadelphia, we feel it should be a bipartisan committee; half Republicans and half Democrats. Then, their terms should be definite; they should be four years. If one of them dies in office, their successor shall be of the same political affiliation as the one who dies, and he shall remain in office for the unexpired term. We feel that this makes a good bill out of one which perhaps unintentionally was made to be an unfair bill.

We feel that if you accept the amendments which we have offered, then you will see that these will make a good, workable Charter Commission for Philadelphia, and you will not be accused of partisanship in trying to get across some unwarranted provision in the Charter of Philadelphia. I think you will find that this will be a protection to your Party, Senator Silvert, if you adopt these amendments.

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Mahany, will you tell us who suggested these amendments to the present bill?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if that question is material, there was no particular person who suggested the amendments. We go over these bills—two or three of us, consisting of Senator Taylor, Senator Berger, Senator Pechan and others—and we try to find out what the bill is about, and if we feel that the bill is unfair, we then feel that certain amendments should be made to it.

It is our opinion that this bill in its present condition is an unfair bill. We just tried to make a fair bill out of it. There was nobody from Philadelphia who called us on the telephone, or any bosses down there, who had anything to do with these amendments. I do not know whether there are any bosses in Philadelphia, but if there are, no one called us.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I rise to object to these amendments; first, because the bill, as originally passed in the House, had been given a great deal of thought and effort by not only the Democratic Administration in Philadelphia, but by civic-minded persons who wish to provide a plan for proper and orderly amendment of those provisions of the Charter which may need an amendment. Obviously, presently, our Charter suggests a form of amendment which has proved unworkable and the bill, as presented in the House, represented the best thought, I believe, of both parties in the city of Philadelphia.

I particularly object to the amendment which takes away the power from the President of City Council to have any voice in the appointment of this commission. We should know—and I say this, although I have the greatest confidence in our present Mayor of Philadelphia, Mayor Clark—that it was Mayor Clark, himself, who felt that there may always be some division of opinion, even within your own party, and that it is true democracy to permit the Mayor and the President of City Council to participate in the appointment of a commission.

Mr. President, I shall be frank to say that I cannot evaluate in this quick moment the value of the other amendments. I am merely objecting to all the amendments on the fact that the bill had been given great study by the administration in Philadelphia and by civic groups in Philadelphia, and they felt that the bill was presented in the House of Representatives was a good bill.

I, therefore, ask the Members of the Senate to vote against the amendmnts.

Mr. DONOLOW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DONOLOW. Senator, Mahany, was the Republican candidate for Mayor of Philadelphia, Mr. Longstreth, consulted concerning these amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. He was not, Mr. President.

Mr. DONOLOW. Was the Republican City Chairman of Philadelphia consulted concerning these amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. As far as I know, Mr. President, he was not by me or by anyone else.

Mr. DONOLOW. Have either of the men whom I just mentioned voiced any opinion in reference to this bill or to your amendments?

Mr. MAHANY. Not to the amendments. I understand that the Republican Candidate for Mayor is in favor of a commission bill such as this. I received that information secondhand. I think, in the public print, he has come out in favor of this commission bill.

Mr. DONOLOW. Then, you have submitted these amendments, and the Republican Members of the Senate have submitted amendments, to a Philadelphia bill without consulting either your candidate from Philadelphia or your Philadelphia City Chairman.

Mr. MAHANY. I did not think that was necessary. This bill is a bill which we feel you would like to have as a fair bill, and we have tried to make a fair bill out of it. We do not think that the two-third Democratic majority on this commission should be perpetuated forever. Perhaps, in 1980, it might be that there will be a Republican administration down in Philadelphia. I hope this will occur before 1980, but we will say conceivably at some future time, a Republican administration will be in power and it would not be fair to have two-thirds Democrats on that commisison and one-third Republicans. If it were the opposite, if we had a Republican Mayor now, I feel quite sure you would like to have equal representation on this commission.

Mr. DONOLOW. Senator Mahany, you will agree that this is home rule legislation for Philadelphia?

Mr. MAHANY. I suppose you could call it that.

Mr. DONOLOW. Do you feel that under that title you should have consulted with your people in Philadelphia?

Mr. MAHANY. Not necessarily. I do not have any bosses in Philadelphia. I kind of operate on my own here in the Senate.

Mr. DONOLOW. Thank you.

Mr. President, I am strongly opposed to these amendments and I just would like to add my voice to one phase of the amendments which I feel are unfair.

In regard to the section which deals with the taking away of the power of the President of City Council, we all have confidence in the present Democratic Mayor of Philadelphia and we have an equal amount of confidence in the new Democratic Mayor of Philadelphia, come next November. However, we are opposed to taking the power of joint appointment away from the President of City Council. The Council is the representative of the citizenry who go to the polls. It is elected from the varoius districts as well as councilmen-at-large. When you take the head of a council who is elected by the representatives of the people, then you are taking true democracy away from Philadelphia. It is important to the people of Philadelphia that this power of appointing a joint commission be placed with both the Mayor and the President of City Council.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask that my colleagues vote against these amendments, and I ask the Republican Members who are interested in home rule in Philadelphia to do likewise.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Ms. STIEFEL. Senator, is this amendment subject to the unit rule or are members of your caucus free to vote the way they want?

Mr. MAHANY. We do not have any unit rule down there on such bills as this, Senator. As I told you, it has been a long time since we have had a unit rule in the Republican Caucus.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, if, by the wave of a magician's wand, I would become now a Republican, I would vote against this amendment because this very afternoon, on the 10th of October 1955, this amendment is giving Mr. Dilworth a present of an additional 50,000 votes. I feel that this is a pre-election present for a post-election activity to Mr. Dilworth. When he becomes Mayor, he will have to appoint all the members of the commission. I feel that the elimination of the President of City Council indicates that they do not think enough of us up-State. Now they figure that we do not know how to split tickets and that whoever is going to be the Mayor will have a President of City Council who is of the same political affiliation.

Mr. President, if I would be a Republican, I would preserve that provision because by remote chance there may be a Republican President of Council, which is quite impossible, and a Democratic Mayor. Therefore, I would retain that provision of having the President of City Council have the power to appoint members of this commission. Furthermore, the number of twelve, being an even number, indicates that there will be an impasse in the activities of this commission, and no results will be produced and we are dooming it now to futility and frustration.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would just like to say to the Majority Leader that, in offering amendments like this, probably the Democratic Party will stay in power until 1980 and they never would have control of this commission.

I further believe, Mr. President, in fairness to both political candidates who are running for office in Philadelphia this year, namely, the office of Mayor, that these amendments should not be voted upon until both of those men are asked, in the public print, how they feel about these amendments. That is the only fair way to do this. I am not a Philadelphian; the man who offered these amendments is not a Philadelphian. I have my own reasons for thinking where he got the amendments. I have been told that the President pro tempore of the Senate said, "You will take this bill, or you will take it no other way."

I want to also speak about representative government. You say that the bill says, "not more than two-thirds of the commission shall be registered electors enrolled in the same political party." You have changed that to one-half. Now, Mr. President, there are twenty-six of you fellows and there are twenty-four of us. This is your idea of representative government. These are the committees which the President pro tempore has appointed. Let us just take Banking. There are twelve Republicans and seven Democrats on that committee. Let us take the Committee on Highways; seventeen Republicans and seven Democrats. Let us take Judiciary General. I am taking the important committees. There are sixteen Republicans and eight Democrats on the Judiciary General Committee. Now if you believe in fair representation in Philadelphia, as you say, when you are in the minority party you want one-half, then I think you ought to give the same ratio up here.

Putting all those arguments aside, Mr. President, I am convinced in my own mind that the amendments were given to the President pro tempore of the Senate by some of his cronies in Philadelphia. I am just as sure of that as I am standing here. That is what I believe and contrary to what you may say, you cannot make me change my mind. I think that if you want to be at all fair to your man who is running, and to our man who is running, this question should be put to them in the public print and let them say if you are doing the proper and correct thing.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I want to call Senator Barr's attention to the makeup of the Committees in the House. There you have almost an equal distribution between Republicans and Democrats, and you will find that the makeup of the committees there represents a great majority in favor of the Democrats as against the Republicans. I can take almost any committee there. Take the Committee on Education; there is the chairman, vice-chairman and fourteen Democrats and eight Republicans. You can go through every committee in the House and you will find that the Democrats far outweigh the Republicans.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator STIEFEL.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. STIEFEL, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. STIEFEL. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator STIEFEL, you seem to voice most of your objections against the President of City Council not having any say about the makeup of this commission. If we restored that so that he also would appoint jointly with the Mayor, would that take away your objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. One of them; the other is the number of members.

Mr. MAHANY. If you think that will help the bill any and will make it fairer by having the President of Council consulted and act with the Mayor to make up this commission, I will be glad to correct my amendment so that this commission will be jointly named by the Mayor and the President of City Council.

Mr. STIEFEL. Well, here is another objection. I have said before that an even numbered commission will doom the work to frustration and futility. That was another objection. Finally, the even division of membership is not accepted.

May I make a suggestion in answer to your question? Time is not so much of the essence that we have to pass the bill tonight. My thought would be to invite Mr. Thacher Longstreth and Mr. Richardson Dilworth to come here, and we would ask their opinion. After all, one of them will be the Mayor of Philadelphia and we will abide by their decision. Then you will not be accused of interferring in the home rule of Philadelphia.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Majority Leader, in an off side bar conference here, said that it should be this way because the Republicans have more of a registration in Philadelphia. Well, if that be the case, Eisenhower should not be President and Leader should not be Governor, because the Republicans have more registered people in this State and the Democrats have more registered people in the Country so that argument does not hold water.

Mr. President, this bill went through the House. The statement about their committees over there, I think, has very little to do with it because they did not bring up that question. I want to bring to the Majority Leader's mind that the division over there is far different that it is here and in the committees, the representation is far better; it is fourteen to eight. Here in the Senate it is seventeen to six. I read them to you here a few moments ago.

Mr. President, I would be satisfied if this matter were taken to—I forget that fellow who is running on the Republican ticket— and Dick Dilworth and let both of them answer to the public press.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong this argument, but I find that for once in my life we do have a chance to say something about how Philadelphia will operate this Charter. We, in Delaware County, pay taxes to Philadelphia. We have no opportunity to vote and this time I feel as though, with the power vested in me by the people of Delaware County, I do want to vote this time and I want to vote for this amendment. We will not have a packed Charter Commission. We will have Republicans on it, and maybe we will be able to talk to the Republicans and get something for the money which we spend in Philadelphia.

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, I think Senator Stiefel's suggestion that the amendments be withdrawn at this time and the bill go over in order so as to give an opportunity to Philadelphians, including the candidates for Mayor in both parties, to express an opinion on these amendments is a very sound suggestion and certainly would be in compliance with the philosophy of home rule.

I, therefore, ask Mr. Mahany if he will withdraw his amendments at this time and have the bill go over in order and go through with the procedure suggested.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the gentleman knows that if these amendments are adopted, we will have the bill on third reading and final passage tomorrow, for which we expect to have a representative group here in the Senate of both Democrats and Republicans to vote on this bill. Inasmuch as it has been amended, the House will have another opportunity, and if they do not like our amendments they can non-concur and at that time we then will have the benefit of the opinion of both, perhaps, Dilworth and our man Longstreth. If they are dissatisfied, we can always recede from our amendments or we can insist, and then it will be thrown into a conference committee.

We feel that we want to vote on these amendments at the present time, Mr. President. We feel that they are fair amendments. I have offered to remove one of the objections; that is, that the President of Council may act jointly with the Mayor but, evidently, that will not remove all their objections. Therefore, inasmuch as they are not satisfied anyway, I will insist on the amendments and ask that we vote on them.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Mahany is using the word "they" rather collectively. I will agree to take out that amendment, very definitely, because I believe in representative government. I think that the President of City Council, who has knowledge of what the other councilmen need, who are the legislative branch of the government down there, should have something to say about who is on the Charter Commission. I think that is good government.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we can take out that part of the amendment in the conference committee. If they would want to go along with the rest of it, and that would remove all of their objections, that would be one thing, but they would still have objections to it so I do not see how it is going to help any by removing that particular part of the amendment.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I wonder whether this occurred to my friend. Under the terms of this act, Mayor Clark will appoint all the members of the commission. Therefore, what good will this amendment be? Mr. Longstreth has no chance.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Berger,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.	Peelor,	Wade,
Chapman,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Mahany,	Scott,	Watson,

NAYS—15

Barr,	Donolow,	Lane,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Silvert,
Dent,	Hays,	Miller,	Stiefel,
Derk,	Holland,	Schmidt,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1105, Printer's No. 531, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1332, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1846) entitled "An act fixing the salaries of State mine inspectors under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mines and the expenses incident to their office" by regulating the salary of mine inspectors

The General Assembly of the Comonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1846) entitled "An act fixing the salaries of State mine inspectors under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mines and the expenses incident to their office" as amended by the act approved the fourteenth day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two (1951-52 P. L. 1908) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 The salary of mine inspectors under the jurisdiction of the Department of Mines of this Commonwealth shall be [seven thousand five hundred dollars ($7500) per annum] eight thousand five hundred dollars ($8500) per annum together with the necessary expenses incidental to the performance of their duties under the law which money shall be paid in the manner now provided by law.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1332, deals with increasing the salaries of the mine inspectors in the anthracite fields. Those of us on this side of the house have for many years recognized the need of increasing the salaries of these men. The Secretary of the Department of Mines has agreed and prepared legislation increasing the salary from $7,500 to $8,100 per year. The bill passed the House in that form. Now for some unknown reason the Committee on Mines and Mining amended the bill to read $8,500 per year. Even that amount is not enough, and I would like to see it read $10,000 per year.

However, this does not come in good faith. I have listened here now for ten months about cutting down the budget, cutting down appropriations, no tax program, and then in the same breath my Republican colleagues amend this bill increasing it to provide higher salaries and making no provision whatsoever for appropriations. This increase will cost the department some $25,000 and unless the department is granted more money, this bill will be futile. The Department of Mines cannot, under their budget, increase these salaries. Therefore, this does not come in good faith whatsoever.

Mr. President, it is so easy to vote for appropriations and salary increases, but we also have the responsibility of supplying that money. I am wondering whether or not my colleagues on the right side of the house are willing to appropriate more moneys to meet this mandate. They must; otherwise, the bill will pass and the Department of Mines will find itself in the position of not being able to pay the mandated salary increase. If you keep on making increases in salaries and cutting down on appropriations, we will be here for another two years.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. HALUSKA. Senator Mahany, do you have knowledge of the fact that this bill has been amended since it reached the Senate, increasing the proposed increase from $8,100 to $8,500 per year?

Mr. MAHANY. It would appear as though it had, Senator. It would appear as though it had from the reading on page two of the bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Do you know whether or not there has been an appropriation made of any kind to meet this increased mandate?

Mr. MAHANY. We have not received the general appropriation bill, Senator. The House, in its wisdom, seems to be holding on to that for some reason.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is it your intention to increase the appropriation to this Department to take care of this matter?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, if we act like you have for the past Sessions we probably will not, but we are not going to do that. We figured that if we increased these costs, we will have to find the money to do it. You folks over there have been used to voting for increased appropriations without voting for any taxes, but we evidently cannot do that this Session.

Mr. HALUSKA. You are speaking generally, is that right?

Mr. MAHANY. Well, no, that has pretty much been the rule.

Mr. HALUSKA. I see. Then, we are to understand that if we vote for this measure, the Department will receive sufficient money to pay the increase; is that correct?

Mr. MAHANY. We will have to put that in the appropriation. Yes, we have tried to be honest with this thing. We know that if we vote for this bill to increase the cost of the Mining Department, we will have to give them the money to operate with.

Mr. HALUSKA. Does that not hold true throughout the entire Hill here in other departments?

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Senator. Any salary bills or whatnot that we pass, we understand we have the obligation and responsibility of seeing to it that the Governor has sufficient funds to pay the amounts which we set forth in this legislation.

Mr. HALUSKA. That is fine, then. I think we are all happy to pass this bill, but we want to be sure in passing the bill that my colleagues will, in committee, take care of the appropriation to meet the demands.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President and gentlemen, I do not think that the statements made by the Majority Leader are in good faith. First of all, the Republican party was in power for sixteen years and, although they made increases in salary in the Department of Mines to other employees, they made no effort at any time to increase the salary paid to the inspectors. Now the Majority Leader comes in and states that he will vote for the taxes to pay for this increase, which is considerably more than $25,000 when you take the complete increase of the salaries in all of these bills. I think that this is what might be called just plain, ordinary out-and-out fakery, deceit of the worse type.

In a pious manner, and in a pious voice, he tries to approach this problem as though he is the height of honesty and piety while at the same time, when he was formerly a leader of this house, he made no attempt to give the inspectors any more money. All that he is attempting to do is to not agree with the agreement made by the Department of Mines as to what increase they should get. Now he wants to increase the department's appropriation. I see that his stool pigeons are now giving him some coaching on the side line. I hope that it is good advice.

Mr. MAHANY. Now, Senator, you are going to have another heart attack.

Mr. HOLLAND. Thank God, there is nothing wrong with my heart, but I think I could diagnose you and tell you what is wrong with you but I would not be able to put it in print.

Mr. President, this is plain, ordinary deceit. It is just playing a game. It is an undercover manner to increase the budget. He has no intention of voting for any more taxes unless he votes for the taxes which Mr. Owlett told him he must vote for. His hands are tied; he cannot think because he has his orders. Therefore, to come before us at this late hour and say he will vote for increased appropriations is just being deceitful. I might add, Mr. President, that the idea of these long sessions at night is only done for one reason. The Republican Party realizes that by keeping people in here all hours, they lose the effect. Most of the Republicans are mad and most of the Democrats are mad because now they will not be able to eat in the hotels, and we do not get good deliberation on legislation. It is deliberation which is being pushed and hurried.

When you consider the number of hours we have spent in the General Assembly, due to the Majority Leader, who after all is running the Senate and determines the time we spend here, and it is up to him. He keeps people here after hours when people are tired and hungry and cannot give proper deliberation to the legislation. I think it is done with only one pattern in mind and that is to destroy the deliberation in the Senate, and I think the Majority Leader is a party to it. I think it is being handled very astutely by him through the way he tries to make the people think he is an honest man and he is trying to do the honest thing and, at the same time, I believe that all the attempts and all of the overtures by the Majority Leader are dishonest.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, will state his point of order.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, the gentleman is not speaking on the bill. I am in accord with him as I would like to get out of here, too, but he is not speaking on the bill at the present time.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if the gentleman is finished, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Holland, you were a bit out of order but I did not object to it, so this question is a little bit out of order, too, perhaps.

Were you near the vicinity there where you are now standing, near Senator Dent, when at six-thirty o'clock, Daylight Time, I came over to him and asked him if he would not like to recess so that we might take an hour and a half or so to go out and get something to eat, and did you hear his answer to me? Did you hear him turn me down and say that we were going to keep on here and we were not going to take time off to eat?

Mr. HOLLAND. You know, I would rather have him answer that question.

Mr. MAHANY. Well, did you hear it?

Mr. HOLLAND. I would rather have Mr. Dent answer that question.

Mr. MAHANY. Well, now, did you hear him say that he did not want to take a recess for dinner?

Mr. HOLLAND. I think Mr. Dent is big enough to answer that question himself. I do not think he needs my help. You may need the help of the Senator from Allegheny County, but Mr. Dent does not need my help.

Mr. MAHANY. Evidently, Mr. President, the gentleman does not choose to answer because he knows that the answer would be "yes". He did hear me go over and state to Senator Dent that I would like to take an hour and a half or two hours off for dinner and that offer was made at six-thirty o'clock, Daylight Time, and he heard the Minority Leader say "no", and he insisted that we stay in session and go through the calendar.

Why he accuses me now of keeping him here, with pains in his stomach and his ulcers, is more than I can see but it proves that that part is just as unfair as the rest of his statement.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I would like to add one thing. In Allegheny County, at the present time, the Republican Party is demanding that men who are running for office must carry a doctor's certificate. The four days which I spent in the clinic in Allegheny County was done for that purpose, so that I could get a doctor's certificate on my health. Therefore, in case any Republicans bring up the fact any time that I am not physically able to run, I can show them my doctor's certificate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, yes, I did turn down, as far as I was personally concerned, the proposition of a recess because it was proposed that we recess for an hour and a half. There is not a person in this room who can go down to either one of the hotels in this town on a Monday night at six-thirty, with a convention in town or even an ordinary Monday night at six-thirty, and expect to get out of there with a meal, wash up a little and get back up on this Hill at eight o'clock.

We have been here almost nine months. Eighty per cent of the bills which are out on this calendar today have been in committees anywhere from two months to six months. I suggested that we put over the non-controversial bills tonight and we take up the controversial ones tomorrow morning when we all have plenty of time. However, for some unknown reason, someone just suddenly got ants in their pants and they are now going to try to push through tonight certain pieces of legislation.

Mr. President, I told them what would happen to that legislation; as sure as they are alive it will happen. A recess until nine o'clock would not have meant anything, because unless all of your votes were here you would not have started anyway. I was told by at least two of your members that their wives were out at Hershey and they would like to go out and have dinner with their wives, and I do not blame them. It was out of consideration for them that I did not think that anything on this calendar is so pressing that we had to stay here tonight. However, if we have to stay, we will stay.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for two hours. For the purpose of having dinner.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, before we vote on that motion, I would like to ask Senator Mahany whether we are going to debate the school bills tonight.

Mr. MAHANY. Yes, Senator Barr, if there is to be any debate. I do not anticipate what you are going to do over there. I only know what I read in the newspapers.

Mr. BARR. I think, Mr. President, we should give more consideration to Senator Wagner, who is not here today. I am sure that he would wish to be here to vote on Senator Seyler's amendments, which he is going to offer. I think, out of consideration to Senator Wagner, that bill should be put over until tomorrow.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the only question before us is whether or not we take a recess for two hours to do the thing which Senator Holland said I was opposed to.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am wondering whether the gentlemen on the other side would agree that since all of this is so important, they be recorded the way they want to, and the rest of us be recorded the way we want, and Senator Mahany and I will just stay and go through the Calendar.

Mr. MAHANY. That is all right with me, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. That is what is going to happen anyway. Let the gentlemen go out.

Mr. MAHANY. The gentleman knows that would be out of order.

Mr. DENT. It is not any more out of order than what you are doing.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Will the Chair state, for the benefit of the Senate, what constitutes a quorum of this Senate?

The PRESIDENT. Twenty-six Members.

Mr. DENT. Thank you, very kindly.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if there is no quorum, we will send out for the gentlemen if that is what the gentlemtn from Westmoreland wants.

Mr. DENT. If you can find me, you will be good.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HALUSKA and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Berger,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Holland,	Pechan,	Wade,

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

MOTION THAT BILL BE RE-REFERRED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1512, on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing cooperative return of parole and probation violators and the making of contracts or deputization of persons pursuant thereto.

be re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, can oppose this motion. However, if he does,I am going to invoke my constitutional right and have every bill read at length in the Session tonight.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, gave no reason for wanting this bill Re-referred. Ordinarily, concerning a bill such as this, when he asks that it be re-referred, he should have certain reasons for it.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman's words are well taken. I would like to know the reasons for recommitting the—I forget the numbers—bills which have been recommitted in the last few moments.

Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, why House Bill No. 1350 was recommitted. I did not hear any reasons given.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, House Bill No. 1350 is not now before us. If the gentleman had asked me for reasons at the time it was before us, I should have been glad to give them to him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I still insist that all bills are read at length if the gentleman is going to hide behind a weak argument such as that.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is not the threat which bothers me so much because if the gentleman wishes to read bills at length, we are perfectly willing to do so. However, if the gentleman had some reason that he wanted to have this bill re-referred, I would not oppose his motion. If he would just give me some reason why he wants to see this bill go back to committee, I will consider it.

Mr. BARR. I wish it to be re-referred for the same reason that Senator Mahany recommitted House Bill No. 1350.

Mr. MAHANY. As I said before, we had our reasons for recommitting House Bill No. 1350. If there is any question as to why any of these bills are recommitted, we will be happy to explain the reasons why. We have our reasons, but just for Senttor Barr to arise and make a motion to re-refer a bill and because I protest the motion, he should threaten to stage some kind of a filibuster, I think that is certainly out of order.

Mr. BARR. I have my reasons for wanting House Bill No. 1512 re-referred.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Barr, do you have just one good reason, such as for further study and possible amendment, that you would like to have this bill go back to committee?

Mr. BARR. Yes, Mr. President, I do. There was a meeting at Bretton Woods some few weeks ago of the Attorneys General of the forty-eight States. Things such as this were brought up at that meeting, and I want to talk to the Attorney General before I vote on this bill.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, that sounds like some kind of a reason, and, therefore, I will withdraw my objections.

Mr. President, I might mention that the bill did not come out of the Judiciary General Committee. It came out of the Committee on State Government. Therefore, I would like to have my friend, Senator Barr, change his motion and have the bill recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I will be very reasonable. I will accept that amendment, but I do think the bill should have been in the Judiciary General Committee in the beginning.

MOTION TO RE-REFER AMENDED AND BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am willing to amend my motion, and I now move that House Bill No. 1512, Printer's No. 599, be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1534, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor to accept a tract of land and buildings thereon erected in the Borough of California Washington County Pennsylvania containing 25.609 acres for the use of the California State Teachers' College

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Department of Property and Supplies with the approval of the Governor is hereby authorized to accept from the Students Activities Association Inc as a gift in the name of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for use of the California State Teachers' College a tract of land with buildings thereon in the Borough of California Washington County Pennsylvania bounded and described as follows

Beginning at an iron pin at the eastern side of a public road thence along land now or formerly of the Ruth Jane Elliott Estate south 62 degrees 32 minutes east 720.00 feet to an iron pin thence south 36 degrees 16 minutes west 1700.94 feet to an iron pin thence north 53 degrees 44 minutes west 897.81 feet to an iron pin in the public road thence along the road north 48 degrees 55 minutes east 320.00 feet to a stone thence south 78 degrees 04 minutes east 297.34 feet to an iron pin thence north 28 degrees 38 minutes east 1166.59 feet to an iron pin the place of beginning

Containing 25.609 acres more or less of land according to a survey made May 20 1955 by A M Shaffer registered surveyor to which survey reference is hereby specifically made

And being part of the same land conveyed to the Student Activities Association Inc by deed of James F Elliott and Edna B Jones Executors of the Estate of Ruth Jane Elliott deceased dated January 1 1940 and recorded January 1 1940 in Washington County Deed Book Volume 503 at page 144

Section 2 The land shall not be accepted until its title has been approved by the Department of Justice

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I want the record to show that there is an error in this bill, in which it said, "Washington County Pennsylvania containing 25,609 acres." That is incorrect. It is 25.609 acres, in order that there be no misunderstanding.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, we have checked that and the wording in the bill is correct. We have so much trouble placing our decimal points in the various numbers which you and I have been working on the last few weeks that I do not blame you any for taking a look at this one. However, this, in the bill itself, does say 25.609 acres.

Mr. DENT. I am grateful for that, Mr. President. I am not so worried about the decimal points; it is the exclamation points that worry me.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order to expedite matters, I might explain that we are about to move that House Bill No. 1537, House Bill No. 1538, House Bill No. 1539, House Bill No. 1540 and House Bill No. 1541 be placed on the Third Reading Postponed Calendar. The reason for this is that at the present moment, there is an investigation going on out at Morganza, and we felt that it would be the better part of judgment to wait until the investigation is completed and then at that time move these bills one way or the other.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1537, on third reading, entitled:

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I understand that my colleague from Potter, Senator Berger, has amendments to put in this bill. Therefore, I withdraw my request that House Bill No. 1572, Printer's No. 1040, go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1572, entitled:

An Act relating to coal mining, well operations and the underground storage of gas and the safety of personnel and facilities employed therein; prescribing the rights and duties of well operators, before, during, and after the drilling of wells for the production, extraction or storage of any gas, petroleum or other liquid; regulating the underground storage of gas under workable coal seams; prescribing the rights and duties of owners and operators of coal mines in relation to wells and underground storage areas; granting certain corporations a limited right of eminent domain to appropriate interests in real property for surface and sub-surface operations in connection with the underground storage of gas; creating the Oil and Gas Division of the Department of Mines and defining its personnel powers and duties; providing for hearings and the procedures to be followed therein and imposing duties upon the courts and providing methods for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President,I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Sec. 206, page 23, lines 2 and 3, by striking out both of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof: "shall be either filled or bridged and filled in the manner just described and at such point there shall be placed another similar plug of cement"; Amend Sec. 501, page 63, lines 14 and 15, by striking out both of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof; "a safe place for public inspection any map data report well log notice or other writing required to be filed with it pursuant to the provisions".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 1572, Printer's No. 1040, on third reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Berger and myself, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 5 (Section 711.1), page 7, line 10, by striking out at the end of the line after the word "be" the following: "five ($5.00) dollars" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "twenty ($20.00) dollars."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading, as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1676, as follows:

An Act authorizing townships of the first class in certain cases to convey to a volunteer fire company or association the townships' interest in real property upon approval of the court of common pleas of the county.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In any case where land and improvements thereon in a township of the first class have been conveyed to a trustee in trust for the use of a volunteer fire company or association until the time when the township should take over and assume the facilities for and duty of fire protection for the township and in such event to be conveyed to the township if the township commissioners determine that it is for the best interest of the township they may upon approval of the court of common pleas after a public hearing convey all right title and interest of the township in such real property to the volunteer fire company or association Notice of the public hearing shall be given by advertisement in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the county in which the township is located if so many are published or circulated therein once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to the hearing

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 382, Printer's No. 284, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair rears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 386, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 26 1931 (P. L.8) entitled "An act to fix the fees to be allowed the district attorney in counties of the second class" providing a fee for services in cases removed to any appellate court of this Commonwealth or to any court of the United States.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 535, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the imposition of wage income or occupation taxes by cities of the second class on nonresidents of the city and abolishing such taxes heretofore imposed.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, by inserting after the word "class" and before the word "to" the following: "second class A third class borough incorporated town or township";

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 3, by striking out after the word "of" and before the word "city" the following: "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "a";

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 3, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "city" the following: "borough incorporated town or township";

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the word "class" and before the word "before" the following: "second class A third class borough incorporated town or township";

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out after the word "of" and before the word "city" the following: "the" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "a";

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 2, by inserting after the word "city" and before the word "are" the following: "borough incorporated town or township";

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 4, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "city" the following: "borough incorporated town or township."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Kopriver, to find out whether he understands what the amendments do.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Kopriver, do you understand what these amendments do?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. No. I have not had any chance to look over them. You did not give us a copy of them.

Mr. BARR. I think that the Majority Leader has a copy and I will give you a moment to look at the amendments. I think it will be very simple for you to comprehend them.

Mr. President, I would like to preface my interrogation of the Honorable Mayor of Duquesne with just two sentences from an editorial which was just handed to me tonight from the Pittsburgh Press. I think Senator Kopriver will realize that the Pittsburgh Press is not too friendly with this Administration. However, the first paragraph, Senator Kopriver, says that few men in public life are in a better position to assess the condition of the State Government in Harrisburg than Mayor David L. Lawrence. The editorial winds up saying—I think, perhaps, I will send it over to you because you should read it. It says: "It is time for bipartisan cooperation in the interest of all people. Mayor Lawrence's speech should be required reading in Harrisburg." I think you should have a copy of that.

I would like to ask the gentleman from Duquesne whether he knows how many political subdivisions in the State have a wage tax?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I can tell you in Allegheny County, but I do not know about in the Commonwealth.

Mr. BARR. How many have a wage tax in Allegheny County?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. There are thirty-three political subdivisions that have a wage tax. This does not include Pittsburgh.

Mr. BARR. Pittsburgh has not seceded from the county. Therefore, I guess there are thirty-four, including Pittsburgh.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. You are just guessing now. Is that right?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny, there were 419 political subdivisions at the end of May which had a wage tax in Pennsylvania. Among them are eighteen cities.

Senator Kopriver, do you know who was Governor when the wage tax or tax anything bill was passed, Act. No. 481?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I know as well as you do.

Mr. BARR. I asked you whether you could name the Governor?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I can name him; yes. It was Senator Duff.

Mr. BARR. That is right. Would you say then that he is the father of the wage tax in all these 419 municipalities?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I would not say he is the father of the wage tax. That was part of the problem in Allegheny County when the leaders wanted to adopt this Act No. 481. That request came from Allegheny County.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in order for the gentleman to know, and I think he should be very definitely apprised of this, when the two bills were lying on Governor Duff's desk at the same time — one was Act 481 and one was for the city of Pittsburgh to have the same taxing right as the city of Philadelphia, in other words, the Sterling Act — I called on the Governor in company with the then Mayor of Pittsburgh and still Mayor, Mayor Lawrence. The Governor said to us, "I cannot sign this bill because it may hurt me in the courts. It may weaken my position on Act No. 481, my tax everything bill." That is for your infromation.

I do not know whether the gentleman knows that I was one of the few who voted for Act No. 481 on the Democratic side in the Senate. However, every Democratic Member voted against the bill in the House. Therefore, we must say the Republican Party is the father of the wage tax.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. You mean you are saying now that Governor Duff was the father of the wage tax?

Mr. BARR. That is correct.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I hope you are right.

Mr. BARR. That is correct and the Republican Party was the father of the first wage tax which was put on in the State in 1939 when they had the Mayor and the unanimous Republican Council in Philadelphia. The first wage tax was put on in Philadelphia. Did you know that?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I understand it was under a Republican administration in Philadelphia. I understand that was one of the promises that the Democrats made when they wanted the job. However, when they took over in Philadelphia, they did not take the wage tax off.

Mr. BARR. In 1939, 1943 and 1947, that was an issue for the Democrats, they thought. Howeevr, they never won the election. Did you know that?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I, of course, have not been in the Senate as long as you, Senator Barr. Howeevr, I do remember very well when Mr. Kane wanted a wage tax, about 1949. He is an Allegheny County Commissioner. There was quite a lot of trouble about that. Everyone knows that Dave Lawrence is the father of the wage tax in Allegheny County. Everyone in Pennsylvania knows that.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman if the city of Pittsburgh was the first political subdivision that put the wage tax on in Allegheny County.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. As far as I know, yes.

Mr. BARR. Well, Mr. President, the gentleman is misinformed.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Who was it, then?

Mr. BARR. If the gentleman wants to know, there were three boroughs and two townships that had it before the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. That is not true, according to the records I received today from the Department of Internal Affairs. According to their records, Pittsburgh was the first. The other thirty-three followed suit after Pittsburgh imposed the wage tax. That information is according to the records I received from the Department of Internal Affairs today.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the gentleman does not know the geography of the county, I had better tell it to him. Do you know where Trafford Borough is?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, I do.

Mr. BARR. Do you know it was the first place in western Pennsylvania where they put the wage tax on after Jim Duff's tax anything bill passed?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. There is only one district in Trafford City that is in Allegheny County, and I understand it is under a Democratic administration, too.

Mr. BARR. You said that nothing was in Allegheny County.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I can show you this right here. I can show you the information I received from the Department of Internal Affairs today. You can have this. They are all marked 1954, after Pittsburgh imposed a wage tax.

Mr. BARR. Are you going to support my amendments, Senator Kopriver? If the city of Pittsburgh cannot put the wage tax on, second class cities, third class cities and the boroughs and townships should not. Is that right?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Senator Barr, I am just tickled to death to go along because I am certainly glad that you fellows saw the light, finally. I will do anything to keep Dave Lawrence from imposing a wage tax in Allegheny County. I will be glad to go along with you.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, in case the gentleman does not know, I thought I had informed him, that when the bill went through the House there was not one Democratic vote. I was one of the few on this side, when you did not even need the vote, who voted for it over here. I believe in the bill. I am one of the few on my side who does believe in it.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, I did not believe in it.

Mr. BARR. Well, that is your privilege to believe in it now.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I want to make sure that you understand that.

Mr. BARR. Will you support an amendment to return to the municipalities the money which will be lost if this wage tax has to go off their books? Will the State return the money to the municipalities?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Senator Barr, I do not know what that has to do with this bill which is before the Senate this evening. That has nothing to do with it. What you are trying to do is confuse the issue here. All I am interested in is to make sure the people that are working in the city of Pittsburgh and living out of the city of Pittsburgh need not pay a wage tax to the city of Pittsburgh. As I have just told you, I will then advise this side of the aisle to vote for your amendments. If we are going to take all of the various political subdivisions out so that they will not have to pay a wage tax, it is perfectly okay with me because I have always been against a wage tax and my record shows that.

Mr. BARR. Who has the floor, Mr. President?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to ask both gentlemen to have a little consideration for our steotypist and our stenographer so that they can correctly report the proceedings. The Chair asks that only one of you talk at a time.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he is engaged in the florist business?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, I am, but what has that got to do with this matter?

Mr. BARR. Are you a retail florist, Senator Kopriver?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am accused of being one.

Mr. BARR. And the wholesale florists are in the city of Pittsburgh?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. The gentleman is out of order. He is not talking on the bill or on the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is unable to decide that question. I have not seen the amendments or the bill either. The gentlemen will confine their remarks to the amendments and the bill before the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the point I was going to make in my amendments is appropriate to my remarks in that the gentleman is a retail florist in the city of Duquesne, and the wholesale florists are in the city of Pittsburgh and he keeps going back and forth, back and forth from the city of Pittsburgh to the city of Duquesne. to buy the flowers which he sells in his florist shop.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Not all the flowers. We buy some flowers in Pittsburgh, but we raise flowers in Duquesne. What do you think we have greenhouses for?

Mr. BARR. To raise orchids?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, they are easy.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the Honorable Mayor over there has a nice community. He lives in what I call one of those boudoir communities.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Thank you very much, Senator.

Mr. BARR. They live outside the city of Pittsburgh and depend on the city to pave the streets, to give fire protection to all those from Duquesne who come and work in the city and to give police protection to all of them. They do not want to even pay, as Senator Mahany would say, "a weeny, weeny bit."

Now, Senator, does your school board have a wage tax?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. In Duquesne?

Mr. BARR. Yes, sir.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. No, sir.

Mr. BARR. Is it a Democratic school board?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Yes, sir.

Mr. BARR. Is the council controlled by the Democrats?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Just since one of our Republicans turned Democratic recently.

Mr. BARR. That man must have seen the light.

Mr. President, the point I am trying to make is that if they are going to take and limit this to second class cities, which my amendment does by making it second class cities A, third class cities, boroughs and townships, I think the gentleman is just playing a little bit of politics. I can hazard a guess as to what is going to happen to the bill, with or without the amendments, once it gets over to the House of Representatives.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BARR. With pleasure, by the florist from Duquesne.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Thank you for the plug, Senator Barr.

What I am trying to get at is this. Since you found out that we are going to vote for your amendments—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the roll has not been called. The gentleman says that they are going to vote for my amendments, but the roll has not been called and I do not know whether they are going to vote for my amendments or turn them down.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Are we talking on the amendments now?

Mr. BARR. Yes.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I hope we are talking on the amendments. I am just telling you that since I have asked my colleagues on this side of the aisle to vote for your amendments I hope that you will follow through and see that the bill, when it gets over in the House, receives the same treatment from your side of the aisle.

Mr. BARR. If the gentleman will vote for the amendment and vote for the tax to cover this amendment, which Senator Dent is going to offer, striking out the wage tax and taking this money away from the municipalities, I will see that the bill goes through the House. However, you have to vote for the taxes in order to return this money to the people in these 409 communities so that they can keep their government running. It is very simple.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Although Mr. BARR is not talking about the amendments, Mr. President, I would like to make this remark which may clear up what he had on his mind. What I am interested in, in Allegheny County, is repealing the wage tax. If he wants to include the entire Commonwealth, that is fine. I have no objections to that as I am against wage taxes, and I have always been against a wage tax.

Mr. President, in 1953 the Mayor of Pittsburgh said he would not have a wage tax, and then in 1954 when he was re-elected Mayor the first thing he did was to impose a wage tax. Then the boroughs and townships in Allegheny County imposed a wage tax to prevent their people from paying the tax to the city of Pittsburgh. Up to that time, to my knowledge, there was no wage tax in the city of Pittsburgh or in Allegheny County. You say that there were a couple of them, but I do not know.

Did you ever take into consideration the fact that you have a lot of steel mills in the valley? In Duquesne, for instance, over fifty per cent of the employees in steel works live out of the city of Duquesne and probably there are that many in the city of McKeesport and the city of Clairton. There is no wage tax in these three third class cities in Allegheny County.

Now, Mr. President, I would like to see all of the people who work in Duquesne live in Duquesne, but they cannot live there. I would like to see them come in there and buy and shop in Duquesne, as far as I am concerned.

Mr. President, Pittsburgh's Mayor Lawrence has repeatedly said that if it were not for Pittsburgh the rest of the county would be cow pasture. Now, remember that in Allegheny County there are 126 municipalities all together. If those municipalities were not favorable to Pittsburgh and did not shop in Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh would not be as large a city as it is today. This philosophy of the Mayor's, in condemning the rural communities for having a tax of their own so that they need not pay to Pittsburgh, is a foolish philosophy, and I never could see his argument when it came to that. The Mayor of Pittsburgh condemns the communities continually. It was not too long ago that he said that the rest of the county should pay for part of pittsburgh's maintenance, utilities and so forth, for the use of their streets, police department and fire department. They do that in Homestead, they do that in McKeesport, Duquesne and all the other places in the county. These cities are not complaining about neighbors coming into their communities. I do not know why the Mayor of Pittsburgh keeps on harping about it. What is happening in Allegheny County is that they are driving people out of Pittsburgh to the outlying districts, and this has been proven. You saw the statistics not very long ago, which show that there are more cars coming into Pittsburgh but less people.

Surely, Mr. President, Dave Lawrence does not think that the people out in the boroughs, townships and municipalities are going to be continually insulted and come back into Pittsburgh. Take, for instance, the great improvements in Point Park, the renaissance of Pittsburgh, which the Mayor talks about so much and gets so much publicity about. What about the assessed valuation and the amount of money coming in there in taxes? It far exceeds, in money, the taxes of the buildings which they tore down. They are losing no money in revenue.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I am not raising a point of order, but I just want to let the gentleman know that he is pretty far afield, but go ahead.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, you have not done so bad yourself, Senator Barr. You are a champ yourself, you know, when it comes to that. I am willing to stop right now and give you an opportunity to vote on the amendments as far as I am concerned. I am going to vote for them and I will advise my colleagues to vote for the amendments.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman sort of proved my point when he said that more people are moving out and more cars are driving in. I think one that is driving in is this florist truck to the wholesale house down in the wholesale area.

Mr. President. I would like to know from Senator Kopriver when—I want this direct, this is no byplay—the Mayor of Pittsburgh said that if it were not for the city of Pittsburgh the suburban areas, the boroughs and townships, would be nothing but cow pastures. When and where was that said?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Senator Barr, I know that it was said and it was in the papers in Pittsburgh. I know those fellows would not print a story like that if it were not true; but where it happened I do not know. I think it was in answer to the township of Mount Lebanon when they put a wage tax on their books. The Mayor was a little sore at Mount Lebanon because they decided to impose a wage tax to protect their people from paying it to the city of Pittsburgh, and paid it to the township of Mount Lebanon.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman one more question. Where, in the campaign of 1953, did the Mayor of the city of Pittsburgh say that there would be no wage tax imposed? I think that is a very important question.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, I remember very well that when one of our former colleagues in the Senate, Senator Walker, accused the Mayor of Pittsburgh during the election of favoring a wage tax and predicting that one would be imposed, Mayor Lawrence called our former colleague in the Senate an unmitigated liar.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I cannot disagree with what he said about our former colleague in his last sentence, but the question was never brought up in the 1953 campaign, and if you do not know it, Senator Kopriver you ought to check with the Pittsburgh newspapers. They will tell you that is the truth.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. It is the truth that he called Walker an unmitigated liar, that is right.

Mr. BARR. I called him that, but I do not know whether the Mayor did or not, and I will stand on that.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, of course, I am not surprised at that. I want to say this to you, that that is true and he quoted Lawrence throughout the election. What did Lawrence do less than three weeks after election? He put a wage tax on, did he not?

Mr. BARR. You say that the Mayor put the wage tax on?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, he recommended it to city council; behind the iron curtain, as they call it.

Mr. BARR. You know, I want to tell you something, Senator Kopriver.

Mr. President, I could go on for quite a time and tell the gentleman what little he knows about the government in the city of Pittsburgh and the county of Allegheny and the State, but I have more intelligence. Let us vote on the amendments.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I do not intend to flatter Senator Barr on how much he knows about politics or government in Allegheny County, but when he says that I know very little about it I will say this to him. I know as much as he does about it even though he is the Democratic State Chairman, as far as I am concerned.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section, as amended?

Messrs, WATKINS, WATSON, PROPERT and HARNEY offered the following amendments:

Amend section 1, page 1, line 2, by inserting after the word "the" the following: "first and"; Amend Section 1, page 1, line 4, by inserting at the end of the line after the word "the" the following: "first and".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, it is really getting too late to involve Philadelphia in this question. We spent a couple of sleepless nights arguing that question two or three months ago.

Senator Watkins, are we going to repeat all over again?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to raise a technical question, but I am rather positive that the only way you can remove the so-called wage tax from the city of Philadelphia is by an amendment to the act which created the wage tax, the Sterling Act. I do not think this bill would do that.

Mr. President, they have a great many constitutional lawyers on the other side; I just wondered if they think these amendments will do it.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, if Senator Dent is correct, then this whole bill would be out of order or illegal. This bill does not amend Act No. 481. It is supposed to be a general act affecting everything and everybody; including florists, Mayor Lawrence and everybody else.

Mr. DENT. And the city of Duquesne. However, Mr. President, I think we have gone rather far afield and, inasmuch as we sometimes like to have a little fun, one of the reasons that I tried not to have a recess tonight was because I knew that we would end up in something on this order.

Mr. President, about this act which is before us now, the proper and only way that you could amend any act of the Legislature is to precisely name that act. What we are trying to do here tonight is peculiar. We are trying to do something that even the constitutional lawyers on the other side will admit is a little on the balmy side. However, since we are all being so balmy and everybody is just having a good time, I would like to say a few words at this time.

First of all, I might say that I do not think, even if this act were the proper vehicle, that the amendments, just introduced by the gentleman from Delaware, fit in the bill now that you have adopted Senator Barr's amendments. The line changes will make his amendments unadaptable to this act of the Legislature. He will have to wait until it is printed, with the amendments put in by Senator Barr, and then make the proper changes in the new lines.

However, since everybody knows that it is only a fishing expedition and no one is taking Senator Kopriver very seriously, including himself, I would like to present at this time a group of serious amendments which, if by any chance such an act would be declared constitutional and if by any chance the House of Representatives were foolish enough to accept it, I believe Senator Kessler and other Republican Senators who have a regard for Pennsylvania's economy and Pennsylvania's subdivisions of government will admit are the only amendments that you could introduce to any bill which would eliminate from the local communities millions of dollars of revenue that is already contained in their budgets. All of us know that most communities have had to resort to the Duff "tax anything" bill because of the limitation of real estate taxation in those communities. Therefore, since they have this tax on the statute books, if they lose revenue through the passage of an act of this nature, there is only one thing which you can do and that is to amend the bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his point of order.

Mr. MAHANY. Is Senator Dent presenting amendments at this time?

The PRESIDENT. The amendments before the Senate at the present time are the amendments of the Senator from Delaware, Mr. Watkins.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, there was no second to the offer of his amendments.

The PRESIDENT. There is no requirement for a second. The Chair asked the question, "Will the Senate agree to the amendments," and the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent asked for the privilege of the floor and the Chair did not hear the Senator object.

The Chair will ask the question again. Will the Senate agree to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, before anybody seconded the motion that these amendments be agreed to, I took the floor and I have taken it again. I can repeat the remarks if you would like them read back.

The PRESIDENT. Since there is no second required, does the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, object to the amendments?

Mr. DENT. I did, twice, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Dent, I would like to ask you why you did not object to the amendments submitted by Senator Barr?

Mr. DENT. I am not objecting to your amendments at the moment. I said they were not seconded. When you introduce —

Mr. WATKINS. Wait a second. If we wish to take issue with you, they were seconded. The Chair has ruled that the motion did not necessitate a second. What else do you want?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think I have served long enough to know that when amendments are offered, they make a motion for the adoption of the amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to clarify this by saying that there was no motion. The Chair, which it does at all times when amendments are offered, asked "Will the Senate agree to the amendments to Section 1?"

The gentleman from Westmoreland has not objected. The Chair did not hear him, and originally did not understand that he was objecting. The Chair thought you were discussing the amendments rather than objecting.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, when amendments are offered and objected to, is it not necessary for a Member on the floor to then make a motion or move that the amendments be adopted?

The PRESIDENT. That is the proper procedure.

Mr. DENT. Was that motion ever made?

The PRESIDENT. That motion was not made.

Mr. DENT. All right, then, where are we?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I so made that motion.

Mr. DENT. When?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President —

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I now wish to second Senator Watkins' motion to adopt the amendments he just offered.

The PRESIDENT. Did the Senator make the motion?

Mr. WATKINS. I will make it again, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins.

AMENDMENTS ADOPTED

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I move that the amendments which I offered to Section 1 be adopted and acted upon immediately.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President —

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny Senator Barr, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BARR. Does Senator Dent have the floor?

The PRESIDENT. The Senator has had the floor.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, how can Senator Watkins make a motion while Senator Dent has the floor?

The PRESIDENT. The Senator stated that he had made the motion. The Senator from Westmoreland objected to the amendments, and then it is the privilege of the sponsor of the amendments to make a motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his point of order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, the gentleman objected and is giving his reasons for objecting, and until such time as he is finished with his objection, the gentleman cannot make a motion.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, offered other amendments.

And the question recurs,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, whatever you rule, we will abide by. You say now that a motion has been made and it has been seconded.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, made the motion. The Gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, seconded the motion.

Mr. DENT. Was that recently or on the first go-around in this affair?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is unable to determine because everyone has been trying to talk at once tonight.

Mr. BARR. Someone has to determine the state of the record.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will determine that.

It has been moved and seconded that the amendments offered by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, be adopted.

The question is on the motion.

And the question recurs,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the affirmative.)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I request that the Chair return my amendments.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, requests that his amendments be returned.

And the question recurs,

Will the Senate agree to the section, as amended?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I now have the floor?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we have just gone through a rather unintelligible fiasco in which men, who are supposed to be elected to office in a serious parliamentary body, knowingly and willfully violated their pledges of performance of duty to this Commonwealth. They know, you know and I know, and it is too bad the citizen of this Commonwealth cannot be in on the operations of this Senate tonight.

Mr. President, no man sincere in his efforts to do that which is best for this Commonwealth would introduce into this Senate legislation particularly picking out a municipality of government for the political purpose of pointing up what might be conceived to be, by some, a very fine political maneuver. There is no difference between the people who live in Pittsburgh and the people who live in Trafford or in Johnstown or Meadville or any of the other hundreds of communities in this State.

I heard a man say on this floor that he was against wage taxes. Maybe he is, I do not know. I only know that it was a unanimous vote of the Republican Party in the House and in the Senate of Pennsylvania that made wage taxes possible in this State. I only know that for seven and a half hours I stood upon this floor and fought the wage taxes which were created in Pennsylvania. It comes in bad grace, and very badly disguised political maneuvering, to offer a bill that only excludes the peoples of the city of Pittsburgh from paying these wage taxes.

If sincerity were the motive, then the amendments should have read as an amendment against Act No. 481 in order that all of the peoples of Pennsylvania who are paying wage taxes would be exempted from this taxation. I heard the gentleman say awhile ago that thirty-three communities in Allegheny County, outside of Pittsburgh, pay the wage tax. Are the citizens in these other communities, thirty-three in number, different than the citizens of Pittsburgh? Is he only against wage taxes in the city of Pittsburgh because at this moment they believe that they will help in a political campaign in Pittsburgh? I never doubt a man's honest endeavors. If you listen long enough, you will learn. However, I do know that if I start out to kill snakes, I do not only choose a black snake out; I kill all the snakes I see. When you start out to eliminate wage taxes in Pennsylvania, you eliminate them from all the people who work for a living and not only those who live in Pittsburgh for the reasons of political strategy.

Yes, Mr. President, we voted for this, and we will vote for the bill and we voted for the amendments. However, in order to be at least halfway honest with your conscience and with the peoples in the communities affected, you will have to vote for the amendments herewith offered; that any revenues that are lost by these communities through the passage of this act will be returned to these communities from State revenues. The school districts in this State, eliminated from the provisions of this act, will be more than bankrupt unless you return the moneys. I am informed that there are 262 districts. The boroughs and the townships will be more than bankrupt if you eliminate them from the provisions of this act. I know that in all of the years I have served in this Senate, including myself, this is the lowest caliber group that ever served in the Senate. We have lost all sense of political responsibility. We are spending hours upon the floor of this enate debating issues that are not entirely germane to the welfare of the people of this State. If Senator Kopriver would have introduced legislation eliminating the wage tax from all communities in Pennsylvania, there would have been a measure of sincerity. However, when you pick out one community and allow four hundred and some other communities to keep that tax, it does not measure up to the caliber of the man who I have always felt that Senator Kopriver was.

Mr. President, I am going to introduce this amendment, and I know that the Republicans will vote against it, being another proof of the great misunderstanding of our duties to the peoples of this great State. There is not a man in this Senate who could live with the provisions of this bill if the House abdicated its position of responsibility and passed this bill in the House as it goes over to it from the Senate. If you believe now in what you are doing tonight, then certainly you could not have believed in Act No. 481 when you voted for it. If you believed in it then, you cannot believe in it tonight. Although Senator Mahany will probably get up and make some wise crack about my being mesmerized by the tone of my own voice, I can say to him that at least during the years that I have served, I have been consistent in my approach. I have been consistent in every problem which has ever faced this Senate. Sometimes I get credit for it, Senator Mahany, and sometimes I am abused by it. At least, I will stay with consistency, although it is considered the hobgoblin of small minds.

I believe that in public life none of us has the right to do things that bring upon us the whosesale condemnation of the peoples who are governed by us. At this moment in Pennsylvania's history, this Membership of the Senate of Pennsylvania stands lower in the respect of the people than any group with whom I have ever served. It is our own doings and our own makings. This evening we could not recess for an hour, and yet ninety per cent of all the bills that were on the Calendar had been in committees for anywhere from two to six months. We are not fooling anybody. People know that this State needs taxes just as these communities need taxes. We could go back; we could close the schools. We can refuse the responsibility of relief. We can refuse the responsibility of the mentally ill. We can do all these things and these communities can refuse their responsibilities.

I assure the Membership of this Senate tonight that if you insist upon the passage of this kind of legislation, without at least passing compensating legislation with it, we will be labeled as being even further down on the ladder of political respect than what we find ourselves tonight. It does not pass over any of us. The brand is not attached to you as a Republican or to me as a Democrat. The black stick of public condemnation slaps all of us at the same time. When people speak of the Senate, they do not speak of a Republican and Democratic Senate. They speak of the Senate of Pennsylvania, a body politic that has been looked up to over the years, in the main, with a great deal of respect by the people. The petty politics that are being displayed not only here tonight, but in many of the maneuvers which have gone on, cannot bring anything to any of us but shame and condemnation by the people.

Mr. President, in order to at least add some dignity to what we have done, I offer the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, page 2, line 4 by inserting after the word "city" the following: "Any revenues lost by any subdivision of Government by the passage of this act shall be returned to the subdivision from state revenues."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

MOTION THAT AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the amendment be adopted.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I have no intention of trying to make a flowery speech on how insincere some Member of the Senate may be. Let Senator Dent speak for himself as far as sincerity is concerned, but I want him to know that I have never done a thing in my political life or public life in which I was not sincere. I was sincere when I introduced this bill on June 20th of this year, in plenty of time before this campaign started which he is talking about. I did not introduce any amendments to this bill. The gentleman on the other side did, but I did not.

I want Senator Dent to know that I have never done a thing in my public life which I did not consider sincere. I am sincere in what I said about Allegheny County because all of the places in Allegheny County that have a wage tax today are communities in Senator Fleming's District and my District; remember that. Also, remember this, many times I have been told about the representation here in the Senate. This is a fact and you can take it to yourselves. Senator Fleming and I, the two of us, represent 570 precincts, and the four Members across the aisle, from Allegheny County, represent 649 precincts. They only represent seventy-nine more than we do.

Mr. President, I just do not like the ide ahere of anybody calling me insincere, because I have been sincere and I do not appreciate what has been said about me as far as I am concerned. I am interested in my District in Allegheny County. If they want this tax imposed on the rest of Pennsylvania it is all right with me, but I am against a wage tax and I have always been against a wage tax. I do not run out in the back room there to keep from voting, either, when it comes to voting on wage taxes.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Kopriver.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Senator, maybe it is mistaken judgment on my part, but did I not hear you say that all of these communities which have the wage tax are in your District and Senator Fleming's District?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. That is right.

Mr. DENT. Well, Senator Kopriver, you are sincere in trying to take that wage tax off, are you not?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am only interested in preventing the city of Pittsburgh, Dave Lawrence, from collecting taxes from the rest of the countians who do not live in Pittsburgh. That is what I am interested in.

Mr. DENT. Thank you very kindly.

Mr. President, I cannot understand how it will relieve his people in the communities which have a wage tax, which they collect for themselves, if Pittsburgh takes its wage tax off.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I did not have much intention of getting up on this, but I believe Senator Dent, I think inadvertently, certainly did not mean to advise the Senate of the contents of the bill introduced by Senator Kopriver. In his remarks, he said that Senator Kopriver is attempting to remove the imposition of the wage tax first in Allegheny County and then charged him with not having a due regard for all Pennsylvanians by not trying to remove it from all Pennsylvanians.

As I read Senator Kopriver's bill, that is not the intent of the bill at all. The intent of the bill prohibits the imposition of a wage, income or occupation tax by cities of the second class on nonresidents of the city. Now that would prohibit the city of Pittsburgh, for instance, from levying a tax on those people who live in the borough of Wilkinsburg and work in the city of Pittsburgh, but it certainly does not prohibit the city of Pittsburgh from continuing its wage tax on its own residents.

Now, Mr. President, in my own borough of Aspinwall we have a wage tax. It was put on, and I am frank to admit that the borough council did put it on only after the city of Pittsburgh imposed their tax, in order that our people who work in the city of Pittsbuhg would not have to pay it in Pittsburgh. If this bill is passed with Senator Barr's amendments ,which now include the boroughs, townships and incorporated towns, it only means that Aspinwall cannot levy a wage tax on those people who work in Aspinwall and do not live in Aspinwall. That might affect our wage tax ten or fifteen per cent, but the great bulk of our wage tax income will still go on, and I believe it will in most of the communities over Pennsylvania because most of the districts, in my opinion at least, in the boroughs and townships that now impose it, will get it from their own residents. They just will not be able to collect the tax from nonresidents. For instance, those people who live in Greensburg will not be able to pay it in Jeannette or vice versa.

Mr. President, there is an element of unfairness in the imposition of the wage tax in the city of Pittsburgh, in that the second class townships are not permitted to levy the wage tax and, therefore, those people have to pay it in the city of Pittsburgh, and the local second class townships cannot impose it. Possibly some bill should be introduced to take care of the second class townships. I have no intention of introducing it, but possibly one should be introduced. I see that you are a great believer in this, Senator, and maybe you should introduce an amendment to Act No. 481 which would permit townships of the second class to have the same rights as the other municipalities enjoy under Act No. 481.

I am not talking on the amendment, but Senator Dent was talking a little off of it when he was giving his talk, and I did want to inject that he had left the impression that it was abolishing all wage taxes and it certainly is not.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, of course, the gentleman very cleverly turned with a twist of the wrist, and the knife not only made the incision but it tore part of the flesh on its way back out. He said taht I believe so much in it that I ought to put the amendment in to let second class townships put the tax on.

It might interest the gentleman to know that I never voted for Act No. 481 and fought it very bitterly, and I will not introduce the legislation which he referred to. I am not sure whether, as a House Member, he voted for it or not, but that is entirely up to him.

Mr. President, I cannot see any justice in relieving a taxpayer from Aspinwall or Greensburg or Jeannette who lives in Aspinwall, Greensburg or Jeannette and pays taxes in the city of Pittsburgh because he works there. There is no more justice in relieving him than in relieving a man who lives in the city of Pittsburgh and works in Greensburg, Jeannette or Aspinwall. That is exactly what I was driving at. If there is any sincerity in this program, then it has to be a program to eliminate the tax all over. I would like to see the Republican Party do, what they are attempting to do here now by subterfuge, what they would like to do direct. Refute Jim Duff. These amendments refute Jim Duff. Now put the bill in to refute him all the way. Take the tax off of ashes and all the other things that Jim allowed in Pennsylvania. That is all you have to do.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to talk on the amendment. We are not talking about Jim Duff or somebody else or making political speeches, and we should not. When Senator Dent does that sort of thing he does the very thing which he accuses others of doing. When they do that sort of thing, it seems to me that by their action they are lowering the dignity of this Senate. When you try to take advantage of little technicalities you certainly disturb the decorum of the Senate and you do not contribute very much to its business.

Mr. President, we have been talking here now for almost forty-five minutes on something which should have been disposed of within fifteen minutes. I want to say to the Presiding Officer, the Lieutenant-Governor, who does not happen to be of my party affiliation but belongs to the Democratic Party, that I sometimes envy the Democratic Party for at least having one fellow who I think is very fair in his presiding over this Senate. When they attack the Presiding Officer for trying to dispatch the business of this Senate in a businesslike way, I think they are out of order and they certainly do not contribute very much to the business of this Session. Of course, we have little technicalities as to whether or not somebody seconded a motion or something like that, but to make a great to-do over it does not help us very much.

Now, Mr. President, let us talk about this amendment which Senator Dent has put in. He has been here long enough and he should know that his amendment would certainly be unworkable. His amendment provides that "any revenue lost by any subdivision of government by the passage of this act shall be returned to the subdivision from State revenues."

Now, how in the world could you possibly do that? How do you know, for instance, next year how much, we will say, the city of Sharon, which has a wage tax levied on residents as well as nonresidents, would lose? The amount they would lose would depend upon how many workers from outside the city would be working there at that time, whether or not the place that they came from had a wage tax, the rate of that tax and you would have to have a corps of people, which would take about all the applicants for jobs which Senator Barr has on tap, in order to carry out this work of finding out how much each subdivision lost and it would just be an eternal job.

When Senator Dent offers such an amendment as this, he knows full well that it is just compounding any felony which has been perpetrated on this Senate by any other bill which may have been put in here inadvertently or because somebody honestly felt that they could do the job that they sought out to do by Senate Bill No. 535.

Mr. President, all that Senate Bill No. 535 would do, now that it affects all classes of cities, would be to do the very thing which would happen if the particular subdivision, which has workers residing outside of the city, would pass a wage tax. Then the city or subdivision in which that worker did his work would not receive any revenue under Act No. 481, because the revenue from the wage tax would go to the place where the man resided.

Mr. President, certainly we feel, if Senator Dent is right that Act No. 481 is wrong and if the Democrats are very much opposed to it, they should present a bill over in their Democratic controlled House to eliminate Act No. 481. I have heard Senator Dent rant and rave here for months and years about the inequities of Act No. 481, but I do not see anybody over on the other side putting any bills in—at least if they do, they do not get very far—to repeal Act No. 481 in whole or in part. Therefore, they do not speak with a very great degree of honesty when they keep ranting and raving about Jim Duff's Act No. 481.

Mr. President, if you look over the State of Pennsylvania, you will find that most of the political subdivisions that have seen fit to take advantage of the provisions of Act No. 481 are in Democratic controlled communities. Most of the Republican controlled communities have not taken advantage of this act unless one big Democratic controlled community has first put the ordinance in and then, because of self-protection, they also had to enact similar ordinances so that their people would not have to pay the tax in the place where they worked but would pay it to the city where they resided.

Therefore, Mr. President, inasmuch as this amendment is unworkable, uncertain and just generally wrong, I oppose the amendment offered by Senator Dent.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think someone should inform the gentleman on the other side that Altoona, Easton and Johnstown are not Democratic cities, and they all have the wage tax.

However, Mr. President, I might call attention to the fact that this bill becomes effective December 31, 1955, if you pass it. Will someone tell me what happens to the budgets that run to the end of the fiscal year in June?

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mrs. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—12

Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Hays,	Miller,	Silvert,
Dent,	Holland,	Schmidt,	Stiefel,

NAYS—25

Berger,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Peelor,	Wade,
Chapman,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Mahany,	Scott,	Watson,
Flack,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Fleming,	McPherson, Jr.,	Taylor,	Wolfe,
Harney,

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section, as amended?

MOTION TO RE-REFER BILL

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 285, be re-referred to the Committee on Public Health and Welfare.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken, the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section, as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. BARR offered the following amendments:

Amend page 1, line 2 of the title by inserting after the word "class" and before the word "on" the following: "second class A third class borough incorporated town or township"; Amend page 1, line 2 of the title by inserting after the word "city" and before the word "and" the following: "borough incorporated town or township".

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title, as amended?

Messrs. WATKINS, WATSON, PROPERT and HARNEY offered the following amendment:

Amend page 1, line 2 of the title by inserting after the word "the" the following: "first and".

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Barr, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. BARR. Mrs. President, does not a bill have to go over if amended, in order to see the printed copy, without even a motion?

The PRESIDENT. It can go over and be printed for third reading with the amendments passed today.

Mr. BARR. With the request that the bill be printed to see how it looks on the Second Reading Calendar with the amendments? Is it not just merely a request that is needed and not a motion?

The PRESIDENT. Either way. If the request is objected to, then a motion would be necessary.

Mr. BARR. Is it not true, Mr. President, that a bill must be printed and laid on our desks before we vote upon it? I am sure this bill could not have been printed during the time we have had this moonlight soiree that we have had here in the last hour. I would call it moonlight madness, myself.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, does the state of the record show that this bill, Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 285, has now passed second reading?

The PRESIDENT. The bill has not passed second reading as amended. The title has been agreed to, but it has not passed second reading, as amended.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 285, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I just want to concur in what the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany said. I have been here under five Lieutenant-Governors, and this is the first one that I have seen who had two eyes in his head.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would suggest to the Democratic Members of the Senate that they treat their Lieutenant-Governor with a little bit more respect.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks that all the Members are out of order now.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, all of us respect the Lieutenant-Governor, and over the years there were times when our respect was stretched a little.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. Presdent, I understood from Senator Stiefels when we came in the Senate Chamber, that the gentleman connected with the Administration, who had some objections, had now removed his objections and he suggested that we see him tomorrow, I believe, to find out more about it.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 539, Printer's No. 286, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I have spent a few laborious hours today working on amendments so as to comply with the wishes of the Attorney General. Deputy Attorney General Harrington Adams said that as long as these amendments are placed in the bill, he has no objections.

Tomorrow, we will probobly be going home. I am a Philadelphian and I want to live with my conscience. I, therefore, hope that Senator Mahany, in order not to deprive me of rest in Philadelphia, will permit me to put in these amendments.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I will withdraw my request that Senate Bill No. 539, Printer's No. 286, go over in its order.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 539, entitled:

An Act relinquishing Commonwealth rights in property in control of the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, the amendments which I am about to offer are a mere enumeration of liens.

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following amendment:

Amend Section 1, Page 1, by inserting on line 2 after the word "Pennsylvania": "more specifically referred to in Section 3 of this bill";

It was agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. STIEFEL offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 2, Page 2, by inserting on line 6 after word "properties" "more specifically referred to in Section 3 of this bill"; Insert after line 7, Page 2, the following: "Section 3 Appropriation liens filed by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against University real estate" Lien filed September 8, 1916, in Court of Common Pleas No. 4 June Term, 1916, No. 7 State Appropriation Docket, for Appropriation of June 13, 1911, against "Philadelphia Polyclinic and College for Graduates in Medicine, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and lot of ground with unfinished brick and terra-cotta dispensary building with floors and roof of steel and reinforced concrete construction, 7th Ward, Philadelphia, north side of Naudain Street, 70 feet West of 18th Street; containing 80 feet on Naudain Street, by North 72 feet 6 inches, East 38 feet, North 25 feet 6 inches, East 32 feet, South 98 feet to place of beginning ..... $10,000.00"; "Lien filed November 16, 1925, in Court of Common Pleas No. 4, September Term, 1925, No. 1 State Appropriation Docket, for Appropriation of June 13, 1911, against "Medico-Chirurgical Hospital and transferred to lot of ground with buildings and improvements thereon erected, bounded by 18th Street, 19th Street, Lombard Street and Naudian Street .....$75,000.00"; "Lien filed October 4, 1916, in Court of Common Pleas No. 5, September Term, 1916, No. 9 State Appropriation Docket, for Appropriation of June 13, 1911, against, "(a) Lot of ground with new buildings of Veterinary Department, beginning on DeLancey Street 66 feet 6-½ inches East of 39th Street; thence East 193 feet 5-½ inches to building last erected; South along said building 44 feet: West 193 feet 5-½ inches to building facing on 39th Street; North along said building 44 feet, and .....$250,000.00"; "(b) Lot of ground with Surgical Wards of Hospital of University of Pennsylvania, southwest corner 34th and Spruce Streets, thence South along Spruce Street, 87 feet; South 94 feet; East 87 feet to 34th Street; North 94 feet."; "Lien filed October 4, 1916, in Court of Common Pleas No. 5, September Term, 1916, No. 10 State Appropriation Docket, for appropriation of July 25, 1913, against, "(a) Lot of ground each side of Extension of Hamilton Walk, between Spruce Street and Hamilton Walk proper, starting about 179 feet 6-½ inchest South of south house line of Spruce Street; thence extending 106 feet 1-¼ inches South on the east side of said extension of Hamilton Walk, East on University property about 45 feet 7 inches; North on University property about 106 feet 1-¼ inches, West about 45 feet 7 inches to a point of beginning, with modern fireproofe structure with steel frame, concrete floors and walls of brick with limestone trimming, and, ...$165,000.00"; "(b) Southwest corner 34th and Spruce Streets about 5 feet 9 inches South of south house line of Spruce Street; thence extending about 94 feet 10 inches South on the west side of 34th Street ;west on Unievrsity property about 93 feet; North on University property 94 feet 10 inches to south house line of Spruce Street; east on south house line of Spruce Street 93 feet to west house line of Spruce Street 93 feet to west house line of 34th Street and place of beginning, with modern fireproof structure with steel frame, concrete floors and walls of brick with limestone trimmings. .....$500,000.00".

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 584, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 2, 1925 (P. L. 448) entitled "An act relating to fish and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating to fish in the inland waters and the boundary lakes and boundary rivers of the Commonwealth" authorizing issuance of resident fishing licenses to certan residents who intend to become naturalized.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, the amendments which I am about to offer, on behalf of my colleague from Lehigh, Senator Van Sant and myself, are quite lengthy but they are clarifying amendments. They have been agreed upon by the sponsor and myself.

Messrs. HALUSKA and VAN SANT offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 1 by striking out "Subsection (a) of section" and inserting in lieu thereof: "Section";

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, lines 2 and 3 by striking out "one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five" and inserting in lieu thereof: "1925";

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 3 by inserting after "amended" where it appears the first time in said line: "in part May 22, 1953 (P. L. 211) reenacted and amended";

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 3 by inserting after "666)" "and amended in part May 11, 1955 (P. L. 50)";

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 220) page 2, lines 12 and 14 by inserting brackets before "and" in line 12 and after "papers" in line 14.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 220) page 2, lines 14 to 18 by striking out "and in" in line 14, all of lines 15 to 17 and "tion on such declaration" in line 18.

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 220) page 3, line 6 by striking out the stars and inserting in lieu thereof:

"(b Any disabled veteran of any war or armed conflict whose disability consists of the loss of one or more limbs, or the loss of the use of one or more limbs, or a veteran who is totally blind and who meets the above qualifications shall be issued such license upon application to any county treasurer without the payment of the above license fee provided for the use of the Commonwealth. The application for the issuance of a license in such case shall, in addition to the other information required, contain a statement that the applicant is a war or armed conflict veteran and that his disability was service incurred. The county treasurer may likewise require of such applicant the production of such applicant's discharge papers. Any person serving or who has served in the armed forces of the United States during any part of any war or the armed conflict in which the United States [is now] was engaged in Korea, and who is being hospitalized or is in a convalescent camp within the Commonwealth, shall be issued a license as above provided without the payment of said license fee provided for the use of the Commonwealth.

"(c In case the license certificate is lost or destroyed, a duplicate can be secured from the Department of Revenue by making affadavit to that effect. In case the button is lost or destroyed the licensee can make a duplicate, and in case both the licensee certificate and the button are lost or destroyed, a new license and button may be secured from the Department of Revenue upon making affidavit to that effect, and the payment of a fee of fifty cents (50c.

"(d) Upon the making of an application by any person to the Department of Revenue for a special license to catch eels by the use and operation of eel chutes, and the payment of a fee of one dollar ($1) for the use of the Commonwealth, such person shall be entitled to a special eel chute license, and a special metal tag, which shall give him the right to use and operate an eel chute in the Susquehanna River below the boundary line of the city of Pittston and the Duryea Borough line on the north branch, below the bridge at the Northumbreland-Lycoming County line on the west branch, in the Juniata River below Mount Union and in the Delaware River in accordance with the provisions of this act.

"Section 2. Section 221 of the act amended in part May 22, 1953 (P. L. 211) and July 27, 1955 (Act No. 106) is amended to read:

"Section 221. Non-resident and Alien Non-resident Fishing License Fees; Tourist Fishing License Fees for Non-residents and Alien Non-residents. A. For the purpose of this article, every person, twelve years of age and upward, upon application to any issuing agent within the Commonwealth or to the Department of Revenue and the presentation of proof that he is a Canadian subject or citizen or a non-resident of this Commonwealth but a [citizen] resident of the United States [and, in the case of naturalized foreign-born non-residents, the production of such applicant's naturalization papers] shall, upon the payment to the issuing agent or the Department of Revenue of the same amount as is charged and received from non-residents by the State of which the applicant is a resident or the country of which the applicant is a subject or citizen for a similar license, plus the amount charged and received for a trout stamp or permit in cases where they are required (not, however, less in any case than two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) and, in the event that the license is issued by an issuing agent, the payment of ten cents (10¢) for the use of the issuing agent, be entitled to the license herein referred to as a 'non-resident fishing license.'

"B. For the purposes of this article, every person, twelve years of age and upward, upon application to any issuing agent within the Commonwealth or to the Department of Revenue and the presentation of proof that he is a non-resident of the Commonwealth but a [citizen] resident of the United States [and, in the case of naturalized foreign-born non-residents, the production of such applicant's naturalization papers] or a Canadian subject or citizen shall, upon the payment to the issuing agent or the Department of Revenue of a license fee of two dollars and fifty cents ($2.50) for the use of the Commonwealth, and, in the event that the license is issued by an issuing agent, a fee of ten cents (10¢) for the use of the issuing agent, be entitled to the license herein referred to as a 'tourist fishing license' which shall be valid for a period of five (5) consecutive days.

"In case the license certificate is lost or destroyed, a duplicate can be secured from the Department of Revenue by making affidavit to that effect. In case the button is lost or destroyed, the licensee can make a duplicate, and in case both the license certificate and the button are lost or destroyed, a new license and button may be secured from the Department of Revenue upon making affadavit to that effect and the payment of a fee of fifty cents (50c).

"C. Any person serving or who has served in the armed forces of the United States during any part of any war or the armed conflict in which the United States [is now] was engaged in Korea, and who is being hospitalized, or is in a convalescent camp within the Commonwealth, shall be issued such license as provided in subsections A and B of this section, without the payment of the said license fee provided for the use of the Commonwealth.

"The application for the issuance of a license in such case, shall in addition to the other information required, give the serial number of the branch of service to which the applicant is attached, together with the applicant's rank and the hospital to which he is attached; and a certificate from the person in charge of the hospital or other place in which such person is confined or to which he is attached."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. HALUSKA and VAN SANT offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 7 by striking out "Section 2 Section" and inserting in lieu thereof: "Section 3. The heading of chapter XI and section"; Amend Sec. 2, page 3, line 8 by striking out "is" and inserting in lieu thereof: "are"; Amend Sec. 2, page 3 by inserting between lines 8 and 9: "Chapter XI "Unnaturalized Foreign-Born [Residents] Persons"; Amend Sec. 2, (Sec. 240) page 3, line 9 by inserting a bracket before "Unnaturalized"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 240) pages 3, lines 10 and 11 by striking out "unless holding a valid resident fishing license as provided by this act"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 240) page 3, line 13 by inserting a bracket after "the" where is appears the first time in said line and inserting immediately thereafter: "Special Fishing Permits.—the"; Amend Sec. 2 (Sec. 240) page 3, lines 16 and 19 by inserting a bracket before "Each" in line 16 and after "offense" in line 19; Amend Bill, page 3, by inserting after line 19: "Section 4, Section 241 of the act is repealed".

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Messrs. HALUSKA and VAN SANT offered the following amendment:

Amend Title, page 1, last 3 lines of Title, by striking out "authorizing" third from last line and all of last two lines and inserting in lieu thereof: "permitting aliens to obtain licenses to fish".

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 584, Printer's No. 267, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 657, Printer's No. 278, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, unless there is some real good reason why this bill should be passed over, I would like to have it read for the second time so that we can vote on it on third reading and final passage tomorrow. It seems as though I have gotten in wrong before by going along with Senator Haluska in his requests to have bills passed over in order, especially concerning what happened to me on that school appropriation bill for which I got the dickens in last Sunday's Harrisburg newspaper. I just do not want to fall into that trap again. Therefore, unless there is a pretty good reason for not doing so, I would like to have this bill read for the second time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to inform the Majority Leader that if he goes along with me, he will never get into trouble. It is when he forgets about me that he may get himself in trouble. I have kept him out of trouble for many years.

Mr. President, I have been told that the House has a bill similar to this, and I would like this bill held over until tomorrow in order for me to check the House bill. Then, after we check the House bill, we can move it up.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this bill does what the Majority Leader complained about this afternoon. It appropriates money from the last biennium. Which I would like to know, before we vote on it on second reading, is if this money has been lapsed. We knew that the money was not lapsed in the bill we voted on this afternoon. However, can the Majority Leader tell me whether this money has been lapsed over in the Department of Welfare?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I asked someone this afternoon — I believe I asked Mr. Stoner — who is affiliated with the Committee on Appropriations whether or not this money had lapsel. He advised me that it had not. Why can we not run it on second reading and tomorrow, if this money has lapsed, then we will be in a similar position as we were on those other bills. However, I hope that you do not try to disqualify those other bills now. If you do, the schools will have to close up. This is perhays along the same line, although it does not appropriate anymore money in this bill. The same amount is appropriated. That is how it differs from the other bill that we were talking about.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this afternoon, when we were debating, we were not raising the appropriation. We were just putting back the same appropriation that was passed in 1953 and 1955. If you will read this bill, on page two, line 13, it reads: "is hereby specifically appropriated to the said institution for the purpose stated to cover the two fiscal years beginning June 1, 1953."

Mr. President, at that time I made the point that we were not increasing the appropriation. We were re-appropriating the money that was appropriated in 1953, and that is all you are doing with this bill. I will be glad to go along and let it pass second reading, because it is only being consistent. I am ashamed to say that you are not being consistent because this afternoon you fought this very thing and said it was illegal, that you had never done it this way before, that it was — I do not know whether you used the word unconstitutional or not, but this is identically the same maneuver that we put on this afternoon and which you objected to.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, it is not quite the same because I understand that this appropriation has not lapsed; whereas, the other one had lapsed. In fact, there is no money in there to appropriate. In this one, I understand that the money is still available.

I would say this, Mr. President, that if this passes second reading and we have it on third reading, and tomorrow we find out that this money has lapsed and there is nothing there to pay this, I will be the first one to make a motion that it be recommitted, but I cannot see how we are going to accomplish anything by holding it up on the second reading calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not like to make an issue at such a late hour, but the money was lapsed and the difference between our positions is that the money this afternoon, in House Bill No. 1555, was not lapsed. That money was borrowed with an act of the Legislature from the fund. It was never taken out and lapsed. This money, according to the records of the deparmtent, was lapsed and now you are putting it back in by a re-enactment of the appropriation of 1953.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, Senator Dent and I cannot settle this argument even if we argue for the next half hour. All I am requesting is that we read the bill for the second time and then tomorrow morning he and I will go to the Appropriations Committee and find out for sure whether or not it has lapsed. If it has lapsed ,then we will recommit the bill on third reading.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr, President, just to make certain that the gentleman from Crawford does not get himself into trouble, I shall withdraw my request that this bill go over in its order, so that he will be on safe ground and have a good sleep tonight.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 657, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 22 1953 (Appropriation Acts 101) entitled " An act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing certain conditions upon which the appropriation will be available to the school" increasing the per capita annual maintenance rate of wards of the Commonwealth

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 672, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing cities boroughs incorporated towns townships and counties to create historic areas within their geographical limits providing for the appointment of historical boards empowered to preserve historic buildings and to regulate the erection reconstruction alteration restoration demolition or razing of buildings within the historic areas be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion,

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 673, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to historic sites and structures declaring the same to be affected with a public interest prohibiting the destruction defacing or altering thereof without approval of the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission constituting the commission a legislative agency for the purpose of this act authorizing it subject to appeal to determine the educational value of such sites and structures providing for injunctions authorizing the commission to provide for the maintenance and preservation of such sites and structures and prescribing penalties be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 746, Printer's No. 275, on second reading, go over in its order.

The President. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT BILL

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 785, on second reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the Republican Senators have been accused of holding up school appropriations and of putting the Commonwealth's schools in a position where they might well have to shut down, and we certainly do not deserve that condemnation. We feel that we are now ready to appropriate whatever money is necessary so that the schools of this Commonwealth need not shut down.

I checked today with the Budget Director and he told me that there were sufficient funds in sight so that this bill, in the amount which we have it, could pass and the Governor could properly sign it. Therefore, we are here ready to do the job. We do not want to pick up the paper a couple of months from now and find that some editor is taking us apart because we did not do the job that we were supposed to do.

If this is a Republican controlled Senate, which they say it is, we intend to do the job as we see it. If you fellows are gong to keep throwing roadblocks in our way, we are just going to keep kicking them aside because I am serving notice on you that we are going to do the job as we see fiit. If you do not want to do it, you just keep on talking and then when you get through we are going to vote according to the way we see fit. We are going to run this Senate the way we want to do it. When you get this bill over in the House, where it is controlled by the Democrats, then you can do it over there the way you want to. We are going to fulfiill our obligation to the people of the State of Pennsylvania, and we are not going to lay down and let you fellows kick us around and then get a beating in the papers because we did not do our job. We intend to do the job, Senator Dent, in spite of you.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I recollect that a little while ago this afternoon the gentleman said that he never threatened anybody. If I understood him, he threatened a little but my disposition is the same now as it was then. I do not scare very easily.

Mr. President, if the job is to be done and you really want to do it, there was a bill introduced on June the 27th which is House Bill No. 1599, and it has been in committee for this many past months. If there is any difference in the bill, it is in the amount of money. The only difference that I can find is that the House appropriated $426,000,000 for schools in Pennsylvania and the Senate Bill appropriates 421,000,000. Before we can vote for this bill, we will have to be told, and I think it is only fair since you say that you are going to run it the way that you want to run it, where you are going to get the money for the appropriations. You ought to tell us what kind of a tax you are going to pass. You are going to tell ue, if you will, and I think that is within our prerogatives, where you cut the $5,000,000 and which part of the school budget does not require the $5,000,000. If the schools can get by with $421,000,000, we ought to be told how they can get by. I am sure that the Governor and the Democratic Party do not want to contribute any more money to the schools than is required for the operation of the schools.

Mr. President, I think that all of us understand that if this bill passes tomorrow, it still will require at least three days in the House. Since you took from June the 27th to study the bill which came over from the House, you certainly do not expect the House to take your bill tomorrow and bring it out of committee on Thursday, work Friday, bring it out Saturday and pass it finally. I hope you do not think that small of the House that they are not given some opportunity to study your bill. If you are really serious about it and you want to help the schools, and I think there are some of you who do, then you ought to have brought out upon the floor the House bill which was considered in your committee for many, many months. The bill was open for study from the first day that it went into the House of Representatives. It gained a great deal of publicity from June the 27th, and sometime around the middle of September it came over to the Senate, and from that day to this you have had all the opportunity in the world to study it. Now you say that you are sincere, that you are going to run the Seante the way you want to run it and nothing we say or do will stop you. We understand that, for it has been that way for sixteen years and there is no change in that policy. However, I think that in fairness to everybody you should tell us where you are going to cut the $5,000,000 before we can afford to give you a vote.

I moved that the bill be sent back to committee. You can still bring out the House bill and get it passed long before you can pass this bill. If the schools break down, I know that the newspapers may rap you and they may rap us, but if the editors of the State of Pennsylvania want to run the State of Pennsylvania, let them run for the Senate. It will not hurt them a darn bit. They can run for the Senate and then their editorials will not be today's news in tomorrow's graveyard because they can write an editorial today and if it does not suit, tomorrow they will change their editorial but once we vote, we cannot change it. We are not going to be stampeded into any position in this Senate of Pennsylvania, at least by our votes, because some newspaperman did not like what we did. I would venture to say that there are just as many editorials one way as there are the other. If they would only tell me which newspaper they are listening to, then I would read that editorial and know how we are going to vote. Today you read one editorial and it confuses you, and tomorrow you read another one. Now, you cannot read them all. If you want to size up a real policy in politics, read none of them. Read the news that these boys write, for that is more accurate.

I made a motion that the bill be sent back to committee, and I understand that it will not be sent back because I have been warned that you are going to run the Senate the way you want to run it. That is perfectly all right. When you are ready to tell us how you are going to get $421,000,000 to provide the money for this, then we will vote on the bill. When you take the money out of the treasury to provide for this, you will close every hospital in the State of Pennsylvania. You will close every state teachers college in the State of Pennsylvania. If you take the $421,000,000 out of present taxes and present tax anticipation notes in this Commonwealth, you will close down the functions of government unless you pass the taxes to meet this bill. Tell us now, if you will, where you are going to get the taxes and where you cut the $5,000,000.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, in looking over the history of House bills on page 279, I note that House Bill No. 1599 was referred to the Committee on Appropriations in the House on June the 28th.This bill was reported, as committed, on July the 12th, passed first reading on July the 13th, passed second reading on July the 18th, was recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations on August 2, re-reported as committed, on September 13 and passed third reading and final passage on September 14. The bill was referred to the Committee on Appropriations in the Senate on September the 19th.

Mr. President, it seems that the House had the bill a lot longer than we did. The distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland wants to know where we expect to get the money. Senate Bill No. 785, which was co-sponsored by myself, Senator Whalley and Senator Wagner, is a section of the omnibus bill, House Bill No. 1599. We felt it our responsibility to introduce this bill. The schools, in some areas, were suffering as a result of not receiving the appropriations which were their just due. If we understand this bill correctly, the appropriations which were due in some cases last April, and will be due in October, were earned during the last year. There is no guessing about it. We owe that amount of money.

Before preparaing this bill, Mr. President, my source said that this appropriation could be cut $10,000,000 from the original $426,000,000 which was in the bill. In order that we would not get stymied, I compromised and instead of taking the $10,000,000, which some of my colleagues felt could be taken out of the bill without hurting one service, I cut the $10,000,000 and instead of introducing a bill for $416,000,000, I introduced one for $421,000,000.

Mr. President, the area of difference between the department of Public Instruction's estimate and my estimate is principally in the bonus for the new school district jointures or unions which may be resolved in this next biennium. I think the department's estimate is that we are going to have some 5,000 new unions and jointures, but we do not feel that there can be that many because we have lost ten months out of this year, and many of the districts that had intentions of becoming jointures or unions have withheld their action because they do not know what this present Session of the Legislature is going to do. The department's figures are for the bonuses. We do not intend to cut down any of the bonuses which the school districts, the old jointures or even the new jointures, are presently getting under the old law. We do not intend to cut down on these bonuses. We just feel that they have overestimated the amount that it is going to cost. In that area alone, we feel that we can save $2,500,000.

In the area of special education, which covers a variety of fields, the department feels that it is going to cost $8,500,000, and we feel that it can be done for $3,000,000. Maybe their estimates are high; maybe mine are low, and for that reason my figure of $5,000,000, instead of $10,000,000, was introduced into this new measure.

Mr. President, they want to know where the money is going to come from. As I understand it, we have on the other side two gentlemen who are ready to introduce to this very same bill an additional $48,000,000. I have been told that the Budget Bureau has informed us that the $421,000,000 which will be paid throughout the biennium, for just this one phase, is available. Mind you, it is not all going to be paid out at the present time. What we are presently interested in is to pay the subsidies to the school districts which are past due; namely, the April and October subsidies. The end of the biennium, as you know, does not come until the middle of 1957. You do not need the $421,000,000 at this time.

I want to say this, Mr. President, that when a tax measure comes over from the House which is, in my mind, fair and constitutional, you may rest assured over on the other side that I will vote for it. I am not voting for any additional costs. I am voting for a measure which came over from the House, and it is an emergency measure. We are talking about our schools and I am interested in our schools.I am interested in not only the child, but I am interested in the school teacher. I have been on the school board in my local community of Ford City for twenty-six years. I know how difficult it is to get good schoolteachers. I also know, as Senator Seyler is probably going to say, how difficult it is to get good schoolteachers and to hold them.

Mr. President, before those amendments are offered, which I understand are going to be offered by Senator Seyler and Senator Hays for an additional $48,000,000, you may ask them, Senator Dent, where they expect to get it.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, will state his point of order.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, the gentleman is talking about hearsay and not anything which is before this Senate at this time. The motion is to recommit.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken. The discussion has all been on the bill. However, it should be on the motion.

The Chair has permitted a lot of latitude in all discussions tonight. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the question.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I tried to confine my remarks to the question before the Senate. Senator Dent asked several questions and I am trying to answer them. I am trying to tell him how I am willing to stand up and pay for the $421,000,000 about which he is talking.

I am opposed to recommitting this bill because I feel that the school districts, especially those which have a high reimbursement fraction, are in dire need of money and they should be taken care of. I am now willing, if it takes until six o'clock tomorrow morning, to stand here and see that those districts do get their reimbursement.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, all of us admire the gentleman from Armstrong for his avowed intention of standing here and bleeding and dying until morning for the schoolteachers and we applaud him for it. We think that is a wonderful spirit. We think he should do that. However, it may interest him to know that he read the record of House Bill No. 1599, but he failed to read the fact that it passed the House by 174 votes to one. Evidently, his Republican colleagues in the House did not share his feelings on this legislation.

I might also remind the gentleman that I do not know how he is going to get 5,000 mergers and unions and consolidations in the State of Pennsylvania when there are only twenty-four hundred and some odd school districts in the entire State. We might borrow a few from New Jersey, if you want us to. However, I do not think we will need to at this time. I also might call to his attention that when you cut out House Bill No. 1599, you cut out all of the features in Pennsylvania from vocational education, education for partially sighted children in the public schools, for farm and home safety education, for the payment of salaries and general expenses and equipment for revising the elementary, secondary and vocational curriculum in the public schools, for the payment of salaries, general expenses, supplies, printing for the Public School Retirement Board, for the payment of salaries, wages, posting and printing of other necessary expenses for the rehabilitation centers as provided by law, for all of the mentally handicapped children, as provided by law; for all of the other payments to the Department of Property and Supplies, mileage charges, automobiles, purchase supplies and fuels.

Of course, you can pay the schoolteachers if you do not give them any tools with which to work. I say now, and I say again, that this is another one of the little political strategies. We know that you are going to vote for it. You are saying that you are willing to bleed and die until six o'clock tomorrow for the schoolteachers. If you are, you can take the House Bill and you will not have to bleed that long or die that long, because the bill can pass here in three days and it will be finished business. It will become an act of the Commonwealth and will then take effect. However, I doubt whether the House would go along with the bill, their own bill or your bill, until the money is forthcoming. I can understand the Budget Director telling you there is money in the till. You asked him if there were $421,000,000 available in the next biennium over the taxes that we now have. That is true; there is. However, it is just as true, Mr. President, that unless you pass taxes, you will close every hospital in this State. You will close every mental institution in Pennsylvania. You will close all of the State Teachers Colleges if you pass this kind of legislation without providing finances for it. You have cut out all of the necessary services to pick out the one which has political significance. All the handicapped children probably cannot hurt you politically. The partially sighted cannot hurt you politically. All of these needy children cannot hurt you. Therefore, all you do is pick out that particular phase which affects you politically. You are going to make sure that the schoolteachers are paid for the next biennium. Therefore, you are going to pass this legislation to take care of the school districts back home.

I do not know what the House will do, but I am almost sure, Senator Pechan, that if you bleed and die until morning, it will not mean a darn thing because I doubt if the House of Representatives will pass any legislation appropriating $421,000,000 as a final act of this Legislature, or any other sizeable legislative sum, without passing tax bills.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I cannot concur in the thinking of the Minority Leader when he says that the House will not pass this bill. House Bill No. 1599, Senator Dent, has already passed the House with a much greater amount. The entirety of House Bill No. 1599 contains many, many more millions of dollars. That is my thinking. I am not a member of the Committee on Appropriations. I have not had a chance to vote on House Bill No. 1599. I took out one segment.

I want to tell you that when the rest of House Bill No. 1599 comes up for consideration, that will not mean the handicapped children or the partially sighted people are going to be neglected. We are going to come to that when we see that the money is going to be forthcoming to take care of the entire appropriation. You said the House would not pass it. You said the House would not take $421,000,000. However, the House has already passed House Bill No. 1599 which costs much more. It costs over $500,000,000, and without a tax measure. When the House sends over a tax measure, as I said to you before, that I think is fair and constitutional, I am going to vote for it if I am the only Republican on this side, not because I am bleeding for the schoolteachers. I am not. It is a debt that they established in the school year of 1954-1955. We owe it to them, and to my way of thinking we can take care of it and pay it. If the House does not want to take a piece of the bill that they originally passed, then they are playing politics. Believe me, Senator Dent, I am not playing politics. Schools are no place to play politics.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, my memory is pretty good and I think I remember week after week, after week when the Republican Floor Leader was on the floor demanding that the House pass the appropriation bills over here so that they could study or look into them. So far as the House is concerned, if my memory again serves me correctly, they passed sufficient tax legislation over here to the Senate to cover all of the revenue needs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I understand, also, from the remarks of the gentleman, that he personally compromised from a $10,000,000 cut to a $5,000,000 cut. I also understand that when a bill is, to his mind, constitutional, he will vote for it. I may be wrong, but I doubt if we are cloaked with the right to declare a bill constitutional or unconstitutional when we are elected to the Senate. I remember that usually it is the prerogative of the Supreme Court to decide whether a bill or any act of this Legislature is constitutional or unconstitutional. What the gentleman may have been trying to say was that of he could pass bills like this for $421,000,000 over to the House, then they would be stamped because of the need of the present school districts in the Commonwealth, and then they would pass this and have to take some kind of legislation that he would approve for taxes in order to pay for the bill. I do not think the House so willingly will approve his line of thinking. I think the House is made up of men of strong character and good reputation. I think they will hold up this particular piece of legislation until someone on the Republican side decides where we are going to get the money.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. BARR, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—12

Barr,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Seyler,
Camiel,	Hays,	Miller,	Silvert,
Dent,	Holland,	Schmidt,	Stiefel,

NAYS—24

Berger,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Van Sant,
Blass,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Peelor,	Wade,
Diehm,	Madigan,	Propert,	Watkins,
Flack,	Mahany,	Scott,	Watson,
Fleming,	Mallery,	Stevenson,	Whalley,
Harney,	McPherson, Jr.,	Taylor,	Wolfe,

So the question was determined in the negative.

BILL ON SECOND READING

AMENDMENTS OFFERED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Messrs. SEYLER and HAYS offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1, page 1, lines 1 and 2, by striking out "four hundred twenty-one million eight hundred forty thousand dollars ($421,840,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: "four hundred seventy million dollars ($470,000,000)";

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I heard with some dismay and considerable incredulity a speaker on this floor say that if this bill were passed, it would provide for the educational needs of the Commonwealth for the next biennium. I think anyone who is informed about the needs of the educational system of this Commonwealth, and who is sincere in his desire to see that we have a good educational system, would completely disagree with that statement. It would by no means meet the educational needs of the Commonwealth.

Certainly one of the most important needs which exists is the need for a competent and adequate staff of teachers. Without boring you with the metaphor about Garfield and the law and Mark Hopkins, it certainly is pretty well agreed by anyone who knows anything about the learning process that next to the child, the most important factor in the educational system is the teacher. No matter how good the buildings are, no matter how good the equipment, there is nothing which will substitute for a well educated, sympathetic and sincere teacher. The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania faces a real crisis and if the author of this bill, who said just a few minutes ago that he is interested in seeing to it that the educational crisis is met, wants to think in terms of the real crisis in education, it lies right in the area about which I am talking right now.

Mr. President, I have here some figures which are published by the Department of Public Instruction, in Bulletin No. 75, entitled "Operation Birth Rate Continues." In that statistical table, which refers to the number of elementary and secondary school-teachers that will be needed during the coming years in this Commonwealth, I find the following figures:

The total number of teachers that will be needed in the year ending 1956, the complete staff, will amount to 69,968. That will represent an increase of 5,080 new teachers. In the year ending in 1957, a total of 71,789 teachers will be needed. That will represent an increase over the previous year, to take care of replacements and the growth in teaching units, of 6,206. I will not continue with the projection, but I will say that by 1960, a total of 77,851 teachers will be needed and that is at a rate of increase of more than 6,000 teachers a year.

Mr. President, this shortage of good, competent teachers about which I am talking is not in the future. I gave projected figures. However, the shortage of good competent teachers in this Commonwealth exists right now. Ask any member of a school board who has the job of seeing that he has teachers to man his classrooms, and he will tell you the difficulty of securing competent teachers. There are thousands of uncertified teachers on emergency certificates in this Commonwealth right now. In other words, at the present time, without thinking about the future, we have many substandard teachers in the classrooms of Pennsylvania. This need will increase as the birth rate increases. No matter how powerful any figure in this Senate feels that he is in influencing legislation, I defy him to do anything about this increasing birth rate which is burdening our schools with more children each year.

We are not only thinking in terms of the number of teachers; we are thinking of the quality of the teachers. That is important. Certainly, you can find someone to be in the classroom. However, we are interested in getting the best possible teachers for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. We are interested in obtaining teachers who begin their careers as talented young people, as people of above average ability. Those are the kind of people we need in the profession, if we are to continue having good public schools.

You know, Mr. President, any other phase of the educational process that we want to repair or improve can be done without too much difficulty by an appropriation, followed by appropriate action. For example, if you are short of school buildings, you can appropriate funds and within a year or two, the buildings can be built. However, you cannot produce teachers in a year or two. You cannot appropriate teachers. Teachers are trained by a long process which begins back at the time when they are attending high school. In order to provide good teachers, you must provide the kind of inducements that will get our talented young people to go into the profession. Then, you must provide the kind of living that will induce those teachers to stay in the profession. Remember, we are competing with other States; we are competing with other professions, and every year, Pennsylvania loses many of its fine teachers to both of those competitors. If we want to meet that competition, there are, perhaps, a number of things that can be done. Certainly, the most important and most basic thing in making the teaching profession one that will attract and hold good individuals of above average ability and with the proper qualifications of character, sympathetic personality, is a good living wage, adequate salaries. At the present time, it is my belief that this condition does not prevail in Pennsylvania. I think the real crisis in education is this need for good adequate teachers, which we are not meeting because of our limited salary schedule.

Mr. President, there are bills in the House of Representatives which would provide a more adequate salary. However, those bills have been kept in committee very properly. Until there is money appropriated, there is no sense in passing these bills.

This amendment will provide the necessary appropriation so that it will be possible to give teachers a more adequate and more appealing salary schedule. This bill will provide a total of more than $48,000,000, in addition to what is in the contents of the bill which is before us. Five million dollars of that sum will raise the amount in that bill to the amount which was previously in the budget. The remaining $43,000,000, plus, will make it possible to give the teachers of Pennsylvania an increase of $200 over the next two years of the biennium. This is probably not the whole program which should be adopted to make our salary schedule fairly adequate. However, it does represent a part way—it represents a move that will encourage young people to go into the profession. It will encourage teachers to stay in the profession.

It is not only the teachers of the Commonwelath who are interested in this bill, believe me. Anyone who is interested in having good public education is interested in this move, because it is the parents and their children who are going to suffer the consequences of our failing to meet the crisis which stares us in the face with public education. Our manufacturers, our businessmen, our labor unions, all of the enterprises of the Commonwealth are interested in having good education and well educated citizens in Pennsylvania. One of the reasons why Pennsylvania has stood head and shoulders above many of its sister States in the surrounding area is because of a constant supply of well educated men and women, good citizens.

Mr. President, I think this bill is a very simple one. I trust that my explanation of it has reached you. To me, it represents a chance for every man in this Senate to go on record as to his position about an adequate system of public education in the Commonwealth. A vote for this amendment will be an encouraging vote for the parents, for the teachers and for every citizen of Pennsylvania who is interested in a good public education system.

As I see it, Mr. President, the issue has two phases. I would like every man to examine his own conscience; forget about political commitments or any other kind, and answer these two questions for himself. Are you for a good educational system in Pennsylvania? Secondly, will you vote now to see that the money is appropriated to make it possible to retain a good system of public education by helping to meet the crisis and the need for adequate and competent teachers in the Commonwealth?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I stated a little while ago that I had called, earlier in the day, the office of the Budget Director, Mr. Bradley. He told me that the Governor could sign a bill which provided $421,840,000. I did not ask him whether or not the Governor could sign one which provided $470,000,000. It might well be that if we voted for this amendment, the Governor might very well have to veto it and then the schools would not get anything.

Senator Seyler has made out a very good case for the school teachers, and I agree with him that we need good school teachers in the State of Pennsylvania. That is one of our prime objectives, to see that we have the best schoolteachers that it is possible to obtain in the State of Pennsylvania and that they are properly compensated. However, Mr. President, this bill, if we accepted his amendments, does not give the schoolteachers any more money. He has led these schoolteachers to believe that if we accept these amendments they will, each of them, get a certain increase. That is Just not the truth. The schoolteachers are interested in House Bill No. 583 and House Bill No. 584. I have received numerous communications from individual schoolteachers, and also, I have received communications about these bills from their education association. The bills, to accomplish the purpose which the Senator would like to have attained, were introduced in the House on March 9, 1955. They have bipartisan sponsorship. They have been languishing in the committee in the House since March 14, 1955. The House saw fit to pass the appropriation bill to take care of schools, as Senator Dent pointed out, and they did not include this extra amount.

Therefore, we must only conclude that the House did not intend to pass House Bill No. 583 and House Bill No. 584. What do we gain by encumbering the record and confusing the issue? I say that we are not gaining anything. We are just delaying this bill so that the school districts throughout the Conmmonwealth will be in a state of uncertainty, and so that they will not know whether they are going to receive this money or whether they are not. I think the only proper procedure is for us to pass the bill in the amount which is now, we will say, necessary. Then, if the House and the Governor—I am sure that Senator Seyler is acquainted with the Governor—decide that they are going to get back of bills which will increase the schoolteachers' salaries, then let them pass those bills in the House and add the amount of the appropriation which will be necessary to take care of it. They should certainly decide on the type of taxation that will be necessary to take care of this extra amount needed. If they do those things, then we will, in the Senate, be in a position to pass the necessary legislation which will take care of the objectives which the Senator from York should like to have taken care of.

Mr. President, I do not know whether Senator Seyler has received the blessing of the administration on his amendments, or whether he is doing this on his own. I presume that he must have talked with sometbody or he would not be putting in these amendments. I want to say to him that I, just being an individual Senator from Crawford and Mercer Counties, do not see my way clear to vote for these amendments at the present time because they do not accomplish the objectives which the Senator has set forth. However, I do want to have an opportunity to call a Caucus of the Republican Senators so that they may discuss this and perhaps some of them would like to vote for the amendments.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, at this time, I move that the Senate do now take a fifteen minute recess for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany, is breaking off the debate here at a time when he has made some allegations, some of which, I think, even reflect upon me personally. If I can have the floor in no other way before his motion is acted upon, I would like to do it on the matter of Personal Privilege.

Mr. MAHANY. That is all right, Senator. All I ask is that you give me a chance, after you finish, to make the motion for a fifteen minute recess.

MOTION TO RECESS WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion that the Senate do take a fifteen minute recess at this time.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his consideration.

Mr. President, Senator Mahany said that somebody is confusing the issue and I think he was referring to me. It would help a great deal if Senator Mahany would listen to the speeches that are made before he gets up. I certainly believe, and the record I believe will show, that I explained in my original remarks that this bill does not set forth the method by which this should be paid. I said that those bills were in the House. All this bill does is provide the necessary money and appropriation so they can be paid. I said that, and there was no necessity for the Senator to repeat it and infer that I did not know what I was talking about.

However, Mr. President, I would tell Senator Mahany this He does not need to think that he can kid the schoolteachers and the parents of Pennsylvania by that kind of an argument. They know that if no money is provided in appropriations, there will not be any bills. They are looking for us, tonight, to furnish the necessary money. That is the whole purpose of these amendments. If Senator Mahany thinks he can fluff it off by saying, "The bills are not passed; they are over in the House," then the people of Pennsylvania, particularly those parents and those teachers who are interested in following this problem and who are sending him the many telegrams he referred to, probably are not going to be fobbed off with that kind of an argument. They know that you must have the money or there is no point in passing the bills. The bills are there; they will never move if the money is not appropriated.

The gentleman had some question about how these bills can be financed. A short time ago, I read in the newspapers and heard some comments on the floor which led me to believe, although I have not participated in them myself, that some conferences are being held at the present time discussing the budget. As I understand the position of the gentleman, his positionis that those amounts should be made smaller. Now certainly, if we have reopened the budget, if we are in conference at the present time to decide on what the figures shall be, any figures that appeared in the budget before are out of the window. It is the gentleman and his friends who are questioning that budget and have thrown this matter open.

I would say that if this Senate, and subsequently the House, would decide that the teachers of Pennsylvania should have the necessary money appropriated so that they can have increases in salary and so that we can have a good educational system, the gentlemen who are in the conference, gentlemen of wisdom all, will be able to find a way to finance and find the necessary revenue.

Mr. President. I have a profound conviction that the people of this Commonwealth want good public education. I have a similarly profound conviction that if they understand the issue, they will be in favor of the necessary finances to make a good educational system possible.

Therefore, I would implore the gentlemen not to fluff us off with dialectial arguments about the bills being in the House and that we are not acting on the bills which actually make the salary increases, for that is apparent and I explained that the first time. However, do not fluff off the people, who are interested in a good educational system, by that kind of an argument. They know that first the money has to be provided; the appropriation must be made and until that appropriation is made, those bills cannot move. They are looking to us tonight to vote the necessary appropriations so that there can be activity and so we can go ahead with getting a better educational system in Pennsylvania.

Mr. President, I now invite the gentleman to move for a recess.

Mr. MAHANY. Thank you, Senator, I will be happy to accept the suggestion.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of holding a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, I would like to speak on behalf of the amendment. The matter before the—

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman yield for a moment?

Mr. HAYS. I yield to Senator MAHANY.

(Discussion ended at this point, the question being, "Will the Senate agree to the amendment?")

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the hour is growing late and rather than subject the Senators here to further punishment, since we have had a long day, I think perhaps it would be better at this time, in order to give this more consideration, more careful judgment in the light of tomorrow, if we adjourn.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, October 11, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Tuesday, October 11, 1955, at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1955. No. 99.

SENATE

TUESDAY, October 11, 1955.

The Senate met at 10:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. PAUL S. MONTGOMERY, D.D., Pastor of the United Church of Aspinwall, Presbyterian, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we approach Thee with thankful hearts for the gift of another day, and for health and strength which are ours.

We share with the multitudes of our countrymen our thanksgiving for the goodly measure of healing strength vouchsafe to the President of our Nation; may Thy continued blessing in strengthening power be upon him.

And now, O God, we thank Thee for the opportunity afforded these Thy servants of doing important things in a day that needs important things to be done. Give to us all that insight which will enable us to do things at the highest level. May we hear the voice that should be heard; may our words be spoken with sincere conviction; may our actions be from honest motives.

By Thy mercy, help us to live and serve today at our best.

All these things we ask in the interest of Thy kingdom to come and Thy will to be done on earth as it is in Heaven. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. PECHAN and Mr. McCREESH, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR

GEORGE M. LEADER.

BILL SIGNED

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) announced that the Chief Clerk having reported that the following bill had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the title was publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 262, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 26, 1949 (P. L. 1828) entitled "An act concerning the investment powers and duties of guardians committees trustees and other fiduciaries except personal representatives and prescribing the nature and kind of investments which may be made and retained by such fiduciaries" authorizing fiduciaries to invest in bonds notes or other obligations issued assumed or guaranteed by International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

Whereupon,

The President (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. HARNEY, from the Committee on Constitutional Changes and Federal Relations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 729, entitled:

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article two, section four of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by providing for annual sessions of the General Assembly.

Mr. STEVENSON, from the Committee on Local Government, reported as amended, House Bill No. 173, entitled:

An Act providing for the establishment of police pension funds or pension annuities in certain boroughs towns and townships and the regulation and maintenance thereof providing for continuance of existing funds or transfer thereof to funds herein established prescribing rights of beneficiaries and repealing certain acts.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, earlier in the Session, the sage of Washington County, Senator William Lane, and I announced our intention to prepare a bill dealing with the regulation of children's summer camps. We received numerous inquiries from the entire Nation, because it appears as though we have blazing a trail in this direction. Our proposal was met with an accolade of approval, and some people criticized us as interfering with business. Then came the Diane disaster, with that horrible tragedy at Camp David, where the children who were marooned on an island opposite Bucks County on the Delaware were saved only by the helicopter of the Navy. People began thinking, and they said that maybe it would be a Godsend if adequate legislation were adopted to supervise and maintain high standards in managing children's camps in Pennsylvania.

Therefore, Mr. President, with great pride, on behalf of Senator Lane and myself, I am presenting this bill.

Mr. President, I would like to add that children's camps are in the nature of an outdoor undertaking, dealing with Forests and Waters, Game and Fish. May I appeal to you, Mr. President, to send this bill to that committee where it will receive mercurial, adequate and prompt treatment?

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Messrs. STIEFEL and LANE read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 804, entitled:

An Act regulating children's camps; providing for the licensing of children's camp and for revocation and suspension thereof; defining powers and duties of the Department of Health and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. YOSKO read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 805, entitled:

An Act providing for the use of toll bridges and highways by vehicles owned by the Commonwealth and by vehicles used in relief work during emergencies without charge.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. SILVERT. Mr. President, late yesterday afternoon, House Bill No. 1104 appeared on our Second Reading Calendar. This is the bill which deals with the question of the city charter in Philadelphia. Its prime objective, and only objective, was to provide for the appointment of a commission which would seriously study any changes necessary in the Philadelphia City Charter and then make its recommendations.

This bill passed the House. It is a bill that was approved not only by the Democratic Administration but by every civic organization that is interested in the Philadelphia charter; every such organization gave its full approval to the bill as passed by the House. There was one very minor change made in committee, and then the bill appeared on the Second Reading Calendar yesterday. It was then that we, on this side, learned for the first time that the Republican Caucus had decided on five amendments to this city charter bill. Naturally we on this side, and particularly the members from Philadelphia, were taken by surprise. We only had about five or ten minutes to review these amendments. A number of us got up on the floor and asked that the bill be passed over in order, so that the people in Philadelphia who are interested in the charter might be given an opportunity to express their opinion on the five or six changes suddenly sprung upon us by the Republican majority here in the Senate. Notwithstanding our appeals of having the bill go over, our appeals were refused, and every one of the changes and amendments to House Bill No. 1104 passed the Senate by the force of the fact that the Republicans had a majority here.

Mr. President, this morning we had hoped to get statements from both candidates for the mayoralty in the city of Philadelphia; Richardson Dilworth and Mr. Thacher Longstreth, as to their opinion on these amendments. We have not heard from Mr. Longstreth, but we did hear from Mr. Richardson Dilworth, the Democratic candidate for mayor in the city of Philadelphia, and I should like to read into the record a short statement by Mr. Dlworth:

"Yesterday's action in the Republican controlled State Senate was designed to prevent the passage of the Philadelphia Charter Rule Bill. It is also apparent it was done by the same combination that held up home rule in Philadelphia for so many years; the combination of the old guard in Harrisburg and the old guard in Philadelphia.

It is also perfectly apparent that my opponent was not even considered worthy of consultation. The old guard is determined to wreck this legislation and what my opponent wants means nothing to them. They control the party machinery and they control the legislators just as they control all the men on my opponent's ticket. They have no objection to my opponent deluding himself that he is the leader of the party or from so saying if that will win him votes. But they have no intention of paying any attention to him or anything he may say he wants, for whenever the chips are down, they will turn to my opponent as just a boy in short pants.

"This is the second time in two weeks that the old gang have put my opponent in this humiliating position. The last time was when the City-County Consolidaton Bill came up for a vote in the House and he could only muster one of the seventy-nine Republican votes, and only one of the five Republican votes in Philadelphia. He could not even control his own campaign manager or his own candidate for city council. Both ran off the floor when the voting commenced."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, with reference to House Bill No. 1104, Printer's No. 1043, it is true that the Republicans on this side did amend that bill and we thought that we amended it fairly. We felt as though Philadelphia certainly wanted to put their house in the right shape and we thought that they should have proper representation. We did not feel as though the Democratic Party, as they stand in power in Philadelphia, should have the right to pack this commission. Therefore, we amended this bill so that this commission would be on a nonpartisan basis and give the party in power the majority of the votes to do as they would see fit.

Mr. President, as far as Mr. Dilworth characterizing Mr. Longstreth as just being a boy in short pants, I think that from some of the tactics which he is using in Philadelphia in this election,Mr. Dilworth is the little boy in short pants. From what I have heard about the administration and the attacks which have been made on this young man who is honest and sincere and has not, up to this time, brought out anything which would be detrimental to the people of the city of Philadelphia, I again say that Mr. Dilworth is the boy in short pants. This young man has a constructive program which he can be praised for.

I can also say to the gentleman from Philadelphia that regardless of what Mr. Dilworth thinks about Mr. Longstreth, the people on November the 8th will decide the issue in Philadelphia.

Mr. President, I also feel that we are not running the Philadelphia election here in the Senate of Pennsylvania. I think there is more important work to do. I think that the Senator could do nothing better than apologize for some of the things which he has continuously said about Mr. Longstreth and Mr. Dilworth.

As far as House Bill No. 1104 is concerned, Mr. President, we Republicans stand on this bill as it is written, on a non-partisan basis as it was amended. It is fair, honest and just, and that is the way we want it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. Watkins, would you please, for my edification, tell me how this would allow a fair representation by having either the mayor appoint these people or the mayor and the president of the council appoint them? I believe that was one of your amendments, is that correct?

Mr. WATKINS. The way the amendment is now, yes.

Mr. WEINER. How would that allow for a fairer appointment of members than by having the mayor and the president of city council appoint them?

Mr. WATKINS. For the simple reason that at the present time the president of city council and the mayor of the city of Philadelphia are Democrats, and they would pack this commission with Democrats and not give the other party a chance to be represented.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, is it not so that this would not go into effect until after election and you might very well have a Republican member as president of city council or a Republican mayor?

Mr. WATKINS. The same thing applies. If this bill is passed, it will be good after the election and maybe for many years to come.

If Mr. Dilworth's tactics keep on as they are in Philadelphia—

Mr. WEINER. Excuse me, Senator. Mr. President, I request that the Senator answer the question and not go into a long speech. If he does not care to answer them, he might please say so. I object to him making speeches. Just let us keep our remarks on the questions and get away from personalities for a moment.

Mr. WATKINS. I was taught by Senators Dent that whenever you got on the floor you had the opportunity to—

Mr. WEINER. Senator, you are violating the rule again, and I must call the President's attention to that.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be in order. Let us conduct this so that at least the official reporters will have an opportunity to properly record it.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, will you tell me whatever amendment would make it a fairer bill than it is now, from the amendments which you introduced? Let us just confine ourselves to those for the moment.

Mr. WATKINS. I feel as though the bill is fair right now. I do not think that it needs any more amendments.

Mr. WEINER. Well, you added about four or five amendments yesterday. Now will you tell us which ones will make the bill more fair?

Mr. WATKINS. I do not know whether there were four or five. Were you here?

Mr. WEINER. Yes, sir, I read this bill thoroughly and I have read your amendments thoroughly.

Mr. WATKINS. I asked you whether you were here. I do not know how many amendments were offered yesterday.

Mr. WEINER. No, I was not present at the time, Senator, but that still does not disallow me from asking you thes questions.

POINT OR ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his point of order.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, thoughout this Session your patience must, by this time, be exhausted I am sure. Yesterday in the Session we were having conversations instead of interrogations. I would like to have it settled once again, and go back to interrogations rather than conversations.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is well taken. The Chair feels that when there is an interrogation, the question should be asked and then the reply should be given, and not both parties speaking at the same time. We hope that the Senators will adhere to those rules.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, let us confine ourselves to the amendments, please. How, by increasing the membership from eleven to twelve members, does this help to make this a fairer bill? I believe that is one of your amendments.

Mr. WATKINS. Well, it will give us the chance of getting one more Republican on it anyway.

Mr. WEINER. Well, if we make it twelve members, it would be assumed that there would be six and six. How would that help?

Mr. WATKINS. Well, you will have two-thirds of them Democrat and they will all vote the Democratic way, Senator. They will vote unit action, the same as you do here.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I believe if you have six and six they will be composed of members from both parties, so that we will have half of one party and half of the other.

Mr. WATKINS. No. Senator, I think that you are wrong. I think if you will read the bill, you will find that you can have two-third Decomratic due to the fact that you are in control now.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, I believe that under the amendment that would not be possible. I will let you consult with your attorney, Senator Pechan.

Mr. WATKINS. He is not my attorney. You were the last time.

Mr. WEINER. Senator, may I just ask you one other question? Are these amendments which you have put into this bill not in furtherance of the position that the Republican Members took in the House to defeat this bill? In other words just let me explain the question so that you can properly understand it and answer it.

Mr. WATKINS. You are asking me a question and I would like to answer by saying that I have not personally talked to anyone in the House about this bill.

Mr. WEINER. In other words, you have not spoken to anybody about this at all? You have made up your own mind about this?

Mr. WATKINS. Not anyone.

Mr. WEINER. In other words, you have not even consulted the members in your own Caucus about this?

Mr. WATKINS. Oh, yes, I have done that.

Mr. WEINER. What was their opinion?

Mr. WATKINS. I think that I can reserve Caucus action, and I do not think that I have to tell you what happened in the Caucus. It would be disrespectful, and I am not telling you.

Mr. WEINER. In other words, you do not wish to tell us whether this was under unit rule or not?

Mr. WATKINS. I think when we hold our Caucus that it is our own Caucus, and I do not think that I have any right to come before the Senate and tell them what went on in Caucus. That is not a fair question.

Mr. WEINER. Do I understand you correctly, Senator that you think this is a secret then?

Mr. WATKINS. No, I do not think it is any secret. The bill reads for itself.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I can only conclude from interrogating the Senator, and from some of the remarks that he made earlier, that these amendments which were introduced in this bill were in furtherance of a plan to defeat this bill. Some of the amendments are ridiculous. I believe that they are trying to bring this bill up to the point of absolutely defeating it because of the ridiculousness of the amendments, and even the proponents of the bill could not vote for it. Secondly, I feel that the Senator, representing the opposing political party, should explain to us as a member of that party why the members from Philadelphia, save one, voted against this bill.

One of the members who voted gainst this bill is running for the office of councilman in Philadelphia, and he is committed, as are most of the members of the party and the responsible spokesmen for the party in in Philadelphia, to supporting the charter, the charter amendments and this commission. They have stated so publicly in the newspapers. I believe one of their representatives, who is running for office, was even present on the floor of this house and stated to the members that he was committed to this bill an dthat he hoped they woulh bring it out.

Mr. President, I, therefore, charge the members on the other side with defeating this bill, in furtherance of that policy of defeating any and all charter amendments and changes that are so badly needed in Philadelphia after a four year experience of living with this charter and some of the objectives which were orginally laid out in this bill.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am quite startled by the statements made by the gentleman from Chester. Since he has his roots in a county that has shown dictatorship over the years, and I would say clean government, he does not believe in the vote of the people. In other words, he does not believe in majority rule.

Mr. President, he wants to pass a law now so that regardless of what the people vote in the coming election in Philadelphia, they will have to listen to the dictates of the Republican Party of the Senate. If the Senator had come from a county that did not have a record of the type of organization politic which have been practiced there over the years. I could understand his position. If I remember correctly, one of the great leaders of that county was saved from going to jail because they repealed the prohibition laws. He does not live in Philadelphia and yet he wants to dictate to the people of Philadelphia how they should run their government.

I think that the people of Philadelphia have a right to vote. They have a right to control the responsibility of this charter at this time. I never heard the Republican Party before ask for nonpartisan committees. Every committee they appointed they have loaded with Republicans, because, as the majority party, they have the right to have the majority of people. I say that the people who win the election in Philadelphia have the right to have the majority of people.

Mr. President, I do not think that it comes in good grace for people outside Philadelphia to tell the people of Philadelphia, after they have voted, how they are going to set up their charter. If the Republicans win, they should have the responsibility. If the Democrats win, they should have the responsibility. That is the type of government which I believe is the type of government we want in America. We do not want to have the type of government where some political boss in a back room is continually pulling the strings for the people to jump. That is the type of government the people of Philadelphia voted out. They want clean government now. They do not want government which is controlled by the manipulation of the General Assembly to put the mayor in an embrassing position. They do not want government where, after it is all over, it can be said, "Well,, so and so, the Republicans were in power then or the Democrats were in power then." If you are not going to give the Republicans or the Democrats who are in power the right to have the majority, then you are not going to have good government.

Mr. President, why undo what the people have voted for? I think that the gentleman from Chester should go back to Chester and help to clean up Chester, instead of trying to meddle in Philadelphia politics.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, as usual, the gentleman from Allegheny, my friend, Senator Holland, always has to infer something about communists. I am sure that he knows more about communism than I do. He has had more dealings with communists than I have had.

The Senator talks about our government and about people from the oustide interfering with Philadelphia. I call to the gentleman's attention again that we, in Chester, are taxpayers in Phaldelphia. Some $10,000,000 a year we pay to the coffers of the city of Philadelphia. As I said yesterday, the power vested in me by the people from my county gives me the right now to let them have some say in the government.

Mr. President, I certainly would like to say this, that the purpose of this House Bill No. 1104 was stated in a letter which I received from the mayor of the city of Philadeplhia, Mayor Clark. He stated that he wanted this commission set up on a nonpartisan basis; that he did not want it crammed with persons from one political party. From reading his letter, it was very plain that he had no desire to have all democrats on this commission. Secondly, now that the commission will be composed of twelve and the way they will spread their terms, there is nothing to fuss about. If the charter is going to be honest, I think that the mayor of Philadelphia will not complain too much about this commission of twelve members. I believe that the proposed changes will make the charter honest.

Senator Holland made remarks about the gentleman from Chester. I do not live in Chester, but I am proud of Chester. I would like to also say to him that I suggest he clean his own backyard up and not worry about Chester. There is only on thing distasteful to him about Chester, and that is that it is predominately Republican. People like Senator Holland, who visited our county on many occasions, when there was a riot or a strike going on, and he came down to either add to it or settle it, cannot dictate to us. I remember once when he came down, when I was sheriff of the county, and he tried to dictate to me and tell me what to do. I reversed his field by taking some of his members and making them deputy sheriffs and having them work for me.

Mr. President, I would further suggest to the gentleman that he is getting down a little bit too low when he starts talking about the filth in the city of Chester. I say that the city of Chester is just as clean as any Pittsburgh district that you have. I can say that our government is one of the best. It is a government which has stood there for fifty years without anybody breaking it. I do not need to take any slurs from the Senator from Allegheny County with reference to the city of Chester. I am proud of the city of Chester, and I think the Senator is the one who should clean his own dirt up if there is any. I do not know if there is any filth in Allegheny County, but if there is let him clean it up and make it half as clean as the city of Chester and he will get my okay.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I am quite surprised at the first part of Senator Watkin's statement. I do not know who was talking about communism. I might tell the gentleman from Delaware County that there is no man in this Senate who has fought communism more than I have. I have been up against communists not only from a mental standpoint, but from a bodily standpoint.

Next, Mr. President, I want to tell the gentleman that it is very true about what happened in Chester. However, for his information, I will let him in on a secret. When we came to the meeting in Chester, it was our intention to have him appoint members of the union as deputy sheriffs. We made him believe it was his idea.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would just like to point out to the gentleman from Delaware that we have gotten away from the original discussion.

However, Mr. President, his people who live down in his county, and who are so concerned about paying taxes in Philadelphia, can relieve themselves of that burden very easily. They can just give up their jobs in Philadelphia and go work somewhere else.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I have a lot of respect for my friend, Senator Watkins, of Delaware County. I love his county; I spent some happy years in Delaware County. What I am going to say, even he cannot refute. Delaware County is one of the paradises of Pennsylvania. However, it has one drawback. It has too many mosquitoes and too many swamps. It will take the dollars of the Philadelphia taxpayers to rid Delaware County of the mosquitoes. With all that is coming now into the treasury of Philadelphia, there will be three times or four times as much spent to make Delaware County a full paradise. It will not be the dollars of the people from Delaware, but the dollars of the taxpayers of Philadelphia which will accomplish this task.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, yesterday afternoon, last night and this morning we had what might be called stormy Sessions. All of us had taken part in the affairs of the day. This morning, we pick up the newspapers and find what really happened.

I want to go on record as stating that as Chairman of the Democratic Caucus, all of my colleagues deeply resent the story which appeared in the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette this morning, written by one Frank M. Matthews.

I want to state, Mr. President, that I have no ill feelings toward the members of the press. I, myself, in my own small way, for a quarter of a century, have been affiliated with newspapers and, as of today, I am still writing articles. However, I try to write articles that have some sense and some honesty and decency within them. These newspaper writers are an essential part of our social lives. They play a great part in the progress of America. We have had vicious writers and outright honest writers. Many a family has been broken up because of a vicious newspaper reporter. Many a man has broken with his wife because of an untruthful statement. On the other hand, many strikes have been settled because of the reporters who have shown the light and given evidence to those involved and thus brought about satisfactory results.

I am not one of those who fear newspapers. I am not one of those who may be needled very easily. I might state that there is no man in this body who has received more bad publicity than I have in the last two years, by practically every newspaper in this great Universe, in this Country and out of this Country, because of my social activities. I laughed and I scoffed at their remarks. What the newspapers say about me, individually, I can take and I can give it back. However, when any reporter has the audacity to condemn, collectively, the entire Democratic Party, all of my colleagues, by misstatements, by deliberate lies, then it is time that he should be removed from this Chamber. He is a menace to society and no credit whatsoever to his colleagues here, representing the newspapers throughout this great State of ours.

The headline, Mr. President, reads: "Democrat Fight GOP Teacher Pay Raise Plan." When did that happen? There is not a man in this body who can say that headline is true.

Below the headline it reads: "Republican Senators Seeking to Force $200-a-Year Hike Through Legislature." When did that happen, Mr. President? It did not happen during this Session. It is a deliberate, outright lie. Then Mr. Matthews goes on to state:

"Harrisburg, Oct. 10

"Pennsylvania's State Senate plunged into angry maneuvering tonight as Republicans planned to force a vote on an unscheduled $200 annual salary increase for the state's 64,000 school teachers.

"Many Democrats threatened to walk off the floor rather than go through with the vote tonight."

Mr. President, I have heard of men hitting below the belt and I have heard of men crawling out of their holes, but only a rat would crawl in a hole so small. This man is lower than a rat when he tries to make the people believe, the schoolteachers, their families and the people of this great Commonwealth, that he is telling the truth. I do not think that any Senator here today can agree with this article, be he Democrat or Republican.

Yesterday, we had an honest difference of opinion here. The Democrats and Republicans discussed this measure. Senator Seyler and Senator Hays introduced an amendment which embodied a bonus for the schoolteachers to the amount of $200 per year. Senator Mahany, the Republican Floor Leader, then asked for a recess and properly so. The Republicans had a Caucus. What happened in Caucus, I do not know and I do not care. When their Caucus was adjourned, the gentleman from Crawford came back and made a motion to adjourn until ten o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, today. The only person who asked for an increase at that time were Senator Hays and Senator Seyler. We discussed this in Caucus.

I want to go on record as stating, as Chairman of the Democratic Caucus, that every Democratic Senator who attended that Caucus yesterday was in favor of giving the schoolteachers a raise. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Senator Dent, made a motion yesterday to recommit this bill and have it come back out, he hoped, in its original form. The gentleman from York, Senator Seyler, went a step further by introducing an amendment to make certain that the bill would go back to committee and that his amendment would be embodied, giving the schoolteachers a raise.

Mr. President, I am sure that every schoolteacher in this great Commonwealth today is looking down upon the Democrats as a group of men who are their enemies. That is very unfair and very untrue.

Frank Matthews reminds me of a story wherein a person was described as a "mackerel in the moonlight." When it shines, it stinks. Well, Frank Matthews is a "mackerel in the moonlight."

Mr. President, I shall conclude by using the words of Confucius when he said, "No one should ever expect to hear the voice of a nightingale come from the mouth of a crow."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I do not care to carry on this debate on House Bill No. 1104, but I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Weiner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Weiner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WEINER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Weiner, you said that you received a telegram from Mr. Dilworth in Philadelphia. I would like to know if anywhere in that telegram Mr. Dilworth criticized the amendment to this charter bill.

Mr. WEINER. I would be very happy to answer that question except that I believe the gentleman from Delaware is misquoting me. I never said I received a telegram from anyone.

Mr. WATKINS. Did you receive a telegram from him?

Mr. WEINER. No, sir. I believe you are referring to the Senator who spoke originally, Mr. Silvert.

Mr. WATKINS. In your own way or any way, would you know whether Mr. Dilworth has dissented concerning the number of members appointed to this commission?

Mr. WEINER. I am sorry. Would you please repeat your question?

Mr. WATKINS. In any way, would you happen to know whether Mr. Dilworth has dissented in the setting up of this commission? Regarding the amendments which the Republicans have placed in this bill, has Mr. Dilworth crticized them in any way to your knowledge?

Mr. WEINER. I believe, Senator, if you will just think for a moment, you will remember that Senator Silvert read that statement about what Mr. Dilworth said.

Mr. WATKINS. Thank you very much.

Mr. Presidnt, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Silvert.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philaedlphia, Mr. Silvert, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SILVERT. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Silvert, at anywhere in that telegram does Mr. Dilworth take exception to the committee, as the Republicans amended this bill, as to the appointment of the members and the number of them or in the method by which they are to be appointed?

Mr. SILVERT. Senator Watkins, I read the statement on the floor here. From the statement, it is obvious that Mr. Dilworth thinks that these amendments offered here in the Senate were offered for the purpose of throwing a monkey wrench into a bill that had been prepared and sponsored, not only by Mayor Clark, not only by the president of city council, but by every civic organization in Philadelphia which is interested in home rule and a good charter for the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Silvert, in order to make sure that this is not your thinking and Mr. Dilworth's thinking, would you be kind enough to read that telegram into the record?

Mr. SILVERT. I have already done so and if you want me to, I will read it again.

Mr. WATKINS. I ask you, if you would, please.

Mr. SILVERT. Since Senator Watkins wants me to read the telegram again, I have no objection to repeating the reading of this statement by Richardson Dilworth, received by us this morning:

"Yesterday's action in the Republican controlled State Senate was designed to prevent the passage of the Philadelphia Charter Rule Bill. It is also apparent it was done by the same combination that held up Home Rule, in Philadelphia for so many years—the combination of the old guard in Harrisburg and the old guard in Philadelphia. It is also perfectly apparent that my opponent was not even considered worthy of consultation. The old guard is determined to wreck this legislation and what my opponent wants means nothing to them. They control the party machinery and they control the legislators just as they control all the men on my opponent's ticket. They have no objection to my opponent deluding himself that he is the leader of the party or from so-saying if that will win him votes. But they have no intention of paying any attention to him or anything he may say he wants, for whenever the chips are down, they will turn to my opponent as just a boy in short pants.

"This is the second time in two weeks that the old gang have put my opponent in this humiliating position. The last time was when the City-County Consolidation Bill came up for a vote in the House and he could only muster one of the seventy-nine Republican votes, and only one of the five Republican votes in Philadelphia. He could not even control his own Campaign Manager or his own candidate for City Council. Both ran off the floor when the voting commenced."

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I really stuck my neck out for it that time. I gave Mr. Dilworth a chance to have a political speech read into the record of the Senate of Pennsylvania. However, I can see from his telegram that he, too, is in favor of a packed commission and that he, too, has no faith in any Republicans in Philadelphia and does not in any way want them on this commission.

Mr. President, I would like to thank Senator Silvert for being honest and reading the telegram to me. As far as the speech that was made through his telegram, it is just the same old Dilworth propaganda; believe in me and the rest of the world is wrong.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, speaking for Mr. Dilworth, I would like to add to what the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins said. We have no confidence in the Republicans in the Senate either.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Watkins.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Watkins, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WATKINS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Watkins, as a Member of this Senate, have you in all the time you have served here ever listened to what Mr. Dilworth has asked or said? Please just answer that categorically by a "yes" or "no." Then you can elaborate on your answer.

Mr. WATKINS. You asked me a question and I shall answer it.

Mr. WEINER. Please just answer it categorically by a "yes" or "no." and then you can elaborate.

Mr. WATKINS. Yes, I did. I heard Mr. Dilworth on one occasion and I will never forget it as long as I live on earth. Would you like me to tell you what he said?

Mr. WEINER. No, sir. I do not want a speech. All I want, Senator Watkins, is an answer to the question. Did you ever listen to what Mr. Dilworth has asked, and conducted yourself accordingly?

Mr. WATKINS. I have heard Mr. Dilworth speak on several occasions.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I would like the gentleman to either answer the question or deny that he has heard Mr. Dilworth, or just say that he cannot answer the question.

Mr. WATKINS. I said that I have heard him speak, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. That is not the question, Mr. President.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks the gentleman from Delaware is trying to answer the question.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Watkins, I will rephrase the question. Have you ever been guided in your actions as a result of what Mr. Dilworth has said or has not said?

Mr. WATKINS. No, at no time in my life have I ever been guided by what he said. I hope that I never will be.

Mr. WEINER. As a Senator who occupies a seat in this very fine body of gentlemen, was there anything to stop you from putting into this bill the very things which you are so concerned about? Would you please answer that question categorically?

Mr. WATKINS. I am well satisfied with the bill the way it stands. I am going to vote for it the way it is.

Mr. WEINER. If you are satisfied with the way the bill stands, why do you wish to amend it?

Mr. WATKINS. We have amended it.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Watkins, the bill is no longer on our Calendar as it was originally reported from committee.

Mr. WATKINS. I know that. That is what I said. We have amended the bill. We amended it yesterday.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I suggest that the gentlemen sitting around the Senator from Delaware do not coach the witness.

Senator Watkins, will you point out in the original bill, as reported from committee, where the Republicans are denied membership on the commission?

Mr. WATKINS. I cannot point it out. However, the way we have it fixed now, you cannot pack it.

Mr. WEINER. I am asking you, in the original bill that came out, would you please point out where the Republicans are denied membership on the commission and why amendments were necessary? I will let you confer with your lawyer, Senator Pechan.

Mr. WATKINS. My lawyer, Senator Pechan, tells me that you had two-thirds majority and we only had one-third.

Mr. WEINER. Thank you, Senator Watkins, very much.

I would like to just talk to the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

Mr. WATKINS. Senator Weiner, would you allow me to elaborate on what Mr. Dilworth said? You asked me that question and then you got out of it. How about letting me go into that?

Mr. WEINER. I will be very happy to allow you to do that after I have completed my interrogation of the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

Mr. WATKINS. Well, we will forget about it. When you get finished with Senator Pechan, you will not want to hear it.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WEINER. Senator Pechan, would you point out to me in the bill whereby the Republicans are denied membership on this commission, prior to the amendments, when the bill first came out?

Mr. PECHAN. Do you have Printer's No. 1043 in your hand?

Mr. WEINER. No, sir. I just have Printer's No. 1038. This is the original bill about which we are speaking.

Mr. PECHAN. If you will take Printer's No. 1043 as it is presently before us, you will find that on page 5, line 4, after the word "years", under the original bill, it said: "not more than two-thirds of the members of the commission shall be registered electors enrolled in the same political party. Any vacancy in the membership of the commission," etc. This means that under present conditions, two-thirds of the membership would be registered Democrats. Further on in the bill, before the bill was amended, it said that upon the death of any of those members, a person shall be appointed of the same political party. It meant a perpetuation from now until eternity, when this bill goes into effect, whether it be the Republican or whether it be the Democratic Party. If the bill had passed without these amendments, the political party that had two-thirds of that membership would forever have it. Relative to any person who died or resigned, the mayor or president of city council or whoever had the authority to appoint, would have to appoint someone of that party. It said so in this bill.

Mr. WEINER. Thank you, Senator, for that elucidating answer. Would you please answer my question?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his point of information.

Mr. DENT. Have we reached this bill on the Calendar yet?

The PRESIDENT. The bill is not before us. We are under the order of business of Petitions and Remonstrances.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just wondered, because I have a few choice remarks of my own concerning the bill. I think the proper time to take up what is in and what is out of the bill would be when it comes on the floor.

I would like to suggest that the interrogation be held to the lines that it started out on, the lines of personalities rather than the lines of questioning on what is in the bill.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I feel it would be rude if I did not thank the gentleman from Armstrong for that kind and wonderful explanation he gave to the Senate. However, just so we do not get into the problem of semantics here, I believe that the question was, wherein does it show in the bill that Republicans are denied membership on the commission. I believe Senator Pechan completely answered that question by saying that they were not denied membership and that on-third of of members would be Republican electors.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, among our greatest of all national freedoms is the one known as freedom of the press. This morning I picked up an early edition of a public newspaper and, although we left here between three and four o'clock this morning, I was very much upset by what appeared in that newspaper. At first, I thought of coming in with a speech containing all the criticism I could muster. Then I got to thinking about this practical thing that we have had with us since the beginning of this great Nation. I tried to analyze for myself just what it meant. I wrote in longhand, this morning at about five-thirty o'clock, a short statement which I brought in and had my secretary type. I would like to read it into the record of this Senate. The sentiments here are personal. If, along the line, you can agree with some line in it, I would feel honored.

What, precisely, is meant by that familiar phrase, "freedom of the press"?

Fundamentally, it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press should claim no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy. But freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public affairs. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic nation.

If any proof be needed, it is supplied by the record of the totalitarian dictatorships which have darkened the twentieth century. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the cornerstone on which all these regimes—Nazi, Fascist and Communist alike—were founded. Without it, they could hardly have lasted for more than a few months. With it, they could keep their peoples in blinkers and drive them on any course they chose. The calamities of our age, its fear and insecurity, stem in no small measure from the simple fact that, at critical periods, great sections of the earth's population have been prevented by their rulers from learning the real news of the world.

These examples should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with any thing less than this.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations. That of a free newspaper is to be truly free. It must strive to be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understands it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the free peoples of the world have tradionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Today, we have an example of the abuse of this freedom. Those of us in the Democratic Party have learned long ago to understand and tolerate politically inspired news reporting. However, there comes a time when such reporting can reach a state that endangers not only the well-being of a political party, but tends to endanger the very freedom that newspapers hold so sacred.

We have with us today a newspaper article from a daily newspaper which is directly opposite to the action taken by this Senate, and calls for immediate condemnation by all the Members of this Senate. Every Senator knows that it was the Democratic Party that offered the amendments to the school subsidy bill, which would have allowed increases in salaries. Every Member of the Senate knows that it was a Republican sponsored bill which came out of committee with a cut in the appropriations in school subsidies.

This article, in the daily newspaper, changed the action of the Senate completely around and gave the Republican Party credit for the raise, and gave the Democratic Party credit for the cut. It was not a mistake—it was a deliberate and premeditated act. However, at best, it was a serious mistake.

It is this kind of reporting that destroys the faith of the people in their political parties; and the only guarantee that the newspapers have that their freedom should be held sacred and inviolate is by strengthening the faith of the people in the political parties, not in destroying them.

Mr. President, all of us do at times rate criticism and all of us receive it. So. I say that it is with a sad note that I noticed that today we have more of the kind of reporting which has caused a blemish to be upon the escutcheon of the freedoms of the press. There are many things that go toward making up freedom; freedom of an individual to stand and defend himself when he has, either by mistake or by design, been accused of something that is unfair and unjust.

Mr. President and members of this Senate, the newspapers are cloaked with a great latitude, especially when we are candidates. Cordell Hull once said that a lie, printed in the newspaper, would get halfway around the world before the truth could gets its pants on. So, it is true. Those of us in public life not only have to compete against the competitors in the field of politics, but we must be on guard against the biased and unrestricted opposition of those who, for political purposes and for purposes of their own economic welfare, would destroy the freedoms which they enjoy and the right to report and publish the news by taking a position that is so biased that even those who benefit must blush.

Mr. President, my county has gone under the hammer many times. My county's political affiliation is Democratic. There have been some changes in my county, yes, over the years. I can say, as a resident of that county of many years, that there is less of the so-called racketeering there than there as during the days of Republicanism. No one ever knew of the kind of a campaign that is being waged against those county officials today. I say to all of the Members of this Senate that there is something creeping into that campaign which goes even beyond political significence. It goes beyond that because there is a mixture bred out of prejudice, hatred and bigotry that is tending to destroy the very foundations upon which this government exists and which guarantees the freedom of the press. Bad reporting is even worse than bad representation in government because when bad representation in government takes place, the people have recourse. The people can stand on election day and they can defeat a bad representative. However, a bad newspaper goes merrily on its way because when it reports something bad, it can report something good tomorrow and be forgiven.

All of us know that life is only a short venture. None of us have a guarantee of eternal and everlasting tenure upon this earth. Most of us are only here for a short visit, and only a few short years we are allowed to visit in this valley of tears and the hillside of mirth and enjoyment. During those years, let us at least make one little resolve. Whether we are in politics, business, newspaper or in religion, whether we are preachers or ordinary men, let us resolve that the precepts and concepts of Christianity rule us in the things which we do no matter where we do them; that we take not a man and destroy his character and hold his family up to shame simply because it may serve our own mean purposes, that it serves us economically or politically. Let us fight our battles, yes, fight them openly and according to the dictates of our hearts and our consciences. Let us have our hearts dictate to our minds that kind of a course which will render to each of our opponents the same kind of decency, the same kind of respect that we ask from others.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. LANE, MAHANY, STIEFEL and DENT read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 806, entitled:

An Act to further amend the title and act, approved the twentieth day of June, one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 521), entitled, as amended, "An act providing for the imposition and collection of certain taxes upon the transfer of property passing from a decendent who was a resident of this Commonwealth at the time of his death, and of property within this Commonwealth of a decedent who was a nonresident of the Commonwealth at the time of his death; defining and taxing transfers in contemplation of death; defining as a transfer and taxing the right of survivorship in property as to which such right exists; and making it unlawful for any corporation of this Commonwealth, or national banking association located therein, to transfer the stock of such corporation or banking association, standing in the name of any such decedent, until the tax on the transfer thereof has been paid; and providing penalties; and citing certain acts for repeal," by adding a new section regulating the entry into safe deposit boxes of a decedent, and providing penalties

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I hope that my colleagues will bear with me. I know that the hour is getting late, but I have two very important resolutions to present. I believe that they are of great importance and deserve all the attention they can get.

I know that this is the proper tribune in the United States to make a statement pertaining to one of the most dastardly crimes which occurred on the sacred soil of the United States and the sovereign State of Mississippi. I am referring to the murder of Emmett Till, a colored boy fourteen years of age, whose murderers were left unpunished. I believe that it is high time the Congress of the United States should pass adequate laws providing that whenever such a crime occurs and the local courts bog down, due to intolerance and prejudice, the Federal judiciary will step into the picture and punish the culprits.

Mr. President, in the October 10th issue of Life Magazine there appears the finest and the most inspiring editorial entitled, "In Memoriam, Emmett Till." In the resolution which I am about to offer, this editorial is quoted verbatim.

Mr. President, I know that we do not have to appeal to the great Pennsylvania people and their representatives in this august body to voice our indignation at the miscarriage of justice in Mississippi and to ask for remedial action.

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE VOICING INDIGNATION OVER THE MOCKERY OF JUSTICE IN MISSISSIPPI

Messrs. STIEFEL and WEINER offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

The recent miscarriage of justice in the sovereign state of Mississippi, with respect to the trial of two citizens charged with murder of Emmett Till, a fourteen year old Negro, has shocked the consciousness of all fair-minded people throughout our country and abroad, where knowledge of the nefarious mockery has been retold.

In order that the United States of America, the bulwark of democracy may retain its place as the leader of the world, it must of necessity do that which is required to prevent a recurrence of such an injustice.

The editorial appearing in the issue of October 10, 1955 of the "Life" magazine contains an excellent gist of this shocking instance of miscarriage of Justice in Mississippi:

IN MEMORIAM, EMMETT TILL

In Mississippi the murder of 14-year old Emmett Till still goes unpunished. It will be punished, nevertheless, for there is a higher law than Mississippi's.

Emmett Till was a child. One of the South's traditions is the religion of Jesus, who said: "But whoso shall offend one of these littles ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that were drowned in the depth of the sea."

Men can be forgiven for prejudice, as a sign of ignorance or imperfect understanding of their religion; no righteous man can condone a brutal murder. Those in Sumner, and elsewhere, who do condone it, are in far worse danger than Emmett Till ever was. He had only his life to lose, and many others have done that, including his soldier-father who was killed in France fighting for the American proposition that all men are equal. Those who condone a deed so foul as this are in danger of losing their souls.

The soul of Emmett Till himself was known but to few but it was a thing of value. It was fashioned on July 25, 1941 by the Lord God Almighty who placed on it this distinctive seal:

> This is My son, akin to all others, but unlike any of them. Like each of My children he is unique, irreplaceable, immortal. I hereby send him among other men, who are his brothers.

He went and was slain. In the dark night of this deed his childish cries for mercy fell on deaf ears. But they were heard, Nonetheless, and the Hearer made an entry, that night, beneath certain names, writing once more: "It must needs be that offenses come, but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh."

Sleep well, Emmett Till; you will be avenged. You will also be remembered, as long as men have tongues to cry against evil. It is true now as it was when Christ said it almost 2,000 years ago: "For there is nothing covered that shall not be revealed; neither hid that shall not be known . . . Whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light . . . Be not afraid of them that kill the body . . . Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell . . . Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God? . . . Fear not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."

In our Union of States the philosophy of fair dealing as enunciated in our Bill of Rights has in most instances been the guide and rule of conduct for most of our citizens. The proud Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the Keystone State of our Union, takes pride in its treatment of all citizens alike, irrespective of race, creed or color, and is; humbled by the knowledge that another sovereign state has permitted itself to be so degraded by the conduct of some of its citizens, as to cause shame on our entire Nation. Be it therefore

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in the name of the people of Pennsylvania voice its indignation over the mockery of justice in Mississippi and urge the Congress of the United States to pass adequate legislation to preclude the recurrence of such miscarriage of justice, whenever the local courts bog down in the mire of prejudice and intolerance.

REQUEST THAT RULE 39 BE SUSPENDED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, this resolution might very well stir up another war between Pennsylvania and Mississippi, and we certainly want to avoid that. I think that we should have the thoughts and action of the proper committee on this resolution before we act upon it on the floor and, therefore, I object to its immediate consideration and ask that it be referred to the proper committee.

Mr. STIEFEL. I will agree with the Majority Leader that the resolution be referred to the proper committee.

The PRESIDENT. There being objection, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. STIEFEL asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, in order to save the vocal cords of our able reader, I am not going to ask to have this resolution read in full. I simply want to state that this resolution enumerates the great contributions of the Italian people to the progress of mankind and to our civilization, as well as the part they played in the building of America.

Mr. President, on Columbus Day, which is tomorrow, the 12th of October, this resolution offers felicitations to our citizens of Italian descent and our admiration for the Italian nation.

Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Lane, Senator Dent, Senator DiSilvestro and myself I am offering this resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION

COLUMBUS DAY

Messrs. STIEFEL, LANE, DENT and DiSILVESTRO offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

The contributions of the Italian people to world-civilization generally and to the emergence of our Nation as the greatest on earth, in particular are innumerable. There is hardly a field of human endeavor that does not bear the stamp of Italy's genius.

The great Universities of Italy both during the pre-Renaissance period and in the days of the Rennaisance, such as Bologna, the oldest among them, Pisa and Padua, recaptured the heritages of Greece and Ancient Rome and became the Propagators of Antiquity saving from perdition vast cultural values and transmitting them through its immortal voyagers and towering scholars to the rest of the world. Generations of Italian cartographers educated and trained at these Seats of Learning made possible the triumphant march of geography and the coping stone of its attainments the discovery of America. The Art of Italy still remains unexcelled and is second to none. Such luminaries, as Raphael, Leonardo Da Vinci, Botticelli and hosts of others with their immortal brushes have painted a Seintillating and effulgent chapter in the story of mankind.

Italy's smiling Settecento which produced the Giants of the Appennines bears out Alfieri's statement that "Nowhere do the plant and man thrive as vigorously as in Italy."

Freed from the countless bonds which elsewhere in Europe checked progress, having reached a high degree of individual development and having immersed in the teachings of antiquity the Italian mind turned to the discovery of the outward universe.

From time immemorial the Mediterranean Sea had given to the Nations that dwelt on it's shores, mental impulses different from those which governed the peoples of the North. After they were once at home in all the eastern harbors of the Mediterranean, it was natural that the Italians, the most enterprising among them should be led to join that vast international movement of the Mohammedans which there found its outlet. A new half of the world lay, as it was freshly discovered before them. Or like Polo of Venice, they were caught by the current of the Mongolian peoples and carried on to the steps of the throne of the Great Khan. At an early period, we find Italians sharing in the discoveries made in the Atlantic Ocean; it was the Genoese who in the thirteenth century, found the Canary Islands and made the first known attempt to find a sea-passage to the East Indies.

Columbus himself is but the greatest of a long list of Italians who in the service of the Western Nations, sailed into the distant seas.

And so ever and again this year as in the past on the eve of Columbus Day 1955, we turn with admiration and gratitude to the august figure of the great Genoese, by whom a new continent beyond the ocean was demanded, sought and found and who was the first to be able to say "Il Mondo e Poco"—the world is not so large as men have thought. Be it therefore

Resolved, That the Senate of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania in the name of the People of Pennsylvania voice its admiration to the great Italian Nation, our fallant and faithful ally in our sustained fight for freedom of mankind and extend its felicitations to our citizens of Italian descent on this great holiday which will be celebrated throughout the breadth and length of our Commonwealth tomorrow, Wednesday, October 12, 1955 as Columbus Day.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WEINER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, unbeknown to me that there was going to be a great deal of discussion today about freedom of the press and about the gentlemen who write for our newspapers, I prepared this resolution a few weeks ago and had waited to see what would take place in the newspapers in connection with a number of matters which were going on in this Commonwealth. I feel that, as a result of what has taken place, I would like to present this resolution.

I would like to make just this short statement about the resolution. We have often heard and we have been afforded the privilege, and also the right, in our Bill of Rights in the United States Constitution and also in our State Constitution of freedom of the press, but I believe the people themselves have a right to be free from the press.

Mr. President, very recently in Philadelphia it has been highlighted, both in civil and criminal matters, that cases are tried in the newspapers. Complete releases are made to the newspapers by persons in authority or persons in semi-positions of authority in reference to these cases which are now pending before the courts, and before these matters are judicially determined they have been tried in the newspapers and everybody has an opinion. It is, therefore, difficult for the person who is engaged or involved in this litigation to receive what is known, and guaranteed by the Constitution, as a fair trial.

Mr. President, I think between these two rights which we have, one of freedom of the press and also the right to obtain a fair trial, sometimes the individual right should rise higher or at least to the same level as freedom of the press. I feel that people should have a right to be free from the press.

We all know that if someone is accused of some sort of a crime or is involved in some litigation, there immediately appears on page one, complete with pictures, a detailed story of their life, their family, their children and everybody concerned with them. Maybe a year thereafter the case may be brought to trial and the result may be that the person will be found not guilty or will be found to be innocent of the crime as charged, or it will be found that there was no reason for this litigation to have taken place originally and this news appears usually on page sixty-two, if it appears at all, inside the newspaper right underneath the obituary column. This thus leaves the person under a cloud for the rest of his life, because everybody remembers the story on page one, but very few people get around to reading the story on the inside of the paper.

This is also particularly true of people who are engaged in public life. Most of us here at some time or other have been attributed statements which we never made or certain actions have been attributed to us with which we had nothing to do. It is impossible for us to take a front page ad in any newspaper to explain our position or in any way further what we had in mind, or what were truly our words or what were truly our actions.

I, therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of what I believe to be inequities, offer this resolution and ask that it be referred to the proper committee for further study.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

DIRECTING THE JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO STUDY AND INVESTIGATE NEWSPAPER REPORTING

Mr. WEINER offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on State Government:

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

While the freedom of the press is fully recognized, its constitutional guaranty is restricted by the phrase "being responsible for the abuse of that liberty."

Far too often is the liberty and property, even life itself, of individuals prejudiced by irresponsible and prejudiced news reporting of criminal prosecutions and litigation in our courts of justice.

Courts are established for the purpose of bringing a supposed offender to justice by due course of law and impartially determining the rights and liabilities of litigants. These functions are seriously interfered with by inaccurate and incomplete newspaper coverage prejudging merits without benefit of the application of legal principles; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the Joint State Government Commission be directed to study and investigate newspaper reporting and its effect on prosecutions and litigation when it is inaccurate and incomplete; and be it further

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission report to the next session of the General Assembly its findings and recommendations with drafts of legislation necessary to carry the recommendations into effect; and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution constitute the complete directive to the Joint State Government Commission notwithstanding any resolution heretofore adopted.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

DESIGNATING THAT THE FLOOD CONTROL DAM ON THE FIRST FORK OF THE SINNEMAHONING CREEK BE NAMED THE GEORGE B. STEVENSON DAM

Messrs. DERK, BERGER, WADE and WOLFE offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

The Commonwealth through its General State Authority is constructing an important flood control dam on the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek in Grove Township, Cameron County, at a location originally selected by the United States Army Engineers. The dam when completed and put into operation at full capacity will form a lake of 1485 acres in area in Cameron and Potter Counties.

Because of his untiring efforts in securing effective flood control for the West Branch of the Susquehanna River and his active interest and assistance in furthering the construction of the First Fork Sinnemahoning Dam, it is fitting that the Honorable George B. Stevenson, Senator from the Twenty-sixth Senatorial District, be honored in connection therewith; therefore be it

Resolved (the House of Representatives concurring), That the flood control dam on the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek in Grove Township, Cameron County, be designated as the George B. Stevenson Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Forests and Waters erect suitable tablets or markers on the dam to perpetuate this resolution.

RULE 39 SUSPENDED

Mr. DERK. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

RESOLUTION UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

Mr. DERK. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt this resolution.

Mr. BERGER. Mr. President, I would like to second the motion for the adoption of this resolution, and in doing so say that we, in the northern part of Pennsylvania, recognize the efforts which have been continuous and untiring by Senator Derk and Senator Stevenson in obtaining relief from the disasterous floods which have struck that area for many years.

Furthermore, I would like to say that I am very proud to be a co-sponsor of the resolution which honors Senator George B. Stevenson by naming that very large and very excellent flood control dam on the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek after him.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RECESS

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of holding a Democratic Caucus and a Republican Caucus.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented communication in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows, and referred to the Committee on Executive Nominations:

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye," the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

EXECUTIVE SESSION RISES

Mr. WATSON. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 807, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 1, 1929 (P. L. 1216), entitled "An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen; and providing for the licensing, regulation, and supervision of resident and nonresident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business," including public autioneers of land within the definition of real estate broker or salesman.

Which was committed to the Committee on Education.

CALENDAR

SENATE BILL No. 785 CALLED UP OUT OF ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, at this time I call up out of order, from today's Second Reading Calendar, Senate Bill No. 785, Printer's No. 296.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we are hopeful of holding a short recess for an immediate meeting of the Committee on Appropriations for consideration of this legislation.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 785, on second reading, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts.

be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. MAHANY. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, as one who has been somewhat interested in the course of events which led up to this motion, I would like to state for the record that I am not going to object to the motion because of a conviction that, in good faith, an attempt is going to be made to arrive at a solution to the problem which we are discussing which will provide a reasonable and substantial increase in teachers salaries and thus make a contribution to seeing to it that we have better teachers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

I realize that in order to accomplish what we are trying to do, it is perhaps necessary to meet with the views of others in order to get the sufficient support which is needed to pass this legislation. I am convinced that, at this time, all parties are acting in good faith and I believe that a solution will be forthcoming which perhaps while not meeting the original intent of the sponsors of the amendment, which is being passed by at this point, will nevertheless result in a solution that will be of benefit to the schools of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, it was my intention, had not Senator Mahany beat me to it, to second the motion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECESS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes, for the purpose of holding a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed, the Senate will be in order.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CHAPMAN, from the Committee on Appropriations, re-reported as amended Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act making appropriations to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts.

SENATE BILL No. 785 TAKEN FROM TABLE

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I call from the table Senate Bill No. 785, for consideration at this time.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the second reading of Senate Bill No. 785, Printer's No. 306, which was re-reported from committee, as amended, at today's session.

Mr. PECHAN. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. MAHANY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I would like to comment briefly on Senate Bill No. 785, which has now passed second reading.

As we all remember, last night we had a lot of discussion and debate relative to Senate Bill No. 785 and in the early morning hours we were quite undecided as to what we should do and, therefore, it was decided that we should adjourn and come back today so that perhaps, in the light of a new day, we could work out some settlement of any differences which might exist relative to this very worth-while legislation.

Mr. President, we have seen the legislative process work where Democrats and Republicans got together and settled any differences which might have existed between them to the satisfaction, I believe, of all, including the sponsors of this legislation. What looked last night to be something we might not be able to agree on is today, less than twenty-four hours later, something which we find we are now in perfect accord with, and we feel that the amount, as set forth in these amendments to the bill, will adequately take care of the justifiable increases of teachers salaries which might be enacted by this Session of the Legislature. We have set up a special fund to be used in the event this Legislature sees fit to enact the necessary legislation to do the job.

Mr. President, I want to compliment the sponsors of the bill, and my colleagues on both sides of the aisles, for being so cooperative in working something out in legislative way which seemed to be impossible to work out just a short time ago. It just goes to show what can happen when our tempers are allowed to cool, and that we can do a job when we are on our toes instead of when we are in the heat of a debate, which sometimes causes our tempers to flare up and we lose our patience and our natural inclination to get together and cooperate, so that the affairs of the Commonwealth can be benefited.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. SEYLER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, as one of the sponsors of the amendments in question, which led to the problem which has just been amicably solved, I would like to express my satisfaction of the solution. I only take exception to one word which the gentleman who spoke used and that is the word "adequately." I will still contend that we have not adequately perhaps done this, but we have done it in a manner which is agreeable to everybody and it is certainly a long step towards the objective which we all seek.

Mr. President, I think that the people who are interested in public education throughout the Commonwealth will be very much gratified at the work the Senate has done this day.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING, DEFEATED ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 33, entitled:

An Act authorizing the Department of Highways to construct a toll free tunnel between the Fort Pitt Bridge now under construction and the Saw Mill Run Interchange of the Parkway-West providing for the necessary approaches and connections with State highways empowering counties to pay certain damages and making an appropriation.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from York, Mr. Seyler, will state his point of information.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, I have a habit of reading bills and trying to keep in touch with what happens, and I would ask the Chair how it is that this bill is on third reading today. I am not opposed to the bill, but I want it to be done legally so that when the bill passes, there is no question.

My investigation revealed that Senate Bill No. 33, according to the History of Senate bills, if that is correct, was re?referred to the Commttee on Appropriations after it had passed first reading. I raise the question, in that case, how it is that today it appears on third reading. It seems to me that it should be on second reading.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. The bill passed second reading and was then re-referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. President, do I understand that the History is incorrect?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is informed that there is an error in the History and that the bill has properly passed second reading, was then re-referred to committee and was subsequently re-reported.

Mr. SEYLER. Thank you, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, this is a bill authorizing the Department of Highways to construct a toll free tunnel between the Fort Pitt Bridge in Pittsburgh and the Saw Mill Run Interchange in the county of Allegheny, in my Senatorial District.

Two years ago when the commission was set up, we were told that the reason they set up a commission on the tunnel was just to move it along so they could design a tunnel, and after the tunnel was designed they were going to dissolve the commission.

Mr. President, it so happened that that was a nice story to get the bill passed, and I agreed to go along but found out later that this was not true. However, four members of the House from my District and myself introduced a bill in this Senate, and also one in the House, providing for the construction of a toll free tunnel between these two points on the Pitt-Penn Parkway, east and west.

I understand, and know, that the Comonwealth has spent over $100,000,000 in improvements and the job is not done as yet in downtown Pittsburgh. It seems to me that since the Squirrel Hill Tunnel in Pittsburgh is toll free, there is no sense in having the Commonwealth invest all that money in a toll tunnel on the south side of the Monongahela River, close to the Point in Pittsburgh, and thereby penalize the people who live in the South Hill area of Allegheny County. The South Hill area is made up of many residential areas and political subdovisions and they will be penalized just because they happen to live in that part of Allegheny County. I say that if they build a toll free tunnel on one side of the river, they should build a toll free tunnel on the other side of the river. I know that the opposition will tell you that the Highway Department has never made the statement that they will build the tunnel out of highway funds.

Mr. President, I am a member of the Allegheny Conference of Community Development because I am the Mayor of Duquesne. For ten years I have been going to their meetings and I know what they have been talking about and how they have been planning this great improvement which will be paid for by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The city of Pittsburgh has spent very little money on that parkway and very little money has been spent by the county of Allegheny. I would say that ninety-five per cent of the cost has been paid for by the Comonwealth.

I cannot see why my District in Allegheny County should not have a toll free tunnel. It is the same thing as building a three story home and finding out that in order to get to the third floor, you have to pay a nickel to go through the second floor.

Mr. President, this tunnel is part of a great improvement program, but if you have to pay a toll on any part of it, when ninety per cent of it is practically free, it will certainly spoil the amount of money involved as far as the Commonwealth is concerned. Therefore, I will ask my colleagues on this side of the aisle to vote for this bill because it is no more than right that you treat both sides of the river fairly.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, this is what I call pork barrel politics.

Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Kopriver.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. BARR. Senator Kopriver, would you tell me who told you that this tunnel commission was to be disolved?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Well, that was told to us here three years ago in the Senate by more than one person.

Mr. BARR. Could you name any of those persons?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. I am going to be like Senator Holland and not name anybody.

Mr. BARR. Thank you very much. That is all.

Mr. President, at the time that the Penn-Lincoln Parkway was built, it was built at a tremendous expense to all of the people of this Commonwealth. The reason they spent so much money to build this parkway was because it was a needed thing, not just for the people in southwestern Pennsylvania but for everyone in Pennsylvania, particularly those who were in the interstate trucking business and vacationers.

At that time, in order for this road to be built there were to be two tunnels. This was agreed upon by the Allegheny County Conference, of which the gentleman is an ex officio member. They decided that one would be a free tunnel and the other would be a toll tunnel. The reason that the one was a toll tunnel was because the project could not be accomplished for some fifteen years if it was not to be a toll tunnel. I, like you, do not like to pay tolls anymore than any one else, but I do like to keep my word.

Mr. President, you probably know Ed Schmidt far better than I do. I can give you the telephone number of the Secretary of Highways who was in on the agreement. You probably know Governor Fine far better than I do, and I will give you his telephone number. He also was in on the agreement that this tunnel was to be a toll tunnel.

Mr. President, I am not too much concerned or worried about this bill, because I know that once it moves out of here it will stop, but I do not like people to enter into an agreement and then just because another party is in charge of the Highway Department, they attempt to use pork barrel politics.

If the Senator thinks that this might help him get some votes, it is all right with me. If that is the only way you can get votes, Senator Kopriver, you go right ahead, but I can promise you this, that your bill will meet a prompt and quiet death in the Committee on Highways in the House of Representatives.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, I have no intention of getting myself involved in an argument with Senator Barr. He has just told you what is going to happen if this bill passes the Senate.

I want to remind Senator Barr, and I feel that it is no more than right, that I live in the greatest valley of all of them, as far as I am concerned, and that is the Monongahela Valley. The reason we have not been able to get any improvements up there for years is because of the improvements being made in downtown Pittsburgh, on the parkway, east and west. I can not complain about that, because I know the conditions there are bad, but the rest of the county suffers. They have the by-pass which they have to worry about. Just recently, after the flood catastrophe up in eastern Pennsylvania, we found out there was an underestimation of $48,000,000 in the Highway Department which was not earmarked for any project. I suggested at that time that they could take this money and build the tunnel.

Mr. President, as far as Ed Schmidt is concerned, I do not know whether I know him better than Senator Barr or not. However, I know that at one time they had no intention of building a toll tunnel under Duquesne Heights. Whether or not Senator Barr says that is true, does not interest me because I was there at the meeting and I personally know what went on. I know that this was changed just a few years ago, and the reason it was changed, Mr. President, was because they wanted to build a cross-town boulevard from the proposed new Fort Duquesne Bridge over to connect onto the Ohio River Boulevard, and they want the Commonwealth to pay for that. They want the Commonwealth to pay for another cross-town boulevard running from the Bigelow Boulevard over to East Street. I can verify the county's support for the cost of these boulevards, through a talk I had with the treasurer of the Allegheny Conference when he tried to pass the Authority bill involving the re-development of the Hill District, which was stopped here in the Senate.

I said to the gentleman, "What assurance do we have? It is going to cost the county $1,000,000 to build a road from the Liberty Bridge over to Bigelow Boulevard. What assurance do I have, after the road is built that far, that you will not say, 'We do not have any money as far as the county is concerned and we do not have any money as far as Pittsburgh is concerned, so come on, Mr. Commonwealth, and build that cross-town boulevard to East Street?' " Now those are the things which are in the making. I know they are going on and it is part of the record. The fact remains that if they build these two projects, they will be paid for by the Comonwealth and not by the county of Allegheny or the city of Pittsburgh and both have put very little money in all of this improvement in the city of Pittsburgh.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, like the very illustrious Senator from Duquesne, I, too, live in the Monongahela Valley, the River Valley. In fact, I live in the south side of Pittsburgh, which is a very high class part of the valley. This is where everything started and then sprouted out to Duquesne later on.

Mr. President, I am going to vote for this bill for only one reason. The Senator is bleeding and dying, but he never mentioned the fact that this bill is in the midst of my District which is the 19th Ward. The 19th Ward is where this tunnel goes through. I see he is shaking his head, but I think he had better learn a little bit about the city of Pittsburgh.

This tunnel will feed into the heart of my highly populated and residential District. I will vote for the bill so that Senator Kopriver cannot go through my District and say that I voted against giving him a tunnel to the bridge. Of course, I am not accusing him of playing politics. I do not think that Mr. Kopriver would play politics any time. He is a statesman of the highest type and I know that he would not play politics with the tunnel and has no ulterior motives in this bill. However, for fear that someone else, who Mr. Kopriver knows, might say that I voted against getting the tunnel for Mount Washington and Duquesne Heights, I am going to vote for this bill.

I am at the point now where I have a lot more faith in the lower House using good intelligence than I have in the Senate. I am a good bit like Senator Dent. I think that we have fallen into disrepute. Therefore, I am voting for this bill so that no one can play politics with the bill and go through my District and say that I opposed a tunnel.

I also want to add, though, that I do not think Mr. Kopriver ever plays politics. He has been very, very successful in being elected to two jobs; namely, Mayor of the City of Duquesne and to the State Senate of Pennsylvania. I would like to know the secret of how a man can keep those two jobs without playing politics, because I think that a man who can hold two jobs is a wizard.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the onstitution, and were as follows, viz:

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President and Members of the Senate, the reason for calling this bill up from the postponed calendar was because we had put it on there with the hope that Senator Kopriver's measure, making it a toll free tunnel, would be passed. However, the bill just failed of final passage.

The bill before us now is a House Bill, which merely gives to the tunnel commission the right to go ahead with the work and also, according to the bond council, it will give them the right to sell the bonds and let the tunnel work proceed. I know that everyone in Allegheny County and in southwestern Pennsylvania is in favor of this tunnel going through one way or the other.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

(During the calling of the roll, the following occurred:)

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, how did Senator Kopriver vote?

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kopriver, is recorded as voting "no."

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 574, as follows:

An Act authorizing the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission to acquire by gift the Old Brown's Mill building and project in Intrim Township Franklin County and providing for its maintenance and control

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is hereby authorized to acquire by gift in the name of the Commonwealth as a landmark in the history of Pennsylvania education from the Old Brown's Mill School Memorial Association of Antrim Township Franklin County owner thereof the Old Brown's Mill building and project described as follows

Beginning at an iron pin in the public road leading from Brown's Mills to Chambersburg at lands now or formerly of E. O. McLanahan and Dr. L. M. Kauffman thence along lands of McLanahan south 51 degrees east 8.45 perches to an iron pin thence along lands of McLanahan south 39 degrees west 11.54 perches to a point at Brown's Mills School House grounds thence along the school grounds north 25 degrees west 9.34 perches to a point in the public road thence in the road and along lands now or formerly of Dr. L. M. Kauffman north 39 degrees east 7.5 perches to the place of beginning Containing 80 square perches more or less of land.

And being the same land conveyed to the Old Brown's Mill School Memorial Association by deed of the School District of Antrim Township Franklin County dated May 5 1945

Section 2 The land shall not be acquired until its title has been approved by the Department of Justice

Section 3 After title is acquired by the Commonwealth the Pennsylvania Historical and Museum Commission is authorized to acquire by gift all the assets of the Old Brown's Mill School Memorial Association and the commission shall have power to adopt and carry into effect plans for its maintenance using therefor any funds at the disposal of the commission and to make and enforce rules and regulations for the preservation of the property and visitation thereof by the public

Section 4 This act shall take effect immediately

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McPHERSON, JR. Mr. President, I previously indirectly made a misstatement. I believe I stated that the commission had over $2,000 to turn over to the State in connection with this Old Brown's Mill building. I was mistaken in the figure. The figure is over $500.

I am told that the expense of maintenance of this historic piece has been less than $100 over a period of ten years, or $100 per period of ten years.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 657, on third reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of August 22, 1953 (Appropriation Acts 101) entitled "An act making an appropriation to the Elwyn Training School at Elwyn in the County of Delaware Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and prescribing certain conditions upon which the appropriation will be available to the school" increasing the per capita annual maintenance rate of awards of the Commonwealth.

be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, the reason for this motion to recommit is because I understand that the money which was set up in this fund for this purpose in the 1953-1955 biennium was lapsed on September 1st and, therefore, there would not be any funds to carry out the purpose of this bill if we passed it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 780, as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 2, 1937 (P. L. 2821) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and advertising for sale of goods wares and merchandise purporting to be an insurance bankruptcy mortgage insolvent assignees receivers trustees removal or closing-out sale or sale of goods damaged by fire smoke or water in cities and certain boroughs of this Commonwealth and to prevent fraudulent practices in connection therewith and providing penalties for the violation thereof and for the imposition licensee fees for permission to conduct the same" making the provisions of the act effective in municipalities and townships further regulating statements of inventories further regulating the issuance renewal denial and refusal of licenses and the conduct of sales designating certain actions as violations of the act authorizing appeals from refusal or denial to issue licenses.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and sections 1 and 2 act of July 2, 1937 (P. L. 2821) entitled "An act to regulate the sale and advertising for sale of goods wares and merchandise purporting to be an insurance bankruptcy mortgage insolvent assignees receivers trustees removal or closing-out sale or sale of goods damaged by fire smoke or water in cities and certain boroughs of this Commonwealth and to prevent fraudulent practices in connection therewith and providing penalties for the violation thereof and for the imposition of license fees for permission to conduct the same" are amended to read.

AN ACT

To regulate the sale and advertising for sale of goods wares and merchandise purporting to be an insurance bankruptcy mortgage insolvent assignees receivers trustees removal or closing-out sale or sale of goods damaged by fire smoke or water in [cities and certain boroughs of this Comonwealth] municipalities and townships and to prevent fraudulent practices in connection therewith and providing penalties for violation thereof and for the imposition of license fees for permission to conduct the same.

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That from and after the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven it shall be unlawful for any person partnership association or corporation in [the cities] municipalities or townships of this Commonwealth [and in boroughs having a population of more than two thousand five hundred inhabitants] to advertise or hold out by any means that any sale of goods wares and merchandise in an insurance bankruptcy mortgage insolvent assignees receivers trustees removal or closing out sale or a sale of goods damaged by fire smoke or water unless a license is first obtained to conduct such sale from the treasurer of the city or borough or from the council of the town or board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township in which it is to be held.

Section 2 (a) Upon application for such license the applicant shall make a full disclosure under oath of the following information. The true name of the owner of the goods to be offered for sale the name of the operator of the sale if a person other than the true owner a full and complete detailed and itemized inventory of the quantity kind brand name and character of the goods to be offered for sale and the source from which the goods wares and merchandise were secured together with the names and addresses of the last previous owners thereof which shall be prepared in the following manner. First a listing of all goods which have been in stock for a period of fifteen days or longer prior to the application for the license second a listing of all goods received in stock within fifteen days immediately preceding the application for the license third a listing of all goods hich have been ordered and will be placed in stock during the pendency of the sale the method by which the applicant for the license or the true owner of the goods if a different person acquired title to the same and the reason for the urgent and expeditious disposal thereof [The said treasurer may require any further information necessary to inform him as to whether such license should be granted and if any defect appears in the title to the goods or any false representation is] [made in such application the said treasurer may refuse the license] Upon receipt of the application the treasurer of any city or borough the council of the town or board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township may in his or their discretion make or cause to be made an examination audit or investigation of the applicant and all of the facts contained in the application and inventory in relation to the proposed sale. A license shall be denied or refused if any defect appears in the title to the goods or wares represented or any false representation is made in the application or inventory or if the inventory contains goods wares or merchandise purchased by the applicant on consignment except if the goods wares or merchandise has been damaged while in the consignee's possession.

Application for a license except a license for sale of goods damaged by fire within one year of a previous sale for the same type of business shall be presumptive evidence that the sale for which the license is sought is not bona fide and the license may be refused.

(b) Any applicant for a license who is aggrieved by the denial or refusal of a license may appeal within twenty days from the date of denial or refusal to the court of common pleas of the county in which the license is sought The appeal shall be upon petition of the applicant for a license who shall serve a copy thereof upon the city or borough treasurer the town council or the board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township who or which has refused or denied the license The court shall hear the application for license de novo at such time as it shall fix of which notice shall be given to the city or borough treasurer the town council or the board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township from whose refusal or denial of a license the appeal has been taken. The court shall either sustan the denial or refusal of the license or order the issuance of the license to the applicant.

Section 2 The act is amended by adding after section 2 four new sections to read.

Section 2.1 After a license has been granted and it is established that the license has violated any provisions of this act the license shall be revoked immediately.

Section 2.2 No merchandise shall become the subject of any license pursuant to this act if it has not been listed in the application for the license as goods wares or merchandise in stock or in transit.

Section 2.3 No merchandise shall become the subject of any sale licensed pursuant to this act if it has previously been the subject of such sale.

Section 2.4 Reopening of a business similar to the one for which the sale licensed pursuant to this act was conducted by the person partnership association or corporation who or which conducted the sale upon the same premises upon which the business for which the sale was conducted within thirty days of the sale shall constitute presumptive evidence of a violation of this act. Every day in which business is conducted within the prohibited period of thirty days shall constitute a separate violation of this act.

Section 3 Section 3 of the act is amended to read

Section 3 It shall be the duty of each such licensee to post a copy of the said application and inventory in the sales room or place where the goods are to be sold so that the public may be informed of the facts in relation to the goods before purchasing the same.

Section 4 Section 4 of the act amended April 15, 1943 (P. L. 52) is amended to read.

Section 4 Any person conducting or being responsible for any sale as set forth in section one [hereof] as herein amended without first having obtained the license or any person making or being responsible for any misrepresentation in connection with the goods so offered for sale or sold or continuing the same business at the same location after the expiration of a license issued for conducting a removal or closing-out sale shall upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100) or to imprisonment for a term of not exceeding thirty days. Each day any sale is conducted in violation of this section shall be a separate violation of this act. The right to appeal from such conviction shall exist as in other cases of summary convictions.

Section 5 Section 5 of the act is amended to read.

Section 5 Any license so granted as aforesaid shall be good for no more than a period of [ninety days and shall not be renewable] thirty consecutive calendar days (Sundays and legal holidays excluded) and may be renewed for two consecutive periods not exceeding thirty consecutive calendar days each (Sundays and legal holidays excluded) Provided That a revised inventory is filed with each application for renewal of a license showing the items listed on the original inventory remaining unsold and that no goods wares or merchadise not included in the original inventory is in stock [nor shall any other such license be granted to the same person within the same [city or borough] for a period of one year succeeding the expiration of a previous license] The treasurer of the city or borough or the council of the town or board of commissioners or board of supervisors of the township shall receive from the applicant for such license upon the granting thereof or the renewal thereof a license fee which shall be twenty-five dollars ($25).

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows viz:

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the following bills, on third reading, go over in their order:

House Bill No. 794, Printer's No. 1001; House Bill No. 1105, Printer's No. 531; and House Bill No. 1572, Printer's No. 1044.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

SECOND READING CALENDAR

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there seems to be some dispute relative to this bill as to the amount of mileage taken over by the Highway Department and the various streets involved. I understand that there will be an effort made by the Chairman of the Highways Committee to work out any uncertainties or differences which may exist in relation to this bill.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 382, on second reading, entitled:

An Act amending the act of May 7 1937 (P. L. 589) entitled as amended "An act providing for the taking over by the Commonwealth under certain terms conditions and limitations of certain streets in cities of the first class as State highways and for the improvement construction reconstruction resurfacing and maintenance by the Commonwealth of said streets providing for the taking opening relocation widening or change of grade of such State highways by the Commonwealth at the expense of the Commonwealth and any such city or either of them and authorizing agreements between cities and the Commonwealth for the opening taking relocating widening or change of grade of said streets and designating the city as agent of the Commonwealth in such opening taking relocating widening or change of grade and the determination of damages to private property arising therefrom imposing duties on such cities and on public utility companies using such streets authorizing cites persons associations or corporations to enter into agreements with the Commonwealth to bear a portion of the cost of construction regulating the replacement of certain facilities of public utility companies prohibiting the making of any opening in said street after improvement without a permit and providing penalty therefore regulating the maintenance of detours autehorizing the increase of city indebtedness in certain cases and appropriating money in the Motor License Fund for the purpose of this act" changing or deleting certain routes and adding certain new routes be recommitted to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. WEINER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 535, entitled:

An Act prohibiting the imposition fo wage income or occupation taxes by cities of the first and second class second class A third class borough incorporated town or township on non-residents of the city borough incorporated town or township and abolishing such taxes heretofore imposed

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. Mr. President, when Senator Barr and I were debating this bill, it was agreed that all these amendments he put in were about as clear as mud. In order to straighen the bill out, I am going to offer amendments at this time.

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 5, by striking out "A" and inserting in lieu thereof: "the"; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 6, by inserting after "Township" "imposing the tax"; Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 13, by inserting after "Township" "imposing the tax".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think Senator Kopriver said that after I amended the bill, it was as clear as mud. I think that the bill is worth about that much and I ask my colleagues to oppose these amendments, although I know that the Republicans have the majority and the amendments will be adopted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. BARR. I ask for a roll call, Mrs. President.

Mr. LANE. I ask for a roll call, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. BARR and Mr. LANE, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—20

Berger,	Fleming,	Mahany,	Taylor,
Blass,	Harney,	Mallery,	Van Sant,
Chapman,	Kessler,	Pechan,	Watkins,
Diehm,	Kopriver, Jr.,	Propert,	Watson,

NAYS—13

Barr,	Holland,	McMenamin,	Stiefel,
Camiel,	Lane,	Miller,	Weiner,
Derk,	McGinnis,	Seyler,	Yosko.
Hays,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. KOPRIVER, JR. offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 1, next to last line of Title, by inserting after "TOWNSHIP": "imposing the tax".

It was agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading, as amended?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 535, Printer's No. 304, on second reading, go over in its order, as amended.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

MOTION TO RE-REFER BILL

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 539, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relinquishing Commonwealth rights in property in control of the Trustees of the University of Pennsylvania.

be re-referred to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, while this re-referral to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, is promising of a very fair deal for the bill, I want to point out that the bill has the stamp of approval of none other than Senator Graybill Diehm, of Lancaster. That means that the bill has substance and there is something to it.

I fail to understand why it is being sent back to committee. I think it is one of those things that we call legal powers, res ipso loquitur. It speaks for itself.

MOTION TO RE-REFER AMENDED TO MOTION THAT BILL BE RECOMMITTED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I inadvertently made my motion to re-refer this bill to the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, because it was running through my mind that most all of Senator Stiefel's bills are referred to that committee. I though, perhaps, this one had been. I know now that it was not. It had been referred to the Committee on State Government.

Therefore, Mr. President, I wish to amend my motion, and move that Senate Bill No. 539, Printer's No. 303, be recommitted to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, may I ask Senator Mahany whether it is possible to divulge for what purpose this bill is being recommitted?

Senator Mahany, is this bill being sent back to the Committee on State Government for the purpose of further study, evaluation and research or for the purpose of strangulation?

Mr. MAHANY. Senator Stiefel, I am going to give you and Senator Diehm the benefit of the doubt. I am going to say that this bill is being recommitted for further study.

There is some contention that although these liens are not enforced by the Commonwealth against the university, and we do have liens against other universities and schools to which we give State aid, it enables the Commonwealth to have some control over the money that we appropriate to these various institutions. I would like to have the committee interview those who have that contention and try to work it out. By preserving these liens, it enables the Commonwealth to have control over appropriations. I think we should not now discharge the liens, but should keep them in force even though we do not enfroce them.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I do not want to prolong the debate, but to me it sounds inconceivable that the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should hold something of this nature over the heads of the universities. These bills date to the beginning of the century. I wish the same laws were being enforced now. At that time, the Commonwealth was appropriating money not only for the maintenance of the schools, but also for building purposes. Thus, thees liens, which I enumerated in the bill, are dealing with the appropriations which were passed at the turn of the century for the purpose of building and not for the purpose of maintenance. Why keep such liens on the books? Some day, if you would be asked to say what is the total value of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we would have an inflated value. We have liens and we do not collect them or do anything about them, yet they are on the books. As a matter of fact, even the Auditor General failed to comply with our resolution to send in the number of liens. I had to do my own research work on it.

I trust, Mr. President, that Senator Diehm, in his fairness and in his meticulous approach to the problem, will see fit to send this bill back to the floor.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Crawford, Senator Mahany.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Mahany, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MAHANY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Senator Mahany, since it seems to be the attitude of the Majority Party to recommit Senate Bill No. 539, Printer's No. 303, do you plan on taking the same action on Senate Bill No. 540, Printer's No. 302?

Mr. MAHANY. I do, Senator Lane.

Mr. LANE. I might say, Senator Mahany, that quite some time ago I was sent considerable information in regard to the liens which the Commonwealth has against these two universities and, frankly, I have not had the time to go over it at all. I just scanned it at length one day. I would like to have the opportunity of going over it. Probably there is some merit to your argument. There seems to be some merit to Senator Stiefel's argument, too.

I wonder, since we are going to recess, whether we could carry these over in order and when we return, I guarantee you I will go over my material. I think it is very important. A law firm in Philadelphia sent me this material some time ago and I am the one who is lax about it. I would appreciate, therefore, if these bills could go over in order, or put them on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar, until we come back. Then, if it is your wish, we will recommit them after I have reviewed the material which I have.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, when we return after the recess, we will have plenty on our hands. I am not a member of the Committee on State Government and I must come here and plead for permission to present my views and you are gracious enough to listen to them. However, why must we do so much work. I suggest that they be placed on the Postponed Calendar, and then we shall see how the thing will crystallize. I admit that in the case of the University of Pennsylvania, there is an amount running into hundreds of thousands of dollars. However, in the case of Temple University, in Senate Bill No. 540, there is a picayune sum of about $20,000, which the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania does not want to relinquish.

Therefore, Senator Mahany, I beg of you to put these bills on the Postponed Calendar.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, there is so much harmony around this Chamber today that you could cut it with a knife. I would not want to be the one to interrupt such a love feast. I will be happy to withdraw my motion.

MOTION THAT BILL BE RECOMMITTED WITHDRAWN

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion to recommit Senate Bill No. 539 to the Committee on State Government.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I withdraw my second to the motion.

BILLS POSTPONED

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 539, on second reading, be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 540, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relinquishing Commonwealth rights in property in control of the Trustees of Temple University be placed on the Second Reading Postponed Calendar.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 584, Printer's No. 301, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 746, Printer's No. 275, on second reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 954, entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24, 1937 (P. L. 2017) entitled "An act creating in each county (except of the first class) as a separate corporation and in each city of the first and second class as a part of the city government an institution district for the care and maintenance of certain indigent persons and children prescribing the powers and duties of county commissioners county treasurers city departments of public welfare the State Department of Welfare and the State Department of Public Assistance in respect thereto abolishing certain poor districts and terminating the terms of directors overseers guardians and managers of the poor and poor district auditors and providing for the temporary employment of certain of them providing for the transfer vesting sale and disposition of the property of poor districts and the payment of their obligations imposing certain existing obligations on institution districts and on the Commonwealth regulating the affairs of poor districts until abolished revising amending changing and consolidating the law relating to the care of the poor and repealing existing laws" providing for annual salaries for county commissioners and controllers for services as officers of the institution district.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. BARR offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 303), page 2, line 5, by striking out "and" and inserting in lieu thereof: "the";

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 303), page 3, line 1, by inserting after "ler": "in second class counties shall receive an additional annual salary of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) and."

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to as amended.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. BARR offered the following amendments:

Amend Title, page 2, third from last line of Title, by inserting after "commissioners": "in all counties"; Amend Title, page 2, next to last line of Title, by inserting after "and": "the"; Amend Title, page 2, next to last line of Title, by inserting after "controllers": "in counties of the second class."

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to as amended,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, it is my understanding that the amendments which have been inserted in House Bill No. 954, Printer's No. 1037, provide for an increase in salaries for county commissioners which will include my county of Washington.

Due to the fact that I hold the position of County Commissioner from Washington County, I want the record to show that I did not vote for these amendments and that I voted present.

PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Diehm, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DIEHM. Mr. President, relative to House Bill No. 954, Printer's No. 1037, I would like the record to show that my position on this bill is the same as that just set forth by the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane.

FIRST READING CALENDAR

BILL ON FIRST READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 735, entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" permitting licensed importers to import purchase sell and store liquor and alcohol in the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading..

SENATE RESOLUTION REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

REQUESTING THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION TO MAKE A STUDY AND RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING VARIOUS PLANS OF ALL SCHOOL BUILDINGS BUILT WITHIN THE PAST FEW YEARS

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MAHANY, on behalf of Mr. WHALLEY, offered the following resolution which was twice read and referred to the Committee on Education:

In the Senate, October 11, 1955

The General Assembly is currently considering legislation increasing the total amount of reimbursable costs for the construction of public school buildings from $425,000,000 to $925,000,000.

It is of prime importance to the Commonwealth that school buildings be built as economically as possible consistent with efficiency and practicability.

In many instances certain phases of school construction do not always meet with the best requirements of the school districts. School officials and architects can well profit by the experience of the past. It becomes mandatory that information be collated and disseminated with respect to school building in view of the fact that the Legislature may increase the amount of reimbursable costs by $500,000,000.

Better schools would be built and in some instances at a great saving, if the information were made available to school districts and architects. This information may be best obtained by the Department of Public Instruction through the School Plant Division; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Public Instruction:

(1) Study the various plans of all school buildings built within the past few years.

(2) Send questionnaires to all architects and school districts involved in school building construction designed to elicit information with respect to the relative efficiency and operating costs of one-story and two-story buildings, construction of gymnasiums and auditoriums, together with ideas on how they could be utilized in connection with other school programs, costs and efficiency of heating systems, time loss due to the moving of pupils from one room to another, the number, dimensions and types of entrances and windows as well as the dimensions of classrooms, unforeseen defects, general and specific maintenance costs and, in the light of their experiences, suggested changes in plans and specifications which would result in better school buildings.

(c) Collate the information, make a study thereof, and make it, together with recommendations, available to the General Assembly and to school districts erecting school buildings.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. MAHANY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

THIRD READING CALENDAR

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 785, as follows:

An Act making appropriations to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school districts

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The sum of four hundred twenty-one million eight hundred forty thousand dollars ($421,840,000) or as much thereof as is necessary is appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursing school districts upon the salaries of school teachers and upon the basis of teaching units as prescribed by law for closed schools and for nonresident high school tuition and any other nonresident tuition as required by law and for the minimum salaies of teachers and supervisors of home bound children and extension class pupils Provided That the Superintendent of Public Instruction with the approval of the Governor may make payments from this appropriation in advance of the due dates prescribed by law to school districts which are financially handicapped whenever he deems it necessary to make such advanced payments to enable school districts to keep their public schools open

Section 2 an additional sum of thirty-one million dollars ($31,000,000) or as much thereof as is necessary is appropriated to the Department of Public Instruction to be used for reimburing school districts upon salaries of school teachers if and when Legislation is enacted in the 1955 session of the General Assembly increasing the annual compensation of school teachers.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HAYS. Mr. President, two legislative and one calendar day ago, I started to make a brief statement on the subject matter of this bill and had the rug pulled from under me by a motion to adjourn — a motion, incidentally, in which I concurred. I think that, in fairness to my colleagues, I should now make a statement and in mercy for them, I should make it brief.

Mr. President, I am very happy about the unanimous response of my forty-eight colleagues to this problem of carrying out a section of the Constitution of the Commonwealth which reads, "The General Assembly shall provide for the maintenance and support of a thorough and efficient system of public schools." I believe over two million of our citizens, disenfranchised by age, are grateful to you for this step which more nearly brings our support of public education in line with the wealth of this Commonwealth. The understanding and patience of the Majority and Minority Leaders, and the members of the Appropriations Committee, in these last few days of some tension is a matter for which I, as a novice Senator, desire to expess my personal appreciation.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—49

Bane,	Haluska,	McMenamin,	Stevenson,
Barr,	Harney,	McPherson, Jr.,	Stiefel,

And said bill having been read at length the third time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Title, page 2 line 12 of tilte, by striking out "in all counties"; Amend Section 1 (Sec. 303) page 3, line 1, by inserting after "and"; "each commissioner and"; Amend Sec. 1. (Sec 303) page 3, line 6, by striking out the backet before the word "of"; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 303) page 3, line 10 by striking out the bracket after the word "in" where it appears the second time in said line; Amend Sec. 1 (Sec 303) page 3, lines 10 to 20, by striking out the words "shall receive" in line 10, all of lines 11 to 19 inclusive and the words "dred dollars ($500)" in line 20.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

PRAYER

Rabbi Moses N. Freidman, York, guest Chaplain, offered the following prayer:

Heavenly Father, on the advent of the 464th year of the discovery of our continent, we pause to give thought to Thy wondrous deeds that can be perceived by the human mind within the finite realm of his vision and comprehension.

In Thy abundant goodness, O Lord, Thou hast inspired men to search for newer means to facilitate the tasks of our transitory life on earth and seek new opportunities in distant lands. By Thy grace, O Ruler of the world, the explorers of old, who ventured to look for new roads, discovered a continent destined to become a haven of refuge for the oppressed and a home of the free.

O Thou, Who hast opened their road through the sea and their path amid the mighty waters of the ocean, chart for us the road, we pray Thee, to reach safely the goals of our endeavors and the ends for which we strive. Cause Thy beacon of wisdom to illuminate the way that leads to the solution of our problems. Inculcate into our minds the sedulity necessary to effect the success of our designs when they be in consonance with Thy will, and keep us humble and agree when those of others manifest more worthy and nobler intentions.

Bless, we beseech Thee, the honorable Speaker and Members of this House with sagacity in legislation; and cause harmony to be the keynote of their deliberations, attainment of beneficial objectives—their purposes, and the fruition of their endeavors—our Commonwealth's welfare and their personal success. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Thursday, October 6, 1955, will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

DENVER
October 6, 1955

Dear Mr. Worley,

It was good of you to write such a kind message to the President telling him of your concern for his health. He was deeply touched to know of the Resolution of the House of Representatives of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, for his early recovery. To be remembered by our friends and neighbors in these anxious days means a great deal to the President and myself.

"Mamie Doud Eisenhower"

The Honorably Francis Worley

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTIONS FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

SENATE SERIAL No. 151.

In the Senate, September 27, 1955.

The name of Pennsylvania was given to the colony of William Penn and inherited by the Commonwealth because of the verdant forests that once covered its territory But indifference or lack of foresight to the future weal in years past rapidly denuded Pennsylvania's hillsides of its trees; and carelessness and indifference to the value of second growths permitted repeated fires to ravage the cut-over area and to scorch the earth into a state of ugliness and unproductivity, robbing the land of its protecting forest growth.

A bleak and uninviting example of this catastrophe was what is now the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County when Raymond B. Winter was sent there as a forester in 1910. The area was a charred wilderness of dead brush, stumps and a mud hole formerly a saw mill dam.

During his forty-five years of service there. Mr. Winter transformed the area into one of Pennsylvania's outstanding beauty spots. With far-sighted planning and tireless efforts he undertook the task of rehabilitation. His early days in the area were devoted to fire control and prevention, tree planting, road and trail building and gradually a little recreational work for the local people, which later, with the help of the Civilian Conservation Corps during the early thirties and later improvements developed into a State Forest park of four hundred acres with a concrete and stone masonry dam on the site of the former saw mill dam, presently known as the Half-Way State Forest Park. And today the Bald Eagle Forest is an established and thrifty forest.

That Bald Eagle is one of the finest and best preserved forest districts in the State today is due mainly to the diligent and conscientious work of Mr. Winter; therefore be it

Resolved (The House of Representatives concurring), That the recreational area in the Bald Eagle State Forest in Union County now known as Half-Way State Forest Park be renamed Raymond B. Winter State Forest Park in lasting tribute to his untiring work in conservation.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

SENATE SERIAL No. 154.

In the Senate, October 11, 1955.

The Commonwealth through its General State Authority is constructing an important flood control dam on the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek in Grove Township, Cameron County, at a location originally selected by the United States Army Engineers. The dam when completed and put into operation at full capacity will form a lake of 1485 acres in area in Cameron and Potter Counties.

Because of his untiring efforts in securing effective flood control for the West Branch of the Susquehanna River and his active interest and assistance in furthering the construction of the First Fork Sinnemahoning Dam, it is fitting that the Honorable George B. Stevenson, Senator from the Twenty-sixth Senatorial District, be honored in connection therewith; therefore be it

Resolved, (the House of Representatives concurring) That the flood control dam on the First Fork of the Sinnemahoning Creek in Grove Township, Cameron County, be designated as the George B. Stevenson Dam; and be it further

Resolved, That the Department of Forests and Waters erect suitable tablets or markers on the dam to perpetuate this resolution.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mrs. Kooker for Mr. KELLER for the week because of illness.

Mr. Hass for Mr. LAWYER for the week because of illness.

Mrs. Henzel for Mr. KRATZ for today and tomorrow because of illness.

Mrs. Henzel for Mr. BRENNINGER for today and tomorrow because of urgent business.

Mr. Kolankiewicz for Mr. McKEEVER for the week because of illness.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. POLEN asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Appropriations to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. McGEE asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. ROBERT K. HAMILTON asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Insurance to meet during the session of the House.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to bring to the attention of the Game Commission the way the doe licenses are handled in the state of Pennsylvania.

Being from Allegheny County, I have had numerous complaints of sportsmen who are unable to get doe licenses in various counties. I have instances where men have spent two days in a certain county trying to get a doe license. Also I have had men state to me that they sent registered letters to the treasurers of the various counties who have these doe licenses and they were returned unopened to the sender.

If I recall correctly, Mr. Speaker, when this type of legislation was passed, I believe in 1951, I happened to be the only Member to vote against it. I feel that every county should be open to all the portsmen of Pennsylvania.

It is my personal opinion that at the present time these counties give preference to the men who live in the particular county. Being from Allegheny County, where numerous hunters have nowhere to hunt in their own County, they are unable to obtain a doe license.

I feel there should be a revision of the doe license measure and I intend to introduce such revision.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. GIBSON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in connection with the difficulty the gentleman from Allegheny is having regarding doe licenses, I would like to inform him that Warren County has 1,300 doe licenses available as of yesterday, if he would like to send some of his boys up there.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FRANK asked and obtained unaimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker. I would like to call to the attention of the House the following and make a protest:

On September 3, 1955, an Act signed by the Gorvernor, passed the Senate and House, providing an increasing of 1 per cent tax on gasoline for a limited time, for reconstruction, repair of roads, streets, highways and bridges of subdivisions damaged or destroyed by the hurricane, flood or highwaters of August 19, 1955. This money was earmarked and to be used for the sole purpose of disaster relief. The Act became effective Septembr 13, 1955.

On or about September 13, 1955, ten days after the bill was effective, the large gasoline companies saw fit to place one-half cent, and in some cases one cent, on gasoline. I am not sure that this was effective throughout the State but do know it has been raised in the eastern part of Pennsylvania where the disaster hit very hard. I have checked and found that the little gasoline station owners are not getting any more discount than they did before.

I would like to know why advancing additional prices have been placed on the motorists. We know the reason why the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had to do it. I would like to know why the big gasoline companies raise their prices—for what reason.

The fellow who gets a little pleasure out of having a car pays through the nose.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. LUTTY from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended, House Bill No. 1089, entitled:

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 375 as follows:

An Act authorizing judges in counties of the third class to fix the number and compensation of employes appointed by them

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 In counties of the third class each of the several judges of the courts of common pleas quarter sessions and oyer and terminer and of the orphans' court shall determine the number and fix the compensation of court-criers tipstaves officers clerks stenographers and other court employes paid from the county treasury and who are appointed by any of the judges

Section 2 The act of August 9, 1955 (Act No. 130) known as "The County Code" and its amendments are hereby repealed in so far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. McWherter, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McWHERTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state who appoints the court criers, tipstaves, officers, clerks and stenographers in third class counties at the present time?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean in relation to number?

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, in relation to number and compensation.

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, in many cases the number is adequate, in other cases it is not. The same is true of compensation.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I belive the gentleman misunderstood my question, Mr. Speaker. I said, under the present law who appoints the employes and fixes their compensation?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, they are appointed by the court, the compensation is regulated by the salary board.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, perhaps the gentleman is not familiar with the new County Code that was just passed. I believe under that the salary board determines the number and compensation. Is the gentleman familiar with that?

Mr. McWHERTER. That is my understanding of it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, would not this bill give each judge the sole discretion to appoint the number of employes and fix the compensation of the employes as he sees fit?

Mr. McWHERTER. It would, Mr. Speaker. That is the purpose of the bill.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is it not true in third class counties where there are perhaps four or five judges that each judge could have a different number of employes and fix the compensation as he saw fit for each employe?

Mr. McWHERTER. That is entirely true, Mr. Speaker. It rests entirely in the discretion of the judge or judges.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, it would be true, would it not, that one judge could have twelve tipstaves and another could have two if he saw fit?

Mr. McWHERTER. That would certainly be true, Mr. Speaker. I might add that it is also true in third class counties, as well as most of the other counties, that specific judges for various reasons carry different portions of the land.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, under this proposed amendment could not the number and compensation of employes appointed by the judges be changed during the county fiscal year?

Mr. McWHERTER. Yes, it could, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, could not this interfere with the tax rate of the counties as determined by the county commissioners in anticipation of the estimated requirements?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, I shall answer that in this way. We in my own third class county are firmly convinced that our judges are good judges. They are reasonable men and are not interested in upsetting the tax structure.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, is this bill aimed at a particular local situation in the gentleman's county?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, it so happens that we have a peculiar situation out there, although I am of the firm opinion that this ought to be general law. I feel this is a step in the right direction.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says he feels this should be general law, yet the code that is being amended covers all counties from the third to the eighth classes. The bill only amends the law concerning third class counties, is that correct?

Mr. McWHERTER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, why is the gentleman attempting to amend the law only in third class counties?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, because I am primarily interested in third class counties. I originate from one.

Mr. LiPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I ask all the Members to oppose this bill. It seems to me the bill will create considerable confusion in third class counties by permitting each judge to determine at his own discretion the number of employes. It will permit the court in effect to fix the county tax rate by increasing the number of employes so that the tax rate will have to be raised to cover it. It would completely eliminate the uniformity that we now have by having a salary board determine the employes of judges.

I ask for a slow roll call and request all Members vote against this bill.

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is designed to do exactly what it says in your brief on the calendar. It is intended to give judges of third class counties, that is, both orphan's and common pleas judges, the right to name the number and fix the salaries of their employes.

Our statutes confer a broad jurisdiction upon the courts of common pleas, they have the right to hear and determine all pleas, actions and suits, civil, personal and mixed. These statutes also give them the power to grant all writs and process necessary to exercise this jurisdiction.

Our common pleas judges also sit in the courts of quarter sessions and of oyer and terminer and in their respective capacities have jurisdiction to hear, determine and punish all crimes and offenses committed within the Commonwealth.

Our orphans' courts' have broad jurisdiction and powers over the person and property of minors, decedents' estates, and the accounts and conduct of persons and corporations in fiduciary capacities.

The jurisdiction, powers and duties of our courts are extremely broad and requires the exercise of a great amount of discretion on the part of the respective judges. The men and women who exercise these powers occupy a position of trust in relation to the people who elect them and who are affected by their decisions.

Ordinarily these judges are exceptional persons both in relation to their character and their abilities, and in every case where they are not exceptional they are answerable to the people who elect them. Unfortunately, however, in spite of the broad powers which our judges have, their exceptional characters and abilities, and the fact that they are answerable to the people who elect them, this Legislature has seen fit to prevent them from exercising exclusive jurisdiction in their own offices and court rooms.

It is the purpose of this bill to restore to the courts in third class counties sole jurisdiction and discretionary powers of their own offices and employes. Few men or women attain the high office of a judgeship without first having served a long apprenticeship as a practicing attorney. The result is that they are usually middle-aged or beyond by the time they assume that office.

The office itself, because of the many pressures and difficult decisions, is a man-killing job requiring long hours of research and competent and efficient employes who are able to contribute to and aid our courts in rendering the service for which they are elected.

Most of our courts do not have and are unable to secure the necessary help to enable them to properly and efficiently perform their duties. Our courts and present staffs are overworked, our court calendars are crowded and behind schedule, with the consequential loss of effective service to the people whom our courts serve.

The chief reason for this is the situation which brings about the setup called the salary board. It effectively ties the hands of our courts. It tends to place expert stenographers and reporters on the same level as substandard political clerks; it makes it impossible for our courts to hire additional help at times when the load becomes greatest; it prevents our courts from retaining experienced, competent and faithful employes; and it compels the entire machinery of our system of courts to move along at a snail's pace. All of this is to the injury and disservice of our citizens who are interested in and entitled to quick and efficient decisions on matters regarding their vested personal and property rights.

We elect our judges by popular vote, give them wide jurisdiction and discretionary powers, yet we effectively prevent them from running their own offices. It is rather ridiculous to place our properties, our freedoms and our very lives in the hands of our court and then to restrict them in selecting the machinery whereby our rights relating to those properties, freedoms and sometimes life itself may be justly and efficiently determined.

It is high time we restore the jurisdiction of our courts to their own offices and staffs. This bill, although limited to third class counties, is a step in that direction.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I believe Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is under a misapprehension concerning the present county code.

Under the county code which was passed by this House in the last two months or so and is now law, a judge is a member of the salary board for the purpose of determining the number and compensation of his employes.

Furthermore, I call to the gentleman's attention that House Bill 1750 is presently on today's calendar for third reading, which would permit a judge to appeal to the court if the salary board does not go along with his recommendations concerning the number of employes. It seems to me that that bill should be slightly amended, but that would clearly correct any difficulty if the judge is not satisfied with the decision of the salary board. Therefore, I ask the Members to vote against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in order that all of the Members of the House might know what they are voting on, this is a bill that was defeated by a few votes September 27th. It provides that the fines for certain vehicular offenses such as overweight, speeding and so forth, shall be divided fifty, fifty between the State Bureau License Fund and the municipalities.

We debated the bill at some length previously, but I wanted to be sure that the Members knew that this is the bill that they are now voting on.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, has the practice followed on this bill, voting on it without having it on the calendar, ever been carried through on any other occasion during this session.

The SPEAKER. We have pursued the ordinary and correct parliamentary procedure on a motion to reconsider.

If the motion carries the question immediately recurs. It is then within the province of the sponsor of the motion to move that it be placed upon the postponed calendar, or any other Member of the House would have the privilege of moving that the bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

In this particular instance the sponsors of the measure desired an immediate vote, which was their right under all parliamentary procedure with which the Speaker is familiar for the last thirty years.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. A further parliamentary inquiry, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LIPPINCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I respectfully submit that while I agree it can technically be done as it was done, my question was and still is, has this procedure been followed on any other occasion during this session?

The SPEAKER. It has not been followed upon any previous occasion so far as the Speakers knows, because the sponsors of the motion did not desire an immediate vote.

Section 3 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, this is the same bill that was debated during a previous session, relating to juvenile delinquents.

I raised a number of issues at that time in connection with the bill and I am wondering if the Majority Leader at the present time is in a position to answer those questions or inquiries raised at that time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I was of the opinion that I had answered his questions. If he will restate them I shall see if I can re-answer them.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well the first question, Mr. Speaker, the most important question is, what does this bill do that the Department of Welfare is not already authorized to do under the act of 1945?

Mr. READINGER. In answer to the gentleman's question, I would read parts of a letter from Norman V. Lourie, Executive Deputy Secretary of the Department of Welfare, to Mr. Polen, Chairman of the Appropriations Committee.

In this letter dated October 5, 1955 he states as follows:

> This bill is important if we are to begin to reduce juvenile delinquency and to rehabilitate the boys and girls sent to correctional schools. It is a well known fact, agreed to by juvenile court judges that there are no resources in many counties for psychological and psychiatric study of boys and girls before the courts on delinquency charges. Further few counties have full time probation officers to gather social data.
> House Bill 1618 authorizes the Department of Welfare to supply the facilities for study of juveniles to these courts which request the department to do so. House Bill 1618 authorizes the department to reimburse counties for part of the increased cost of care at training schools after their programs have been improved. This is the place where funds for more than a modest increase in personnel would be required. However, it will take some months for one or two training schools at a time to reorganize their programs, obtain the needed staff and set their rates. Only then will the department reimburse counties. We anticipate that with better study of delinquents before disposition by the court, and more resources for their care locally, the number sent to training schools will be reduced from what it is at present. This will keep down the amount of reimbursement to the counties.

"The Department is authorized by House Bill 1618 to consult and advise with juvenile courts and local community groups on providing resources to improve local study and probation and treatment services. It is highly likely that many courts now commit juveniles to institutions who might remain in their local communities if the courts had juvenile probation service, and if local agencies, not established as training schools, would accept some mild delinquents.

He states further in this letter and I am sorry to take so much time of the House, but the only way to answer the gentleman's question is to state what the Department of Welfare says this bill does, which is not now provided for by the present law.

I understand that a member of the House has inquired why section 2322 of the administrative code added by the act of May 15, 1945, does not provide the authorizations contained in 1618. Section 2322 was written when all corrective functions were in the Department of Welfare. All adult corrections have now been transferred to the Department of Justice. Although the general intent of section 2322 is similar to that of House Bill 1618, it does not apply exclusively to juvenile delinquency and its paragraphs are too brief to guide the department in carrying out its provisions.

"Section 2322 does not specifically permit the department to provide study services when requested by the courts. The seventeen voluntary training schools would properly resist planning new programs if the department invited them to do so under paragraph (c) of this section. It does not sufficiently describe how the new programs are to be developed.

Section 2322 does not authorize the department to reimburse counties for juveniles committed to training schools with specialized programs.

Finally, section 2322 would not put the Commonwealth in a position to receive federal funds for juvenile delinquency programs which are expected to be made available after the next session of Congress.

Mr. TOMPKINS. That is a rather lengthy discourse on the purposes of House Bill 1618, but I am still not satisfied that it is an answer to my question.

I would like to further raise this issue since I am very highly interested in this reimbursement feature that they talk about, which is provided in section 4, sub-section (d). It has been my understanding that when the courts commit a juvenile to an institution today that the county from which that child is committed must pay that institution for its care. Now, what is this reimbursement thing they are talking about?

Mr. READINGER. Has the gentleman read the section?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Yes I have, Mr. Speaker, that is the reason why I ask the question.

Mr. READINGER. Well I shall read it then for the membership's information. Among the other powers that the Department of Welfare is given under sub-section (d) on page 4

To reimburse the counties and the Departments of Public Welfare of cities of the first class for part of the net cost of maintenance correction reeducation rehabilitation and treatment of juvenile delinquents the proportion to be reimbursed shall be determined annually by the department and shall be uniform for all counties and departments.

In other words, I understand that section to mean that the Department of Welfare may reimburse the counties in part for the actual work they are doing with juvenile delinquents. I do not assume that that means maintenance costs when a delinquent is sent to an institution, but there are lots of other functions that these counties perform in relation to juvenile delinquents without sending them to an institution. They have probationary service, they have educational programs, I presume, and a lot of things which cost the local districts money.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, may I then inquire what is the estimated cost of this particular section, what do they estimate it will cost annually?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, at this point I shall yield to the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Polen.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks yields to the gentleman from Washington.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in relation to the costs, there have been no costs computed, but the Department says that they will be able to take care of this program out of the funds that are provided for in their regular budget. The bill itself carries no appropriation. They say none is needed.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Well, how much do they estimate this program might cost?

Mr. POLEN. I would have to refer to the specific part of the budget where it is broken down. I do not have it available here. It requires no additional funds so far as . . . . . .

Mr. TOMPKINS. Not out of the general appropriation fund, no, but how much of that general appropriation fund do they intend to use for that purpose? I think we are entitled to know how much they intend to set up on this basis.

Mr. READINGER. The Gentleman from Cameron has raised a question which is pertinent, and I think we are entitled eventually to know how much the department at least proposes to spend on this program. However, I say that when we appropriate money to a department, we do so usually based upon the request of the department, setting forth what they think their needs are, and we certainly should have enough faith in our departments to believe that they would spend on a program of this kind only that amount of money which they thought was advisable and necessary to carry it out to its greatest extent, the greatests efficiency. Whether they had five million to spend on it or five hundred, I think they would certainly be charged with using proper discretion in spending only that amount of money that is necessary to carry out a good program.

I have just been informed that the Department of Welfare estimates the use of $300 thousand for the biennium for this work.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Is that just for the reimbursement of the counties or what?

Mr. Speaker, the thing I am trying to bring out is this, I am interested in finding out just exactly how much money the department is asking for the purpose of extending its power into the local communities. As I said here on this floor a couple of weeks ago, I am not against any effort that is made for the purpose of trying to develop a program to reduce our juvenile delinquency but I am just wondering, this bill carries very broad power and that the Department of Welfare can use amounts which they do not tell us, to run around the state of Pennsylvania trying to find out how many juvenile delinquents they can develop for the purpose of having an organization to knock down juvenile delinquents. Now, if we are going to have a juvenile delinquency program I think we are entitled to know what is is going to be all about.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman finished?

Mr. TOMPKINS. On that particular issue, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Does the gentleman desire to debate the bill further?

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I have some more interrogations.

I would like to know exactly what institutions this bill will cover, what they will control. Will they control only state aided or state owned or will they control any institutions in the state whether they are state aided or state controlled?

Just how extensive will the jurisdiction of the Department be in this bill?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think we covered this point in our previous debate.

The purpose of this bill is not to give the Department of Welfare power to go out and find or create juvenile delinquents, as the gentleman well knows. The purpose is to combat juvenile delinquency and treat it more effectively than it has been treated before in order to reduce it.

The bill is very plain and short. It sets up a system whereby the Department of Welfare is charged with the duty of cooperating with local units that are already operating to combat juvenile delinquency, to offer them consultation, guidance, advise with them, and so forth, and in addition give them these grants reimbursing the counties in part for some of the cost of these programs.

When the gentleman speaks about jurisdiction over this subject he well knows, I think, from reading the bill that we are not by this bill conferring exclusive jurisdiction in any sense upon the Department of Welfare. It is certainly not the intention of the Department of Welfare to reach out and try to supersede any local agencies. They are there to help. This is the very purpose of this bill.

We have done a lot of talking about juvenile delinquency. We have had a lot of meetings and discussed the problem and what we could do about it. Here is a good opportunity to do something. The gentleman seems very, very critical about the whole idea. Perhaps he does not like the idea of spending $300 thousand, which is his privilege.

We think it is a good expenditure, a worthwhile expenditure. I do not think there is anything in this bill calling for control of any children in institutions. When they are sent to an institution by a juvenile court, they are in control of the trustees and the people who run those institutions, whether they be under the Department of Welfare or some other department.

I fail to see the point of some of his criticism today of this bill.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the letter from Mr. Lourie, he speaks about the furnishing of psychiatrists and psychologists for the benefit of the court upon request. I wonder if the gentleman could point out to me any court in the state of Pennsylvania that has made a request for a psychiatrist or a psychologist to come in and examine any person before them that they have not already received that privilege. Do not the institutions who are caring for juveniles at the present time have psychiatrists, psychologists, and so forth, for the purposes of taking care of their program?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to yield at this point to the lady from Lehigh, Miss Leiby.

Miss LEIBY. Mr. Speaker, I attended a meeting where this bill was thoroughly discussed. The object of this bill is to help juvenile delinquents in order to bring them back to that state of society where they are normal minglers and they are no longer unsocial.

These boys and girls who get into trouble with the courts are not born that way, something happened to them. Usually it was some part of their environment. A judge does not have the time to sit down and consult with each child and win their confidence. Usually a probation officer does not have the time.

There are some groups of people who are trained and who do have the time to sit down and talk quietly with the child and try to get its confidence so that they can really find out what causes that young person to act in the unsocial manner which caused them to be brought before the court. This is all done in a cooperative spirit. There is no compulsion. The idea is that some of our correctional institutions have not yet developed a program to treat individual types of delinquency.

This bill would try to encourage the already existing institutions to develop a program for a certain type of delinquency, and then these social workers after trying to find out about the particular child involved would recommend to the court that the child be sent to a particular institution.

That is a program that has to be developed, but they expect to use the existing institutions to develop it, and the only thing that may be needed might be more trained social workers or psychiatrists to treat the different types of children who come before the court.

Some of them may come there because they are mentally retarded, but many of them come for other reasons that a sympathetic person and a sympathetic man or woman can recommend treatment that will bring that child back to normal living and what we consider good social life in the community.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. Speaker, I agree wholeheartedly with everything the lady from Lehigh has said. I have no argument with her observations, but in connection with this particular bill I am asking in the light of her statement what this bill provides that we are not already providing in these institutions to take care of this very same problem. Is it not a problem of where you are going to get these workers, rather than whether or not such a program should go through?

Personally I think the bill is more or less a futility. I personally propose to vote against it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in asking the Members to vote for this bill, I would like to read portions of an editorial which appeared in the Catholic Standard and Times—under date of Friday, September 18th, entitled, "A Really Worthwhile Bill." I believe copies of this have been mailed to the Members and perhaps some of you have read it. I would like to take just a minute to read it so you will know when you vote for it that you are voting for a really worthwhile bill.

> The agonizing problems raised by increasing numbers of youthful criminals have been the subject of careful examination by the Legislature of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in its present session, and the resultant House Bill No. 1618 now before the House of Representatives of the General Assembly is one that deserves sincere commendation and hearty approval. The bill has passed a second reading in the House and will shortly be considered in the Senate. It deserves to be made part of the law of the Commonwealth.
> House Bill No. 1618 would provide amendments to the Administrative Code of 1929 by which certain powers and duties are conferred upon the Department of Welfare of the Commonwealth The bill is remarkable in two important repsects First it is wholly devoid of a patronizing toleration of private agencies in the field. Secondly the bill makes sure that children's rights are secured to them.
> It is a distinct and pleasant surprise not to encounter in a social welfare bill the notion that private agencies are antiquated vestiges of an unplanned society and dangerous obstacles to human progress. There are in this Commonwealth 24 institutions for juvenile delinquents; 17 of these are private institutions, and of these, nine are under Catholic auspices. It seems, therefore, that private agencies were hard at work on this vexing problem long before the dabblers and the "social planners" began to speak of the problem, or even admit that there was such a problem.
> The second remarkable feature of House Bill No. 1618 is that for once in proposed social legislation defenseless children are considered in a different light than as white mice in a social worker's laboratory. This bill is explicit and precise in keeping all power of placement in the Juvenile Courts. The Catholic Bishops of this Commonwealth have always insisted upon this protection for children lest over-self-confident social workers seize upon these children in their custody and attempt to remake them in their own image, and not in God's.
> The proposed bill provides mainly for supplying information and means of coordination to agencies dealing with juvenile delinquents. The Department of Welfare is to make known the needs that are to be met and to help to coordinate the efforts of these agencies. This represents a proper function of the Department of Welfare. In many counties of the Commonwealth it is difficult to find institutions that will accept delinquents in certain age brackets. Under one section of the new bill, the Department of Welfare, for example, would bring to the notice of the agencies where and how many delinquents for want of proper custodial care have to be housed with hardened criminals, and ask the agencies to meet the need. But the agencies would be free to decide what their program and policy should be. The Department would offer the information, the agencies would set the policies.
> Another section of the proposed bill provides for "local studies of each child." This means examination of the child by the Court or Court-appointed investigators in his own home community. There would be additional "residental studies" where children would spend up to two weeks before being assigned according to classification to an institution. This will protect the rights of the child and prevent hasty and unwise assignment. It should also be noted that there is in the Juvenile Court Act a provision to safeguard the religion of the child placed by the Court. So long as the Court, and not the Department of Welfare, places the child he has this protection of the law. The proposed bill thus continues this cherished American tradition of action under law, rather than action by private whim.
> It is heartening to find such well-considered and time-tested provisions in House Bill No. 1618, and it deserves the endorsement of the Legislature and the Governor's signature. It is commendable that the bill served notice that here in this Commonwealth there are real experts on the problem of juvenile delinquency who have combined with legislators who still subscribe to the rule of law in efforts to meet with the delinquency problem. It is remarkable to see that at long last action is being taken under the aegis of the principle that the God-given natural rights of children are paramount, and not questionable sociological techniques which veer with each new gust of wind.

Members, I ask you to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The clerks at the desk endeavor to preserve a fair square roll call. The Speaker cannot remember in all the time that he has been here at Harrisburg a desk that has tried more diligently to stand by the integrity of a roll call. Sometimes the Chair thinks the Members fail to cooperate and understand the significance of what the desk is trying to do. The Speaker bespeaks for the desk your cooperation so that we can be assured of the integrity of our roll calls.

SPECIAL ORDER

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1209 Printer's No. 1017 on page 5 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1209 as follows:

An Act prohibiting discrimination in rate of pay because of sex conferring powers and imposing duties on the Department of Labor and Industry prescribing penalties and making an appropriation

(b) The term "distribute' means to offer for sale sell barter or otherwise supply commercial feeds

(c) The term "sell" or "sale' includes exchange

(d) The term "commercial feed" means all materials which are distributed for use as feed for animals including poultry other than man including all ingredients entering into commercial feed except

(1) Unmixed whole seeds or grains and meals made directly from the entire seeds

(2) Unground hay

(3) Whole or ground straw stover silage cobs and hulls when not mixed with other materials

(e) The term "brand" means the term design or trademark and other specific designation under which an individual commercial feed is distributed and sold

(f) The term "label" or "tag" means a display of written printed or graphic matter attached to or upon the container in which a commercial feed is distributed

(g) The term "ton" means a net weight of two thousand (2,000) pounds avoirdupois

(h) The term "percent" or "percentage" means percentage by weight

(i) The term "official sample" means any sample taken by the Secretary of Agriculture or his agent

Section 3 Registration (a) Each brand of commercial feed shall be registered by the manufacturer or importer with the Department of Agriculture before being offered for sale sold or otherwise distributed The application for registration shall be submitted to the Secretary of Agriculture on forms which he shall supply and shall be accompanied by a fee of five dollars ($5.00) per brand and by a label or tag or other printed matter describing the product Upon approval by the Secretary of Agriculture a copy of the registration shall be furnished to the applicant All registrations shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of each year The applicants shall include the following information

(1) The name and principal address of the person guaranteeing the commercial feed

(2) The name or the brand under which the commercial feed is to be sold

(3) The guaranteed analysis listing the minimum percentages of crude protein and crude fat and the maximum percentage of crude fiber except in case of products sold solely as mineral or vitamin supplements or combinations thereof in which case they need not show guarantees for protein fat and fiber

In the case of mineral feeds there shall be stated the maximum percentage of calcium (Ca), minimum percentage of phosphorus (P) and maximum percentage of salt (NaCl)

Other nutritional substances or elements determinable by laboratory methods may be guaranteed by permission of the Secretary of Agriculture When any such other items are guaranteed they shall be subject to inspection and analysis in accordance with methods and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of Agriculture

When the Secretary of Agriculture after holding a hearing finds that any claim for the presence of a specific nutritional substance including minerals vitamins or amino acids may be misleading unless specifically guaranteed as to the minimum quantity present or unless a specific minimum quantity of such substance is so present he may define the guarantee requirement or minimum quantity requirement that shall be present and include such definition or definitions in a definition of standards in the manner provided in section nine

(4) The name of each ingredient used in the commercial feed This statement shall show the official name of each ingredient which has been so defined by the Association of American Feed Control Officials or the common name of any ingredient not so defined

(b) A distributor shall not be required to register any brand of commercial feed which is already registered under this act by another person

(c) Changes in the guarantee of either chemical or ingredient composition of a commercial feed may be permitted provided satisfactory evidence is submitted showing that such changes would not impair the feeding value of the product for the purpose for which it is designed

(d) The Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to refuse registration of any application not in compliance with all of the provisions of this act and to cancel any registration when it is subsequently found to be in violation of any provision of this act or when he has satisfactory evidence that the registrant has used fraudulent or deceptive practices in attempted evasion of the provisions of the act or regulations thereunder Provided however That no registration shall be refused or cancelled until the registrant shall have been given opportunity to be heard before the Secretary of Agriculture

Section 4 Labeling (a) Any commercial feed offered for sale or sold or otherwise distributed in bags barrels or other containers shall have placed thereon or affixed thereto a label or tag upon which there appears in printed form in the English language the net weight and the information required by clauses (1) (2) (3) and (4) of subsection (a) of section three

(b) If commercial feed is distributed in bulk a written or printed statement of the net weight and the information required by clauses (1) (2) (3) and (4) of subsection (a) of section three shall accompany delivery and be furnished to the purchaser

Section 5 Feed Control Fees (a) In addition to initial annual registration fee of five dollars ($5.00) per brand each manufacturer or importer of commercial feeds shall pay annually to the Secretary of Agriculture for all commercial feeds offered for sale sold or otherwise distributed in this Commonwealth a feed control fee of five cents ($.05) per ton per brand of feed on all feeds distributed after December 31 1954 Provided That sales of commercial feeds (ingredients) to manufacturers or exchanges between them are hereby exempted from the feed control fee if the commercial feeds so sold are to be used solely in the manufacture of feeds which are registered and a declaration to this effect appears on the label Registration and control fees and fines when collected shall constitute a fund to be administered by the Secretary of Agriculture for the payment of the costs of inspection sampling analysis and other expenses necessary for the administration of this act

The Secretary of Agriculture is hereby authorized and empowered whenever he shall determine that the feed control fee provided in section five is yielding more than is required for feed control purposes to which the feed control fee is devoted to reduce the feed control fee for such period as he may deem necessary In the event that at any time after reduction of the feed control fee sufficient revenues are not being produced by the reduced fee the Secretary of Agriculture is empowered to restore in full or in part the feed control fee to such a rate as will in his judgement produce sufficient funds for control and enforcement of this act

(b) Payment of the feed control fee shall be evidenced by a statement under oath in due form of law of commercial feed distributed eogether with documents showing that fees corresponding to the tonnage were received by the Secretary of Agriculture Every manufacturer or importer who distributes commercial feed in this Commonwealth shall

(1) File not later than the last day of January of each year an annual statement under oath setting forth the number of net tons of commercial feeds distributed in the Commonwealth during the preceding twelve (12) monnth period which ended the thirty-first day of December and upon filing such statement shall pay the feed control fee at the rate stated in subsection (a) of this section

(2) Keep such records as may be necessary or required by the Secretary of Agriculture to indicate accurately the tonnage of commercial feed distributed in this Commonwealth The Secretary of Agriculture shall have the right to examine such records to verify statements of tonnage

Failure to make an accurate statement of tonnage or to pay the feed control fee or comply as provided herein shall constitute sufficient cause for the cancellation of all registrations on file for the distributor

(d) When it contains added hulls screenings straw cobs or other high fiber material unless the name of each such material is clearly and prominently stated on the label

Section 7 Misbranding No person shall distribute misbranded feed A commercial feed shall be deemed to be misbranded

(a) When its labeling is false or misleading in any particular

(b) When it is distributed under the name of another feed

(c) When its container is not labeled as required in section four of this act and in regulations prescribed under this act

(d) When it purports to be or is represented as a commercial feed for which a definition of identity and standard of quality has been prescribed by a regulation issued by the Secretary of Agriculture unless it conforms to such definition and standard

(e) When any word statement or other information required by or under authority of this act to appear on the label or labeling is not prominently placed thereon with such conspicuousness as compared with other words statements designs or devices in the labeling and in such terms as to render it likely to be read and understood by the ordinary individual under customary condition of purchase and use

Section 8 Inspection Sampling Analysis (a) It shall be the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture who may act through his authorized agent to sample inspect make analyses of and test commercial feeds distributed within this Commonwealth at such time and place and to such an extent as he may deem necessary to determine whether such commercial feeds are in compliance with the provisions of this act The Secretary of Agriculture individually or through his agent is authorized to enter upon any public or private premises during regular business hours in order to have access to commercial feeds subject to the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations pertaining thereto

(b) The methods of sampling and analysis shall be those adopted by the Secretary of Agriculture

(c) The Scretary of Agriculture in determing for administrative purposes whether a commercial feed is deficient in any component shall be guided solely by the sample as defined in subsection (i) of section two and obtained and analyzed as provided for in subsection (b) of this section

(d) When the inspection and analysis of an official sample indicate a commercial feed has been adulterated or misbranded the results of analysis shall be forwarded by the Secretary of Agriculture to the distributor and to the manufacturer or importer

Section 9 Regulations Standards Definitions The Secretary of Agriculture is hereby charged with the enforcement of the act and after due publicity and due public hearing is empowered to adopt and promulgate such regulations standards and definitions as may be necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of this act

Section 10 Detained Commercial Feeds Withdrawal From Sale (a) When the Secretary of Agriculture or his authorized agent has reasonable cause to believe a commercial feed is being distributed in violation of any of the provisions of this act or of any of the prescribed regulations under this act he may issue and enforce a written or printed "withdrawal from sale" order warning the distributor not to dispose of the feed in any manner until written permission is given by the Secretary of Agriculture or the court The Secretary of Agriculture shall release the commercial feed so withdrawn when the provisions and reguations have been complied with and all costs and expenses incurred in the withdrawal have been paid If compliance is not obtained within thirty (30) days the Secretary of Agriculture may begin proceedings for condemnation

(b) Condemnation and confiscation Any lot of commercial feed not in compliance with the provisions of this act shall be subject to seizure on complaint of the Secretary of Agriculture to a court of competent jurisdiction in the area in which said commercial feed is located In the event the court finds the said commercial feeds to be in violation of this act and orders the condemnation of said commercial feed it shall be disposed of in any manner consistent with the quality of the commercial feed and the laws of the State Provided That in no instance shall the disposition of said commercial feed be ordered by the court without first giving the claimant an opportunity to apply to the court for release of said commercial feed to bring it into compliance with this act

Section 11 Penalties Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act or any regulation or order made pursuant to this act shall for the first or second offense upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50-.00) nor more than one hundred dollars ($100.00) and costs of prosecution and in default of payment of such fine and costs shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for not more than thtirty (30) days and for a third or subsequent offense if three offenses including the last offense are committed within one year shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five hundred dollars ($500.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one (1) year or both in the discretion of the court

Section 12 Publications The Secretary of Agriculture shall publish annually in such forms as he may deem proper information concerning the sales of commercial feeds together with such data on their production and use as he may consider advisable and a report of the results of the analyses of official samples of commercial feeds sold within the Commonwealth as compared with the analyses guaranteed in the registration and on the label Provided however That the information concerning production and use of commercial feeds shall not disclose the operations of any person

Section 13 Repealer The act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred nine (P. L. 395) entitled "An act regulating the sale of concentrated commercial feeding-stuffs also of condimental stock and poultry-food and patented proprietary or trade-mark stock and poultry-food possessing nutritive value combined with medicinal properties defining concentrated commercial feeding-stuffs prohibiting the adulteration of any feeding-stuffs sold offered or exposed for sale in this State with oat hulls ground corn cobs flax plant refuse elevator chaff cotton-seed hulls ground corn stalks rice hulls peanut hulls weed seeds or other similar adulterants providing for the collection of samples and analysis thereof by the Department of Agriculture and the publication of information concerning the same providing also for the expenses of the enforcement of the law fixing penalties for its violation and repealing act number two hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one thousand nine hundred and seven page two hundred and seventy-three) entitled 'An act regulating the sale of wheat rye corn and buckwheat-bran and middlings or any admixture thereof' et cetera approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred and seven" is hereby repealed

Section 14 This act shall become effective the first day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-six

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1718 Printer's No. 1012 on page 14 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1718 as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number of compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" by making further provisions relating to a quorum and the duties of deputies of the State Athletic Commission

Section 1 Section four hundred twenty-seven of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 776) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 427 State Athletic Commission The State Athletic Commission shall consist of three members who shall be appointed for terms of two years and the Secretary of Revenue ex officio

Each member of the commission except the Secretary of Revenue and the chairman shall receive a salary of seven thousand dollars per annum and the chairman shall receive a salary of seven thousand five hundred dollars per annum

Two members of the commission shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of at least two members of the commission shall be necessary to render valid action by the commission except as otherwise provided by law

The commission may appoint such number of deputies as shall be approved by the Executive Board whose compensation shall be fixed by the commission with the approval of the Governor who shall perform such duties and exercise such authority as shall be assigned and delegated to them by the commission

The commission may with the approval of the Secretary of Revenue appoint a secretary who shall receive a salary to be fixed by the commission with the approval of the Governor

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if I can interrogate one of the sponsors of this bill or anyone on the other side who knows something about it?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRANK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman tell me just what this bill attempts to accomplish?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, this act amends the code which the State Athletic Commission just recently had passed. It is a companion bill to the original boxing code which was just passed by the Senate and signed by the Governor. It gives power to the deputies to do whatever the Commission may give them authority to do, whatever the duties may be, whatever they may be assigned to do.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, how many deputies will there be under the provisions of this bill?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, I really do not know. I cannot answer that question.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, how many Commissioners are there?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, there are three boxing Commissioners.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how many boxing matches have been held in Pennsylvania since the new boxing code has been passed?

Mr. FRANK. Very few, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VARNER. Mr. Speaker, I am not entirely satisfied with the gentleman's explanation, but I would like to make this remark on the bill.

I have finished with the interrogation of Mr. Frank.

Mr. Speaker, I notice by today's paper, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette, that the Boxing Commission is now out looking for promoters and I think the code which was passed here to which this is an amendment, has just about put crooked boxing, as the Governor so often referred to it out of business in Pennsylvania. We are not going to have any kind of boxing under the code and I do not see any need for this bill.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Frank, concerning this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Frank, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FRANK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, this bill states that the Commissioners shall assign such duties to the deputies as they may deem proper in their discretion. What is the meaning and import of that phrase?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, according to the phraseology I would say in case they would assign these deputies to come into, let's say, Allegheny where there is a fight, it is up to them to see that everything is in order as far as the inspectors or the officials are concerned or whatever is connected with that particular boxing event.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not know that that is the law today?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, it always has been the law, but it gives them a little more power in case they may have to stop the fight or there is something crooked with the bout.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman state that the purpose of this bill is not to give the deputies such broad powers that the Commissioners themselves will have no work to do at all?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that. I do not know exactly how much work they do. I do not know how much was done in the prior years.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it possible under this bill that the entire duties of the Commission with all discretionary powers will be handled by deputies?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, they always have been handled by deputies.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it true under the present bill the deputies have all the discretionary power or only directory power?

Mr. FRANK. Mr. Speaker, I cannot answer that because I am not up on that.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, it seems to me that the net result of this bill will be that the duties of the Commissioners, who are receiving an ample salary for doing practically no work at all will devolve upon political appointees throughout the state who will have the responsibility without the title. Under this bill were there an important match in Philadelphia or an important match in the city of Pittsburgh the entire discretion as to the operation of the fight would be in the hands of the deputy.

I feel this bill is entirely unnecessary. The limited powers of the deputy should be continued as of today, and the Commissioners who are getting ample salary should be on the job and do it whenever they are called upon.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, while listening to the remarks by our learned colleague from Allegheny County, I had an opportunity to interrogate my worthy colleague who sits alongside of me to the rigth, the Honorable Albert Leven, who years ago was a deputy boxing commissioner. He informed me that the deputy boxing commissioner has a lot of duties to perform. As a matter of fact, he says on a big fight they may have as many as three or four or five, deputy boxing commissioners attend. One is up front to see that the bout is conducted in an orderly manner, and some of them may be posted in various portions of the place where the boxing match is held to see to it that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is amply protected with regard to admissions and things of that nature.

In view of the experience of our learned friend, I think everybody in the House should vote for this bill because it seems to me these men have very important duties to perform.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I think I should get in this battle too.

The bill before us is absurdly simple in its composition. On page 4 the only amendments made are amendments to the Administrative Code of 1929, as amended in 1949.

As Mr. Frank has stated, it is a companion bill to the boxing code which was passed earlier this session. The only important change I can see in this bill is on page 4, line 11, where the words are added to the present law about the commission appointing such number of deputies as shall be approved by the executive board. That has been the law. These deputies are then given crtain powers in these words "who shall perform such duties and exercise such authority as shall be assigned and delegated to them by the commission."

If the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Goldstein, wants this House to believe that the three commissioners who have been appointed to this Athletic Commission are not going to do any work, but assign all of their duties to somebody else, then I think he does not understand the pride that a man takes in a position of that kind. Certainly there are many duties which no commission of three could possibly perform, and those are the duties they will assign. I think we can assume that the three good Commissioners whoever they are, will retain the work for themselves which they rightfully know should be done by them and not by any deputy.

I think we are boxing with shadows here and talking about a lot of things which will never happen. This bill should be passed.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the amiable Majority Leader I would like to say that I am familiar with boxing. I believe I have covered more boxing bouts than Mr. Readinger did in his time. I know that the deputy commissioners have certain duties to perform, but I know that today there is no need for these deputy commissioners, we have no fights today and we are not going to have any.

I still insist that a bill now in Committee whereby the boxing commission should be eliminated is the answer to this and that is the reason I do not want this to be overloaded with deputies who are nothing but political appointees. They were political appointees under the Republican administration, and the Democrats are trying to continue the same thing. Because we were wrong in our administration is no reason why you should give additional powers to these deputies under your administration.

Mr. VAUGHAN. Mr. Speaker, I suggest that we quit the shadow boxing, ring the bell and let's get on with this fight.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1794 Printer's No. 998 on page 21 of today's calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1794 as follows:

An Act amending the act of September 26 1951 (P. L. 1536) entitled "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of commercial boarding homes for the aged conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare imposing license fees and providing penalties" further providing for refusal to grant refusal to renew and revocation of licenses changing definition of commercial boarding homes and changing license fees and penalty provisions

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Clause (a) of section 2 and sections 4 7 and 8 act of September 26 1951 (P. L. 1536) entitled "An act providing for the licensure and regulation of commercial boarding homes for the aged conferring certain powers and duties upon the Department of Welfare imposing license fees and providing penalties" are amended to read

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act

(a) "Commercial boarding home for the aged" shall mean any [institution however named which is operated for profit and advertised announced or maintained for the express or implied purpose of providing service or domiciliary care for three or more elderly people who are not ill or in need of nursing care] domiciliary facility not a medical care facility operated for profit and advertised announced or maintained for the purpose of providing lodging board and a minimum of personal services to normally healthy persons capable of self-care and whose immediate need is not supervision or medical care within the home in case of illness it may or may not provide incidental temporary limited medical home care such as an individual might receive in his own home

Section 4 Any person or any or all officers or partners of any partnership association or corporation maintaining or operating for profit within this Commonwealth a commercial boarding home for the aged without a license required by this act shall [be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars ($1000) or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding one year or both] upon conviction thereof in a summary proceeding be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300) and costs of prosecution and in default of the payment thereof to undergo imprisonment for not less than ten days nor more than thirty days Each day of maintaining or operating a commercial boarding home for the aged with out a license required by this act shall constitute a separate and distinct offense in violation in the terms of this act

No person who because of inability to satisfy the character requirements deemed necessary by the department has been refused a license shall thereafter be in any way connected with any commercial boarding home for the aged licensed pursuant to the provisions of this act

Section 7 Whenever the Department of Welfare shall upon inspection investigation or sworn complaint learn of any violation of rules or regulations adopted by the department or any failure to establish provide or maintain standards and facilities required by the department it shall give written notice thereof to the offending licensee [The department may revoke the license of said license if such violations do not case or such standards and facilities are not established or brought in conformity with those prescribed by the department two months after such written notice] The department shall refuse to grant refuse to renew or revoke a license of any applicant or licensee whether originally granted under this act or any other act for the following reasons

1 Violation of or non-compliance with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations pursuant thereto

2 The practice of any fraud or deceit in obtaining or attempting to obtain a license

3 Gross incompetency negligence or misconduct in the carrying on of the business

4 Loaning borrowing or using a license of another or knowingly aiding or abetting in any way the granting of improper licenses

5 The use of misleading advertising

6 Soliciting patronage other than by legitimate advertising

Section 8 The Department of Welfare shall when satisfied that the applicant or applicants for such license are proper and responsible persons that the place sought to be used as a commercial boarding home for the aged is a suitable place for such purpose and is properly equipped therefor and when all the requirements of this act and the rules and regulations of the department have been complied with issue a license to the applicant upon the payment of a license fee [of ten dollars ($10.00) which shall be paid] as follows Under twenty-five (25) beds ten dollars ($10) twenty-five (25) beds or over twenty-five dollars ($25) into the State Treasury through the Department of Revenue

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, before voting on this bill I would like to interrogate the sponsor or the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kamyk, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KAMYK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, this act amends the Act regulating and licensing of commercial boarding homes for the aged.

Section 4 of this bill amends the provisions that provide in effect that anyone within the Commonwealth operating a commercial home for the aged without a license be sentenced to serve one year imprisonment or up to a thousand dollars fine or both. The present amendment to this section makes it merely a summary offense and provides for a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than three hundred dollars, or in defaut of the payment of the fine a sentence of not less than 10 days nor more than 30.

Now, I would like to know what is the reason for this particular amendment.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, this is a departmental bill. It came from the Department of Welfare. This Act was passed in 1951 and during this time probably certain things happened where the Department saw fit to make the changes.

For instance, when a law is broken because somebody is operating one of these homes and does not have a license, he may be doing it in a small way and he may be doing it in a big way. So this bill gives a lot of territory to cover because each day that a person or corporation operates such a home without a license, is considered a separate offense. However, I believe that under this provision a person can be fined $25, not less than $25 and not more than $300 for each separate offense. In other words, if he makes a lot of money illegally, that can be taken away from him because he has broken the law, because he did not operate with a license.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, Section 7 of this bill provides that in the event of a violation of the provisions a license shall be revoked or not issued for the following reasons number three of which is: "gross imcompetency, negligence or misconduct in the operating of the business." Now, I am wondering whether or not they are sufficiently defined standards?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman wonders what?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering whether subsection 3 of Section 7 of this Act is sufficiently defined. In other words, is that clear enough to the operators of the homes? Is there any definition as to just what "gross incompetency," or "negligence" or "mismanagement" is?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I think that it is sufficiently defined. However, if the appliance of this definition might be disagreeable to somebody who is found incompetent through negligence or misconduct, then it would be up to the courts to decide as to what constitute "gross negligence" or "misconduct" I think.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, it is not up to the courts to define it. It is up to the Department of Welfare. This bill is giving the Department of Welfare the power to revoke a present license or the power to refuse to issue a license, or to reinstate a license.

Mr. KAMYK. That is true, Mr. Speaker, but I believe the courts will have the final say.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, subsection 5 of Section 7 of this Act provides that the license shall be revoked of any person who, in effect, uses misleading advertising. Now is there any definition in the Act as to just what "misleading advertising" is?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe there is. If it is misleading advertising, then it is wrong. If you advertise something else than what you offer, then you are wrong, so that is misleading advertising.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, one more question. Subsection 6, I believe of Section 7, also provides that a license shall be refused or revoked where a person solicits patronage by "illegitimate advertising." Now, nowhere in the bill is there any definition as to what "illegitimate advertising" or "legitimate advertising" is. I think perhaps, that could be more clearly defined. Could the gentleman give me any help on that?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, it is just what it says. "Soliciting patronage other than by legitimate advertising."

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, the bill does not state what is "legitimate" and what is "illegitimate" advertising. Is that correct? There is no definition in there?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, the bill doesn't say it, but if it is illegitimate advertising, then he would have his license revoked.

Mr. McCORMACK. May I ask one more question, Mr. Speaker? Did the Department of Welfare send over a memorandum with this bill?

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, I didn't see any memorandum.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, because of the fact that a bill comes over from the Department of Welfare or any other department, I don't think we can vote on it unless there is some explanation of it. This bill I think, is very poorly drawin and I think unless somebody explains it satisfactorily to me, I am going to have to vote against it in its present form.

Mr. STROUP. Mr. Speaker. I don't want to unduly prolong the debate on this question, but I would like to direct the attention of the Members of the House to the definition as it has been changed and amended by this bill. Rather than now having a "home for the aged" you have included all boarding and lodging homes for normally healthy persons. This bill can reach into every lodging and boarding house in the Commonwealth and bring it under its entire scope. I think that should definitely be brought into our consideration. It is no longer just a home for the aged; it is all boarding and lodging houses providing homes throughout the Commonwealth.

Mr. KAMYK. Mr. Speaker, in reference to the last remark, the definition is changed for the sole purpose to distinguish between a commercial boarding home for the aged and something that might be a hospital. For instance, the definition reads in this manner: "domiciliary facility not medical-care facility, operated for profit and advertised." I don't think I have to go any further. To be such a home it will have to be advertised and operated for profit, so that does not take in everything.

Personally I think it is a good bill for this reason. In 1951 we passed the original bill on the subject and since that time the Department of Welfare had a chance to study the whole situation and I think all the amendments in the present bill were sufficiently studied and I think the Act itself will be improved. For that reason, not to take any more time of the House, I ask the ladies and gentlemen of the House to vote for this bill.

Mr. STROUP. I think you will find that this act is inconsistent in so far as its heading is concerned, in relation to the definition. There is absolutely no question but what it throws itself widely open under its definition now as a domiciliary facility, not as a medical-care facility, operated for profit, and advertised or maintained for normal healthy persons. There is no question but what it reaches into all types of lodging and boarding homes.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, all other bills on today's calendar will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, more than a week ago every Member of this House received a letter urging them to be present today and tomorrow for two full working days. We stated in that letter that there were approximately sixty bills on the calendar which should be attended to, and I am rather proud of the attendance we had today.

I do want the Membership to know, and I hope the absentees may read it in the newspapers, that we are going to call the roll tomorrow, we are going to bring up controversial bills and whatever happens to them, happens to them. If some of them go down which are important to my side of the House, those who are absent without leave can bear the blame for its happening.

I hope all of you who are here today, will be back tomorrow and I certainly hope that some of the absentees who saw fit not to come today will see fit to be here tomorrow.

Session 1955. 141st of the General Assembly.

Vol. 34. HARRISBURG, PA., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1955. No. 102.

SENATE

FRIDAY, October 14, 1955.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock, a. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain, the following prayer was offered by the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. KESSLER:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for this privilege of getting together here again today to transact the business of the Commonwealth. We want to do the right thing, but we often stumble. We know Thy laws are inflexible and as we continually try to apply them, help us in our deliberations today that we may do the right thing. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WADE and Mr. DIEHM, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

NOMINATION BY THE GOVERNOR REFERRED TO COMMITTEE

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The Motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 2:31 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time, until Monday, October 24, 1955, at 2:30 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

FRIDAY, October 14, 1955

The House met at 10:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER (Hiram G. Andrews) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Reverend Harold J. Crouse, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, York, offered the following prayer:

O God we pause to thank Thee for the lavish way in which Thou hast provided for us:

For the beauty of life that lies around our feet; for the sun rises and sun sets beneath a tabernacle of golden and purple clouds: for the fragrance of the rose: for the bloom of the wayside flowers and the glory of an autumnal panorama:

For the fertility of the soil that more than enough satisfies the hunger of men and women:

Forgive us for being so blind that we did not take time to feast on the wonders of Thy creation. That many times the unloveliness of our words and deeds only reflected the moods of our own little life so void of wonder and beauty.

Forgive us for our selfish greed that desires to have more than enough while others go hungry and grow quite bitter and chilled of spirit.

Lord, teach us anew to see the wonders of Thy beauty: to be liberal in our sharing and to be thankful for all things in all seasons. Amen.

JOURNALS APPROVED

The SPEAKER. Are there any corrections to the Journal of Monday, September 26, 1955? If not. and without objection, the Journal is approved.

JOURNAL APPROVAL POSTPONED

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection, the approval of the Journal for Thursday, October 13, 1955, will be postponed until printed. The Chair hears none.

ABSENTEE EMPLOYES

The SPEAKER. The Chair would request the Sergeant-at-Arms or the Chief Clerk to ascertain the names of any House employes who are absent without leave and to report those names to the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. DAVIS. (Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 117.

In the House of Representatives, October 13, 1955.

There are times when the ordinary channels of State Government become clogged, when voices from the countryside remain inaudible to the central agencies of government; especially the voices from distant, sparsely settled communities.

But the legislative branch of the Commonwealth, the sounding board for the wishes of the people, can upon occasion well serve this function by bringing to the attention of departments of the executive branch problems seemingly lost sight of.

Such a problem apparently exists in the conspicuously dilapidated condition as well as the out-moded, narrow beam-measurements of the State bridge spanning the Allegheny River on Pennsylvania State Highway Route 62 at Tionesta, Pennsylvania.

This bridge, on a heavily travelled main-highway, is regarded, with probably little short of unanimity by all who use it, as an increasingly dangerous hazard to the motoring public. Accidents and fatalities directly attributable to so little space for vehicular passings have occurred within the recent past.

Moreover, with increasing traffic at all hours of the night, the noise of motor cars and heavy trucks speeding across more than five hundred feet of loose, vibrating floor-boards has become a public nuisance to the inhabitants of the Borough of Tionesta and a nervous deterrent to the health of the aged and ailing; therefore be it

Resolved (The Senate concurring), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania urge the Secretary of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, without further delay, to replace the dangerous and obsolete bridge crossing the Allegheny River on Pennsylvania Highway Route No. 62 at Tionesta, by a new structure designed to meet prospective traffic loads and equal to modern standards of highway safety and vehicular-flow efficiency; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Highways.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. YETTER. RESOLUTION No. 118.

In the House of Representatives, October 13, 1955.

A number of apparent irregularities exist in the Department of Health which require correction or adjustment.

There appears to be no definite program on the subject of polio, its prevention and treatment. Conflicting information with reference thereto comes from agencies of the department.

It is apparent that the State law governing the filling of vacancies in the department is being ignored.

Apparently the department has not been run economically; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Department of Health, on or before December 1, 1955, inform the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation of the House of Representatives on the following:

1. What program the department has adopted, if any, on the prevention and treatment of polio, and if the department has no fixed program, the reason for not having one.

2. A list of all appointments made to positions in the department showing in each case how the law has been complied with, if it has been complied with.

3. An itemized breakdown of all expenditures made to date since the first day of June 1955, and an itemized statement in the nature of a performance or program budget showing in detail the purposes for which all moneys requested for the balance of the current biennium will be spent and the amount allocated to each purpose.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE WITHDRAWN

Mr. LAWYER. Being of a very strong constitution, Mr. Speaker, I would like to retract the leave of absence requested for me yesterday and ask that I be marked present.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman, and the leave of absence is withdrawn.

MORNINGSIDE SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of students from the Morningside School of Allegheny County who are here under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Schreiver. They are the guests of the gentlemen from Allegheny, Messrs. Sarraf and Leonard.

CALL OF THE HOUSE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Berks suggests the absence of a quorum. The Sergeant-at-Arms will close the doors of the House. Members and Officers of the House will be admitted. None others will be permitted to enter. Members of the House are not privileged to leave the Hall of the House during the calling of the roll.

Mr. MUSTO. I ask permission of the Speaker to allow Repesentatives on the outside of the Hall of the House using the telephone to enter the Hall of the House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has announced that the Sergeant-at-Arms will admit Members and Officers of the House, but the Sergeant-at-Arms will not admit anyone not a Member or not an Officer of the House.

Does that satisfy the gentleman from Luzerne? That is the customary procedure, the Chair might say, — — — not only the customary procedure but as the Parliamentarian reminds me, it is the Rule.

The Clerk will call the roll slowly and distinctly and Members will please answer to their names. The Clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called and was as follows:

(Following the calling of the quorum and before the result was announced)

Dr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I want to make a statement in reference to — — —

The SPEAKER. After the announcement of the result of the quorum call, the gentleman's statement will be in order. The Chair will recognize the gentleman at that time.

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like leave of absence for Mr. Eilberg. There is information that was just given to me — — —

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that this House cannot grant leaves of absence until the fact that a quorum is present has been offically established. After a quorum has been offically confirmed, then further business will be in order, but at the present time there is no business before the House except the establishment of a quorum which entitles us to act.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that further proceedings under the call be dispensed with.

The motion was agreed to.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. KOLANKIEWICZ. Mr. Speaker, I have just been informed by Mr. Branca, who came up from Philadelphia this morning, that he called Mr. Joshua Eilberg to accompany him back to today's session. He was informed that Mr. Eilberg is sick in bed.

The SPEAKER. Without objection leave is granted. The Chair hears none.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair at this time desires once again to read Rule 71.

First of all, a quorum call is in order at any time. A quorum call is not an expedient that can be used simply at the beginning of a session, a quorum call is an expedient that can be used at any time during a session.

Rule 71 reads:

> "Every Member shall be pesent within the Hall of the House during its sittings, unless excused by the House . . . . "

Temporary absences due to the calls of nature are of course excepted, but Members are not privileged to leave and are subject to recall by this House if, while the House is in session, they absent themselves for the purpose of attending to business of personal concern.

That is a rule that is frequently broken. The Chair concludes by saying that when Members are scattered around the Hill it is the privilege of the House to have a quorum call and delay proceedings until those Members who are here in Harrisburg once again return to the Hall of the House.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. READINGER. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, is it in order now to suggest the presence in the House at this time of Representative Yetzer of Berks County, who was not here on the call of the roll?

The SPEAKER. Any Member who came into the Hall of the House will be marked present. The Chair will repeat for the benefit of the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Royer, any gentleman who comes into the Hall of the House will be marked on the roll by notifying the Chief Clerk.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 121, FROM GOVERNOR

Commonwealth of Pennsylvanna,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, October 7, 1955.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed House Concurrent Resolution recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 121, Printer's No. 856, for the purpose of amendment.

Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication from the Governor together with the bill be laid on the table.

The motion was agreed to.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEES TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. AMARANDO asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Motor Vehicles to meet during the session of the House.

Mr. POLASKI asked and obtained permission for the Committee on State Government to meet during the session of the House.

NITSCHMANN JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes to the Hall of the House a delegation of ninth grade students from the Nitschmann Junior High School of Northampton County who are here under the supervision of their principal, Mr. M. W. Brown. They are the guests of Mrs. Reibman and Messrs. Bucchin, Gaffney and Pacchioli.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WATERHOUSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in this political world of ours there is an old adage that to the victor goes the spoils. I think we all recognize that, but when the victor imposes undue hardships, we might say, or deprives the Commonwealth and the citizens of the Commonwealth then I believe it is something that should be taken up by the Members of the House who represent all the people.

On May 26th I made a statement that I was of the opinion that the Fish Commission was going to become entirely political and if that happened it was going to be a dark day for the sportsmen.

That has happened. It is not only a dark day for the sportsmen, but it is a dark day for everyone living within this area that I will speak about.

In 1947 we had a flood, it was not as disastrous as the one in the east, but it was very severe in our section and it washed a dam out that impounded the waters of a 100 acre lake known as Columbus Dam. This was a very fine fishing area, there was a lot of swimming done there, and boating, and it was the only spot for the people within an area of 15 to 20 miles to swim.

So we proceeded with an authority with the idea in mind that we could rebuild this dam, but we found that it was going to take from about $30 or $40 thousand of funds which were not available. So we prevailed upon the Fish Commission to do something about rebuilding this recreational spot, which they finally agreed to do, and $40 thousand was set aside for this purpose.

Then in May I saw where we were going to have a new commission, the statement was made as to how they would vote, and so on and so forth. They moved far enough on this project that they were asking for bids and the equipment was supposed to have been in in a week. The new commission immediately asked for the papers on the project. They held a meeting and said they were going to study it further.

Within the last week they have said that they are definitely going to abandon the project. They have taken $15 thousand from the 40 and spent that on a stream improvement project in some other county, and they are going to take the other $25 thousand and spread that out to make ponds or lakes in some of the areas they think will be politically advantageous.

I am going to follow this statement, Mr. Speaker, with a formal resolution of inquiry. I hope it can be brought to the floor of the House and I hope we can have a study made and get a good, sincere answer to show cause why this dam should not be built.

Incidentally, Mr. Speaker, this dam is in a Democratic community.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

By unanimous consent leave of absence was granted as follows:

Mr. Kolankiewicz for Mrs. VARALLO for today's session because of illness.

Section 14 This act shall take effect in thirty days except that all reference to provisions relating to discrimination on account of age shall not become effective until July 1 1956

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say a few words in connection with this conference report urging the membership of the House to concur and support the recommendations which were made.

In the first place, let me say that the members of the Committee on Conference gave this matter the most serious consideration. They met on the 27th of September in the room behind the Senate Chamber and all six Members participated. The conference lasted approximately an hour and a half.

Let me say there were five areas of special concern which were considered by the Committee. I can also say that every Member of the Committee participated in the conference very seriously, because this is a bill in which both parties were extremely interested and which is extremely important to the people of Pennsylvania.

On the question of age, the Conference Committee discussed it for approximately one hour. Every conceivable feature, every conceivable proposition which could be presented I believe was presented and seriously discussed and the age proposition was not changed. The amendment which was put in by the Senate was permitted to remain after it was felt that nothing could be done to make the change suitable to the entire Assembly so that this bill would be passed at this particular time.

Bear in mind that I believe both sides were extremely anxious to have a bill passed and at the same time were extremely anxious to present a report without undue delay.

The next area of discussion concerned the question of how many employers would be covered by this bill. As the amendment read, 25 employes was the amount covered. The controversy was such that any number of changes were submitted. I believe this particular feature also was considered at considerable length and the final decision to reduce it to twelve represented a compromise in the best interests of the entire matter, although considerable and strenuous efforts were made to reduce the number of employes involved so that the greatest number of employers would be covered. However, twelve represented a compromise.

The next three points of real importance were adjusted by the cooperation of the entire group of conferees. The matter of the adjustment of the filing of a complaint, which was amended by the Senate to 60 days and originally fixed as six months, was settled at 90 days.

The matter of having the district councils in the various portions of the state supplied with technical and clerical help was also adjusted so that they will have clerical help even though the council members served without compensation.

Finally, the definition of the word "non-partisan," so that the confusion which resulted from the language in the original amendment concerning the number that were supposed to be appointed by the Governor and those who were to belong to one party or another, was also adjusted and satisfactorily considered.

Let me say that this is the best possible bill the Conference Committee could have presented. This I would say is my own opinion, and I can say I believe on behalf of our colleague, Mr. Moran, that it is the best bill we could get as far as our side was concerned which could be presented to the people and which would be passed by the Assembly.

I also say that after the conference report was signed on the same day by unanimous consent and we had an opportunity to go back home we were pleased to learn that the Conference Committee report met with support from the civic groups, the religious groups, the industrial groups and the labor groups. In fact, I would like to quote from one letter which was sent to all Members of the House from which the general consensus and the general attitude of the public can be summed up.

The language of the second paragraph of the letter issued by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor was:

> "There may be those who wanted more (we, among them) and others who wanted less. However, the Joint Conference Committee has introduced in the best American tradition a compromise reconciling divergent views which reflects a most sincere effort by the conferees."

I heartily endorse the view which is presented by the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.

I also would like to quote another paragraph which says:

> The ultimate pasage of this legislation can serve to demonstrate to the people of this Commonwealth in particular, and the people of this country and the world over in general, that Pennsylvania means to end discrimination as a practice and a policy in the economic life of our Commonwealth.

I believe, as far as I was concerned, I tackled this meeting and this conference with all the energy which existed in me as a practicing lawyer if I had a case of the greatest importance. I can also say that our collegue, Mr. Moran, and our colleague on the Committee from the Republican side, the Minority Leader, were extremely cooperative and presented every favorable suggestion toward the completion of the report on the afternoon on which it was discussed.

I sincerely urge you to accept this report in the manner in which it was drawn and concluded by the conferees and to support its recommendation.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee on Conference?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, because of the fact that we are meeting over the noon hour, many of the Members have inquired as to whther they might have a few minutes to go to lunch.

I would like to advise the membership now that the procedure which will be followed for the next 15 or 20 minutes will relate only to concurrences or non-concurrences in House and Senate bills, also, I believe Mr. McCormack has asked recognition for a few minutes to make a brief address, so that if anyone wants to go out for the next 15 minutes and eat he will not miss much.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recommends that the Majority Leader bid a considerable number of his departing Members goodbye.

Of course, immediately when the House gets back to serious business it is quite possible to have another quorum call.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. McCORMACK asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, preliminary to my address I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Conservation and Wild Life Committee of the House, if he is in the House.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Breth, Chairman of the Conservation and Wild Life Committee, consent to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I would like at least a minute to confer with the gentleman before being interrogated.

Mr. McCORMACK. Very well, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman assumes a lawyer's privilege and desires a side bar conference before—

Mr. BRETH. I beg your pardon, Mr. Speaker. I will add to the confusion and withdraw my request.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I will then ask Representative Breth whether or not he recalls that on September 19th on the floor of this House at a side bar conference between him and me I informed the gentleman that a situation had developed in Clinton County with respect to the County Treasurer there, who made a ruling prior to the actual date of the issuance of antlerless deer permits that non-residents of that particular county would not be issued the permits? Does the gentleman recall that conversation?

Mr. BRETH. I recall the general trend of the conversation, yes.

Mr. McCORMACK. And does the gentleman recall, Mr. Speaker, my further inquiring of him as to just what I should do, and his answer was to me, in effect, that it was a violation of the law for the County Treasurer of that county or any other county to refuse to issue a permit on that basis, he had no right to do it, and as a matter of fact it was a crime. Does the gentleman recall that?

Mr. BRETH. I recall something about that. However, I do not believe I was competent enough to judge whether or not a crime had been committed. I think the gentleman was the one to suggest it. Being a well-informed and experienced Philadelphia lawyer, he would know about those things.

Mr. McCORMACK. I will ask the gentleman further, Mr. Speaker, whether or not he told me it was not only a crime, but that the person from Philadelphia should go up to the County Teasurer on the day the permits were issued, present his properly executed application and his 1955 hunters' license and demand a permit from the County Treasurer, and that he should have somebody there behind him as a witness. Does the gentleman recall that?

Mr. BRETH. I do not recall all of those things, no, Mr. Speaker. In fact, maybe it is a play upon words.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman does not deny then that — — —

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I do not think I informed the gentleman that it was a crime. Maybe I said it would be a crime for the man not to get his license if he appeared in that manner.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would ask the gentleman further if in 1955 we have an antlerless deer season in Pennsylvania?

Mr. BRETH. We do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. And how are the permits issued, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BRETH. Mr. Speaker, I believe if the gentleman will bear with me, I can—I think I understand what he is getting at.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I will ask one thing more. Does the gentleman have a copy of the letter which I sent out to the County Treasurer of Clinton County?

Mr. BRETH. I don't have it, but I read it, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. The gentleman did read it, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. BRETH. I did, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Then I am finished interrogating.

Mr. Speaker, I would now ask to make a brief statement.

Being from Philadelphia County, prior to this occurrence I knew very little, if anything, about the regulations pertaining to the issuance of hunting licenses and antlerless deer permits. but on September 19th it was brought to my attention by a constituent of mine, who owns property up in Clinton County, who is a resident of Philadelphia, a citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and who has a 1955 hunting license, that the County Treasurer of Clinton County made a ruling that non-residents of Clinton County would not be issued permits. I then came to this House on September 19th and conferred with Mr. Breth, the conversation was developed in this interrogation.

After that I wrote a letter to this constituent of mine and told him to take that letter to the County Treasurer on the day that the doe permits were issued. The gentleman went to considerable time and trouble to appear in Clinton County on the particular day, and he was denied a permit on the sole basis that he was not a resident of Clinton County.

Unquestionably, what he did is a denial of the equal protection of the laws for citizens. He had no basis in law or in fact to deny it. I therefore wrote a letter to the County Treasurer, and I would like to read that letter into the record at this time and let my case rest with the Members of the House.

I might add that a copy of this letter was sent to Dr. Logan J. Bennet, Executive Director of the Game Commission, Representative Harris G. Breth and the Honorable Henry B. Leader. The letter was sent on October 2nd, and to this day I have had no response from anyone. The letter is as follows:

"Re: Anthony Mazzocca, 3445 North 10th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

"Richard K. Sweeley, County Treasurer, Clinton County, Lock Haven, Pa.

Dear Sir: It has come to my attention that on Monday, September 26, 1955, you refused to issue an antlerless deer permit to Mr. Mazzocca, a constituent of mine, when he personally appeared at your office with his 1955 resident Pennsylvania hunting license, proper identification and a completed application for said permit. Mr. Mazzocca informed me that the sole basis for your refusal was that he was not a resident of Clinton County.

Anticipating your refusal, Mr. Mazzocca asked me for a letter stating that it would be a violation of the law for you to issue permits on any other than a first come-first served basis, everything being equal. Mr. Mazzocca informed me that he presented this letter to you when you singled non-residents of Clinton out of line on September 26 and informed them that you were not issuing permits to them, but that you disregarded the contents of same and informed him that you had been to Harrisburg and while there were given assurance that you could, in effect, discriminate. I would be interested in ascertaining who in Harrisburg gave you such assurance.

I should like to point out to you that in order to appear personally at your office last Monday, Mr. Mazzocca travelled over 240 miles and lost a day's wages doing so. Mr. Mazzocca is a joint owner of a hunting lodge in Tamarack, Clinton County, and has been hunting for 8 years there. Also, he is a member of Western Clinton Sportsman's Association. I suppose it little matters that each season he supplies 70 bushels of corn for the game or that his lodge purchased and planted on their land in Clinton 24 chestnut trees for the turkeys, or that he and his four lodge brothers from Philadelphia have held Christmas parties for the poor children in Clinton County.

Frankly, I am at a loss to understand how you interpret the law to permit you to discriminate between citizens of this Comonwealth. I am not aware of any provision in our game laws which gives you such a right. Unless I hear from you to the contrary within one week from the date of receipt of this letter, I shall assume that you acted in violation of the law.

This arrogation of powers is intolerable and I do not intend to let the matter rest. It is certainly not only a violation of the letter and spirit of the law and unsportsmanlike conduct on your part but also pretty shabby treatment of a fellow citizen and resident of this Commonwealth.

As a consequence of your actions, I intend, within the next two weeks, to denounce and expose them on the floor of the House of Representatives and ask the House to investigate this whole matter. Furthermore, I intend to present this as evidence to the Secretary of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Game Commission and demand from them that the Department of Revenue recall your appointment because you have not complied with the requirements of the law in issuing permits."

"Very truly yours, Thomas J. McCormack."

The SPEAKER. The Chair requests the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent, to preside temporarily.

Mr. KENT in the Chair.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, for the information of Mr. McCormack, I do not know whether he was present yesterday when I addressed the House regarding this doe season and the inequities that lie in this particular piece of legislation.

I stated yesterday that I would make an attempt to rectify the mistakes, and as a result today I introduced into the House of Representatives a bill amending the Act of June 3, 1937, which reverts back to the old law whereby any hunter may purchase a doe license in his own county and he would have the right to hunt in any county that he sees fit.

This bill was just introduced today, and I hope with the cooperation of the Committee on Conservation and Wild Life we get this bill out with dispatch, and we will find that we will have less trouble in the end.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEONARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I desire to get into the record a condition faced by citizens of Allegheny County who own property in Bedford County and pay taxes in Bedford County. They made application for doe license.

They were asked, "Are you voters?"

The answer came back, "No, but we are taxpayers in Bedford County."

"Only voters get licenses out of Bedford County," was the reply.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. BRETH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there has undoubtedly been created throughout the state considerable confusion in the issuing of these antlerless deer permits this year.

The basis for the confusion, of course, is in the fact that not enough permits were given as quotas to individual counties to supply the demand for those permits in those counties.

At a conference which was held last June at which the Attorney General's office was represented, the Pennsylvania Game Commission was represented by its Executive Director and a couple of Members—the House was represented by Mr. Banker and myself. The Senate was invited to be represented. The officials within the Game Commission who were supposed to know the most about the deer situation in Pennsylvania were also present at that conference.

During the conference the situation was discussed as to how many antlerless deer permits should be issued and where they should be issued. The Game Commission officials, the management officials, who were supposed to know most about the deer situation, said that in about a dozen counties stretching through the central part of Pennsylvania, ranging from the northern counties, Potter,

Clinton, Clearfield and Centre, straight down to the Maryland line, there were about a dozen counties which did not need nor require a doe season this year.

The number of permits to be issued was discussed and the consensus was that if the Game Commission issued 300,000 or more antlerless deer permits in the counties they would open and still keep these other counties closed, there would be little or no confusion among sportsmen in acquiring the necessary special permit.

I left that conference with Mr. Banker and others fully believing that if and when the Game Commission did declare a doe season, the counties within the central part of the state, a dozen or more would be kept closed.

The reason we were delighted that the Game Commission had in prospect to keep those counties closed was because two years ago during the last special antlerless deer season there was extreme confusion all over the state, when the Game Commission saw fit to issue only 103,000 special permits. There was confusion, considerable confusion, threats of lawsuits, and all sorts of things.

We were very much surprised, and I personally was astonished, when the Game Commission finally issued its ruling early in July and we saw that 66 out of the 67 counties had been opened for antlerless deer permits. I was actually—I don't have a word at hand, but I was more than astounded when I saw that some counties with high hunting pressure were getting as low as 2,000 antlerless deer permits. Blair County was one of them with only 2,200. There were other counties with permits on a quota which could only add to more confusion when the sportsmen tried to get them.

I present those facts to this House not in defense of the antlerless deer law as written today, but because of the fact that it is the administration of that law which is the basis of the confusion.

We have various bills introduced to do certain things, such as postponing doe seasons for three years, not permitting the Game Commission to have doe seasons in a county until a herd has had a chance to build up and we have other bills which have an effect on this problem. Representative Filo has told you that he is introducing a bill today designed to eliminate the confusion.

I have told various Members of the Game Commission, I have told sportsmen all over the State, that if sufficient licenses were issued in any single county to take care of the demands for that county, there would be no confusion. It does not need to be wide open, but if the law is properly administered by the Game Commission, and the Game Commission recognizes that they cannot issue a couple of hundred paltry licenses in a highly hunted county like Clinton County, or Potter County, or Monroe County, or various other counties where the hunters pour in, this confusion would not exist.

I also wish to say that I have no pride of sponsorship in any particular legislation having to do with this problem. I want to remind this House that that bill was passed in 1949. It was sponsored by Representative Goodling from York, and I co-sponsored it on this side of the House. It was a Republlican dominated committee, although it was practically a non-partisan committee, with very little argument in the Conservation Committee of the House. Representative Goodling sponsored that bill, and it was passed by a Republican House, passed by a Republican Senate, signed by a Republican Governor, and, of course, the votes on it were almost unanimous.

I say, Mr. Speaker, that it is a problem, but I do say that it appears to be more of an administrative problem in setting up the quotas for the various counties rather than the mechanics of the law itself.

However, as Chairman of my Committee I am only a servant of the House. If the House in its wisdom and experience wishes to change that law or any other law regarding hunting and fishing, I certainly would not be the one to stand in direct opposition to the change.

INTERROGATION

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. McCormack.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCormack, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McCORMACK. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask Mr. McCormack if the man from Philadelphia in whom he is interested knew the ruling before he came to Lock Haven to purchase his licens?

Mr. McCORMACK. Was he aware of the fact, Mr. Speaker, that the County Treasurer of Clinton County was going to refuse him a permit on the sole basis that he was a resident of Philadelphia and not a resident of Clinton County?

Mrs. DONAHUE. That is right, Mr. Speaker. Was he aware of it before he came to Clinton County?

Mr. McCORMACK. To get his permit, Mr. Speaker?

Mrs. DONAHUE. To get his permit, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. DONAHUE. I understand the way the law is today, Mr. Speaker, that the House would not have any jurisdiction over what our County Treasurer did, but the Game Commission has that ruling. Is that true?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, my understanding of the law—and I knew very little of it until I got into this—is that the County Treasurer in addition to his duties as County Treasurer, to which office he is elected, is in the issuance of these permits an agent of the Secretary of Revenue. He is the duly constituted agent of the Department of Revenue in the issuance of these permits, therefore, he is subject to the rulings of the Department of Revenue.

Mrs. DONAHUE. I was wondering, Mr. Speaker, if the Commission did not set up this ruling whereby we would only have 2,000 licenses in Clinton County and we sell close to 6,000. It would be an imposibility for all of the 6,000 to buy permits for the doe season.

I would like to state, Mr. Speaker, that we have had trouble in Clinton County in the selling of our doe licenses and Mr. Sweeley tried to appease the people of Clinton County who supported him in his election.

Mr. McCORMACK, do you known that Mr. Sweeley was trying his best to satisfy his own people as to the doe permits?

Mr. McCORMACK. Yes, Mr. Speaker, I certainly do know that he was trying to satisfy his own voters because there was a scarcity of doe permits, but I say further that in doing so he was acting unconstitutionally. He has no right under this law or any other law in this Commonwealth to discriminate between citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and residents of other counties within the Commonwealth than Clinton County. He has no right to do that.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, this is not anything for the Legislators to decide due to our present law, but it is up to the Commission. Is that right, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, is that question directed to me? If it is—

Mrs. DONAHUE. Mr. Speaker, under the present law.

Mr. McCORMACK. Under the Act of June 3, 1937, the Game Law, I understand the County Treasurers are designated as agents for the issuance of certain licenses—or, rather, the Department of Revenue, and under this Act the County Treasurer is made an agent for the issuance of the doe permits.

Therefore, the Game Commission and the Department of Revenue can recall his appointment if he acts negligently or violates the law as an agent for the Department of Revenue.

Mrs. DONAHUE. Did I understand, Mr. Speaker, that his treasureship could be recalled by the Department of Revenue when the Game Commission has given this permission to sell the doe permits?

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, he is an agent for the collection of the fees and the revenues. Therefore, he is subject to the Department of Revenue, and the Secretary of Revenue, if he violates the law, is directed in the law to recall his appointment, or the Game Commission can suggest to the Secretary of Revenue that he has violated the law. That is in the Act of 1937, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FILO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, if what I heard is true and correct, that a treasurer of that particular county has to appease his own people for his election, then I say the law is wrong. And I want to differ with Mr. Breth, it is not in the administration of the bill, the bill in itself is bad.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in our county some of the men and boys went into the mountains to get licenses. They were requested to go to the post office, make out a money order and send it over to the treasurer of that county and they would be issued a license. They had licenses there to issue. So they went over to the post office, took out the money order, sent it over to the treasurer of this particular county, and they received a letter about a week later stating there were no licenses available then, so they were refused a license.

Allow me a couple of seconds on the Game Commission. I think the Game Commission is really in a mess. Some of the boys are going to be hunting at nine o'clock and some of the boys are going to be hunting at ten o'clock, and then I understand the Game Commission is going to arrest all those who are hunting in violation of the game law. The game law tells you that you can hunt at nine o'clock Eastern Standard Time. I just talked to the Game Commission and they tell me that if they are in a community with Daylight Saving Time, they are O.K.; if they are not, they will be arrested. I think that is certainly a mess.

GEORGE M. LEADER.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 119.

House of Representatives,
October 14, 1955.

Whereas there appears to be confusion and misunderstanding in various quarters concerning the merit rating status, or lack of status, of various state employees functioning in the various services of the Department of Health, therefore be it

Resolved that a committee of five members of the House be appointed by the Speaker to make inquiry and report to the House:

1. Number of Department of Health employees who are covered by the so-called merit rating formula.
2. Number of Department of Health employees who had merit rating status prior to December 1 last.
3. Number of Department of Health employees who have been given merit rating status since December 1 last.
4. Number of Department of Health employees who have civil service status.
5. Number of Department of Health employees, if any, who have acquired civil service status since December 1, last.
6. Number of Department of Health employees who are not covered by the merit rating formula, or who have not acquired civil service status.
7. Formula of procedure used by advisory boards, or by Department of Health executives, in determining status of Department of Health employees in up-grading, down-grading, or discharging employees functioning in accordance with the so-called merit rating formula.
8. How many Department of Health employes, and in what branches of the service they are employed, who have been blanketed in under merit rating without ever having taken a qualifying examinaton.
9. And such other matters which may be brought to the attention of the committee and which should also be brought to the attention of the General Assembly.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. ANDREWS. RESOLUTION No. 120.

House of Representatives,
October 14, 1955.

Resolved that the Public Health and Sanitation Committee of this House be requested to obtain and report to the House at an early date, the following information:

1. Present status of the toxoid innoculation program in the various counties.
2. Number of first and second innoculations administered.
3. Age bracket of public and private school pupils to whom toxoid has been administered.
4. Number of pupils it is planned to innoculate during the current year.
5. Extent to which the innoculation program has been turned over in various counties to private practitioners operating on a fee basis.
6. Resume of agreements reached, if any, with various county medical society groups.
7. Such other information concerning the pending toxoid innoculation program properly of interest to Members of the General Assembly and the general public.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

THE SPEAKER. The Clerk will road the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 2, page 4, line 15, by striking out after the word "of" the word "eleven" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "twelve"; page 4, line 17, by striking out after the word "appointed" the word "jointly"; page 4, line 17, by striking out after the word "mayor" the words "and the president of the council"; page 4, line 19, by inserting after the word "commission" the following: "three for a term of one year three for a term of two years three for a term of three years and three for a term of four years thereafter all appointments shall be for a full term of four years"; page 5, line 4, by striking out after the word "than" the words "two-thirds" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "one-half"; page 8, line 8 by inserting after the word "filled" the following: "for the balance of the unexpired term"; page 8, line 3 by striking out after the part word "ing" the words "primary municipal or."

On the quetsion,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the House non-concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. We on this side of the House desire to concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate. I understood from the Majority Leader that the bill was to be debated from the other side of the House by Mr. Bazin and Mr. Toll.

Is there going to be any debate on the amendments, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question I would say that if no debate is necessary on this side there will be none. If the gentleman desires to raise some issues which should be answered, I am sure he will be answered.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we cannot resist it. I will debate the bill.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I would not want the Chair to think that I am asking them to debate the bill. I am simply saying if he does he will probably be answered from this side.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we on this side of the House certainly feel that the amendments that have been inserted in House Bill 1104, Printer's No. 1043, are fair amendments. I think that being criticized by Mayor Clark, or anyone else in Philadelphia, that we have been unfair is an unjust criticism.

In the first place Mayor Clark went into office on the basis of being a mayor on a non-partisan basis, he was elected mainly because independent Republicans supported him. There is no reason now, after Mayor Clark has been in office three years, why he should slap the independent Republican in the face. This bill, the way Mayor Clark sent it to this House to be passed, was sent on the basis that two-thirds of the members of the commission shall be registered electors enrolled in the same political party, which would mean as long as they were going to be appointed by the Mayor and by the President of Council that two-thirds would be Democrats.

I do not know why Mayor Clark or the Democrats of Philadelphia think that they have a 100 percent hold on good government. There are a lot of Republicans in Philadelphia who believe in good government. There are a lot of independent Republicans who believe in good government, and some of those independent Republicans are very friendly to Mayor Clark. There would be no reason in this wide world why he could not appoint six Democrats and six independent Republicans that would be favorable to him and favorable to seeing that Philadelphia got a good commission.

You know, Mr. Speaker, it seems peculiar that everybody hesitates about speaking on a bill such as this, but I certainly think I am more qualified than anybody on the other side of the House. I have voted for the city charter bills from beginning to end, before some of the Members who are now supporting it ever sat in this House, and I defy Mayor Clark or any Democrat in this House to point to one blemish on my voting record for the city charter or commission bill for the city of Philadelphia.

As I said to Representative Toll yesterday, if Mayor Clark is fearful that he cannot get Republicans who will see fit to give the people of Philadelphia good government, I will right now volunteer to serve on the commission as a Republican who can say, and whose record speaks for itself, that I have been 100 percent for good government for this commission and for the city charter. I do not have to say that, let them check the record. They know I supported it from the beginning. So let us throw that fear out the window. So immediately if he appoints six Democrats who feel the same way, he has a membership of seven to five, he does not have to worry about that. I think that is a fair proposition to make.

I think it is also fair, Mr. Speaker, to stagger the terms of the Members. They had a little sneaker in the bill that was brought to our attention where it says:

> "Any vacancy in the membership of the commission caused by death resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the appointing power who shall appoint as a member of the commission a registered elector enrolled in the same political party as the member whom such appointee shall succeed."

That meant one thing, if this commission exists just for a year, or if it exists for five years, regardless of who would be in power it would have a two-thirds Democratic control because of two-thirds Democrats on the commission. That is not good government, it is not fair government, let me say that to you, and it is not democracy, that is one of the main things.

We have been criticized for amending out of the original bill in the Senate the part which said the members shall be appointed jointly by the Mayor and the persident of the council within 30 days. Why do you suppose that was? I will tell you why it was. It was a sop to Bill Green, the president of council, so that both factions of the Democratic party in Philadelphia could be recognized. That is why that was.

There is no reason to believe that is not a fair amendment when we give the mayor the appointive power, and if the members want to change that amendment to give the president of council the appointive powers, we will agree to that, but it should be in one hand and not two because there is always a possibility that we could have a Republican mayor and a Democratic council, or vice versa, so you would be destroying the very thing that the gentleman is now talking about. You would have a split, you would have a Republican and a Democrat appointing members so it should be in the hands of one person.

Another thing they seem to fear is the fact that six members on each side are going to stymie any kind of good government. Let me say I was quite flattered today by Mr. Toll who admitted on FEPC that there were three Republicans and three Democrats working together on FEPC for a good government bill and for a bill that would be for the betterment of the people of Pennsylvania. They worked and compromised and they came out with a bill.

Although it is equally divided, if the men who are placed on this commission are responsible people, I do not think the mayor of Philadelphia or anyone else has to worry that the charter and the people will get unfair treatment.

Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members on this side of the House to vote "aye" and concur in the amendments put in by the Senate.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am delighted to hear from the Minority Leader o na bill of this character relating to the city.

First let me say he bears an enviable reputation as being the only Republican from the fair city of Philadelphia who has such a remarkable record. It is quite true that he has been absolutely consistent in voting for good government. In fact, I believe in his own heart he would like to see the good government issue taken from the Democrats of the city of Philadelphia and turned over to the Republicans. But unfortunately he is alone in that matter. He is about the only Republican in the City of Philadelphia who has the guts to stand up and vote for the things which benefit our fair city.

In connection with Bills 1104 and 1101 and other issues relating to good government for the city, he has been very consistent. But he has not been followed by his party. The Republican organization of the city of Philadelphia apparently ignores their Minority Leader here in the House, they ignored him when he was the Speaker of the House, he went down the line with all bills which benefited our city and his party did not care about them. They do not care about them right here, which they demonstrated by the way they voted on bills of importance to our city.

They only have five Representatives and the Democrats in the House have 34; in the Senate we have every Senator from every district a Democrat. That shows you what the people of our city think about the Democrats.

Let me call your attention to the fact that in 1951 you had a charter commission which wrote the original charter. That commission had fifteen members on it, that commission was appointed by a Republican mayor of Philadelphia and that commission had more Republicans than Democrats. Why did not someone stand up in 1951 and ask for an even division of membership on the commission. As a matter of fact, I shall go a step further and say that in 1951 when the charter commission was appointed it was also appointed by a mayor and a president of city council. In those days they had a very remarkable man as president of city council, the late Fred Garman. He appointed an unusual and independent Republican committee and this remarkable charter for our fair city was written in such a manner that it gave rise to a lot of howls from many, many quarters, particularly Republican quarters, because Mr. Garman appointed people to serve on that commission who were true independents and they cooperated with the Democratic liberals in writing a remarkable instrument.

Now we are up against the same situation, we are about to get a new commission for revision of the charter. This commission should certainly not be even in its number, it should be divided in the same manner as the 1951 commission so that there should be for a change more Democrats than Republicans. Why bleed from the mouth when you get into such a situation? As soon as the Democrats have an opportunity to get something done, immediately they want equality, they want to be treated on an equal basis, they want an equal number. Nobody worried about that when Republicans had an opportunity to get commissions appointed. We sat through the 1951 session, we sat through the 1953 session, I did not see such an attitude on their part. The only thing we would really want is six to five if a conference committee is appointed to iron it out. The bill was not in its original form when it went to the Senate, it was in its amended form and the Senate amended it further, but not in a manner which you would call judicial or in a manner which you would call giving justice to both sides, but in a manner which indicated they wanted to kill it.

Let me call this to your attention, the six to six situation on many controversial issues would mean a deadlock. I am not the only one who is taking that view. If it were strictly a Democratic view, I would say, well, it is just a viewpoint of a partisan member of the Democratic Party.

In the city of Philadelphia fortunately we have three great newspapers. One of the great newspapers that supports the Republican Party on a national and state level, and mostly on a local level, although I believe they are trying to be as impartial as possible in this particular campaign, in an editorial yesterday made the following comments and they are very good. I hope you will excuse me if I read from this because it says exactly what I am talking about:

> "They're Trying to Amend Charter Bill to death. Who is?
> "Amending an unwanted bill to death is a familiar legislative practice. It is being followed at Harrisburg by a number of Republican Senators who dislike Philadelphia's Charter reforms.
> "Before their chamber for action was a measure providing an orderly method of revising the Charter. The Republican majority has amended it in such a way as to make it unacceptable to the Democratic-controlled House, which passed the original version of the bill."

Let me pause at this moment and draw your attention to another feature which was just referred to, the feature of the bill which requires the members of the commission to have the terms staggered, one year, two years, three years, four years. This is not a permanent commission. There is nothing said in this bill that we wanted the commission to revise the charter every year. The only thing that was wanted in this bill was what was wanted in the prior charter bill, that the commission would hear what had to be said, all parties would have an opportunity to present their views, then the commission would file a report, the city council would consider it and present a bill for the public of the city of Philadelphia to vote upon. That is all we wanted. According to the amendment, they are going to keep the commission in office for possibly four years and we will never get a final report.

Incidentally, my learned colleague, Mr. Welsh, whose district runs from beautiful Broad Street to the Falls of the Schuylkill, also wants to give credit to the Philadelphia Bulletin, and I think he should because he tells me that they also had an article of the same nature. I just happened to read yesterday morning's Inquirer and I pulled this out. Let me say without reading all of it, although I have it here and I will give it to the Press and I think it should go into the record. I would like to finish with the last paragraph:

> "This, it seems to us, displays poor political judgment on the part of the Republicans concerned and can only stir resentment among Philadelphia independents. Actually, there is little or no political profit to be gained by anyone in having the Charter revision bill killed off."

Personally, I felt when Mr. Smith got up he would object to some of these features. This thing should go to a conference committee in the same manner as the prior FEPC bill which was so fairly considered and perhaps those who serve on the conference committee concerning this bill will come up with something which will meet with the approval of the independents of the city and of both parties.

Let me say this, in the House when 1104 came up for vote all of the Democratic Members from Philadelphia were solidly behind it. You cannot say a word against our leader Bill Green, because Bill Green was not only behind 1104, he was behind 1101 100 percent. You did not hear one dissenting vote from the Democratic side of the House, but can you say the same for the Republican side? I would say before they make any statements about Bill Green, the leader of the Philadelphia Democratic organization, they should look into their own house first.

Mr. CHARLES C. Smith. Mr. Speaker, if I had the gentleman arguing a case for me—I used to think I might have him sometime, but I think he puts his foot in his mouth.

The gentleman just finished saying that under Red Garman, and I am quoting his own words, true independent Republicans were picked and true Democratic liberals I wonder what makes him think because of the death of Fred Garman that there are not true independent Republicans in the City of Philadelphia today?

Mr. Speaker, this is a bipartisan bill, it is not a Democratic bill nor is it a Republican bill. I think the charter commission was suposed to be bipartisan from the very beginning.

I would like to ask the gentleman if he can point to any spot in this bill of a date of termination of this charter commission?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Toll, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TOLL. I shall Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. Smith. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman show me anywhere in this bill where the charter commission terminates?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, there is no provision in the bill, and the question was raised before by the Minority Leader, concerning a terminating date. The bill only contemplated the filing of a report and vote on the recommendation, it did not contemplate an extension for four years. If the Minority Leader has a suggestion to amend the bill to put a termination date in, I would be very happy to go along.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman then states that the commission could go on forever. The bill itself does not terminate it. If perhaps they had put a termination date in the bill, there would have been no need to stagger the commission to see that it was a bipartisan commission in the future. I cannot find one amendment, and if I am wrong I would like the gentleman again to tell me, where there is one amendment inserted by the Senate that would kill this commission bill, or kill the commission—one amendment—or that would hurt the charter.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I am absolutely convinced and I think the Inquirer—I have not any Bulletin articles—is also convinced that the equal division of members may not kill the bill, but may kill many of the problems which are going to be considered and many of the suggestions for revision. I also feel it is absolutely unfair to believe that any president of our city council would be so injudicial as to be completely partisan in the appointment of members on this commission.

Mr. CHARLES C. Smith. Mr. Speaker, that is not killing the bill. The gentleman said we are killing the bill. And I again say I will volunteer to serve on the commission, and there are 7 votes. Where are the Republicans killing the bill? Mr. Speaker, this is complete fakery as it has been done in the city of Philadelphia and as it is being done in a lot of places where the gentlemen speak out of both sides of their mouths. They talk bipartisanship, and when we volunteer to give them bipartisanship, and we are sincere in it, they immediately say we are killing the legislation.

Mr. Speaker, the gentleman who just spoke knows there is not one of the amendments that will kill this bill and not one of the amendments is a bad amendment which would interfere in any way with a charter and a good charter being given to the citizens of Philadelphia. I can assure him of that. It has been done with no bad intent, it has been done with the intent of making it a bipartisan commission from top to bottom.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, I want to quote one more paragraph of this Inquirer editorial relating to the question of the division of membership in which they say:

> "To divide representation on the Charter Commission equally between Republican and Democratic parties is obviously impracticable in inviting stalemated votes on important issues. Setting up majority and minority representation, as was done in the case of the original Charter Commission, is the logical way to handle it. It seems proper, also, to permit Council, through its elected President, to have a voice in the appointments."

As far as fakery is concerned, let's get down to cases. What fakery is involved when you have Republican candidates running for office in the city of Philadelphia who give lip service to the fact that they are for good government and they do not have a united front here in the Legislature when they have an opporunity to show they mean they want good government. What is involved when the so-called organization is supposed to be supporting the leaders of the party for the mayorality and other important offices and they do not have united support for good government right here in the Assembly? I will leave that to your judgment. You know well enough how the vote of the five members of the House ran on these important bills. As long as that record stands before you and is recorded here in the Assembly, you know that we are sincere in our position, because we voted solidly for these two bills, and the Republican party is not sincere.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, as sponsor of the bill, it seems there is not much left to say after Mr. Toll finished, but I would like to interrogate Mr. Smith for just one minute.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I offered the gentleman the opportunity of being a cosponsor of the bill in the original form. Is that correct?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I think, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct. I am not actually sure, but I am inclined to agree with him. I think he did.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman did not care to be a sponsor. According to your beliefs the bill at that time was not a good one?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. According to my beliefs the bill was not a bi-partisan bill, I should say, Mr. Speaker. I wouldn't use the word "good."

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I again offered the same opportunity to Mr. Pomeroy and to Mr. Wilbur Hamilton, who both seem to be absent at this time. When the bill came up for a vote after it had been slightly amended in committee, it seems that every Member on the Republican side felt that the bill was a bad one because they all voted "no."—Mr. Smith, I assume, agreed the bill was a good one because I believe he is recorded as voting "aye." Why was the bill worth your vote at that time and now with all these new amendments it seems to be a much better setup as far as the Republican side is concerned?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is sort of a very easy question. I know and recognize the need for a charter commission, I am not denying that, and rather than see no charter commission at all I would even support the bill in its original form. But I certainly think we are supporting a bill today that is in much better form and which provides for an honest-to-goodness bipartisan commission. It is just the difference between good and a little bit better that's all.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, in other words it was not a worthy bill, according to the gentleman's estimation—the first bill?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would object to the gentleman using those words. I would say the bill was a worthy bill from the very beginning, but the bill has been improved and bettered since it came from the Senate.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, I was just wondering who in the Senate was qualified to decide on how we down in Philadelphia should arrange or rearrange our city charter?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I believe there are some Democratic Senators in the Senate. I can't answer the gentleman on that, I don't know. He would have to ask the Senate.

Mr. BAZIN. Mr. Speaker, they are all Republican amendments. All the Democratic Senators in the Senate opposed it when the amendments were introduced, although I do notice that they all voted in favor of the bill for probably the same reason that Mr. Smith voted for it in its original form.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the nature of the question before the House I would like to point out to the membership on this side that the question before the House will be, "Will the House concur in these amendments", and I am asking the membership on this side to vote "no" on that question.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair will state that the gentleman is correct and will repeat that those voting "aye" vote to concur in the amendments inserted by the Senate, those voting "no" vote to non-concur in the amendments.

On the question recurring.

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL RE-REFERRED

Mr. POLASKI from the Committee on State Government, returned with the recoommendation that it be re-referred to the Committee on Counties, House Bill No. 1682, entitled:

An Act providing for the incorporation of park and conservation districts; permitting two or more civil divisions herein defined to unite in the establishment of a regional park and conservation district for the planning, promoting, acquiring, constructing, owning, developing, maintaing, and operating. within their limits, a system of parks, parkways and areas for recreation and conservation of the natural landscape and reduction of the vulnerability of built-up areas to enemy attack; providing for financial support from participating civil divisions; granting the powers of eminent domain; providing for referral of plans to regional, county, or city planning agencies; and providing procedures for such incorporation.

The SPEAKER. The bill is re-referred to the Committee on Counties.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON SECOND READING

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I call up on page 12 of today's calendar, appropriation bill on second reading, Senate Bill No. 785.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 785, entitled:

An Act making appropriations to the Department of Public Instruction for reimbursements to school listricts

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. POLEN offered the following amendments:

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 1, by striking out at the end of the line after the word "of" the following: "four hundred twenty-one million eight hun-."

Amend Section 1, page 1, line 2, by striking out at the beginning of the line before the word "or" the following: "dred forty thousand dollars ($421,840,000)."

and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "four hundred twenty-six million eight hundred forty thousand dollars ($426,840,000)."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Chair, have the amendments been offered by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair so understands.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Washington?

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. POLEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, are we right in assuming that the amendments that are now being offered to Senate Bill 785, Printer's No. 306, are a duplication of House Bill 1599 which was passed by the House and is now in the Senate?

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, the amendments offered will make Senate Bill 785 identical with House Bill 1599, with the exception of the addition that was made in the Senate to Section 2, adding $31 million.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we Republicans are going to oppose these amendments. We are opposed to these amendments for one reason, and for one reason only, because here is where we must stand up and be counted whether we are for or whether we are against the schools in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is a very simple issue.

Will the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania meet its obligations to our public schools on time when they fall due this month and next month, or will the checks fail to go out to the 2200 local school districts until the Legislature decides on what new taxes our citizens must pay?

Governor Leader has decreed that there will not be any payments to any school districts until he gets his tax program through this Legislature. Governor Leader has personally decided that this is one way he can put the pressure on the taxpayers of Pennsylvania. He has decided there will be no money for education until after election day, when I predict there will be a new blitzkreig to put over another new income tax in some form.

Let me ask you, Mr. Speaker, what does it matter to him that thousands of teachers will not receive their pay on time? That is a fact. What is going to happen?

What does it matter to him that many of our smaller school districts will have to go out and borrow money at righ rates of interest just to keep the schools open and to keep them operating?

What does it matter that the Commonwealth has an obligation to meet, which it will not meet if these amendments are passed?

Governor Leader has issued an edict that there will not be any payments until the tax question is settled. Senate Bill 785, without these amendments that are now being inserted by the House, by the Majority side, does these two things. First, it appropriates approximately $421 million for the support of Public schools. Without these appropriations the Department of Public Instruction is powerless to issue one single warrant on the State Treasury for the payment of subsidies to our school districts or to reimburse them for the money already in the 1954-1955 school year. They are facts, and the members know that. These payments which fall due this month for fourth class districts and in November for third, second and first class districts, are urgently needed now by many of our schools.

Second, it contains an amendment originally offered by the Governor's own Senator to appropriate an additional $31 million to provide for an additional increase in pay for school teachers over and beyond that already mandated by law. If and when this General Assembly passes the necessary enabling legislation, that $31 million will be available.

This is the way this bill passed the Senate. This House should approve this bill without changing it or without amending it in any way, and we should send it to the Governor immediately so that the state can go ahead and make its school subsidy payments on time and keep faith with our schools.

It is true that there are no provisions in Governor Leader's budget for any $31 million increase in teachers' salaries. We know that, but if he believes such an increase should not be granted he has the power under the Constitution to strike it out of the bill before he signs it. He can strike the $31 million right out and our schools will still receive the money we owe them on time.

Let me make this doubly clear. There are two steps, and two very simple steps, required to permit this state to meet its obligations to our schools without defaulting in any sense of the word. First, enactment by this House of Senate Bill 785 in the form in which it was reported from the Appropriations Committee yesterday. That is the first step. The second step is that Governor Leader's signature has to be put on the bill. That is all that is necessary to make this money available to the schools, and he knows it.

If we amend this bill in any way, it must go back to the Senate for concurrence. If we put in controversial—and many of these amendments are controversial and the Governor knows it—amendments to this bill, no one can predict what will be the final action. In the meantime, while we are trying to straighten out our difficulties many of our local school districts are going to go broke. The Governor knows that.

What is there co pressing about these amendments that are being offered? Just what do they do which is so important that payment of school subsidies must be held up indefinitely. I will tell you what is important about them. Governor Leader is on the hook and he knows it, and two of his own Democratic Senators get him on the hook and he is squirming to get off. That is the reason 1599 has to be inserted.

I will tell you something else that is happening right now. The whole maneuver is direct collusion when you see the Senator who comes from the Governor's own county putting these amendments into the bill. There is every reason to believe this was done to fool the people on teachers' salaries just before the municipal elections. Politics is rearing its ugly head again in the front office.

It is important to Governor Leader that he should not have to decide before election day whether our teachers are going to get a new increase in pay. The Governor has been dodging this issue all year, and now if we send this bill over to him the way the Senate passed it he won't be able to dodge it any more. That is another reason for these amendments. He will have to decide which is more important, adequate pay for our school teachers or his pet projects for economic development and greatly expanded Welfare Department. That is why these amendments are being offered and certainly for no other reason.

We Republicans did not do this to him. Keep in mind that two Democratic Senators did it, and because of it we here in the House are being asked to welsh on our school obligations that are now falling due. That is exactly what is going to happen.

All these amendments do is put everything into Senate Bill 785 that is now in House Bill 1599, which we sent to the Senate three or four weeks ago. The gentleman from Washington just admitted that fact.

These amendments provide mainly for salaries and expenses for the Department of Public Instruction and all its agencies. Most of them are controversial because here is where the Republican Senate is going to make some of its cuts. Governor Lealer knows all this and he knows that if this bill is amended it is right back in the middle of the budget controversy, and that is what he wants.

Now, members, let me just show you how your Governor is breaking faith. I claim today, and I accuse the Governor of playing politics to the point of running out on his word. House Bill 1599 was in direct discussion in the Governor's office. The Governor agreed tentatively to almost $800 thousand worth of cuts in 1599, and what are you doing? You are faking. You are putting a bill in without a single cut and the Governor himself agreed to the cuts and he is faking if the agrees to it.

Let me read to you some of the cuts he has agreed on. This bill with the amendments that you are putting in provides for the payment of the salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction and it provides for the payment of salaries and wages and other compensations of the Deputy Superintendent. All of that is being taken care of by a stopgap appropriation at this moment, and you know it. There is $1,600 thousand for that.

He is also providing in this bill for $503 thousand for the state libraries. The Governor himself agreed to a $20 thousand cut in that and he does not even show it in here. Did you ever see such fakery as that? He agreed to it, and you sitting in there with him know he agreed to it. And what is he doing? He puts in his original figures again.

He also in this bill has $1,616 thousand for professional education and licensure in the professional examining boards. He also has in this bill the Pennsylvania State Board of Censors, and everyone in this House knows that the Governor agreed to a $6 thousand cut there. So what did he do? He put it in the original form $235 thousand and does not ever make the $6 thousand cut. That is true throughout the bill.

To hold the teachers' pay up this again is what we are doing. There is money in this bill for the Pennsylvania Federation of Junior Historians—that is a tremendously important thing—$24 thousand, and the Governor agreed to a $4 thousand cut. So what does he do, he puts it in the original form, $24 thousand, and does not even take the cut out. He is not even keeping his agreements with the Republicans just so he can make this a political issue with the teachers. So let the teachers of Pennsylvania know they are holding up their salaries to give the Junior Historians $24 thousand. It is a very important thing, believe me.

Let us go through the bill a little bit more. He agreed on our State Teachers Colleges to go along on a $500 thousand cut. And what does he do? He puts in the original figures of $15 million.

Mr. Speaker, this bill shows almost $800 thousand of cuts that were agreed upon in the Governor's office. There is not much use to sit in and talk to the Governor and try to make economies if after he agrees to it he tries to put in amendments like this to play politics. You know that is what is happening, and that is a positive God's truth. You know that is what that bill is.

You know that those agreements were reached, and if Governor Leader wants to have Republicans sit in with him in the future to work out some problems, let the Governor start keeping his word and stop playing politics like this and putting it back on the teachers' doorsteps.

That is the only reason for these amendments going in this bill today. They do not have any other reason except to get the Governor off the hook until after election, and he knows it and we know it, because if this bill was passed and put on his desk as it is with his own Senators $31 million increase to teachers he would have to make the cuts. And let me tell you, he doesn't have the guts to do it or he is afraid of doing it. So he is playing politics and going to hold the school districts up over the entire state because he lacks nerve to cut out the amendments put in by his own Senators.

If these amendments fail, Mr. Speaker, no one is going to go without their pay, and we all know that. Anybody who works in the Department or in our teachers colleges will not go without their pay because the stopgap appropriations are covering it at this time.

We have passed $100 million in stopgap appropriations to do this very thing, to take care of these people. In fact, this administration has been very careful to see to it that everything has been taken care of except our public schools and our state aided hospitals. Why? Because that is the thing he can wave the flag over for his tax program. That is why.

Money has been appropriated to pay Public Assistance; money has been appropriated to meet the state payrolls on time; money has been appropriated to pay the bankers their interest on all of the notes that we owe them; but not one cent has been allocated for subsidies for education or for hospitals.

Mr. Speaker, I said the other day if we adopt these amendments Governor Leader will have the club that he is trying to get and the people will get an income tax of some kind, some form, immediately after election. Believe me when I say that, that is a prediction. There will be an income tax pushed through the House after election, and it won't be done before.

Just so there is no question as to where anybody stands on this issue, "shall our schools get their money or shall they not get their money," we are going to ask for a slow roll call on these amendments and a verification of the roll call. We are going to say to the people of Pennsylvania that we want them to know who is responsible when the schools are starting to close for the lack of funds. If 1599, the amendments that you are proposing today, are put in 785, let me say to you that there will be schools either closing or in terrible hardship for the lack of money due to Governor Leader and the majority party in this House inserting these amendments, because if they are not inserted the money will be paid before they need it and when they need it. If the amendments go in, they can't be paid because it is a controversial issue. The Governor knows it is a controversial issue, and it is an issue that the Governor has agreed upon and is now running out on.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Charles C. Smith, he mentioned the fact that I was at the conference he referred to. He also mentioned the fact about keeping your word.

The first agenda of business at the conference I attended was that none of the facts or figures would be made public at that time, that they would not be used for political purposes. I have not used them, I have issued no statements, and I have kep my word.

As to the crisis facing the schools in Pennsylvania, I want to remind the gentleman that House Bill 1599 passed this House and has been in the Senate since September 14th so if there is a crisis I believe the blame would fall upon the Senate for failure to pass that bill.

In connection with the amendments we are offering here today, the item of reimbursment for teachers salaries, subsidies to public instruction, the Senate cut that from $426,840 thousand to $421,840 thousand, or a cut of $5 million. The Department of Public Instruction tells me that that cut cannot be justified and the money will be needed. That is one of the things that is done in these amendments. It restores through Senate Bill 785, which appropriated $421,840 thousand, the $5 million cut which the Senate made and brings it back to $426,840 thousand.

In our concern for the schools there are also other factors than the reimbursment for teachers salaries. I call the gentleman's attention to the fact there is one item in these amendments in restoring them to the figures of 1599 for reimbursment for transportation which is $29,761 thousand. It is true that it carries other items for the Department for the State Teachers Colleges, and the gentleman is correct when he says that it simply makes Senate Bill 785 the same as House Bill 1599 with exception of the $31 million which was added by the Senate.

As to who introduced the amendments, I do not think that is too material because it was passed by unanimous vote of the Senate, both the Democrats and the Republicans supported them. We do not propose at this time to take them out. I feel that we should not have our educational program go over to the Senate or come back from the Senate piecemeal. We should pass this bill, we should adopt these amendments to Senate Bill 785 and return it to the Senate. If there has been any delay and if there has been any crisis, it is not the fault of this House because the members on the other side voted for 1599. The fault would lie with the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. JOHNSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise to further debate the amendments.

Here is one thing I want to point out to the House which I think we are really forgetting. At this session of the Legislature and by reason of law passed in prior sessions we have tax measures on the books right now that will bring in $907 million whether we pass another tax program this session or not. As you know, within the last three weeks the Senate finally passed the corporate net income tax bills, being the postponement of the manufacturers' exemption, being the extension of the corporate net income tax, being the continuation of the gross receipts tax on public utilities, and with the final enactment of those taxes there will be $907 million at a conservative estimate that will come in this biennium if we do nothing further.

In other words, if $907 million is coming in, it will run the state until December of 1956. So actually we are worrying about the money to run the state during January February, March and April of 1957.

Actually the money is available for this bill today. What we should do is forget about these amendments. Let us pass this bill as is, put it on the Governor's desk and have it be signed so the school people will get their money now and early in November.

Let us not worry about these other appropriations that are in the bill. They can be taken care of later by either the House or Senate, and will be taken care of. If there should be $5 million or $10 million more added to the subsidy for schools, that can be done later. Let us not worry about it now. Today we have an opportunity of sending the school bill over to the Governor's desk. Let us do it. The money is there. Let us not worry about a tax program for that because we have the money, we have $907 million.

You talk about the transportation payments. The subsidy for that is not payable, I understand, until later on in the wnter, perhaps around the first of the year, but the subsidy payments are due now in November. I can see where if we pass this bill, send it over to the Senate, who may or may not be in session, they might be disinclined to go along with the bill and throw it into conference.

We are planning on an extended recess here and the schools of Pennsylvania are going to blame it on everybody. I think today we can rightfully say that we can blame it on the Democrats because here is the vehicle on your desk, ready to be put on the Governor's desk and to be signed by the Governor so these checks can go out without delay.

So I say to the House, vote these amendments down. You are not creating a peril to anybody by doing so. As a matter of fact you have a bill here ready to do the job. Let us do it now.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, it has been a long time since I have heard two such fine political speeches on a matter as have been made by the Minority Leader and the Minority Whip.

This is a most interesting problem, the bill we have before us. A lot of the history has already been given about the passage of House Bill 1599 on September 14th and the sudden passage of Senate Bill 785 last week during the Senate session.

Mr. Polen has pointed out that the Senate could have weeks ago, if it wanted to, deleted the sections which Mr. Smith now objects to our offering for reinstatement, could have deleted those from House Bill 1599. It could have, if it saw fit, cut the $426 million back to $421 million and sent it back to us. They didn't do so. They decided they would introduce a new bill which we would be required to process during a period of three days. That bill arrived here only this week. The Senate had it in its power, the Republican membership did, to reject any amendments offered to its own bill, it could have restricted it solely to the $421 or the $426 million which must be paid to the school districts under existing law. It didn't see fit to do that.

When an amendment was offered by some Democratic Senators, every Republican Member of the Senate voted in favor of adding $31 million to that bill for the purpose of increasing teachers' salaries. They sent it over here, and then the Minority Leader begs us, urges us, almost threatens us with dire calamity if we do not take that bill now and pass it immediately the way the Senate sent it over to us.

He complains bitterly about our offering amendments which put back into the Senate bill provisions relating to transportation and other features of the education program which this House had passed by a vote of 174 to 1 on September 14th. He speaks about the bad faith of the Governor, and so forth, in agreeing to certain cuts which are embodied in some of those very amendments.

I sat in on some of those conferences too, and let me tell you exactly what was the agreed upon, in my estimation. It was decided that when any cuts were to be made, if the Governor's office would agree to certain cuts, they were not to be made in the House, they were to be made in the Senate. Let me tell you that one of the Senators who is most interested and active in the matter of the discussion of budget cuts was somewhat concerned while we were discussing them as to whether the House would make those cuts before sending certain appropriation bills over to the Senate, and it was agreed that we would not, that those bills would be sent over to the Senate and the Senate could make the cuts, any cuts that were agreed on. If that is any indication of bad faith on the part of anybody, then I don't know what went on in those conferences.

Remember this, too, that while the conferences were going on it was agreed in various instances that certain things could be cut down, either because of the passage of time, or because reconsideration indicated that some of the appropriations already passed by the House need not be as large as they were. And I repeat, those cuts were to be made by the Senate and not by the House, and when we offer these amendments today we are offering them to put this bill right back in the same condition as we passed it in House Bill 1599.

It has been my advice earlier this week, and I have so recommended to the Democratic membership, that we eliminate the $31 million for school teachers from this bill and introduce a separate bill and make a statement that at least the majority of us on this side are in favor of giving the teachers more money, but not at this time, in order that this bill could promptly go back to the Senate on the question of the $421 or $426 million. We are just as much interested as you are on that side to see that the school districts get their money without delay, but if you think we are going to stand back and take a $5 million cut which we feel is not justified, and will leave us a deficit which we will have to take care of later, solely because you think this bill should be passed the way the Senate sent it to us, then you are mistaken. It is not going to be done that way, if it takes one week, two weeks, or three weeks, to thrash out the matter of this $5 million, whether it should be in or should be out.

What other cuts should be made in other portions of this bill and how long it is going to take I do not know, but if you think the people are going to blame us when the school districts do not receive their money, then I mistake the people of Pennsylvania.

We again say the Senate weeks ago could have passed House Bill 1599 in any form they saw fit and sent it back to us. Then this crisis would not be here on the eve of the November payments that are due to the school districts and it would have been solved a couple of weeks ago.

I say that if anybody is playing politics I dont think the public is going to be fooled about who is playing politics.

When I made the suggestion to our side on this bill I was overruled in my thinking about whether the $426 and $421 million and the money for school teachers should be considered in one package. The Members on our side in order to show that they are for giving the teachers more money decided they did not want the $31 million taken out by an amendment, and it is not being taken out. When this bill goes back to the Senate it will still have the additional $31 million in for teachers, but we say we have every right as a legislative body, as a coordinate branch of this legislative body, to insist that the $5 million be restored and to insist that the other portions of the package we had in 1599 be considered by the Senate.

We are going to send it back to them and, if they do not see fit to take the bill as we amend it, it will go into a conference committee and these things will be decided. If that means a delay in the payments that the school districts are looking for, it will mean a delay. But it is not going to be our delay, it is going to be one that is created by the Senate.

Mr. ANDREWS. It is my desire in connection with the pending dispute to appear as a witness to offer testimony. We are faced with what in my opinion is the most infamous doublecross in my knowledge of parliamentary procedure on this Hill.

I attended, listened in, was a part of the conference in which spokesmen for the House and for the administration met with Republican spokesmen for the Senate. I was present at practically every conference. I can testify to what I heard and to what I was a part, which is more than the Minority Leader can say because he was rarely present at those conferences.

It was agreed, as far as spokesmen for the Senate can agree to anything, that the cuts in the Governor's budget should be made in the Senate and not in the House, and it was further understood that until those cuts had been made in the Senate and there had been as least the semblance of agreement that there would be discussions regarding a tax program, but no binding commitments.

Now we come with measures long in the custody of the other chamber of this General Assembly which could have been reduced. There has been ample opportunity for those who oppose the administration's budget to tailor it, and they have done nothing of the kind. They have broken the promise, the agreement, the understanding, arrived at in a conference which we believed was to proceed in all good faith.

I am not prepared to discuss the details of the pending measure, but I would call the attention of the gentleman from McKean to the fact that there has been passed at this session a bill which confines the borrowing power of this administration while the Session is in progress to 10 per cent of the estimated revenue, and yet the gentlemen from McKean comes before us and says there is no lack of money, that the revenues have been provided and all the administration need do is write the checks, when he very well knows that the borrowing power of this administration while the General Assembly is in session has been confined to one-tenth of the estimated revenue.

At the time when the estimated revenues were $80 million, $60 million was borrowed, and until the revenues come in during coming months and next year as long as we are in Session all we can borrow on tax anticipation notes is approximately $30 million, if he is correct in his estimates that this House has already provided for revenues totalling $900 million.

I want to say, without debating the merits of the bill in question, that I was initially inclined to suggest the procedure which the Majority Leader has outlined. The Democratic Caucus in its wisdom elected to pursue a different course, and who am I to say that the Democratic Caucus was wrong.?

I have only appeared at this time as a witness to say that the promise was made that reductions in the budget would be made in the Senate and that was by agreement with that understanding, that cuts in the budget, even cuts in the budget the administration was willing to accept, were not included in the pending bill.

Now, the gentleman from Philadelphia, the gentleman from McKean and every old Member of this House knows that it has not been my practice to indulge in sharp practice, that I have over the years kept every legislative bargain I have ever made, and if any man knows to the contrary let him rise in his place and accuse me.

I would not be saying what I am saying now did I not know from my own personal knowledge that the other chamber elected to say that the representatives sent to confer with us were not in fact its spokesmen, and we had no way of knowing that. We accepted them in good faith as spokesmen for the other chamber and we have proceeded legitimately, honestly and in keeping with our bargain in presenting the present bill.

Mr. JOHNSON. I would like to make a short reply to Mr. Andrews in connection with taxes, Mr. Speaker.

I believe the figure I gave that during this biennium there will be $907 million or approximately that in taxes coming in if we pass no further taxes is a fairly correct statement. I believe you will find there is about $20 million a month coming in right now from permanent taxes on the books, meaning the cigarette tax, the tax on liquor, additional assessments on capital stock tax, corporate net income tax, by reason of resettlements of taxes, the monthly take from the real estate transfer tax, that money is coming in currently and is available for use.

I grant you that you have probably borrowed $60 million to run the government on tax anticipation notes. That is customary to borrow money like that in the in-between periods when tax collections are low and your burden of expenditures is high, but if we were to pass a tax program right now it would not alleviate the immediate tax position of the state. We would still have to pay the schools.

I say, let's keep our eye on that squirrel. The squirrel today is, are we going to pass a bill right now, right today, that is in front of us, politics or no politics, that is going to give money to our schools next month?

I say on the other side you are flirting with a very dangerous, financial, chaotic thing which exists in our schools today, and whether the Senate is at fault or whether we are at a fault, no matter who is at fault, let's pass this bill. Let's give the schools their money.

You know we are operating on an abbreviated schedule now in both the House and the Senate. Goodness knows what will happen to this bill if you amend it and send it back to the Senate. Conceivably, it could be until December before we get back here again to do business. In the meantime you will be saying we have caused you trouble. That is not true. You have the vehicle right here today to do the job. Let's do it without any further delay.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, just a further word concerning the good faith or lack of good faith involved in this issue.

The Senate of Pennsylvania and its leaders well knew back in September the problems we have been having in the House to keep our membership here and to get them to come here in view of the lack of hotel and motel accommodations. Still in view of all that they do not take House Bill 1599, which had been passed practically unanimously in this House, and delete everything except the $421 million, which they could have done, and send it back to us for concurrence in those amendments which would take us one day. They knew at the time we were meeting yesterday and today for a full working session. But they don't do that, they send a brand new Senate bill over here knowing that under the Constitution it takes three legislative days to pass it. Whether they had that in mind or whether they didn't, I don't know, but my guess would be that some smart maneuverer or operator in the aggregation knew all about it and knew the problem we would have to possibly hold our membership here until either midnight tonight or sometime tomorrow morning.

Just what the reason might have been which brought them to the determination that they would send a new bill over with nothing in it except something they already had in our House Bill 1599, I don't know, but I do question the good faith of the decision they made when they put this in the form of a new Senate bill. They didn't bring it out of committee with the $31 million in, it's true, they had nothing in it but the $421,840 thousand, but they did vote unanimously to include this new amendment and they sent it over to the House, Now their spokesman over here says, "Pass this and do it immediately, let's get the schools their money," and so forth. They gloss over this $5 million which we think is very important and which the Senate has taken out. I say that good business practice on our part requires us today to support these amendments, send it back to the Senate as soon as we can and see what happens over there.

We are meeting again on October 25th and, as I understand it, the payments to the school districts are normally not made until sometime in November. We do not want the school districts to suffer and we do not intend that they shall, but we are not going to be pushed around by the Senate or anybody else in our deliberations. We are going to do it the way we think it should be done.

I want the people of Pennsylvania to know we are making every effort to bring our Members back here and do things when they should be done so that nobody suffers. I do complain bitterly about the method followed by the other branch of this Legislature in dropping this thing on our doorstep at a time when we practically find it impossible to hold our Members here long enough to act on the thing quickly.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be quite an abundance of eloquence on the other side of the House at this point in keeping the record straight.

I think in due deference and due respect to the Senate I cannot see, and I wish somebody would explain to me, what harm there was in the Senate's policy of passing over Senate Bill 785 seeing that the school districts were paid, and I think we agree on that one fact, that the bill will see that the school districts are paid right away. This bill 1599, the gentleman is quite right in stating that the Senate still retains that bill. I think the gentleman can also state that all of these requirements in 1599 are being met at this point by stopgap appropriations. I don't believe that can be denied.

I don't believe it can be denied, also, that the biggest part of our cuts that were being planned in the Senate, or a good part would be in the 1599 bill sent over from the House to the Senate. There is nothing wrong that I can see, and I don't think it is playing politics, in Senate Bill 785 to have the teachers paid and let the Senate work on 1599. The departments are being paid by stopgap appropriations and in the meantime if economies can be made, and I think the other side of the House is in aggeement with us that if they can be made they would like to see them made. If it only amounts to $3 million it is $3 million of taxpayers' money.

The gentleman, Mr. Speaker, kicks this $5 million around very emphatically, but I think he will admit that all of the money that is in 1599 is estimated. I don't think that can be denied. If we are underestimating or overestimating on $5 million on a $400 and some million dollar bill, it is about one-quarter of one percent that we are wrong on. So let us say that the gentleman is right on the $5 million. If he is right, all right, there will be no deficiency. If he is not right, there is a possible $5 million deficiency, but, nevertheless, the gentleman will have to admit that all of the $400 million in 1599 is an estimate and if something can be saved, if $500,000 of taxpayers' money can be saved, Mr. Speaker, it is his duty, your duty as a party and our duty as a party to save it. I don't think there is anything wrong in the mechanics of seeing that the schools are paid through 785 and trying to save money in the future in 1599. That can be saved either by the Senate, or when it comes over here in conference committee we can save it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, sometime ago I stood up in this House in behalf of the school teachers trying to determine if there was any money in 1599 for a salary increase. At that time I was advised there was none. There was not a single voice from the other side of the House raised in behalf of the school teachers' salary situation.

I simply want to state here that out of the confusion we have at least made this much progress, the Majority side has become cognizant of this need. Their membership apparently have applied enough pressure against the leaders to overrule them in their thinking that something ought to be done.

This talk about the time it was passed and things to be done, I believe enabling legislation for school teachers' salaries reach this House sometime in March. I expressed the hope at one time that they would come forth with something for the teachers. To that extent I am gratified. I only hope that they will proceed now, since they seem to be in favor of more pay for school teachers, to have fair, equitable, and efficient enabling legislation ready at the proper time.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot let this moment go by without taking exception to the remarks of the gentleman. I know he made them in good faith and I think I understand exactly what he means.

However, the words he used indicate that the leadership of this House formerly was opposed to giving any more money to school teachers and that the majority seems to have overruled the leadership and now is recognizing the need, and so forth.

I would like to have the record show that there has never been a time when the leadership on this side indicated that there wasn't a need and there wasn't a chance that teachers would be given more money. We stated sometime ago when the matter was raised on the floor of the House that we didn't think this was the time to be discussing the matter of giving more money to school teachers before we had financed in some way the already required obligations of the Commonwealth. That was made very clear and I want this to be clear also, I stated on Monday or Tuesday of this week that while I was in favor of giving the teachers more money, I did not think this was the time to do it. We know what our obligations are in our present law; we do not know what taxes we are going to be willing to raise later on.

I, for one, wanted to wait until the matter had been decided by the majority and the minority party of this Legislature as to how far we are willing to go on taxes before I would make a decision as to whether school teachers or anybody else should be given more money than the present law requires.

It seems to me that we are going to get into a nice mess if eventually some people in this House and the Senate are not willing to pass tax measures adequate to finance the entire budget we finally adopt. As you know, if at the end of this session we have not enacted sufficient tax measures to raise money sufficient to pay for all the appropriations this appropriation for increased school teachers' salaries, being a preferred obligation, will get paid, but there might be an awful lot of hosiptals and other non-preferred obligations which might not get paid. If we do not get enough money from our tax measures, tax revenue bills, to finance all the money we decide to spend, it is not going to be the teachers who will lose the money, it is going to be the non-preferred recipients of state funds. I don't want to see that happen.

I say the majority side of the House has decided they are willing now to commit this $31 million for the purpose of paying more money to the teachers, but I hope when the day comes when we are voting on tax measures that you Members on the minority side will be willing to go along and give us enough money to pay the $31 million as well as the other money that we have to raise. I am waiting to see that day and if you are not willing to do it. I will certainly call the attention of the public to that fact.

Mr. POLEN. Mr. Speaker, in connection with the statement of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, that the $246,840 thousand is based upon estimates, I would like to clarify that by stating that approximately one-half of that is based upon the actual figures. We are reimbursing on the 1954-1955 school year and that is the appropriation that is now due. Approximately one-half is based upon the actual figures. It is true the projection as made for the school year of 1956-1957 would be estimated, but it is also based upon the best vailable figures.

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, in fairness to the Majority Leader, I meant in my remarks my emphasis was made on the gratification that apparently the membership of his party was aware of the teachers' needs. I heard his statement that he was overruled in his thinking. I have enough confidence in him as a liberal man to believe that he personally is aware of this problem.

However, in fairness to everybody concerned, when I first questioned the majority side relative to teachers' salaries and was advised that 1599 from its inception had nothing beyond mandated increases, I am frank to admit that I had a deep concern that there was at least a deep indifference to the problem at that time.

Mr. McCORMACK. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Bradford, Mr. Moscrip, just one question, namely, what has he done to support this increase for the teachers in the line of revenue raising measures? How did he vote with respect to the classified income tax and, if he voted in the negative, what bill would he be in favor of to raise the necessary revenue?

Mr. MOSCRIP. Mr. Speaker, I don't think I would be alone if I reserved by decision on what kind of a tax measure I would ultimately vote for. As far as my conscience being clear about arising $31 million, I think you will find my negative vote on the record in enough places on the expenditure of money in this House that I thought were secondary to teachers' needs to very well make up the $31 million.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. MOSCRIP. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. MOSCRIP. At this time on this roll call for the clarification of the Members, are we simply voting on the one amendment to increase the bill by $5 million or are we voting on all the amendments which will put 785 in the same shape as 1599?

I might say, Mr. Speaker, there seems to be some misunderstanding about it back here and a number of us would appreciate an explanation.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the question before the House is the agreement to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Polen, to Section 1 of the bill, which the Clerk will read.

The amendment to Section 1 was again read by the Clerk.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. For the benefit of the Members on this side of the House, we are asking the Members to vote gaainst all of these amendments. We will, by agreement with the Chair, if it meets with the approval of the House, take the roll call on the first amendment rather than go down section by section, because it would be rather lengthy and tiring to go on that basis.

We will take the first roll call for the rest of the amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Messrs. CHARLES C. SMITH, AUKER and WOOD and were as follows:

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1116 as follows:

An Act enabling governing bodies of cities of the second class A to establish by ordinance the requirements of responsible bidders for city printing

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The governing bodies of any city of the second and second class A may by proper ordinance require that printing firms who are desirous of presenting bids for city printing shall be required to establish consideration as responsible bidders as follows

(1) That the printing firms shall file with the city clerk a sworn statement to the effect that employes in the employ of the firm or firms which are to produce the printing are receiving the prevailing wage rate and are working under conditions prevalent in the locality in which the work is produced

(2) That whenever a collective bargaining agreement is in effect between an employer and employes who are represented by a responsible organization which is in no way influenced or controlled by the management the agreement and its provisions shall be considered as conditions prevalent in said locality and shall be the minimum requirements for being adjudged a responsible bidder under this act

(3) That in case any dispute arises as to what is the prevailing rate of wages for work applicable to the contract which cannot be adjudged by the head of the department requiring the printing the matter shall be referred to the city council and its decision by a majority vote thereon shall be conclusive

Section 2 This act shall take effect immediately

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Limper, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LIMPER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, does this bill prohibit an open shop from bidding on printing for cities of the second class and second class A?

Mr. LIMPER. Mr. Speaker, it does not prohibit an open shop from bidding.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, what are these extra conditions by which they must abide?

Mr. LIMPER. What does the gentleman mean, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I understand by the bill that they must pay the prevailing wage rate in the locality. Now it says, and other conditions. Would the gentleman mind telling me what the other conditions are?

Mr. LIMPER. Mr. Speaker, that would consider hours, holidays, overtime, and so forth.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, would they have the same idntical conditions as a union shop, all of the same conditions.

Mr. LIMPER. No, they do not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman says hours. How about vacation credits, would you say they have to have vacation credits?

Mr. LIMPER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know anything about that. I do not think that enters into the union contract, if that is what you are speaking of.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, what about seniority privileges?

Mr. LIMPER. Seniority privileges? That I do not know anything about, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Grievance procedures?

Mr. LIMPER. No, not if they have no signed contract, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. The overtime pay, Mr. Speaker, I assume would be the same, holiday requirements would undoubtedly be the same as under union contract, is that right?

Mr. LIMPER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, does this preclude the city of Pittsburgh, for instance, going into the adjoining county and getting bids from a printer there? Could a printer in Butler County bid on printing for the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. LIMPER. The union printers?

Mr. YOUNG. Any printers that qualified under this bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LIMPER. No. Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. It has to be bought in the county of Allegheny?

Mr. LIMPER. No, we have stricken that out, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. What?

Mr. LIMPER. That was stricken out under the two amendments.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, then a printer in Butler County or Washington County, or Beaver, or Westmoreland, could bid on printing for the city of Pittsburgh?

Mr. LIMPER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, in the event that a printer from Butler County did bid on that printing, the prevailing wage rate in Butler County would be the only prevailing wage rate that he would have to abide by, not the prevailing rate in Allegheny County?

Mr. LIMPER. What the prevailing rate would be where the printer is located, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, I do not know, there is something tricky about this thing. I am a little dubious of it, that is the reason I want to read these things into the record. I want the record to clearly indicate that an open shop that does not pay the prevailing wage and his similar working conditions, but not necessarily all the working conditions, can bid successfully on that printing if they are the lowest bidder.

Mr. LIMPER. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, this is the kind of bill that I am positively opposed to. I do not think it is good legislation. I think it establishes a bad prerogative. If we pursue this thing to its ultimate conclusion, we would say that no purchases made by a governmental agency could be bid on other than by a shop that has union conditions and union prevailing wage rates. It is going to eventually result in a higher cost of government, there is no doubt about that.

I understand there are four other bills, there is another one on the calendar, and my remarks can be construed to apply to it, that is, House Bill 1781 which applies the same provisions to counties of the second class. I understand there are four other bills which I assume include Philadelphia County and possibly all other governmental districts in the state of Pennsylvania. I propose to vote against this measure because I do not think it is good legislation. I think that anyone who is doing a reliable job of printing and whose employes are willing and able to work for the employer conscientiously and competently should be allowed to bid on it. The quality of the work should be the only consideration.

However, certain individuals on this side of the House have given me their promise to vote against the bill. I am now releasing those gentlemen and ladies, they may now vote however they see fit. I will not insist that they keep their promise.

Mr. LIMPER. Mr. Speaker, I feel as far as the bill is concerned, it creates no hardship on any firm which desires to compete in the bidding on printing if they meet the requirements laid down in this bill. It creates a more basic level of competition which is an asset to any firm competing. On that basis I think personally it protects the shop that hires men and pays the prevailing rate in any section. I think it should have the preference of bidding on those contracts.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, I ask the Members of the House to vote to support this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 1781 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1781, Printer's No. 974, on page 30 of today's calendar, bills on third reading be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1781, Printer's No. 974, bill on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1781 as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second class amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" enabling county commissioners to establish by resolution the requirements of responsible bidders for county printing

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) known as the "Second Class County Code" is amended by adding after section 2001 a new section to read

Section 2002 Printing Contracts The county commissioners may by proper resolution require that printing firms who are desirous of presenting bids for county printing shall be required to establish consideration as responsible bidders by all of the following

(1) That the printing firms shall file with the chief clerk of the county commissioners a sworn statement to the effect that employers in the employ of the firm or firms which are to produce the printing are receiving the prevailing wage rate and are working under conditions prevalent in the locality in which the work is produced

(2) That whenever a collective bargaining agreement shall be in effect betwen an employer and employes who are represented by a responsible organization which is in no way influenced or controlled by the management the agreement and its provisions shall be considered as conditions prevalent in the locality and shall be the minimum requirements for being adjudged a responsible bidder under this act

(3) That in case any dispute arises as to what is the prevailing rate of wages for work applicable to the contract which cannot be adjusted by the county commissioners the matter shall be referred to the county salary board and its decision thereon shall be conclusive

Mr. YOUNG. Mr. Speaker, if there is no objection, we will take the previous roll call.

Add one more negative vote right here.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, we will be happy to take the same roll call with whatever changes they want to make.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I want to be recorded as voting "no" on the bill under consideration. I voted "aye" on the last bill.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will have that privilege.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1735, Printer's No. 980

was passed over at the request of the SPEAKER.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

TIME EXTENDED ON BILLS

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 368, Printer's No. 622, on page 14 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Mr. READINGER asked and obtained unanimous consent to extend the time five days on House Bill No. 407, Printers No. 624, on page 15 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. RIGBY. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if there is a limit to the number of times that extension can be asked for a particular bill.

The SPEAKER. The extension of time is a matter for decision by the House, and consequently there is no limit in the Rules placed upon the discretion of the House. Every extension is a separate instance.

Mr. RIGBY. Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I believe this bill has been given five extensions now.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE POSTPONED

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. READINGER.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1706 as follows:

An Act amending the act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second class amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" reducing interest on damages allowed in eminent domain proceedings

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section 2625 act of July 28, 1953 (P. L. 723) known as the "Second Class County Code" is amended to read

Section 2625 Payment of Damages and Costs Interests on Awards All damages agreed upon or awarded and all costs and expenses incurred shall be paid by the county except in cases where an appeal is taken by any party in interest from the award of the viewers and the appellant does not recover any greater amount than the viewers award in which case the appellant shall pay all costs of such appeal

The amount of damages allowed in a report of viewers for the taking injury or destruction of property by the exercise of the right of eminent domain shall as finally confirmed bear interest at the rate of [six] three per centum per annum from the date of filing of the report

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Cities—Counties—Second and Second Class A.

The motion was agreed to.

APPROPRIATION BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1113 as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" providing for the establishment by the Department of Property and Supplies of standards for the design construction repair alteration equipping and furnishing of buildings owned or to be constructed or subsidized by or for the Commonwealth and the material used therein repealing inconsistent legislation directing the Department of Property and Supplies to make a report to the next General Assembly and making an appropriation

Section 1 The act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) known as "The Administrative Code of 1929" is amended by adding after section 2403 a new section to read

Section 2403.1 Specifications for Buildings Furnishings Equipment and Materials The Department of Property and Supplies shall

(a) Formulate and establish standards for construction details typical room design materials utilities furnishings and equipment for all buildings owned or to be constructed or subsidized by or for the Commonwealth and used by any administrative department independent administrative board or commission or departmental administrative board or commission or institution agency or project subsidized by the Commonwealth and establish minimum specifications and standards for all materials used in the construction of any new buildings or in the alteration repair or reconstruction of any existing building The standards shall be prepared as to achieve as nearly as possible uniformity of construction details typical room design and materials among all buildings

(b) Consult with and ascertain the needs and requirements of other departments boards or commissions in the formulation and establishment of such standards

(c) Employ capable registered architects and engineers technical specialists and clerical personnel as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of this section

Section 2 Sections 507 508 2403 2409 2411 2413 and 2414 of the act are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this act

Section 3 The sum of two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) or as much thereof as is necessary is appropriated to the Department of Property and Supplies for the payment of salaries wages or other compensation of employes and specialists the payment of general expenses supplies printing and equipment and all other expenses necessary to carry out the provisions of this act

Section 4 The Department of Property and Suplies shall make a report to the next General Assembly detailing the progress and scope of the work then accomplished and the degree of success it has attained in carying out the provisions of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Sec. 3, page 4, line 10 by striking out "two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000)" and inserting in lieu thereof: twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000)."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the offering of an amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hocker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOCKER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform the House whether in his opinion the sum of $25 thousand, which I believe is the amount in his amendment, would be sufficient to accomplish the work that is supposed to be done under this bill?

Mr. HOCKER. Under the existing conditions I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman whether he realizes that the Department of Property and Supplies is empowered under the bill to employ capable architects, engineers, technical specialists, and clerical personnel that may be necessary to accomplish the intent of this bill?

Mr. HOCKER. I realize that, and in answer to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the privilege of asking the Majority Leader one question before we go any farther.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. READINGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that this bill does not carry an effective date, will the gentleman from Berks be kind enough to tell me when it will become effective?

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, under the Statutory Construction Act and the Act relating to the enactment of statutes, any bill which is finally enacted and signed by the Governor after September 1st during the Session is effective immediately.

Therefore, this would become effective immediately.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I beg to differ with the gentleman. My lawyer, and he is a pretty good one, I think, and I didn't pay very much for this information, has informed me that this bill will become effective September 1, 1956.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I suggest the gentleman get himself a new lawyer.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I might say that he is an employe of yours.

Mr. READINGER. I might say I am available, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, I was informed by the gentleman that this particular bill would not become effective until September, 1956, due to the fact that it carries no date.

If that is true, that is the reason for my amendments. They will only have four months before this report will have to be made to this General Assembly. In four months, if we pour $200 thousand into that Department of Property and Supplies, I am doing the Democratic party a favor because they are going to kill each other trying to get at it.

If we only give them $25 thousand, then they just won't hurt each other so badly trying to get that dough.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I have no further questions to ask the astute gentleman.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to inform the membership that unless I am very completely mistaken, and I don't think I am, this bill will become effective immediately upon final enactment and the job to be done under it is the formulation and establishment of standards for construction details, typical room designs, materials, and so forth, for state buildings. The job to be done is one which in my opinion can over the years save us millions and millions of dollars. If it were not for that fact and if I didn't believe that to be true, I would not want to appropriate $200 thousand either.

I have been informed by the people who are active in the General State Authority that legislation of this type would save a great deal of money as far as they are concerned too, bcause when these standards are formulated, and it does take specialists, architects, engineers, and so forth, to do this job, they then will prevent a situation from arising in the future where architects who are employed to design buildings for state purposes will be able to wander all over the lot and perhaps put into those buildings many things which these standards would indicate were not good.

I have been informed that the federal government has a set of regulations and standards such as we propose to create here and as a result many millions of dollars are saved by the federal government on its construction.

For example, if a building is to be used for some functional purposes which by all reasonable deduction would only need to be in existence for about 25 years, formulas and standards to be established under a bill of this kind would dictate that a building should not be built which would stand for the next 150 years.

I think those mistakes have been made in the past because there have not been any guide posts by which whoever is having a building erected can be guided.

I think every Member of this House can with good conscience vote for this bill as it stands and against these amendments.

You will notice that Mr. Strausser is one of the co-sponsors of this bill which was originally introduced for the appropriation of $200 thousand, so I am asking all of the Members to vote against these amendments.

The SPEAKER. The Chair might state that if the Chair were required to rule upon a point of order, he would be compelled to sustain the position taken by the gentleman from Berks.

Mr. HOCKER. Mr. Speaker, had I been informed properly by my attorney—and I am not an attorney, I am in the same category with my Minority Leader, I am a coal man, that is not for purposes of picking up any business because you people are all broke—

The SPEAKER. Is the gentleman known as King Coal.

Mr. HOCKER. Not yet, Mr. Speaker.

I would have drawn these amendments differently, Mr. Speaker. Due to the lateness of the date, we are into October, I do not see how it can be done, and I am going to ask the Members to go along with my amendments. I will be willing to proceed to the upper Chamer of this General Assembly and try to have them increase it a little more. We are in October and we are only going to have a little over a year to operate.

I agree with the gentleman, I think there should be a study made of this, but I am also of the opinion that our Joint State Government Commission probably should be the organization to make this study. They could have hired these people. Since it has moved up to this position, I will ask the Members to go along with my amendments on the condition that I will proceed to the upper chamber and ask them to give them a few dollars more to carry this out.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I greatly appreciate the gentleman's generosity to go over to the other chamber and correct the mistake he is trying to have us make here, but I don't think it is good policy to do that. I think he is sort of weakening on the matter of the effective date and that is understandable—

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman from Berks say the "death chamber."

Mr. READINGER. He didn't, Mr. Speaker, but he might have been thinking about it.

I just want to clear the record on one other confused thought injected by the gentleman who handles coal so ably, and that is that this is a study. This is not a study, this is a concrete piece of work which would be done under the proper department, the Department of Property and Supplies, which handles the matter of our state buildings, and it is not something with which the Joint State Government Commission could help us.

Many times we make studies of a problem in order to find a solution. Here is a particular problem which can only be solved by the creation of these standards and regulations, and I say the Joint State Government Commision is the last place to which we should refer this.

I think his amendments should be defeated and the Members should vote in favor of this bill.

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair in the future will be compelled to ask the Sergeant-at-Arms to remove from the Hall of the House any visitors who interrupt the session by conversing with Members of the House while bills are being considered.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

On a rising vote, forty-two Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and eight in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. STRAUSSER. Mr. Speaker, without going into a lot of repetition on what the Majority Leader has already told us, I think it would be well to clear up a few questions that have been asked me.

One question was: Will this bill eliminate the services of an architect on future state construction? It will not. The idea is to turn these developed details and room layouts over to the architect, as a guide for them to follow in future state construction. So the architects will not be eliminated.

The second question that has been asked me: Do architects oppose this bill? The architects do not oppose this bill, neither do they support it. Their position is a neutral one.

Another question asked me was, Will any taxpayers' money be saved? Mr. Readinger has said that millions would be saved and I agree with him. This appropriation really amounts to a very good investment of taxpayers' money in that in years to come it will save millions.

I would like to take time to mention a few concrete examples of savings made in the past. In the 1930's we will remember there was a great post office building construction program on. Those plans for those post offices were standard or basic plans, and as a result of those basic plans millions were saved on post office construction work.

Right in our own Commonwealth in the 1930's many highway maintenance buildings were built in almost every county in the state. That was another example of basic planning, and the unit price per cubic foot, I remember, in those buildings dropped better than six cents per cubic foot, indicating that standard detail and standard layouts will save money.

More recently take the instance of the state police barracks that were built within the last two or three years. That was another example of standard plans and much money was saved by adopting standard plans and layouts on these jobs.

I think it is a very good bill and I think it deserves the support of all House Members and I would ask that they do support the bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 68 entitled:

An Act amending the act of April 12, 1951 (P. L. 90) entitled "An act relating to alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto regulating and restricting the manufacture purchase sale possession consumption importation transportation furnishing holding in bond holding in storage traffic in and use of alcoholic liquors alcohol and malt and brewed beverages and the persons engaged or employed therein defining the powers and duties of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board providing for the establishment and operation of State liquor stores for the payment of certain license fees to the respective municipalities and townships for the abatement of certain nuisances and in certain cases for search and seizure without warrant prescribing penalties and forfeitures providing for local option and repealing existing laws" authorizing the transfer of certain retail licenses to clubs without affecting the number of licenses thereafter granted in any municipality

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate one of the gentlemen who sponsored the bill, please?

The SPEAKER. Which one?

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Either one who wants to answer interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Smith, is on his feet, will he permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, could I find out from the gentleman whether or not in the transfer of a retail liquor license to a club license, if it brought the quota of the retail liquor licenses below the quota of the county by population, would that then open it up for any number of club licenses to be passed on in that community?

That is a rather involved question, Mr. Speaker, but I have to ask it that way. In other words, we understand this, and let me give you an example. If a county has two retail liquor licenses and that is all they are entitled to, the quota is closed on retail liquor license and also would be closed because of that on clubs. If one of those retail liquor licenses is transferred to a club license, then the quota for the county for the retail license is open and at that point, the way the board has been administering things you could put 200 new club licenses in, or 300, or 400, until the retail liquor licenses were closed again.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was drawn it was drawn with the thought that each time a club bought a retail license it would eliminate one tavern in each town. You raise a question that I cannot answer.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. I don't believe that is the way the bill is drawn. If it does that, it would get to a point where your retail liquor licenses would be below the quota and I believe from what we get as a ruling—we are not objecting, it is just a clarification—it would then open your entire license quota.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is right and I would not want to see that happen. That is the reason we eliminated hotels.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, we don't want to see that happen either. This bill should be clarified. The way we understand it now, it does not state it clearly.

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would have to have an amendment to do that because it was my understanding—and that point was not brought up—that under this particular bill they would buy the retail liquor license and it would automatically become a club license. We had thought that would eliminate one license. I see the gentleman's point. If it would drop the town quota below, it would immediately create a vacancy and they would be able to apply for a new license.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. WILLIAM B. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 69 entitled:

An Act amending the act of June 24 1939 (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" regulating the display of meat packaged with transparent material

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Agriculture and Dairy Industries for the purpose of a public hearing at a time and place to be fixed by the Chairman of that committee.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 145 entitled:

An Act prohibiting the sale transfer purchase ownership possession and use of tear noxious gas and tear gas guns providing for certain exemptions and providing penalties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk for information.

Amend Section 5, page 4, line 7, by striking out after the article "a" and before the word "and" the following: "felony" and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "misdemeanor."

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1263 as follows:

An Act authorizing for the establishment of fireman pension pension funds or pension annuities in boroughs towns and townships and the regulation and maintenance thereof providing for continuance of existing funds or transfer thereof to funds herein established and prescribing rights of beneficiaries.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Each borough town and township of this Commonwealth maintaining paid firemen may establish by ordinance a firemen's pension fund or pension annuity to be maintained by an equal and proportionate monthly charge against each member of the paid fire departemnt of any borough or first or second class townships or towns which may not exceed annually three per centum of the pay of such member by annual appropriations made by the borough town or township by payments made by the State Treasurer to the municipal treasurer from the moneys received from taxes paid upon premiums by foreign fire insurance companies for purposes of pension retirement or disability benefits for firemen and by gifts grants devises or bequests granted to the pension fund pursuant to section 2 of this act Such fund may be under the direction of the governing body of the borough town or township or committed to the direction of such committee as may be designated by such governing body and applied under such regulations as such governing body may by ordinance prescribe for the benefit of such members of the fire department as may receive honorable discharge therefrom by reason of age or disability and the families of such as may be injured or killed in the service but such pension allowances as may be made to those who are retired by reason of disability or age may be in conformity with a uniform scale

The annual appropriation made by the borough town or township each year may be sufficient when added to the contributions made by members of the fire department during such year payments made by the State Treasurer to the municipal treasurer from the moneys received from taxes paid upon premiums by foreign fire insurance companies for purposes of pension retirement or disability benefits for firemen and income from investment trust funds or other lawful enterprises together with any other moneys paid into such firemen's pension fund according to existing law and practices to pay in full the pensions payable during such year

Section 2 It may be competent for any borough town or township firemen's pension fund to take by gift grant devise or bequest any money or property real personal or mixed in trust for the benefit of such fund and the care management investment and disposal of such trust funds or property may be vested in the person or persons having the management of such firemen's pension fund and the said trust funds may be governed thereby subject to such directions not inconsistent therewith as the donors of such funds and property may prescribe

Section 3 Each ordinance establishing a firemen's pension fund may prescribe a minimum period of total service not less than twenty years and a minimum age of fifty years after which members of the department may retire from active duty and such members as are retired may be subject to service from time to time as a fire reserve until unfitted for such service when they may be finally discharged by reason of age or disability

Section 4 Any member of the fire department employed by a borough town or township who has been a regularly appointed employe of any such political subdivision for a period of at least six months and who thereafter may heretofore or hereafter be inducted into the military service of the United States in time of war or National emergency so proclaimed by the President of the United States may have credited to his employment record for pension or retirement benefits all of the time spent by him in such military srvice during the continuance of such war or National emergency if such person returns or has heretofore returned to his employment within six months after his separation from the service.

Section 5 Payments made under the provisions of this act may not be a charge on any other fund in the treasury of any borough town or township or under its control save the firemen's pension fund herein provided for The basis of the apportionment of the pension may be determined by the rate of the monthly pay of the member at the date of death honorable discharge or retirement and may not in any case be less than one-half the highest pay of such member during any period of twelve months within the last twelve months of employment computed at such monthly rate

Section 6 (a) Where there is an existing pension fund managed by a private organization or association for the members of the fire department in any borough town or township on the effective date of this act such fund may continue as constituted only upon the following terms and conditions

(1) The amount paid in pensions to each beneficiary under the established fund may be in excess of any amount so payable from the fund established pursuant to this act and

(2) If the borough town or township in which such an established fund exists undertakes to annually appropriate sufficient moneys to compensate the existing fund for any deficit in the amount of money needed to pay pension obligations during any calendar year and

(3) If not over two-thirds of the beneficiaries and dues paying membership of the existing organization or association vote to transfer its funds into a pension fund established by a borough town or township pursuant to this act

(b) In any instance where an existing fund is transferred to a fund established by a political subdivision pursuant to the provisions of this act all the assets and liabilities of such existing fund may be so transferred Such transfer may be made by the transfer of securities After such transfer the borough town or township firemen's pension fund may assume the liability of continuing the payment of pensions to members of the fire department retired prior to such transfer in accordance with the laws and regulations under which such members were retired

Section 7 No person participating in a firemen's pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act and becomes entitled to receive a benefit therefrom may be deprived of his right to an equal proportionate share therein upon the basis upon which he first became entitled thereto

Section 8 Any member of a fire department of a borough town or township who for any reason whatsoever shall be ineligible to receive a pension after having contributed any charges to a firemen's pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act or to a firemen's pension fund existing on the effective date of this act supplanted by a firemen's pension fund established pursuant to the provisions of this act may be entitled to a refund of all such moneys paid by him into such funds immediately upon discontinuance of his employment with the fire department

Section 9 The pension payments herein provided for may not be subject to atachment execution levy garnishment or other legal process and may be payable only to the beneficiary designated by this act and may not be subject to assignment or transfer

Section 10 All acts and parts of acts are repealed in so far as they are inconsistent herewith

Section 11 This act shall take effect January 1 1956

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

HOUSE BILL 1768 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1768, Printer's No. 1025 on page 28 of today's calendar, bills on third reading be made a special order of business immediately.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER. The Chair lays before the House the special order of business fixed for this time, being House Bill No. 1768, Printer's No. 1025, bill on third reading.

Agreeably to order,

he House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1768 entitled:

An Act regulating settlement of labor disputes between public utility employers and their employes and providing the procedure therefor repealing certain acts

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will Mr. McWherter, one of the sponsors of this bill, consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland consent to be interrogated?

Mr. McWHERTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, under the terms of this bill, will it be possible for any governmental agency to prevent a strike by compulsion?

Mr. McWHERTER. It will not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that if this bill were passed and if there were a public utility strike such as the Duquesne Light Company in the city of Pittsburgh that all this bill calls for is a waiting period of 60 days?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, there is a waiting period actually involving 70 days.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Seventy days?

Mr. McWHERTER. Seventy days, yes. It is an effort to anticipate and prevent strikes.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, and if at the end of the 70 day period there were no voluntary extension under the terms of this bill, then either the management would be permitteed to have a lockout or the organized body permitted to have a strike. Is that not true?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, that is true, subject to any existing laws.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is there any existing law today if this bill is passed which would prevent a strike of a gas company or a water company?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot think of any specifically, no.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does not this act specifically repeal the Act of 1947 which was intended for that purpose?

Mr. McWHERTER. That is my understanding, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Does not this act, Mr. Speaker, provide that if any of the companies involved are subject to the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board that this particular act will not have jurisdiction over said company?

Mr. McWHERTER. That is also correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, does this not mean if there were a strike affecting the Duquesne Light Company that being under the National Labor Relations Board it would not affect that company ?

Mr. McWHERTER. I believe that that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, if there were a strike affecting the West Penn Power Company, it would not apply to that company either, is that correct?

Mr. McWHERTER. Assuming that they under the National Labor Relations Act, yes, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that 98 per cent of the power companies under the present interpretation of the law are under the National Labor Relations Board because of their close contact with interstate commerce?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, I believe the gentleman is correct.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, then the effect of this bill would be that only a few isolated water companies serving a minimum of people would be subect to the terms of this act?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, not isolated. I consider utilities in general as distinguished from light companies in particular.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that if the Act of 1947 were to be repealed there would be no effective means of stopping a strike, other than the 70 day period, affecting public health and safety?

Mr. McWHERTER. Mr. Speaker, no effective means other than the cooling-off period and the attempt to iron out disputes prior to their reaching the striking stage.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Thnk you, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, this bill is intended primarily to repeal the Act of 1947, P. L. 1161, which is designed as an Act to adjust disputes between public utility employers and employes. I believe the Members of this House on both sides would be interestd in the historical background leading to the passage of this legislation.

We in the city of Pittsburgh in 1946 were confronted by a strike, and I will say frankly a strike which I believe responsible labor leaders were against. As a result of that strike, which was the Duquesne Light Company strike, the city of Pittsburgh almost faced disaster. I have before me a photostatic copy of the bill in equity which was filed on behalf of the city of Pittsburgh in which all of the cabinet members who were responsible for the enforcement of law joined, which petition was filed by Anne X. Alpern, now a learned member of the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County.

The city of Pittsburgh, acting under direction undoubtedly of its mayor, presented before the court the disaster which would face this city. Here is what representations were made, and acting upon the representations an injunction was granted under common law. The city of Pittsburgh said:

> The strike will endanger the lives, health, safety and being of our citizens.
> It will paralyze the governmental, industrial, commercial and civic life of this entire area.
> It will result in tremendous and irremediable hardship.
> It will cut off the supply of water. Six of the nine water pumping stations of the City of Pittsburgh will be rendered useless and there will be no reliable supply of water within twenty-four to forty-eight hours after the strike takes affect.
> It will cause the spread of disease through lack of water for sanitation purposes.
> It will cause great danger through lack of water for fire-fighting purposes.
> It will cut off the supply and distribution of food because of the necessary closing of stores and interference with transportation facilities.

The city administration in 1946 realized that it had to resort to the court in order to save the people's interest. This legislation will place the city of Pittsburgh and other communities at the mercy of a dispute between management and labor, and I am afraid also, if we pass this legislation the courts may say, the Legislature having spoken on the matter, the courts have no jurisdiction, because there is a principle of law which says that where there is an adequate remedy at law and the legislature has spoken upon it that is the only method. So if this particular legislation is passed I am very doubtful whether the court of common pleas could even exercise common law jurisdiction.

In closing I would merely like to say this, and quote from a man who I am certain was always considered a good friend of labor. I will read you the quote and I shall tell you who the man was, here is the quote:

> "Because I have come to the conclusion that both the common law of a State and a statute of the United States (referring to the Clayton Act) declare the right of industrial combatants to push their struggle to the limits of justification of self-interest. I do not wish to be understood as attacking any constitutional or moral sanction to that right. All rights are derived from the purposes of the society in which they exist; above all rights rise duty to the community. The conditions developed in industry may be such that those engaged in it cannot continue their struggle without danger to the community. But it is not for judges to determine whether such conditions exist, nor is it their function to set the limits of permissible contest and to declare the duties which the new situation demands. This is the function of the legislature which, while limiting individuals and group rights of aggression and defense may substitute processes of justice for the more primitive method of trial by combat."

These were the words of the late Justice Lewis D. Branders, and I am certain he was no opponent of labor.

We have on the statute books today the Act of 1947 which regulates and prohibts strikes. It sets forth a detailed method whereby these strikes can be prevented and the final power in many instances is the Governor of the state of Pennsylvania. From the decision of the Board named by him there is appeal to the Supreme Court of this state.

Do not labor and management have confidence in the Governor of Pennsylvania and the Supreme Court of this state? We say there should be no contest between management and labor where the public right is involved. The public safety and the public interest is superior, in fact, it is supreme where we have a utility strike in water, gas or light companies, and I respectfully ask everybody to give serious consideration to this bill and vote against it.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to make a brief statement in behalf of this bill.

This bill in my judgment gives ample safeguards to the public interest. In the first place, before a labor agreement is to terminate, 60 days before this agreement is to terminate, machinery is set up under this bill to provide for both labor and management to take advantage of governmental mediation services. If within these 60 days no agreement can be reached between the two parties disputing the hours or wages of a labor contract, then the Governor can call upon a three member panel. One member is to represent the public, one member is to represent labor and one member is to represent management, and these three people are to sit down with the disputants in this particular strike or an impending strike, and try to iron out their differences.

So now you have more than a cooling off period, you have the concerted effort of both labor and management and the public interest all working together to peacefully settle a labor dispute.

It seems to me that the only economic weapon at labor's command is, of course, a strike and the purpose of this bill is to try to curb it so that labor and management can get together on a new wage and hour contract. It seems to me it is in the interest of labor as well in the interest of management to peacefully settle labor disputes and under this bill there are 70 days provided before the termination even of a contract to permit the public interest to be amply safeguarded.

May I say that this bill is modeled pretty much after the National Railway Mediation bill which has been on the statute books of the United States government I think for at least 20 years. It has worked well, it has worked well in the interest of labor, in the interest of management and in the interest of the public.

In addition to the machinery set up under this bill, may I add that this three man commission representing labor, management and the public also has the power to hold public hearings on the matter of an impending strike, so that full publicity is given to both sides of the question. It seems to me that the forum of public opinion is sufficient to guarantee that strikes will either be prohibited, or that under the machinery set up in this bill labor disputes can certainly be settled peacefully before they even occur.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Goldstein, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny agree that the Act of 1947 affects only strikes which are completely internal as far as Pennsylvania is concerned and do not involve interstate commerce?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia is referring to the Wisconsin case which is a four to three decision.

What the Supreme Court of the United States would do with relation to a case at the present time I do not know. I believe that case was decided upon the basis that the National Labor Relations Act having spoken upon a certain matter, a state law was superseded. I do not agree with the general interpretation that Mr. Toll may draw. I believe that the police powers of the state are superior and that interstate matters could be regulated where the life, safety and health of our citizens are involved.

Mr. TOLL. Thank you. You anticipated my argument, but I want to make it anyhow.

I want to call the attention of the House to a debate which we had in the 1951 session when former Representative Bolton tried to amend the Act of 1947 to include transportation, if some of you remember it.

At that time we had as an example that very Wisconsin case which had been decided by the Supreme Court. I would say that a four to three vote is as good as a nine to nothing vote or seven to nothing vote. Four to three is the law of the land and that is why we have odd numbers, and whether you agree with it or not it is the law under which we operate.

In that Wisconsin case they said the state of Wisconsin cannot regulate by a law similar to the Act of 1947 in a case where interstate commerce is involved, that is a matter for the National Labor Relations Act. Frankly, therefore, the Act of 1947 is worth nothing and applies only to strikes that are completely confined within the state of Pennsylvania. The bill which was originally introduced, which was sponsored by Representative Welsh, Representative Leven and myself, No. 1236, was the one we were shooting at to get it off the books, repeal it, it was no good anyhow. However, the Majority Leader and others thought that they would draw this new bill, No. 1768, which I admit is an improvement and at least gives the people an opportunity to sit down and try to settle an item which is completely confined to Pennsylvania.

What kind of an argument is that, the fact that the police power of the state is such that you can overrule an order of the Supreme Court of United States. It seems to me you would be glad to go along with this 1768, it is an improvement over what Mr. Welsh and I had in mind and I hope you will vote for it.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. As to the legality of the dispute between Mr. Toll and myself, I will not go into that because every lawsuit is determined upon its own particular situation. Whether or not the Supreme Court would say a strike affecting the West Penn Power Company or Duquesne Light would be under the National Labor Relations Board, he doesn't know and I don't know.

I want to call the particular attention of the Members of this particular Act of 1947. The addition is only sugar to this, that the primary purpose of this bill is the repeal coating.

The real issue is this, are we going to permit a cessation of the operation of a water company, or a light company, or a power company, where there is no alternative method of furnishing these items to the people? The Railway Mediation Act, which has a cooling-off period, allows a strike thereafter, but although it may inconvenience the public there are alternate methods of transportation such as trucks, wagons, or even by foot. When the power and water of a community are cut off, there is no alternative to the maintenance of life. And I say this, because I feel it is in the public interest and also in the interest of responsible labor leadership, legislation of this character is not taking away the economic weapon to which they are entitled because the economic weapon of management and labor is subordinate to the people's interest and well-being.

I still believe this legislation is not in the public interest.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate Mr. Goldstein?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Thank You, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker, under the Constitution of Pennsylvania under the police powers in the event of a situation which you describe where a water company, for example, would go on strike and it would endanger the life and health of the citizens of a community, would not the Governor then have the right under police and health powers to step in?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Yes, Mr. Speaker. It is my belief offhand that in order to maintain the life and well-being of the community that the Governor could declare martial law or do something which would give him power under his general rights. But I submit that the Act of 1947 has spelled into law a detailed, orderly procedure whereby the Governor would not have to grasp at straws and whereby the rights of management and labor are very well protected. This is an act running into nine or ten pages with a detailed procedure, with the Governor appointing the reviewing body and with the decision of the reviewing body as to wages and labor conditions being subject to appeal to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Therefore, it is my earnest and sincere opinion it is better to rely upon an orderly procedure detailed by an act of the Legislature than to rely upon the residual powers of the Governor of Pennsylvania to declare martial law.

Mrs. REIBMAN. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for his answer particularly in the affirmative on the question that I posed to him.

This bill does preserve the right of labor to strike if necessary, but it sets up machinery whereby it would not be so necessary to strike, whereas the Act of 1947 prohibits altogether to labor the right to strike. In many public utility cases it is not always a matter of public interest that the utility continue.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair observed during the calling of the roll that various Members sat in their seats and made no response whatsoever. Of course, they are not included in the roll call. The Chair will not permit the desk to interpret the minds of the Members who do not respond.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1507 as follows:

An Act amending revising clarifying and changing the act of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3) entitled "An act relating to certain commercial transactions in or regarding personal property and contracts and other documents concerning them including sales commercial paper bank deposits and collections documentary letters of credit bulk transfers warehouse receipts bills of lading other documents of title investment securities and secured transactions including certain sales of accounts chattel paper and contract rights providing for public notice to third parties in certain circumstances regulating procedure evidence and damages in certain court actions involving such transactions contracts or documents and to make uniform the law with respect thereto"

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The hereinafter designated sections and parts of sections of the act of April 6, 1953 (P. L. 3) known as the "Uniform Commercial Code" are amended or added to read

Article 1

Subsection (3) of Section 1-102

(3) [In construing and applying this Act to effect its purposes the following rules shall apply] The effect of provisions of this Act may be varied by agreement except as otherwise provided in this Act and except that

(a) Definitions and formal requirements such as those determining what constitutes a negotiable instrument a bona fide purchaser a holder in due course or due negotiation of documents of title are not subject to variation by agreement

(b) [Except as otherwise provided by this Act the] The rights and duties of a third party may not be adversely varied by an agreement to which he is not a party or by which he is not otherwise bound except as otherwise provided in this Act and

(c) The [general] obligations of good faith diligence reasonableness and care prescribed by this Act [such as good faith due diligence commercial reasonableness and reasonable care] may not be disclaimed by agreement but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the performance of such obligations is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable

[(d) Provisions of this Act which are qualified by the words "unless otherwise agreed" or words of similar import may be waived or modified by agreement and the absence of such words contains no negative implication

(e) Subject to the foregoing subsections and except as otherwise specifically provided in this Act the effect of provisions of this Act may be varied by agreement

(f)] (4) The presence in certain provisions of this Act of the words "unless otherwise agreed" or words of similar import does not imply that the effect of other provisions may not be varied by agreement under subsection (3)

(5) The Comments of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws and the American Law Institute may be consulted in the construction and application of this Act but if text and comment conflict text controls

[(g)] (6) Prior drafts of text and comments may not be used to ascertain legislative intent

Subsection (4) of Section 1-105

(4) The Article on Investment Securities (Article 8) applies whenever any contract or transaction within its terms is made or occurs after the effective date of this Act and the contract

(a) is made offered or accepted or the transaction occurs within this state or

(b) is to be performed or completed wholly or in part within this state or

(c) involves a security issued or transferred within this state But the validity of a [corporate security shall be] security and the rights and duties of the isuer with respect to registration of transfer are governed by the law of the jurisdiction of [incorporation] organization of the issuer

Definitions (12) and (37) of Section 1-201

(12) "Creditor" [means an unsecured creditor and] includes a general creditor a secured creditor a lien creditor and any representative of creditors including an assignee for the benefit of creditors a trustee in bankruptcy a receiver in equity and an executor or administrator of an insolvent debtor's or assignor's estate

(37) "Security interest" means an interest in [property] personality or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation The reservation of title by a seller [or consignor of property] notwithstanding identification of goods to a contract for sale or notwithstanding shipment or delivery is a "security interest" Unless a lease or consignment is intended as security reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest" but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions of Section 2-326 (2) The term also includes [the] any interest of a [financing] buyer of accounts chattel paper or contract rights which is subject to Article 9

Section 2-102

Section 2-102 Scope Certain Security and Other Transactions Excluded From This Article [This Article] Unless the context otherwise requires this Article applies to transactions in goods it does not apply to any transaction which although in the form of an unconditional contract to sell or present sale is intended to operate only as a security transaction nor does this Article impair or repeal any statute regulating sales to consumers farmers or other specified classes of buyers

The Caption and Subsection (1) of Section 2-106

Section 2-106 Definitions "Contract" "Contract for Sale" "Agreement" "Sale" "Present Sale" "Conforming" to Contract "Termination" "Cancellation" (1) ["Contract] In this Article unless the context otherwise requires "contract" means "contract for sale" and includes both a present sale of goods and a contract to sell goods at a future time and "agreement" means agreement for the present or future sale of goods A "sale" consists in the passing of title from the seller to the buyer for a price (Section 2-401) A "present sale" means a sale which is accomplished by the making of the contract

Section 2-207

Section 2-207 Additional Terms in Acceptance or Confirmation (1) [A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon

(2) The additional terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract and between merchants become part of the contract unless they materially alter it or notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time] A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon unless acceptance is expressly made conditional on assent to the additional or different terms

(2) The additional terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract Between merchants such terms become part of the contract unless

(a) the offer expressly limits acceptance to the terms of the offer

(b) they materially alter it or

(c) notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time after notice of them is received

(3) Conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of a contract is sufficient to establish a contract for sale although the writings of the parties do not otherwise establish a contract In such case the terms of the particular contract consist of those terms on which the writings of the parties agree together with any supplementary terms incorporated under any other provisions of this Act

The Caption and Subsections (2) and (4) of Section 2-209

Section 2-209 Modification Rescission and Waiver * * *

(2) A signed agreement which excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing cannot be otherwise modified or rescinded but except as between merchants such a requirement on a form supplied by the merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

* * *

(4) Although an attempt at modification or rescission does not satisfy the requirements of subsection (2) or (3) it can operate as a waiver

Section 2-302

Section 2-302 Unconscionable Contract or Clause (1) If the court as a matter of law finds the contract or any clause of the contract to [be] have been unconscionable [it] at the time it was made the court may refuse to enforce the contract or may strike any unconscionable clauses and enforce the contract as if the stricken clause had never existed

(2) When it is claimed or appears to the court that the contract or any clause thereof may be unconscionable [the court may afford] the parties [an] shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to present evidence as to its commercial setting purpose and effect to aid the court in making the determination

The Caption Subsection (1) and New Subsection (3)

of Section 2-312

Section 2-312 Warranty of Title and Against Infringement Buyer's Obligation Against Infringement (1) Unless otherwise agreed there is in a contract for sale a warranty by the seller that

(a) the title conveyed shall be good and its transfer rightful and

(b) the goods shall be delivered free from any security interest or other lien or encumbrance of which the buyer at the time of contracting has no knowledge [and also free from any rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or otherwise unless the circumstances at the time of contracting place the risk of such claim upon the buyer]

* * *

(3) Unless otherwise agreed a seller who is a merchant regularly dealing in goods of the kind warrants that the goods shall be delivered free of the rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or the like but a buyer who furnishes specifications to the seller must hold the seller harmless against any such claim which arises out of compliance with the specifications

Section 2-316

Section 2-316 Exclusion or Modification of Warranties (1) If the agreement creates an express warranty words disclaiming it are inoperative

(2) [Exclusion or modification of the implied warranty of merchantability or of fitness for a particular purpose must be in specific language and if the inclusion of such language creates an ambiguity in the contract as a whole it shall be resolved against the seller except that] Subject to subsection (3) to exclude or modify the implied warranty of merchantability or any part of it the language must mention merchantability and in case of a writing must be conspicuous and to exclude or modify any implied warranty of fitness the exclusion must be by a writing and conspicuous Language to exclude all implied warranties of fitness is sufficient if it states for example that "There are no warranties which extend beyond the description on the face hereof"

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (2)

(a) all implied warranties are excluded by expressions like "as is" "as they stand" "with all faults" or other language which is common understanding calls the buyer's attention to the exclusion of warrants and makes plain that there is no implied warranty and

(b) when the buyer has examined the goods or the sample or model as fully as he desired or has refused to examine the goods there is no implied warranty with regard to defects which an examination ought in the circumstances to have revealed to him and

(c) an implied warranty can also be excluded or modified by course of dealing or course or performance or usage of trade

[(3)] (4) Remedies for breach of warranty can be limited in accordance with the provisions of this Article on liquidation or limitation of damages and on contractual modification of remedy (Sections 2-718 and 2-719)

Subsection (1) of Section 2-323

(1) Where the contract contemplates overseas shipment and contains a term C I F or C & F or F O B vessel the seller unless otherwise agreed must obtain a negotiable bill of lading stating that the goods have been loaded on board or in the case of a term C I F or C & F received for shipment

Addition of New Subsection (3) to Section 2-501

(3) Nothing in this section impairs any insurable interest recognized under any other statute or rule of law

The Caption Subsection (3) and New Subsection (4) (5) and (6) of Section 2-607

Section 2-607 Effect of Acceptance Notice of Breach Burden of Establishing Breach After Acceptance Notice of Claim or Litigation to Person Answerable Over * * *

(3) [When a non-conforming] Where a tender has been accepted

(a) the buyer must within a reasonable time after he discovers or should have discovered [the] any breach notify the seller of breach or be barred from any remedy and

(b) if the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection (3) of Section 2-312) and the buyer is sued as a result of such a breach he must notify the seller of the litigation wthin a reasonable time after he receives notice of the litigation or be barred from any remedy over for a liability established by the litigation

(4) The burden is on the buyer to establish any breach with respect to the goods accepted

(5) Where the buyer receives notice that he is being sued for breach of a warranty or other obligation for which his seller is answerable over

(a) he may give his seller written notice of the litigation If the notice states that the seller may come in and defend and that if the seller does not do so he will be bound in any action against him by his buyer by any determination of fact common to the two litigations then unless the seller after seasonable receipt of the notice does come in and defend he is so bound

(b) if the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection (3) of Section 2-312) the original seller may demand in writing that his buyer turn over to him control of the litigation including settlement or else be barred from any remedy over and if he also agrees to bear all expense and to satisfy any adverse judgment then unless the buyer after seasonable receipt of the demand does turn over control the buyer is so barred

(6) The provisions of subsection (3) (4) and (5) apply to any obligation of a buyer to hold the seller harmless against infringement or the like (subsection (3) (b) of section 2-312

Section 2-610

Section 2-610 Anticipatory Repudiation When either party repudiates the contract with respect to a performance the loss of which will substantially impair the value of the contract to the other the aggrieved party may

(a) resort to any remedy for breach (Sections 2-703 2-711 or

(b) for a commercially reasonable time await performance by the repudiating party or negotiate for retraction the repudiating party meanwhile being free to retract as provided and limited by the next section and

(c) in either case suspend his own performance

Section 2-615

Section 2-615 Excuse by Failure of Presupposed Conditions Except so far as a seller may have assumed a greater obligation and subject to the preceding section on substituted performance

(a) Delay in delivery or non-delivery in whole or in part by a seller who complies with paragraph (b) and (c) is not a breach of his duty under a contract for sale if performance as agreed has been made impracticable by the occurence of a contingency the non-occurrence of which was a basic assumption on which the contract was made or by compliance in good faith with any applicable foreign or domestic governmental regulation or order whether or not it later proves to be invalid

(b) Where the causes mentioned in paragraph (a) affect only a part of the seller's capacity to perfrom he must allocate production and deliveries among his customers but may at his option include regular customers not then under contract as well as his own requirements for further manufacture He may so allocate in any manner which is fair and reasonable

(c) The seller must notify the buyer seasonably that there will be delay or non-delivery and when allocation is required under paragraph (b) of the estimated quota thus made available for the buyer

Section 2-704

Section 2-704 Seller's Right to Identfy Goods to the Contract Nothwithstanding Breach or to Salvage Unfinished Goods (1) An aggrieved seller under the preceding section may

(a) identify to the contract conforming goods not already identified if at the time he learned of the breach they are in his possession or control

[If the goods were then in process of procurement or manufacture he may complete the process and identify them to the contract unless in reasonable commercial judgment the completion will materially increase the damages]

(b) treat as the subject of resale goods which have demonstrably been intended for the particular contract even though those goods are unfinished

(2) Where the goods are unfinished an aggrieved seller may in the exercise of reasonable commercial judgment for the purposes of avoiding loss and of effective realization either complete the manufacture and resell for scrap or salvage value or proceed in any other ture and wholly identify the goods to the contract or cease manufac- reasonable manner

Section 2-708

Section 2-708 Seller's Damages for Non-Acceptance or Repudiation [The] Unless a lesser measure is agreed the measure of damages for non-acceptance or repudiation is the difference between the price current at the time and place for tender and the unpaid contract price together with any incidental damages provided in this Article (Section 2-710) but less any expense saved in consequence of the buyer's breach except that if the foregoing measure of damages is inadequate to put the seller in as good a position as performance would have done then the measure of damages is the profit (including reasonable overhead) which the seller would have made from full performance by the buyer with due allowance for costs reasonably incurred and due credit for any resale

"Payor bank" Section 4-105

Section 3-112

Section 3-112 Terms and Omissions Not Affecting Negotiability (1) The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by

(a) the omission of a statement of any consideration or of the place where the instrument is drawn or payable or

(b) a statement that collateral has been given for the instrument or in case of default on the instrument the collateral may be sold or

(c) a promise or power to maintain or protect collateral or to give additional collateral [on demand] or

(d) a term authorizing a confession of judgment on the instrument if it is not paid when due or

(e) a term purporting to waive the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of any obligor or

(f) a term in a draft providing that the payee by indorsing or cashing it acknowledges full satisfaction of an obligation of the drawer

(2) Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal

Section 3-118

Section 3-118 Ambiguous Terms and Rules of Construction The following rules apply to every instrument

(a) Where there is doubt whether the instrument is a draft or a note the holder may treat it as either A draft drawn on the drawer is effective as a note

(b) Handwritten terms control typewritten and printed terms and typewritten control printed

(c) Words control figures except that if the words are ambiguous figures control

(d) Unless otherwise specified a provision for interest means interest at the judgment rate at the place of payment from the date of the instrument or if it is undated from the date of issue

(e) Unless the instrument otherwise specifies two or more persons who sign as maker acceptor or drawer or indorser and as a part of the same transaction are jointly and severally liable even though the instrument contains such words as "I promise to pay"

(f) [Notwithstanding any term of the instrument the holder may extend it only with the consent of the maker at the time of extension] Unless otherwise specified consent to extension authorizes a single extension for not longer than the original period

Section 3-204

Section 3-204 Special Indorsement Blank Indorsement (1) A special indorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order it makes the instrument payable Any instrument specially indorsed becomes payable to the order of the special indorsee and may be further negotiated only by his indorsement

(2) An indorsement in blank specifies no particular indorsee and may consist of a mere signature An instrument payable to order and indorsed in blank becomes payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery alone until specially indorsed or indorsed for collection (Section 3-206)

(3) The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement

Section 3-205

Section 3-05 Conditional Indorsement Probititing Transfer Neither a conditional indorsement nor one purporting to prohibit further transfer of the instrument prevents its further transfer or negotiation and the transferee may enforce payment in disregard of the limitation but except for an intermediary bank and a payor bank which is not a depositary bank the indorsee and any [other] subsequent transferee [except a collecting or payor bank] takes the instrument or its proceeds subject to any rights of the indorser

Section 3-206

Section 3-206 Indorsement "For Collection" "For Deposit" to Agent or in Trust "Restrictive Indorsements" (1) When an indorsement whether blank or special states that it is "for collection" "for deposit" or otherwise for the benefit or account or use of the indorser or of another person

(a) [the first taker under that indorsement] any subsequent party except either an intermediary bank or a payor bank which is not a depositary bank must apply any value given by him for on the security of the instrument [in the manner and to the person or account directed by] consistently with the indorsement

(b) to the extent that [the] a purchaser does so he becomes a holder for value

[(c) later holders for value are not affected by the direction contained in the indorsement unless they have reasonable grounds to believe that a fidicuary has negotiated the instrument in breach of duty (subsection (2) (b) of Section 3-304]

(2) In this Act 'restrictive indorsement" means a conditional indorsement or one purporting to prohibit further transfer of the instrument (3-205) or one which whether blank or special states that it is "for collection" "for deposit" or otherwise for the benefit or account or use of the indorser or of another person

Subsection (1) of Section 3-302

(1) A holder in due course is a holder who takes the instrument

(a) for value and

(b) in good faith [including observance of the reasonable commercial standards of any business in which the holder may be engaged] and

(c) without notice that it is overdue or has been dishonored or of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person

Section 3-304

Section 3-304 Notice to Purchaser (1) The purchaser has notice of a claim or defense if

(a) the instrument is so incomplete bears such visible evidence of forgery or alteration or is otherwise so irregular as to call into question its validity terms or ownership or to create an ambiguity as to the party to pay or

(b) the purchaser has notice that the obligation of any party is voidable in whole or in part or that all parties have been discharged

(2) The purchaser has notice of a claim against the instrument when he has reasonable grounds to believe

[(a) that the transfer to him is a preference voidable under the law of bankruptcy or insolvency

(b)] that a fiduciary has negotiated the instrument in payment of or as security for his own debt or in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty

(3) [Except as provided with respect to conditional trust or collection indorsements in the course of bank collections (Sections 4-203 and 4-205) the purchaser also has notice of a claim against the instrument if it has previously been indrosed conditionally or in such manner as to prohibit further negotiation and such indorsement has not been cancelled] The purchaser except an intermediary bank also has notice of a claim against the instrument if it has previously been restrictively indorsed

(4) The purchaser has notice that an instrument is overdue if he has reasonable grounds to believe

(a) that any part of the principal amount is overdue or that there is an uncured default in payment of another instrument of the same series or

(b) that acceleration of the instrument has been made or

(c) that he is taking a demand instrument after demand has been made or more than a reasonable length of time after its issue A reasonable time for a check drawn and payable within the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia is presumed to be thirty days

(5) Knowledge of the following facts does not of itself give the purchaser notice of a defense or claim

(a) that the instrument is antedated or postdated

(b) that it was issued or negotiated in return for an executory promise or accompanied by a separate agreement unless the purchaser has notice that a defense or claim has arisen from the terms thereof

(c) that any party has signed for accommodation

(d) that an incomplete instrument has been completed unless the purchaser has notice of any improper completion

(e) except as otherwise provided with respect to restrictive indorsements that any person negotiating the instrument is or was a fiduciary

(f) that there has been default in payment of interest on the instrument or in payment of any other instrument except one of the same series

(6) The filing or recording of a document does not of itself constitute notice within the provisions of this Article to a person who would otherwise be a holder in due course

(7) To be effective notice must be received at such time and in such manner as to give a reasonable opportunity to act on it

Section 3-406

Section 3-406 Neglicence Contributing to Alteration or Unauthorized Signature Any person who by his negligence substantially contributes to a material alteration of the instrument or to the making of an unauthorized signature is precluded from asserting the alteration or lack of authority against a holder in due course or against a drawee or other payor who pays the instrument in good faith [and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards of the drawee's or payor's business]

Section 3-417

Section 3-417 Warranties on Presentment and Transfer (1) [Unless otherwise agreed any person who obtains payment or acceptance and any prior transferor warrants to a party who pays or accepts in good faith

(a) that he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and

(b) that he has no knowledge of any effective direction to stop payment and

(c) that the instrument has not been materially altered and that he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized except that such warranties are not given by a holder in due course who has taken a draft drawn on and accepted by a bank after such alteration or signature or by a holder in due course of a note This exception applies even though a draft has been accepted "payable as originally drawn" or in equivalent terms

(2) Unless otherwise agreed any party who transfers an instrument for consideration warrants to his transferee and if the transfer is by indorsement to any subsequent holder who takes the instrument in good faith that

(a) all signatures are genuine or authorized and

(b) the instrument has not been materially altered and

(c) the transfer is rightful and]

Unless otherwise agreed any person who obtains payment or acceptance and any prior transferor warrants to a person who in good faith pays or accepts that

(a) he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and

(b) he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith (i) to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature or (ii) to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature whether or not the drawer is also the drawee or (iii) to an acceptor of a draft if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized and

(c) the instrument has not been materially altered except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith (i) to the maker of a note or (ii) to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee or (iii) to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms or (iv) to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance

(2) Unless otherwise agreed any aperson who transfers an instrument and receives consideration warrants to his transferee and if the transfer is by indorsement to any subsequent holder who takes the instrument in good faith that

(a) he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful and

(b) all signatures are genuine or authorized and

(c) the instrument has not been materially altered and

(d) no defense of any party is good against him and

(e) he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted instrument

(3) By transferring "without recourse" the transferor limits the obligation stated in subsection (2) (d) to a warranty that he has no knowledge of such a defense

(4) A selling agent or broker who does not disclose the fact that he is acting only as such gives the warranties provided in this section but if he makes such disclosure warrants only his good faith and authority

Section 3-419

Section 3-419 Conversion of Instrument Innocent Representative (1) An instrument is converted when

(a) a drawee to whom it is delivered for acceptance refuses to return it on demand or

(b) any person to whom it is delivered for payment refuses on demand either to pay or to return it or

(c) it is paid on a forged indorsement

(2) In an action against a drawee under subsection (1) the measure of the drawee's liability is the face amount of the instrument In any other action under subsection (1) the measure of liability is presumed to be the face amount of the instrument

(3) [A] Subject to the provisions of this Act concerning restrictive indorsements a representative including a depositary or collecting bank who has in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards applicable to the business of such representative dealt with an instrument or its proceeds on behalf of one who was not the true owner is not liable in conversion or otherwise to the true owner beyond the amount of any proceeds remaining in his hands

(4) An intermediary bank or payor bank which is not a depositary bank is not liable in conversion solely by reason of the fact that proceeds of an item indorsed restrictively (Section 3-205 and 3-206) are not applied consistently with the restrictive indorsement of an indorser other than its immediate transferor

Section 3-501

Section 3-501 When Presentment Notice of Dishonor and Protest Necessary or Permissible (1) Unless excused (Section 3-511) presentment is necessary to charge secondary parties as follows

(a) presentment for acceptance is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of a draft where the draft so provides or is payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee or its date of payment dpends upon such presentment The holder may at his option present for acceptance any other draft payable at a stated date

(b) presentment for payment is necessary to charge any indorser

(c) in the case of any drawer the acceptor of a draft made payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable to a bank presentment for payment is necessary but failure to make presentment discharges such drawer acceptor or maker only as stated in Section 3-502 (1) (b)

(2) Unless excused (Section 3-511)

(a) notice of any dishonor is necessary to charge any indorser

(b) in the case of any drawer the acceptor of a draft made payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank notice of any dishonor is necessary but failure to give such notice discharges such drawer acceptor or maker only as stated in Section 3-502 (1) (b)

(3) Unless excused (Section 3-511) protest of any dishonor is necessary to charge the drawer and indorsers of any draft which on its face appears to be drawn or payable outside of the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia The holder may at his option make protest of any dishonor of any other instrument and in the case of a foreign draft may on insolvency of the acceptor before maturity make protest for better security

(4) Notwithstanding any provision of this section neither presentment nor notice of dishonor nor protest is necessary to charge an indorser who has indorsed an instrument after maturity

Subsection (2) of Section 3-508

(2) Any necessary notice [is due from] must be given by a bank before its midnight deadline and [from] by any other person before midnight of the third business day after dishonor or recept of notice of dishonor

Subsection (5) of Section 3-511

(3) A waiver of protest is also a waiver of presentment and of notice of dishonor even though protest is not required Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself it is binding upon all parties but where it is written above the signature of an indorser it binds him only

Subsection (1) of Section 3-603

(1) [The] Except as otherwise provided with respect to restrictive indorsements the liability of any party is discharged to the extent of his payment or satisfaction to the holder even though it is made with knowledge of a claim of another person to the instrument unless prior to such payment or satisfaction the person making the claim either supplies indemnity deemed adequate by the party seeking the discharge or enjoins payment or satisfaction by order of a court of competent jurisdiction in an action in which the adverse claimant and the holder are parties

Subsection (3) of Section 3-802

[(3) Where a check or similar payment instrument provides that it is in full satisfaction of an obligation the payee discharges the underlying obligation by obtaining payment of the instrument unless he establishes that the original obligor has taken unconscionable advantage in the circumstances]

Article 4

Subsection (1) of Section 4-103

(1) The effect of the provisions of this Article may be varied by agreement except that no agreement can disclaim a bank's responsibility [or limit the measure of damages] for its own lack of good faith or failure to exercise ordinary care or can limit the measure of damages for such lack or failure

Section 4-106

Section 4-106 Separate Office of a Bank A branch or separate office of a bank [maintaining its own deposit ledgers] is a separate bank for the purpose of computing the time within which and the place at or to which action may be taken or notices or orders shall be given under this Article

Section 4-201

Section 4-201 [When Item Taken for Collection Unless a contrary intent clearly appears a depository bank takes an item for collection regardless of the form of indorsement or lack of indorsement and even though credit for the item is subject to immediate withdrawal as of right] Presumption and Duration of Agency Status of Collecting Banks and Provisional Status of Credits Applicability of Article Item Indorsed "Pay any Bank" (1) Unless a contrary intent clearly appears and prior to the time that a settlement given by a collecting bank for an item is or becomes final (Sections 4-211 (2) 4-212 4-213) the bank is an agent or subagent of the owner of the item and any settlement given for the item is provisional This provision applies regardless of the form of indorsement or lack of indorsement and even though credit given for the item is subject to immediate withdrawal as of right or is in fact withdrawn but the continuance of ownership of an item by its owner and any rights of the owner to proceeds of the item are subject to rights of a collecting bank such as those resulting from outstanding advances on the item and valid rights of setoff When an item is handled by banks for purposes of presentment payment and collection the revelant provisions of this Article apply even though action of parties clearly establishes that a particular bank has purchased the item and is the owner of it

(2) After an item has been indorsed with the words "pay any bank" or the like only a bank may acquire the rights of a holder

(a) until the item has been returned to the customer initiating collection or

(b) until the item has been specially indorsed by a bank to a person who is not a bank

Section 4-203

Section 4-203 Effect of Instructions [Only] Subject to the provisions of Article 3 concerning restrictive indorsements and subject to provisions of this Article concerning notice from prior indorsements (Section 4-205) only a bank's transferor can give instructions which affect the bank or constitute notice to it and a bank is not liable to prior parties for any action taken pursuant to such instructions or in accordance with any agreement with its transferor

Subsection (2) of Section 4-204

(2) A collecting bank may send [an item direct to a payor bank but unless otherwise instructed may not send it direct to any other payor]

(a) any item direct to the payor bank

(b) any item to any non-bank payor if authorized by its transferor and

(c) any item other than documentary drafts to any non-bank payor if authorized by Federal reserve regulation or operating letter clearing house rule or the like

Subsection (2) of Section 4-205

(2) [A collecting or payor] An intermediary bank or payor bank which is not a depositary bank is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by [any condition in or trust imposed or agency declared by a prior] a restrictive indorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor

Section 4-207

Section 4-207 Warranties of Customer and Collecting Bank on Transfer or Presentment of Items Time for Claims [(1) A customer warrants to his depository bank and a customer and a collecting bank warrant to all subsequent intermediary banks and to the payor that

(a) he has a good title to the item transferred or presented or is authorized to obtained payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and

(b) the item has not been materially altered and

(c) he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized and

(d) he has no knowledge of any effective stop payment order But the warranties of subparagraphs (b) and (c) are not given by a holder in due course who has taken an item accepted after such alteration or by a collecting bank taking from such holder even through a draft has been accepted "payable as originally drawn" or in equivalent terms

(2) Where a transferee other than the payor has given consideration against an item sent it for collection the transferor in addition to the warranties set forth in subsection (1) engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will pay the amount of the item to the transferee or to any subsequent holder who takes it up and also warrants to such transferee or such holder that

(a) all signatures are genuine or authorized and

(b) the transfer is rightful and

(c) no defense of any party is good against him and

(d) he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted item

But the transferee may recover damages from the transferor for breach of those warranties or of the engagement to honor only to the extent of the consideration received by the transferor plus any financing charges and expenses

(3) The warranties and the engagement to honor set forth in the two preceding subsections arise notwithstanding the absence of words of guaranty or warranty in the transfer or presentment and a collecting bank remains liable for their breach despite remittance to its transferor

(4) Unless a claim for breach of warranty under this section is made within a reasonable time after the person claiming learns of the breach the person liable is discharged to the extent of any loss caused by the delay in making claim] (1) Any person who obtains payment or acceptance of an item and any prior transferor warrants to the payor bank or other payor who in good faith pays or accepts the item that

(a) he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and

(b) he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith (i) to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature or (ii) to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature whether or not the drawer is also the drawee or (iii) to an acceptor of an item if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance or obtain the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized and

(c) the item has not been materially altered except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith (i) to the maker of a note or (ii) to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee or (iii) to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms or (iv) to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance

(2) Any person who transfers an item and receives consideration warrants to his transferee and to any subsequent holder who takes the item in good faith that

(a) he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful and

(b) all signatures are genuine or authorized and

(c) the item has not been materially altered and

(d) no defense of any party is good against him and

(e) he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawals or applications
In addition each customer and collecting bank who transfers an item to a subsequent collecting bank and receives consideration engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will take up the item
(3) The warranties and the engagement to honor set forth in the two preceding subsections arise notwithstanding the absence of indorsement or words of guaranty or warranty in the transfer or presentment and a collecting bank remains liable for their breach despite remittance to its transferor Damages for breach of such warranties or engagement to honor shall not exceed the consideration received by the customer or collecting bank responsible plus finance charges and expenses related to the item if any
(4) Unless a claim for breach of warranty under this section is made within a reasonable time after the person claiming learns of the breach the person liable is discharged to the extent of any loss caused by the delay in making claim
(5) A payor bank or other payor and a collecting bank may not assert a claim under this section or under indorsement obligations against a prior party who acts in good faith with respect to an item in any case in which the payor bank payor or collecting bank has waived or has failed upon request to assert a valid defense available to it against liability on the item

Section 4-208

Section 4-208 [When Bank Extending Credit for Item or Purchasing Draft or Time Instrument Has] Security Interest of Collecting Bank in Items Accompanying Documents and Proceeds (1) A bank has a security interest in an item and any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either
(a) in case of an item deposited in an account to the extent to which credit given for the item has been withdrawn or applied
[(b) in all other cases for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right to the extent of the credit given whether or not the credit is drawn upon and whether or not there is a right of chargback
(2) When credit which has been given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part the security interest remains upon all the items any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either until sufficient proceeds or subsequent deposits have been received to balance withdrawals or applications]
(3) For the purpose of this section credits first given are first withdrawn]
(b) in case of an item for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right to the extent of the credit given whether or not the credit is drawn upon and whether or not there is a right of chargeback or
(c) if it makes an advance on or against the item
(2) When credit which has been given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part the security interest remains upon all the items any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either For the purpose of this section credits first given are first withdrawn
(3) Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item accompanying documents and proceeds To the extent and so long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection the security interest continues and is subject to the provisions of Article 9 except that
(a) no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (Section 9-203 (1) (b)) and
(b) no filing is required to perfect the security interest and
(c) the security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item accompanying documents or proceeds

Subsection (6) of Section 4-212

(6) If [provisional credit has been given in dollars for] credit is given in dollars as the equivalent of the value of an item payable in a foreign currency the dollar amount of any charge-back or refund shall be calculated on the basis of the [rate of exchange] buying sight rate for the foreign currency prevailing on the day when the person entitled to the charge-back or refund learns that it will not receive payment in ordinary course

Subsections (1) and (3) of Section 4-213

(1) [Subject to the provisions governing priority as between items and notices stop-orders legal process and setoff (Section 4-303) an item is finally paid by a payor bank when it has paid the item in cash or has completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer maker or other person to be charged therewith whichever happens first] An item is finally paid by a payor bank when the bank has done any of the following whichever happens first

(4) A warehouseman loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver [or which he surrenders]

Subsection (4) of Section 7-210

(4) The warehouseman is liable for [loss resulting from] damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of wilful violation is liable for conversion The warehouseman may [bid] buy at any public sale pursuant to this section

Subsection (1) of Section 7-301

(1) A consignee of a non-negotiable bill who has given value in good faith or a holder to whom a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods or upon the date therein shown may recover from the issuer damages caused by the non-receipt misdating or misdescription of the goods except to the extent that the document indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind quantity or condition or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents or condition of contents of packages unknown" "said to contain" "shipper's load and count" or the like if such indication be true

Subsection (2) of Section 7-302

(2) Where goods covered by a through bill of lading or other document embodying and undertaking to be performed in part by persons other than the issuer are delivered to any such person such person is subject while the goods are in its possession to the obligation of the bailee under the document This obligation is discharged by delivery of the goods to another such person pursuant to the document

Subsection (2) of Section 7-303

(2) Unless [a change of instructions is] such instructions are noted on a negotiable bill of lading a [purchaser without notice of the change] person to whom the bill is duly negotiated can hold the bailee according to the original terms

Subsection (3) of Section 7-307

(3) A carrier loses his lien on any goods which he [surrenders] voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver

Section 7-308

Section 7-308 Enforcement of Carrier's Lien (1) A carrier's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods in bloc or in parcels at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods Such notification must include a statement of the amount due the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the carrier is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner If the carrier either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence

(2) Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section In that event the goods must not be sold but must be retained by the carrier subject to the terms of the bill and this Article

(3) The carrier is liable for [loss resulting from] damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion. The carrier may [bid] buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

(4) A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a carrier's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid despite noncompliance by the carrier with the requirements of this section

(5) The carrier may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance if any for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods

(6) The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor

(7) A carrier's lien may be enforced in accordance with either subsection (1) or the procedure set forth in subsection (2) of Section 7-210

Section 7-402

Section 7-402 Duplicate Receipt or Bill Overissue Neither a duplicate nor any other document of title purporting to cover goods already represented by an outstanding document of the same issuer confers any right in the goods except as provided in the case of bills in a set overissue of documents for fungible goods and substitutes for lost stolen or destroyed documents But the issuer is liable for damages [resulting from] caused by his overissue or failure to identify a duplicate document as such by conspicuous notation on its face

Section 7-403

Section 7-403 Obligation of Warehouseman or Carrier to Deliver Excuse (1) The bailee must deliver the goods to a person entitled under the document who complies with [subsection] subsections (2) and (3) unless and to the extent that the bailee establishes any of the following

(a) delivery of the goods to a person whose receipt was rightful as against the claimant

(b) damage to or delay loss or destruction of the goods for which the bailee is not liable but the burden of establishing negligence in such cases is on the person entitled under the document

(c) previous sale or other disposition of the goods in lawful enforcement of a lien or on warehouseman's lawful termination of storage

(d) the exercise by a seller of his right to stop delivery pursuant to the provisions of the Article on Sales (Section 2-705)

(e) a diversion reconsignment or other disposition pursuant to the provisions of this Article (Section 7-303) or tariff regulating such right

(f) Release satisfaction or any other fact affording a personal defense against the claimant

(g) any lawful excuse

(2) A person claiming goods covered by a document of title must [at the bailee's request] satisfy the bailee's lien [and unless] where the bailee so requests or where the bailee is prohibited by law from delivering the goods until the charges are paid

(3) Unless the person claiming is one against whom the document confers no right under Section 7-503 (1) he must surrender for cancellation or notation of partial deliveries any outstanding negotiable document covering the goods and the bailee must cancel the document or conspiciously note the partial delivery thereon or be liable to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated

[(3) A bailee who delivers goods covered by an outstanding negotiable document without cancelling the document or conspicuously noting partial deliveries thereon also becomes liable for delivery of goods called for by the document to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated unless the person to whom the goods were delivered is one against whom the document confers no right under Section 7-503 (1)]

(4) "Person entitled under the document" means holder in the case of a negotiable document or the person to whom delivery is to be made by the terms of or pursuant to written instructions under a nonnegotiable document

Subsection (4) of Section 7-501

(4) A negotiable document of title is "duly negotiated" when it is negotiated in the manner stated in this section to a holder who purchases it in good faith [including observance of reasonalbe commercial standards] and for value unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the current course of business or financing but a bailee may deliver the goods covered by the document of title to a person in possession of the document of title by the terms of which the goods are deliverable to his order or which has been negotiated to him in the manner provided in subsections (1) (2) (3) of this section

Subsection (1) of Section 7-502

(1) Subject to the following section and to the provisions of Section 7-205 on fungible goods and field warehouse receipts a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby

(a) title to the document

(b) title to the goods

(c) all rights accuring under the law of agency or estoppel to goods delivered to the bailee after the document was issued and

(d) the direct obligation of the [bailee] issuer to hold or deliver the goods or in the case of a delivery order to procure the acceptance of the bailee to whom it is addressed according in any case to the terms of the document free of any defense or claim by [him not] the issuer except those arising under the terms of the document or apparent on its face

[But a holder of a delivery order until it has been accepted by the bailee to whom it is addressed acquires rights only against the issuer of the delivery order]

Subsection (2) of Section 7-503

(2) Title to goods based upon a delivery order is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering such goods has been duly negotiated Title to goods based upon a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarded is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a bill issued by the freight forwarder covering such goods has been duly negotiated but delivery by the carrier [against surrender of its bill of lading] in accordance with Part 4 of this Article pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to deliver

Subsection (2) of Section 7-601

(2) a bailee who without court order delivers goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document is liable to any person injured thereby and if the delivery is not in good faith becomes liable for conversion [In the case of a bill of lading action by the carrier in good faith] Delivery in good faith is not conversion if made in accordance with [the official classification and tariff is not conversion If the missing document was a negotiable warehouse receipt the claimant must post] a filed classification or tariff or where no classification or tariff is filed if the claimant posts security with the [warehouseman] bailee in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify [the warehouseman against any loss by reason of the delivery of the goods] any person injured by the delivery who files a notice of claim within one year after delivery

Section 7-603

Section 7-603 Conflicting Claims Interpleader If more than one person claims title or possession of the goods the bailee is excused from delivering until he has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claims or to bring an action to compel all claimants to interplead and may compel such interpleader either in defending an action for non-delivery of the goods or by original action whichever is appropriate

Article 8

Section 8-103

Section 8-103 Issuer's Lien A lien upon a security in favor of an issuer thereof is valid against a purchaser only if the right of the issuer to such lien is [set forth] noted conspicuously on the security

Subsection 1 of Section 8-104

(1) The provisions of this Article which validate a security or compel its issue or reissue do not apply to the extent that validation or issue results in overissue but

(a) if an identical security which does not constitute an overissue is reasonably available for purchase [on the market] the person entitled to issue or validation may compel the issuer to purchase and deliver the overissue and

(b) if a security is not so available for purchase [the purchaser] he may recover from the issuer the price he paid for it

Section 8-201

Section 8-201 "Issuer" With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security "issuer" includes a person who

(a) places or authorizes the placing of his name on a security (otherwise than as authenticating trustee registrar transfer agent or the like) to evidence that it represents a share participation or other interest in his property or in an enterprise or to evidence his duty to perform the principal obligation represented by the security or

(b) otherwise undertakes to perform the principal obligation represented by the security or

(c) directly or indirectly creates fractional interests in rights [of] or property which fractional interests are evidenced by securities

(d) becomes responsible for or in place of any other person described as an issuer in this section

Caption and Subsection (1) of Section 8-203

Section 8-203 Staleness as Notice of Defects or [Irregularities in Issue] Defenses (1) After an act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security of which [requires that] sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange a purchaser is charged with notice of any defect or [irregudarity in its issue] defense

Section 8-302

Section 8-302 "Bona Fide Purchaser" "Broker" (1) A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value and without notice of any claims of ownership who takes delivery of a security in bearer form or of one in registered form issued to him or indorsed to him or in blank

(2) "Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities who in the transaction concerned acts for or buys a security from or sells a security to a customer Nothing in this Article determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which such person is subject

Subsection (2) of Section 8-304

(2) The fact that the purchaser (including a broker for seller or buyer) has notice that the [registered owner holds the] security is held for a third person or [that the security] is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of injury into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute notice of claims of ownership If however the proceeds of the purchase are placed by the purchaser in the individual account of the fiduciary or are made payable in cash or to the fiduciary individually or the purchaser has reason to know that such proceeds are being used or that the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary the purchaser is charged with notice of claims of ownership

Section 8-305

Section 8-305 Staleness as Notice of Claims of Ownership An act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which [requires that] fixes a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange does not of itself constitute any notice of claims of ownership except in the case of purchase

(a) after one year from any date set for[a required] such presentment or surrender for redemption of exchange or

(b) if funds are available for payment after six months from any date set for payment of money against presentation or surrender of the security

Subsection (2) and New Subsection (3) of Section 8-306

(2) Where a security is delivered by an intermediary known to be entrusted with delivery of the security on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against such delivery the intermediary by such delivery warrants only his own good faith and that he has authority from his principal even though he has purchased or made advances against the claim to be collected against the delivery A broker is not an intermediary within the meaning of this subsection [in a transaction in which he has bought or sold the security for another]

(3) Unless otherwise agreed a pledgee or other holder for security who redelivers the security received or after payment and on order of the debtor delivers that security to a third person makes only the warranties of an intermediary under subsection (2)

Subsections (2) and (4) of Section 8-308

(2) An indorsement may be in blank or special An indorsement in blank includes an indorsement to bearer A special indorsement specifies the person to whom the security is to be transferred or who has power to transfer it A holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement

* * *

(4) [When an indorsement purports to be only of part of the security the transfer may be registered in accordance with the indorsement but delivery of a security so indorsed can not make the transferee a bona fide purchaser] An indorsement purporting to be only of part of a security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the indorsement

Subsection (2) of Section 8-314

(2) Except as otherwise provided in this section and unless otherwise agreed a transferors duty to deliver a security under a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until he places the security in form to be [further] negotiated by the purchaser in the possession of the purchaser or [sends it to him or to] a person designated by him or at the purchaser's request causing an acknowledgment that it is held for the purchaser to be made to him A sale to a broker purchasing for his own account is within this subsection and not within subsection (1)

Section 8-316

Section 8-316 Purchaser's Right to Requisites for Registration of Transfer on Books [(1)] Unless otherwise agreed the transferor must on due demand supply his purchaser with any proof of his authority to transfer or with any other requisite which may be necessary to obtain registration of the transfer of the security but if the transfer is not for value a transferor need not do so unless the purchaser furnishes the necessary expenses Failure to comply with [the] a demand made within a reasonable time gives the purchaser the right to reject or rescind the transfer

[(2) Unless otherwise agreed the purchaser's demand for such requisites must be made within a reasonable time not exceeding three months from his receipt of the security]

Section 8-402

Section 8-402 Sufficiency of Indorsement (1) A security is fully indorsed for transfer when the indorsements on or with it are sufficient to make the person presenting it a holder of the security

(2) Unless the issuer has notice that the person signing the indorsement has no power to make the indorsement the issuer shall not require more evidence than the following to establish the necessary indorsement If the person whose indorsement is required (subsection (1) of Section 8-308) is at the time of signing

(a) an adult not under guardianship an indorsement signed by him and a guarantee of that signature

(b) an infant or an adult under guardianship an indorsement signed by his guardian a guarantee of that signature and proof that the person signing was such guardian at the date of signing

(c) an individual who is dead and had not indorsed the security an indorsement signed by the executor or administrator of his estate a guarantee of that signature and proof that the person signing was such executor or administrator at the date of signing

(d) a partnership an indorsement signed on behalf of that partnership by [any] a general partner or an authorized agent of the partnership a guarantee of that signature and proof that the person signing was such partner or was such an agent at the date of signing

(e) a corporation an indorsement signed on behalf of the corporation by any of its officers evidence of the power of that officer to sign a guarantee of that signature and proof that the person signing was such officer at the date of signing

(f) an executor administrator trustee receiver or other fiduciary an indorsement signed by such fiduciary a guarantee of that signature and proof that the person signing was such fiduciary at the date of the signing where there is more than one fiduciary the signatures of all

(g) a person not covered by any of the foregoing papers appropriate to the case corresponding as nearly as may be to the foregoing

The fact that a person "was such at the date of signing" may be established by an appropriate certificate of appointment or incumbency dated within a reasonable period prior to the date of presentation

(3) "A guarantee of that signature" in each of the above cases means a guarantee signed by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible The issurer may adopt standards with respect to responsibility provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable

(4) Nothing in this section shall preclude the operation of Section 8-311 with respect to the effect of unauthorized indorsements

Section 8-403

Section 8-403 Duty to Inquire Into Rightfulness of Transfer (1) Where a security presented for registration is fully indorsed for transfer the issuer is under no duty to inquire into the rightfulness of the transfer unless he has notice of another claim to an interest in the security In such event he may discharge the duty of inquiry by any reasonable means including notifying the adverse claimant by registered mail at an address furnished by him for such purpose or if there be no such address at his residence or regular place of business that the security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person and that such transfer will be registered unless within fourteen days from the date of mailing such notification the claimant either

(a) procures an appropriate restraining order injunction or other process from a court of competent jurisdiction in a cause therein instituted by the claimant wherein the person who has presented the security for registration of transfer is made a party and served with summons or

(b) files with the issuer an indemnity bond sufficient to protect the issuer and any transfer agent registrar or other agent of the issuer involved from any loss which it or they may suffer by complying with such adverse claim

(2) The fact that the issuer has notice that the [registered owner holds the] security is held for a third person [that the security] is registered in the name of or indorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer If however the issuer has notice that the transfer is to the fiduciary in his individual capacity or that the proceeds of the purchase have been placed in the individual account of the fiduciary or are made payable in cash or to the fiduciary individually or otherwise has reason to know that such proceeds are being used or that the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary the issuer is under a duty to inquire into the rightfulness of the transfer

Subsection (2) Section 8-405

(2) If after the issue of the new security a bona fide purchaser of the original security presents it for registration of transfer the issuer must register the transfer Thereupon the issuer may recover the new security from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under him except a bona fide purchaser [If it is apparent after reasonable investigation that the issuer will be unable to recover the new security he may recover from the original owner or the indemnitor for any loss sustained]

New Section 8-407

Section 8-407 Warranties on Presentation for Registration of Transfer Unless otherwise agreed any person who presents a security for registration of transfer or on whose behalf a security is so presented warrants to the issuer and to the transfer agent or registrar to whom the security is presented that

(a) he has good title to the security or is authorized to have the security registered for transfer on behalf of one who has good title to it and

(b) he has no knowledge of any material alteration of the security or that it or any necessary indorsement is not genuine

(e) [a secured party with a previously perfected security interest] any person who has priority under Section 9-312

(3) Except as provided in Section 9-304 a security interest in [documents or] instruments (other than instruments which constitute part of chattel paper) can be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession of the collateral

Section 9-304

Section 9-304 Temporarily Perfected Security Interest in Instruments or Documents Without Transfer of Possession (1) [A security interest in instruments or documents (even though not in the possession of the secured party) is perfected against all creditors of the debtor and against all transferees other than those specified in Section 9-309 for twenty-one days from the time it attaches if the security interest arises by reason of an agreement signed by the debtor under which the secured party makes a new advance releases a perfected security interest or incurs a new obligation It ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected at the end of the twenty-one day period unless within that period the collateral has come into the possession of the secured party] To the extent that it arises for new value under a written security agreement a security interest in instruments or documents which remain in the possession of the debtor is perfected for twenty-one days from the time it attaches as against all persons except

(a) in the case of negotiable instruments securities and negotiable documents a transferee specified in Section 9-309 and

(b) in the case of non-negotiable instruments and documents a transferee for new value in the ordinary course of business who takes possession of the collateral without knowledge that the specific collateral is subject to a security interest

(2) A secured party who has possession of instruments or documents may turn over such collateral to the debtor under a written security agreement and nevertheless continue to have a perfected security interest under this section for twenty-one days from the time of turning over

(3) A perfected security interest under subsections (1) or (2) of this section ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected at the end of the twenty-one day period unless within that period the collateral has come into the possession of the secured party or in the case of documents a security interest has been perfected by filing and in the case of such possession or filing the perfection shall be deemed to be continuous

Section 9-306

Section 9-306 "Proceeds" Secured Party's Rights on Disposition of Collateral (1) When collateral is sold exchanged collected or otherwise disposed of by the debtor [the security interest continues on any identifiable proceeds received by the debtor except as otherwise provided in subsection (2) the security interest also continues in the original collateral unless the debtor's action was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise or unless it is otherwise provided in Sections 9-301 9-303 (2) 9-307 9-308 and 9-309 The security interest in proceeds is a perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected ten days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless

(a) the financing setatement covering the original collateral also includes the proceeds received on disposition of such collateral or]

[(b) it is perfected before the expiration of the ten day period

(2) In insolvency proceedings a secured party with a perfected security interest has a right to the cash and bank accounts of the debtor equal to the amount of cash proceeds received by the debtor within ten days before the institution of such proceedings less the amount of such proceeds received by the debtor and paid over to the secured party during the ten day period but no other right to or lien on cash proceeds not subjected to his control before insolvency proceedings are instituted Nothing in this subsection shall affect any right of set-off which might otherwise exist

(3) On sale or exchange of collateral or collection of accounts or chattel paper by the debtor "proceeds" are received and when the right to payment has been earned under a contract right the resulting account is a "proceed" "Cash proceeds" include checks and money received on disposition of collateral or on collection or transfer of non-cash proceeds but not notes time bills chattel paper accounts and goods received in exchange

(4) If the proceeds resulting from a sale or other disposition of inventory consists of chattel paper nothing in this section prevents a transfer thereof for new value in the ordinary course of business and the security interest or any other right of any such transferee shall have priority over the security interest based on a claim to proceeds under subsection (1)

(5)] a security interest continues in

(a) the original collateral unless the debtor's action was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise or unless it is otherwise provided in Sections 9-301 (priority over unperfected security interests) 9-303 (2) (subordination of perfected security interests) 9-307 (rights of buyers) 9-308 (security interest without possession) or 9-309 (purchasers of instruments and documents) and

(b) any identifiable proceeds received by the debtor

(2) The security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected ten days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless

(a) the financing statement covering the original collateral also includes the proceeds received on disposition of such collateral or

(b) the security interest in the proceeds is perfected before the expiration of the ten day period

(3) In the event of insolvency proceedings instituted by or against a debtor a secured party with a perfected security interest in proceeds has a perfected security interest in identifiable non-cash proceeds He also has a right to a priority in an amount equal to the value of any cash proceeds (either identifiable or not) received by the debtor within ten days before the institution of such insolvency proceedings less the amount of cash proceeds received by the debtor and paid over to the secured party during the ten day period but no other right to or lien on cash proceeds not subjected to the control of the secured party before insolvency proceedings are instituted and the amount of this priority shall in no event exceed the amount of the cash and bank accounts of the debtor as of the date of insolvency Nothing in this subsection shall affect any right of set-off which might otherwise exist

(4) On sale exchange or return of collateral or collection of accounts or chattel paper by the debtor "proceeds" are received and when the right to payment has been earned under a contract right the resulting account is a "proceed" "Cash proceeds" include checks and money received on disposition of collateral or on collection or transfer of non-cash proceeds but not notes time bills chattel paper accounts and goods received in exchange

(5) If the proceeds resulting from a sale or other disposition of inventory consists of chattel paper the security interest or any other right of a transferee of such chattel paper for new value in the ordinary course of business has priority over a security interest based on a claim to proceeds under subsection (2) or (3) But where the holder of the security interest in chattel paper as proceeds gives new value for and claims a security interest in the chattel paper as such Section 9-308 applies

(6) If collateral which has been sold is returned to the debtor the following rules determine the priorities

(a) As between the debtor and a secured party to whom the indebtedness originally secured by the collateral has not been paid the original security interest continues

(b) As between the debtor and an unpaid transferee of the chattel paper arising from the sale the transferee shall have a security interest in the property returned but such security interest must be perfected for protection against third parties

(c) The security interest of an unpaid transferee under (b) shall have priority over a security interest claimed under (a)

Section 9-308

Section 9-308 Security Interest in Documents and Chattel Paper Without Transfer of Possession but by Filing [Filing] Subject to Section 9-309 (on purchasers of instruments and documents) filing with regard to documents and chattel paper not transferred to the posession of the secured party perfects a security interest [in such paper] therein against all creditors of the debtor and all transferees except a purchaser for new value and in the ordinary course of his business who takes possession of the [paper and who] collateral and does not have actual knowledge that the specific [chattel paper] collateral is subject to a security interest

Section 9-312

Section 9-312 [Conflicting Security Interests General Rules of Priority When conflicting perfected security interests attach to the same collateral such interests rank in the order of time of perfection with the following exceptions

(1) An interest which attaches after filing takes priority from the time of filing but in case of conflict this rule is subject to the rules stated in the following subsections

(2) A secured party who has a perfected security interest and who makes later advances to the debtor on the same collateral and under the same security agreement takes priority as to the later advances from the time when his security interest was originally perfected

(3) A secured party who has a perfected security interest and who acquires rights in after-acquired collateral under a term in the security agreement takes priority as to such rights from the time when his security interest was originally perfected whether or not he makes advances on the after-acquired collateral except as otherwise provided in subsection (4)

(4) A purchase money security interest has priority over a conflicting interest in the same collateral which is claimed under an after-acquired property clause if the purchase money security intrest is perfected at the time the debtor receives the collateral or within ten days thereafter and where the collateral is inventory if before the debtor receives it the purchase money party also notifies any secured party who has made a prior filing covering inventory of the type concerned Such notification must describe the inventory concerned state that the interest is a purchase money security interest and specify its amount If however the interest claimed under an after-acquired property clause is itself a purchase money security interest the rule stated in subsection (5) applies

(5) When there are conflicting purchase money security interests the interest of a seller or of a securied party whose advance was used at his direction to pay a seller takes priority if he has perfected his interest at the time the debtor receives the collateral or within ten days thereafter In any other case of conflicting purchase money security interests they rank equally

(6) When the collateral is crops the interest of a later secured party who in order to enable the debtor to produce them makes a new advance incurs a new obligation releases a perfected security interest or gives other new value during the production season or not more than three months before the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops takes priority over the interest of an earlier secured party to the extent that the earlier interest secured obligations (such as rent interest or mortgage principal amortization) due more than six months before the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops]

[(7) Section 9-313 on goods which are part of the realty Section 9-314 on goods which are affixed to other goods and section 9-315 on goods which are commingled or processed state rules or priority which supplement the rules stated in this section] Priorities Among Conflicting Security Interests in the Same Collateral (1) The rules of priority stated in the following sections shall govern where applicable Section 4-208 with respect to the security interest of collecting banks in items being collected accompanying documents and proceeds Section 9-301 on priorities over unperfected security interests Section 9-306 on claims to chattel paper as proceeds against claims of a transferee thereof Section 9-308 on filed security interests in chattel paper or documents as against purchasers thereof Section 9-309 on perfected security interests as against certain holders of negotiable instruments or documents or bona fide purchasers of securities Section 9-310 on priorities between perfected security interests and liens by operation of law Section 9-313 on security interests in goods as against interests in realty Section 9-314 in security interests in accessions as against interests in goods Section 9-315 on conflcting security interests where identity of the collateral is lost and Section 9-316 on contractual subordination

(2) A security interest in crops for new value to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season or not more than three months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise takes priority over an earlier perfected security interest to the extent that such earlier interest secures obligations due more than six months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise

(3) A purchase money security interest in inventory collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if

(a) the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral and

(b) any secured party who has previously filed a financing statement covering the same items or type of inventory has received notification of the purchase money security interest before the debtor receives possession of the collateral covered by the purchase money security interest and

(c) such notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor describing such inventory by item or type

(4) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral

(5) In all cases not governed by rules stated in subsections (1) (2) (3) and (4) of this section priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined as follows

(a) in the order of filing if both are perfected by filing regardless of which security interest attached first under Section 9-204 (1) and whether it attached before or after filing

(b) in the order of perfection if one is perfected by filing and the other in any other manner regardless of which security interest attached first under Section 9-204 (1) and in the case of a filed security interest whether it attached before or after filing and

(c) in the order of attachment under Section 9-204 (1) if neither is perfected

(6) If a security interest is originally perfected in any way permitted under this Article and is subsequently perfected in some other way under this Article without an intermediate period when it was unperfected the security interest shall be deemed to be perfected continuously for the purposes of this Article and the priority of such security interest shall date from its original filing if originally perfected by filing or its original perfection if originally perfected without filing

Subsection (4) of Section 9-318

(4) A term [prohibiting] in any contract between an account debtor and an assignor which prohibits assignment of an account or contract right to which they are parties is ineffective Before making payment an account debtor may however require as assignee to furnish reasonable proof of the making of the assignment Until an assignee furnishes reasonable identification of the account or contract right assigned the account debtor may make payment to the assignor

Section 9-401

Section 9-401 Place of Filing Erroneous Filing Removal of Collateral (1) If filing is required by this Article (subsection (1) of Section 9-302) in order to perfect a security interest the place of filing is as follows

(a) when the collateral is accounts other than those arising from the sale of farm products by a farmer or is chattel paper contract rights inventory or equipment other than equipment used in farming operations then in the office of the Secretary of Commonwealth [and in addition if all of the debtor's places of business are in a single county in the office of the prothonotary of that county]

(b) when the collateral is consumer goods equipment used in farming operations farm products or accounts arising from the sale of farm products by a farmer then in the office of the prothonotary of the county of the debtor's residence or if the debtor is not a resident of this State then in the office of the prothonotary of the county where the land on which the crops are growing or to be grown is located

(c) when the collateral is goods which are or are to be so affixed to realty as to be a part thereof then in the office where a mortgage on the realty concerned would be filed or recorded

(d) when the collateral is general intangibles documents or any other type not specified in subclauses (a) (b) and (c) in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth

(2) A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or not in all of the places required by this section is neverthless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing was proper and with regard to all collateral against any person who has knowledge of the filing of a financing statement which indicates that a security interest in all collateral wherever located was intended

(3) A filing which is made in the porper [county in this state remains effective for one hundred and twenty days after the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral is changed to another county of this state but becomes ineffective thereafter unless a copy of the financing statement signed by the secured party is filed in the new county within said period] place in this state remains effective even though the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral or its use is thereafter changed

(4) When collateral is brought into this state from another jurisdiction the rules stated in Section 9-103 apply to determine when filing is necessary in this state

Caption and Subsection (1) of Section 9-402

Section 9-402 Formal Requisites of Financing Amendments (1) A financing statement is sufficient if it is signed by the debtor and the secured party gives an address of the secured party from which information concerning the security interest may be obtained gives a mailing address of the debtor and contains a statement indicating the types or describing the items of [property covered] collateral A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made When the collateral is crops growing or to be grown or goods affixed or to be affixed to realty so as to be a part thereof the statement must also contain a description of the land or realty concerned A copy of the security agreement is sufficient as a financing statement if it contains the above information and is signed by both parties [When the collateral is goods affixed or to be affixed to realty the collateral must be described by item and not by type]

New Subsection (4) of Section 9-402

(4) The term "financing statement" as used in this Article means the original financing statement and any amendments signed by the debtor and the secured party but if any amendment adds collateral it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment

Section 9-403

Section 9-403 What Constitutes Filing Duration of Filing Effect of Lapsed Filing Duties of Filing Officers (1) Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer constitutes filing under this Article

(d) sell and recover a deficiency as provided in Section 9-504

(e) accept the collateral in discharge of the obligation as provided in Section 9-505

New Subsection (5) of Section 9-501

(5) When a secured party shall have reduced his claim to judgment the lien of any levy which may be made upon collateral by virtue of any execution based upon such judgment shall relate back to the date of the perfection of the security interest in such collateral A judicial sale pursuant to such execution is a foreclosure of the security interest by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section and the secured party may purchase at any such sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this Article

Section 9-503

Section 9-503 Secured Party's Right to Take Possession After Default (1) Unless otherwise agreed a secured party has on default the right to take possession of the collateral In taking possession a secured party may proceed without judicial process if this can be done without breach of the peace If the security agreement so provides the secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place reasonably convenient to both parties Without removal a secured party may render equipment unusable and may dispose of collateral on the debtor's premises under Section 9-504 [A debtor may request the secured party to remove collateral from the debtor's premises after a reasonable time for its disposition has passed If the secured party fails to remove the collateral within a reasonable time after the receipt of such a request the debtor may remove and store it]

(2) If a secured party elects to proceed by process of law he may proceed by writ of replevin or otherwise

Subsection (2) of Section 9-504

(2) Disposition of the collateral may be [at] by public or private proceedings and may be made by way of one or more contracts Sale or other disposition may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the disposition including the method manner time place and terms must be commercially reasonable Unless collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market the secured party must give to the debtor and to any other secured party who has a security interest in the collateral to be disposed of and who has filed a financing statement in this state or is known to be such by the secured party making the disposition reasonable notification of the time and place of any public [or private sale and appropriate] sale or reasonable notification of [any] the time after which any private sale or other intended disposition is to be made Notification may be sent to address given in a financing statement if the secured party has no knowledge of different addresses The secured party may buy at any public sale and if the collateral is of a type customarily sold in a recognized market or is of a type which is the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations he may buy at private sale

New Subsection (4) of Section 9-504

(4) The transfer of collateral by a secured party to a person is liable to him under a guaranty endorsement repurchase agreement or the like is not a sale or disposition of collateral under this Article and the transferee thereafter has the rights and duties of the secured party with regard to the collateral

Section (2) of Section 9-505

(2) In any other case a secured party in possession may after default purpose to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the obligation Written notice of such proposal shall be given to the debtor and to any other secured party who has a security interest in the collateral and who has filed a financing statement in this state or is known to be such by the secured party in possession If the debtor or other person entitled to receive notification objects in writing within thirty days from receipt of the notification and causes such written objection to be delivered to the secured party the secured party must dispose of the collateral under Section 9-504 but in the absence of [such] receipt of such written objection within said thirty days the secured party may hold the collateral or dispose of it free from the requirements of this Article

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1562, Printer's No. 607

was passed over at the request of Mr. READINGER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1693, as follows:

An Act amending the act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" further regulating membership of the State Veterans' Commission

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (b) of section 448 act of April 9, 1929 (P. L. 177) known as "The Administrative Code of 1929" amended June 6, 1945 (P. L. 1398) is amended to read

Section 448 Advisory Boards and Commissions The advisory boards and commissions within the several administrative departments shall be constituted as follows

* * *

(b) The State Veterans' Commission shall consist of the Adjutant General ex-officio and [seven] nine members all of whom shall have served in the armed forcs of the United States while a state of war existed between the United States of America and another sovereign power and shall be members in good and regular standing of a Pennsylvania branch post lodge or club of a recognized national veterans' organization active in this Commonwealth

The Governor upon recommendation of the Adjutant General shall declare a vacancy to exist whenever any member shall fail to attend three consecutive meetings and shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term

Three members of the nine shall be considered members-at-large and shall be approved by the Governor and appointed for terms of four years

Five members of the commission shall constitute a quorum

The commission shall select from its number a chairman and a secretary

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1695, entitled:

An Act amending the act of March 7, 1901 (P. L. 20) entitled "An act for the government of cities of the second class" increasing the jurisdiction of magistrates of the municipal traffic court in cities of the second class

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, will one of the sponsors of this bill consent to be interrogated?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDSTEIN. Mr. Speaker, as I read this bill it provides that the Magistrate of the Municipal Court of Pittsburgh shall have jurisdiction over any person 16 years of age or over, who has committed a summary conviction, or a felony, or misdemeanor, under the Motor Vehicle Code.

I think I understand the purpose of the proposed act is to give the Traffic Court of the city of Pittsburgh jurisdiction over youngsters between 16 and 18 who get traffic tags, but unfortunately this bill has been drawn up in such a way that if a boy between 16 and 18 were charged with driving an automobile without the owner's consent, defacing an automobile, or committing any other violation, or misdemeanor, or felony, under the Motor Vehicle Code it would mean that the youngster in Pittsburgh would be subject to the jurisdiction of Traffic Court instead of Juvenile Court. I am certain this is not the purpose of this bill. If Dr. Sarraf agrees with me, it should be recommitted for the purpose of further study.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, if that is true, I would much rather just pass the bill over and save the time of the House.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

House Bill No. 1695, Printer's No. 950

was passed over at the request of Mr. SARRAF.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1707, as follows:

An Act amending the act of June 21 1939 (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" changing the time for valuation or assessment of new buildings

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Sections 8.1 and 13 act of June 21 1939 (P. L. 626) entitled "An act providing for and regulating the assessment and valuation of all subjects of taxation in counties of the second class creating and prescribing the powers and duties of a Board of Property Assessment Appeals and Review imposing duties on certain county and city officers abolishing the board for the assessment and revision of taxes in such counties and prescribing penalties" amended June 25 1947 (P. L. 954) are amended to read

Section 8.1 No [new building in the process of construction shall be valued or assessed for any purpose until the expiration of one year from the date the construction of the new building was begun or the date of issuance of the building permit covering such building where such permit is required and no] land assessed as acreage or unimproved property which is subsequently laid out in lots and the plan of such lots is recorded shall be assessed in excess of the total assessment of the land as acreage or unimproved property for a period of three years after the recording of such plan or until such time as the lots are actually sold or improved with permanent construction whichever period is the shorter Each such lot as sold shall be subject to reassessment beginning with the date of such sale and new construction begun thereon shall be subject to reassessment as provided above

Section 13 The proper assessors shall between the triennial assessments revise any assessment or valuation according to right and equity by correcting errors and by adding thereto any property or subjects of taxation which may have been omitted or any new property or subjects of taxation which may have come into being since the last triennial assessment

They shall also add thereto the names of any persons who may have moved into such district and strike therefrom the names of any persons who have removed from such districts since the last triennial assessment

The proper assessors shall also revise assessments and valuations between the triennial assessments by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subjects of taxation assessed or valued has changed by reasons of any change of conditions thereon or adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or for the reason that the property assessed or valued has been subdivided or laid out into a plan of lots or other subdivisions or for the reason that improvements have been placed thereon or added thereto or for the reason that any public or other improvement has been made adjacent thereto or in the vicinity thereof or for the reason that the assessor and the majority of the board decides that the assessor erred in the value which he placed on the property or subjects of taxation when making the triennial assessment or where for any other reason whatsoever the value of the property has changed and it seems to the board necessary and equitable to make a change in the valuation thereof The assessors shall also between the triennial assessments in all cases where it is apparent that any assessment is not in accord with the generality or uniform standard of assessments revise and correct the same by increasing or decreasing the same where the value of the property or subjects of taxation assessed do not conform to the generality or uniform standard of assessments

No [new building in the process of construction shall be valued or assessed for any purpose until the expiration of six months from the date the construction of the new building was begun or the date of issuance of the building permit covering such building where such permit is required and no] land assessed as acreage or unimproved property which is subsequently laid out in lots and the plan of such lots is recorded shall be assessed in excess of the total assessment of the land as acreage or unimproved property for a period of three years after the recording of such plan or until such time as the lots are actually sold or improved with permanent construction which ever period is the shorter Each such lot as sold shall be subject to reassessment beginning with the date of such sale and new construction begun thereon shall be subject to reassessment as provided above

All assessments required to be made by the proper assessors in the year between the triennial assessment shall be returned to the board not later than the first Monday of September of the year preceding the one for which it is made

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1722, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 15 1933 (P. L. 624) entitled as amended "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers and of banking corporations with or without fiduciary powers including the conversion of National banks into State banks and for the licensing of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such corporations of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business with or without fiduciary powers of private bankers and employes' mutual banking associations and of the officers directors trustees shareholders attorneys and other employes of all such corporations employes' mutual banking associations or private bankers or of affiliated corporations associations or persons restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation association or person and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts prothonotaries recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" further regulating changes of places of business and establishment of branches

The General Assembly of the Comomnwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 203 Place of Business Change of Place of Busiknown as the "Banking Code" amended April 22 1937 (P. L. 349) is amended to read

Section 203 Place of Business Change of Place of Business A Except as herein otherwise provided an institution shall not transact any banking or trust business except in the case of an incorporated institution at the place or places heretofore designated in its articles and such other places as are hereafter approved as branches in the manner provided in this act and in the case of a private bank at the place or places the address or addresses of which are filed with the Department of Banking

B An institution may in the case of an incorporated institution with the prior written approval of the department and in the regular manner provided by this act for an amendment to its articles and in the case of a private bank with the prior written approval of the department change its principal place of business (1) within the city borough or township in which its principal place of business is located or (2) with the prior approval of the department and the Banking Board to any city borough or township either within the county of its principal place of business or in a county contiguous to the county of its principal place of business [subject however to the same limitations and requirements as are by this act prescribed in the case of the establishment of a branch in such city borough or township]

Any change of the principal place of business of an institution shall automatically terminate its right to maintain and operate any branch located or authorized by the articles of incorporation or otherwise to be located in a county which is not contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business is to be located

Except in the case of any change of the principal place of business within the same city borough or township an institution shall not change its principal place of business unless in the case of a bank bank and trust company or trust company its unimpaired capital is at least equal to the minimum capital required by this act for the incorporation of a bank bank and trust company or trust company as the case may be in the proposed city borough or township and in case branches are maintained and operated or are authorized by its articles of incorporation or otherwise to be maintained and operated unless it has such additional amounts of capital and surplus as are required by this act for the establishment of branches and in the case of a savings bank unless its surplus equals a minimum amount approved by the department and in the case of a private bank unless its net worth equals a minimum amount approved by the department

An institution may change the place of business of any of its branches subject to the same requirements and limitations as are by this act prescribed in the case of the establishment of branches

C A private bank which upon the effective date of this act lawfully maintains one or more offices or places of business in any other state or foreign country may continue to maintain and operate any such offices or places of business and do and perform all such acts and make all such loans discounts and investments at such offices or places of business as are permitted or required under the laws of such other state or foreign country subject to such restrictions or limitations as may be imposed by the laws of such other state or foreign country

D However an institution may with the prior written approval of and for the period fixed by the department change its place of business to permit of the alteration or improvement of the premises at the time occupied by it

Section 2 Section 204 of the act and its amendments are repealed

Section 3 The act is amended by adding after section 203 a new section to read

Section 204.1 Branches A Any institution may continue to maintain and operate any branch heretofore lawfully established by such institution

If an institution is hereafter merged or consolidated with another institution or national banking association the surviving institution in case of merger or the newly consolidated institution with the approval of the department with respect to any such institutions or national banking associations may retain and operate as branches any of their principal places of business and branches which may have been in lawful operation in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the institution resulting from the merger or consolidation is located on the effective date of such merger or consolidation If any national banking association shall convert into an institution all of its branches in operation in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the institution resulting from the conversion is located on the date of such conversion with the approval of the department may be continued in lawful operation

B Any institution pursuant to a resolution of its board of directors its trustees or in the case of a private bank its owners or board of managers may establish and maintain branches (1) with the prior written approval of the department in the same city borough or village in which the principal place of business of the institution proposing to take such action is located and (2) with the approval of the department and the Banking Board in any other city borough or village or any place in a township other than a village located in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the institution proposing to take such action is located No such branches shall be established unless the institution has the capital and surplus required by this section

The request for the department's written approval of the establishment and maintenance of the one or more new branches authorized by resolution of its board of directors its trustees or in the case of a private bank its owners or board of managers shall be set forth in an application in such form and containing such other information as the department may require and such application shall be accompanied by such reasonable fee as the department with the approval of the Banking Board may prescribe

When an institution files an application for the establishment of a branch in the same city borough or village in which its principal place of business is located the department if it finds upon investigation that there is a need for banking services or facilities such as are contemplated by the establishment of such branch and that all other requirements of this section have been met shall approve the application and issue a letter of authority to the applicant institution

Should the department find after the investigation above provided for that the institution has not met the requirements of this section governing the application for the establishment of a branch or should it find that there is not a need for banking services or facilities such as are contemplated by the establishment of such branch it shall disapprove the application and return the same to the institution with a statement of its reasons for doing so The fee paid by the applicant bank shall be retained by the department

When an institution files an application for the establishment of a branch to be located in any place outside the city borough or village where the principal place of business of the institution proposing to establish such branch is located it shall immediately notify by registered mail return receipt requested each other institution whose principal place of business is in the county in which the proposed branch is to be located Within sixty days of the receipt of such application the department if it finds upon investigation that there is a need for banking services or facilities such as are contemplated by the establishment of such branch and that all requirements of this section have been complied with shall approve such application and forward it to the Banking Board for review The department in its sole discretion may disapprove an application the effect of which is to establish a branch in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the incorporated institution proposing to establish such branch is located if an incorporated institution having its principal place of business in the county in which the proposed branch is to be located has in good faith notified the department of its intention to establish a branch in the same city borough or village in which such proposed branch is to be located The Banking Board after such additional investigation or hearing as it may deem advisable shall either approve or disapprove the action of the department and shall return the application to the department with notice of its decision and in case of disapproval with a statement of its reasons for doing so The decision of the Banking Board shall be binding upon the department

Immediately upon receipt of the application from the Banking Board the department on the basis of the decision of the Banking Board shall either approve or disapprove it in the same manner as provided for under this section for branches subject only to approval of the department

C A branch may be established in the same city borough or village where the principal place of business of an institution is located if the institution has minimum capital and surplus required under the provisions of section 401 for the same type or class of institution For each branch located outside such city borough or village it shall have or provide the following additional capital and surplus

Banks	Capital	Surplus

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1737, as follows:

An Act amending the act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 457) entitled "An act relating to the business of building and loan associations providing for the organization and voluntary dissolution of such associations defining the rights powers duties liabilities and immunities of such associations and of their officers directors shareholders solicitors and other employes probihiting the transaction of business in this Commonwealth by foreign building and loan associations conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers establishing limitations of actions imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts" regulating the establishment of places of business and changes in the places of business and the establishment and maintenance of branches

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Sections 203 and 204 act of May 5, 1933 (P. L. 457) known as the "Building and Loan Code" and their amendments are repealed

Section 2 The act is amended by adding after section 202 two new sections to read

Section 203 Place of Business Change of Place of Business Collection Agencies A Except as otherwise provided in this section an association shall not transact any of its business except at (1) the place heretofore designated in its by-laws as its principal office (2) such other places heretofore designated in its articles as branches (3) such other places as are hereafter approved as branches in the manner provided in this act Within the meaning of this section shareholders meetings shall not be construed to be the transaction of business

B An association with the prior written approval of the department and thereafter by an amendment to its by-laws may change its principal place of business within the same city borough or township in which its principal place of business is located With the prior approval of the department and the Building and Loan Board and thereafter by an amendment to its articles in the regular manner provided by this act it may also change its principal place of business to any city borough or township in the same county of its principal place of business or in a county contiguous to the county of its principal place of business

C In the event a place of business designated in the by-laws becomes unavailable an association with the prior written approval and for a period fixed by the department may temporarily change its place of business to another place specified by the board of directors within the same city borough or township

D Any association which prior to January 1, 1954 had authorized any corporation or person to collect dues interest premiums and fines in any city borough or township in the Commonwealth other than a place of business of the association permitted by the act which this act amends and in the case of merger or consolidation a surviving association may continue to collect dues interest premiums and fines in any such communities through any such corporations or persons and may appoint successors in their stead in any city borough or township in the Commonwealth

A Federal savings and loan association which hereafter converts into an association in accordance with this act may continue to operate such collection agencies which it had in lawful operation on the date of its conversion

Section 204 Branches A Any association may continue to maintain and operate any branch heretofore lawfully established by such association

If an association is hereafter merged or consolidated with another association or Federal savings and loan association the surviving association in case of merger or the newly consolidated association with the approval of the department with respect to any such associations or Federal savings and loan associations may retain and operate as branches any of their principal places of business and branches which may have been in lawful operation in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the association resulting from the merger or consolidation is located on the effective date of such merger or consolidation If any Federal savings and loan association shall convert into an association all of its branches in operation in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the association resulting from the conversion is located on the date of such conversion with the approval of the department may be continued in lawful operation

B Any association pursuant to a resolution of its board of directors may establish and maintain branches with the prior approval of the department and the Building and Loan Board in any city borough or township located in the same county or in a county contiguous to the county in which the principal place of business of the association proposing to take such action is located No such branches shall be established unless the association or the resulting association after a merger consolidation or conversion has aggregate assets of at least one million dollars and aggregate reserves and undivided profits equal to at least five per centum thereof
